Tax Technology Assistant Data & Analytics

Location: Tirana

YOUR OPPORTUNITY

Tax lies at the crossroads of law, business and innovation so it is subject to constant change. We get that. Unlike others, our dynamic team of specialists thrive on this complexity and see the opportunities. It's what keeps us sharp. Within Global Employer Services (GES) our professionals focus on providing advice on reward and compensation and benefits to our international clients, including advice on tax, social security and international mobility strategy (international assignment/ HR services). We assist our clients to streamline their HR and Mobility programs, while managing tax effectiveness, compliance and employment costs, both in a global and domestic context. We are looking for a new team member to join our technology advisory group, specifically in the delivery of tailored technology solutions to help our clients manage their internationally mobile workforce. Are you a critical thinker and problem solver who can work adeptly within a global team to implement best-in-class solutions to our clients?

Role Responsibilities

This Assistant level role sits in Tirana, with a daily collaboration in place with the global implementation team in Italy. The focus of the role will be to help the team to provide innovative solutions and solve problems to meet the client's requirements. The role would require you to:

- Be an excellent, confident and pro-active communicator (Fluency in English and Italian language)
- Understand the assignment lifecycle and the implications of various approaches on functional technology design and application
- Co-prepare client discussions and workshops and document business requirements for consideration
- Work with the wider implementation team to translate these requirements into software and process solutions for implementation
- Manage your time effectively
- Be a part of an implementation configuration and testing team
- Develop into supporting the sales cycle for newly identified opportunities

Your Profile

- Problem solving analytical mind-set
- Comfortable with technology application,

willingness to learn in a technology environment

- Confidence in internal and external stakeholder management
- Intermediate Excel knowledge desirable
- Proactive self-starter attitude
- Fluent English and Italian
- Macro VBA, SQL desirable

Our Offer:

A challenging, innovating and flexible work environment. An attractive and competitive salary. A dynamic work atmosphere with a focus on learning and personal development.
