

Virtual Mock Court via Zoom

Why not book your own virtual Mock Court? You be the Judge, a witness or member of the jury!

For almost 20 years, our presenters have been facilitating live health, safety and wellbeing Mock Courts in real life court rooms. Whilst that option remains available, the pandemic has provided us cause for reflection, and we are now also offering our Mock Court virtually via Zoom.

We can use our scenario involving a prosecution of an alleged failure to manage the risk of COVID-19 infection, or tailor a scenario for your specific purposes.

Our Mock Courts are a unique, interactive and innovative training presentation for business leaders and their teams. Led by former workplace safety prosecutors and based on real life cases and risks, the simulated Mock Court prosecution challenges people's thinking, pushes attendees out of their comfort zone, galvanises action and demonstrates health and safety management responsibility in a fun and high impact way.

The objective of the Mock Court is to provoke attendees to re-evaluate the priority of managing the risks of health, safety and wellbeing, as well as understanding their personal responsibility and the actions required to ensure the organisation's system is being measured, monitored and maintained.

One of the reasons why this training has proved so successful in the past is the role the audience plays. Our Deloitte presenters facilitate the training by playing the roles of Prosecutor and Defence Lawyer, while volunteers from your organisation play the roles of witnesses (3), the judge (1) and court officer (1).

Our Mock Court training program is an effective way to eliminate complacency and put health, safety and welfare on the agenda, whilst leaving a fun and lasting impression on those taking part.
