

General Data Protection Regulation for Bermuda Organizations

Introduction

New EU general data protection regulation

On May 25, 2018, the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) will be in effect, expanding the accountabilities for privacy and data protection of non-EU organizations and imposing hefty fines for non-compliance.

Bermuda multinationals with affiliates established in the EU regardless of whether the processing of personal data takes place in the EU or not

Bermuda businesses impacted

Bermuda organizations (established outside the EU) that either offer goods and services, or monitor the behaviour of EU data subjects.

What does this mean to your organization?

A revolution in enforcement

Fines of up to 4% of annual global turnover

Data protection officers

Privacy specialists in high demand

Accountability

Burden of proof now on the organization, not the individual

Privacy notices and consent

Clarity and education is key

Data inventories

Stronger need to identify, classify and track data

Right to be forgotten

A stronger right for consumers to request deletion of their data

Right to data portability

A new right to request standardized copies of data

New definitions of data

New concept of pseudo-anonymous data
