Modernised Customs Code's final validity date postponed

The European Commission recently proposed to postpone the last date on which the Modernised Customs Code ('MCC') would be applicable since its replacement, the Union Customs Code ('UCC'), was not finished in time.

As expected, Regulation (EU) 528/2013 was published on 13 June 2013, changing the MCC's final validity date from 24 June 2013 to 1 November 2013.

This delay was considered necessary in order to prevent difficulties in the European Union's applicable customs legislation and to provide the legislature with more time to complete the UCC adoption process.
