

PRESS NOTE

Thirty-seven volunteers from Deloitte Bangladesh join a global initiative with more than 70,000 participants

Dhaka, 12 December 2019: Impact Day is Deloitte’s annual tradition of volunteering. Across 24 geographies globally, Deloitte volunteers devote one working day towards making a positive impact on the communities in which we operate.

2019 is the first year that Deloitte Bangladesh has participated in Impact Day. Thirty-seven volunteers from the professional services firm’s office in Dhaka put their passion, determination, and skills to use at SOS Children’s Villages Bangladesh, in the city’s Shamoli neighbourhood.

The activities –undertaken included cognitive skills and English language skill development, and learning through art and games, among others. Through this programme, the volunteers impacted more than 140 lives.

Deloitte is strongly committed to positive societal change. Community involvement drives measurable change, inspires our actions as societal change makers, and instils pride in knowing that applying our skills and experience accelerates positive societal impact.

Impact Day is part of WorldClass

Deloitte’s global initiative, WorldClass endeavours to help 50 million people across the globe develop job skills, improve educational outcomes, and access opportunities to succeed in the world of tomorrow. Volunteering is an integral implementation pathway for WorldClass, alongside pro bono projects, grants, and alliances.
