

What's new in the June 2014 financial reporting cycle?

The information on this page has been updated for developments as at 30 July 2014.

The analysis below provides a high level overview of new and revised financial reporting requirements that need to be considered for financial reporting periods ending on 30 June 2014. Entities can use this listing to perform a quick check that all the new financial reporting requirements have been fully considered as part of their June reporting close process.

The information below is organised as follows:

Key considerations for financial reporting at 30 June 2014

June 2014 financial reporting will see application of new standards in some major areas like consolidation, joint arrangements, fair value measurements, and employee benefits, including extensive disclosure requirements. Some of the new standards/interpretations that are mandatorily applicable to June 2014 financial year ends for the first time are:

- AASB 10 Consolidated Financial Statements
- AASB 11 Joint Arrangements
- AASB 12 Disclosure of Interests in Other Entities
- AASB 13 Fair Value Measurements
- AASB 119 (2011) Employee Benefits
- AASB 127 (2011) Separate Financial Statements
- AASB 128 (2011) Investments in Associates and Joint Ventures
- INT 20 Stripping Costs in the Production Phase of a Surface Mine
- AASB 2011-4 Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards to Remove Individual Key Management Personnel Disclosure Requirements

It is imperative that entities understand, assess and ensure that relevant policies and functionalities are in place to implement and comply with the changes.

In addition to the above list of major accounting standards, other new and amended reporting requirements that must be applied for the first time for the June 2014 year-end include:

- Amendments to AASB 7 Financial Instruments: Disclosures regarding rights of offset and related arrangements (such as collateral posting requirements) for financial instruments under an enforceable master netting agreement or similar arrangement
- Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards arising from Annual Improvements 2009–2011 Cycle, that includes clarification of the requirements for comparative information (AASB 101 Presentation of Financial statements), classification of servicing equipment (AASB 116 Property Plant and Equipment), and tax effect of the distribution to holders of equity instruments (AASB 132 Financial Instruments: Presentation)
- Minor amendments to the Australian Conceptual Framework, AASB 1 First-time Adoption of Australian Accounting Standards, and AASB 1048 Interpretation of Standards that removed Interpretation 1039 Substantive Enactment of Major Tax Bills in Australia from the list of 'other Australian interpretations' contained in AASB 1048

Some of the Australian-specific and other related factors that need to be considered in the current reporting season:

- AASB differential reporting regime – voluntary early adoption of the AASB's revised differential reporting framework, particularly the 'Reduced Disclosure Requirements' (RDR) permits for-profit reporting entities without 'public accountability', not-for-profit entities that are reporting entities and some public sector entities to present substantially less disclosure than in the past. More information can be found in our Illustrative financial statements \(RDR\) and Accounting alert 2010/08
- Carbon pricing – The carbon price commenced on 1 July 2012 with a fixed price of $23 per tonne of carbon dioxide equivalent (CO₂-e) emitted for liable entities. From 1 July 2013 the carbon price increased to $24.15 per tonne of CO₂-e

Following the election of the Abbott federal government, draft legislation has been drafted to repeal the carbon pricing legislation from 1 July 2014 although it has not yet passed through the Australian parliament. Liable entities should continue to account for carbon consistent with their approach in 2012.

- New IASB pronouncements – the IASB has issued a number of standards that form the basis of the 'next wave' of pronouncements, which will mandatorily apply from 1 January 2013 through to 1 January 2017 or 2018 (depending upon the dates finally determined). New standards have been issued on fair value measurement, financial instruments, consolidation, joint arrangements and disclosures and employee benefits. Further pronouncements are expected on financial instruments, lease accounting, revenue recognition and insurance contracts. There may be some changes for which early adoption would be attractive. In addition, to the extent pronouncements have been issued prior to finalising the financial report, entities claiming full compliance with IFRSs in their financial statements will need to include the relevant AASB 101 disclosures about accounting standards on issue but not applied in their financial reports. Analysts and other stakeholders may also request more in-depth information about the impacts of the changes. More information can be found on our IAS Plus website
- Non-IFRS financial information – ASIC has released regulatory guidance on the use of 'non-IFRS financial information' in various documents. Entities providing additional financial information should carefully read the guidance and consider compliance and whether additional disclosure under the guide is necessary. More information can be found in Accounting alert 2011/6
- Effective disclosure in operating and financial review – On 27 March 2013, the ASIC released Regulatory Guide 247 Effective disclosure in an operating and financial review (RG 247) to provide guidance on preparing an operating and financial review (OFR) in the directors' report of a listed entity under s.299A of the Corporations Act 2001. RG 247 includes guidance on:
 - providing a narrative and an analysis of the entity's operations and financial position

- outlining the entity's key business strategies and providing a discussion of the entity's prospects for future financial years
- the application of the 'unreasonable prejudice' exemption from disclosing specific business strategies and prospects

More information can be found in Accounting alert 2013/10 that provides a summary and analysis on the guidance.

- Key Management Personnel (KMP) disclosures - The AASB released AASB 2011-4 that amends AASB 124 'Related Party Disclosures' to remove the individual key management personnel (KMP) disclosures required by Australian specific paragraphs. AASB 2011-4 is applicable to annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 July 2013, and thus applicable to 30 June financial year ends for the first time. The AASB reasoned that such disclosures are more in the nature of governance disclosures that are better dealt with as part of the Corporations Act 2001.

In that context, the Treasury issued Corporations and Related Legislation Amendment Regulation 2013 \(No. 1\) which requires the remuneration report to include certain information that has historically been a requirement of certain Aus paragraphs under AASB 124. The regulation applies in relation to a directors' report for a financial year commencing on or after 1 July 2013. In summary, for accounting periods beginning on or after 1 July 2013, the individual KMP disclosures previously required in notes under paragraph Aus 29 of AASB 124, now forms part of Regulation 2M.3.03 that applies only to disclosing entities that are companies, and need to be included in their remuneration report.

The pronouncements listed in the snapshot above, are discussed in further detail in this document below.

The tables below outline the new and revised pronouncements that are to be applied for the first time at 30 June 2014, or which may be early adopted at that date.

In the majority of cases, the disclosure requirements of the pronouncements listed in the tables below would not be applicable to half-year financial reports. However, where relevant, the recognition and measurement requirements of any relevant pronouncements would be applied where those pronouncements have been adopted by the entity.

As occurs so often with changes to accounting standards and financial reporting requirements, some of the new or revised pronouncements listed in the tables below may have a substantial impact on particular entities. Therefore, it is important that the pronouncements listed are carefully reviewed for any potential impacts or opportunities.

Where early adoption is being contemplated, it is important to address any necessary procedural requirements, e.g. for entities reporting under the Corporations Act 2001, appropriate director's resolutions for early adoption must be made under s.334(5). Disclosure in the financial statements must also be addressed.

New and revised Standards forming the 'next wave'

The IASB is currently working on a number of important projects which may have significant potential impacts on accounting requirements going forward. In this section, we highlight those pronouncements which have been issued to date and form part of this so-called 'next wave' of IFRS. Some of these projects like Consolidation & Joint arrangements and Fair value have already been completed and would be mandatory for June 2014 financial reports. Others (such as leases, revenue, and insurance contracts) may not be applicable for a number of years. The IASB and FASB are consulting on the effective dates and transition requirements for the majority of these projects (particularly those not yet finalised as a standard), and so application dates may be varied, or early adoption may be 'linked' to other standards. Refer to IASB work plan for more information about the IASB's effective dates.

Corporations Act 2001 developments

The following developments related to the Corporations Act 2001 may have direct or indirect impacts on financial reporting:

Development	When effective	More information
ASIC Regulatory Guide 230 Disclosing non-IFRS financial information [RG 230] Provides guidance on disclosure of non-IFRS (International Financial Reporting Standards) financial information. Non-IFRS financial information can provide useful information to investors and other users. However, it may increase the risk of misleading disclosure. This guidance would assist directors and preparers of financial information in reducing this risk, and the guidance includes: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • giving equal or greater prominence to IFRS financial information; • explaining the non-IFRS information and reconciling it to the IFRS financial information; • calculating the information consistently from period to period; and • not using information to remove 'bad news'. 	Issued 9 December 2011	Deloitte Accounting alert RG 230 (PDF 383kb) ASIC press release
ASIC Regulatory Guide 247 Disclosing non-IFRS financial information [RG 247] Provides guidance on preparing an operating and financial review (OFR) in the directors' report of a listed entity under s.299A of the Corporations Act 2001 RG 247 includes guidance on: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • providing a narrative and an analysis of the entity's operations and financial position • outlining the entity's key business strategies and providing a discussion of the entity's prospects for future financial years • the application of the 'unreasonable prejudice' exemption from disclosing specific business strategies and prospects. 	Issued 27 March 2013	Deloitte Accounting alert (PDF 480kb) RG 247 (PDF 247kb)

Other developments

The following are other developments that may have direct or indirect impacts on financial reporting:

- ASIC focus areas for financial reporting - Consistent with prior periods the Australian Securities & Investments Commission (ASIC) is focused on the quality of financial reporting and disclosures that provide useful and meaningful information for investors and other users. ASIC continues to encourage preparers of financial reports to focus on the appropriateness of key accounting policy choices that can significantly affect reported results. ASIC also emphasised the importance of evaluating the need to impair goodwill and other assets. Key areas of focus for this financial season include:
 - accounting estimates – impairment testing, asset values and amortisation of intangible assets
 - accounting policy choices – off balance sheet exposures and new accounting standards; revenue recognition, expense deferral policies and tax accounting; and
 - related disclosures
- In December 2013, the ASIC announced the results from a review of 30 June 2013 financial reports that covered 280 listed and other public interest entities. ASIC noted that while the quality of financial reporting in Australia is comparable with other major jurisdictions, there continues to be issues identified in relation to inadequate impairment of assets and inappropriate recognition of revenue. Based on its findings, ASIC has made inquiries of entities in areas such as:
 - impairment and other asset values
 - revenue recognition
 - consolidation of other entities
 - amortisation of intangibles
 - segment reporting
 - operating and financial review disclosures
- In March 2014, The ASX Corporate Governance Council released the Third edition of its Corporate Governance Principles and Recommendations. The new edition reflects developments in corporate governance which aim to elevate sustainability risks and disclosures, which is consistent with an increasing global focus on sustainability reporting and disclosures. The new edition includes a new recommendation 7.4 that deals with sustainability risks is as follows: “A listed entity should disclose whether it has any material exposure to economic, environmental and social sustainability risks and, if it does, how it manages those risks or intends to manage those risks.”
