Any party wishing to appear in the proceeding and address the court at the status conference will need to contact Courtsolutions in advance of the status conference to sign up for a "live" line. Courtsolutions will need the court, status conference date/time, and Judge's name – all of which are listed above – to identify the correct status conference.

Any party that wants listen to the status conference may do so by dialing in to the Akin Gump conference line listed below. While we anticipate it will accommodate all parties wishing to listen to the status conference, the conference line does not support an unlimited number of callers. Accordingly, any party that wants to ensure they will be able to listen should contact Courtsolutions in advance of the status conference to sign up for a "listen only" line.
