Under the Voluntary Overseas Social Security Scheme of DIBISS/ORPSS, contributions have to be paid by the employer (or the employee) for individuals affiliated with the scheme, as part of their employment abroad.

In applying article 19 of the 17 July 1963 law on overseas social security, these DIBISS/ORPSS contributions are adapted to the consumer price index. From 1 June 2016, the DIBISS/ORPSS contributions are therefore increased by 2%. This should be taken into account when DIBISS/ORPSS payments are made for any employees affiliated with the scheme.

If payments are made through direct debit (“Domiciliëring /domiciliation”), no action is required. The DIBISS/ORPSS administration will make sure that payments are adapted automatically.

However, with other payment methods (e.g. manual transfer or monthly/quarterly standing orders), the amount of contributions payable should be adapted. If a payment for any period after June 2016 has already been transferred, an additional payment will need to be made. As is usually the case, the DIBISS/ORPSS administration will not send any invoices or requests for additional payment.

Therefore, the amended monthly contributions applicable as of 1 June 2016 should be taken into account; these can be found on this document.

Deloitte Belgium’s immigration and social security team (IMSS team) will provide any updates and is readily available to provide more detailed information.
