

I am a citizen with some medical symptoms and I am worried about what I should do to take care of my health.

The citizen visits the Stay-In-Touch portal and does the self-assessment test to evaluate potential symptoms against COVID-19. He/she gets a indication to follow-up on his/her health evolution.

The citizen subscribes to the portal and indicates who he is in contact with. These people are invited to take the self-assessment test as well.

The citizen is able to report on daily basis his health evolution. If the status is worsening, he/she contacts his GP to take action and seek medical support related to COVID-19.

Hospitals and government officials monitor the evolution of the spread and the symptoms in the population in real time and adapt their efforts accordingly, including specific campaign information.
