Some examples explaining our service

"After a short, limited education the Deloitte consultant was able to work independently quickly. He managed to adapt operationally and socially to the norms within our company, in a short time frame. Because of his eagerness to learn, we succeeded in lowering the work load significantly, optimizing the processes, meeting KPI's and reporting in a structured manner".

Purchasing manager machines & installation of company in automotive industry

Due to a downsizing of the procurement department, our client faced a workload challenge.

Deloitte delivered a consultant who supported the team on contract assessments (supported by our benchmark database), bid analyses, supplier assessment & negotiations in a wide array of categories (HR, IT, etc.)

"Due to the takeover of another company, the amount of work in our planning department increased drastically. Since we lacked the time to hire an extra person, we chose to bring in an experienced consultant from Deloitte. With limited effort from our side, the consultant took over part of our operational tasks and integrated in the team. Thanks to his experience, we were also able to improve business processes, KPI's and reporting towards management. Once our business was back on track, we hired a new planner which was trained by our consultant".

Customer service and Logistics director Benelux of company in FMCG

A fast moving consumer goods company was lacking manpower in their supply chain department due to a merger of 2 companies.

Deloitte was requested to fill the gap in the planning department during a certain timeframe. Next to the operational tasks, the team improved the processes and set up new reporting towards management, in order to monitor and steer the day-to-day operations.
