

Rules on duty-free import of goods for non-commercial purposes were amended

Legal News

In this Issue:

Rules on duty-free import of goods for non-commercial purposes were amended

The Presidential Decree dated 23 October 2015 (“Decree”) on simplification of control rules at customs check points amended the rules on import of goods for personal use.

As per the Decree, individuals importing goods (excluding goods subject to excise tax, motor vehicles and goods for meeting the essential needs of the individuals during the trips) with customs value of not more than USD 10,000 (and additionally USD 2000 per accompanied minor) and which are not intended for manufactural or commercial purposes will be exempt from customs duties.

The State Customs Committee of the Republic of Azerbaijan is assigned to arrange placing of the list of the goods prohibited/restricted for export/import on boards visible to everyone at the state border checkpoints.

About Deloitte

Deloitte refers to one or more of Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu Limited, a UK private company limited by guarantee (“DTTL”), and its network of member firms, and their related entities. DTTL and each of its member firms are legally separate and independent entities. DTTL (also referred to as “Deloitte Global”) does not provide services to clients. Please see www.deloitte.com/about for a more detailed description of DTTL and its member firms.

Deloitte provides audit, consulting, financial advisory, tax, risk management and related services to public and private clients spanning multiple industries. With a globally connected network of member firms in more than 150 countries, Deloitte brings world-class capabilities and high-quality service to clients, delivering the insights they need to address their most complex business challenges. Deloitte's more than 225,000 professionals are committed to becoming the standard of excellence.