Financial Services Robotic Process Automation Event | 12 July 2018

Register now: Financial Services Robotic Process Automation Event 12 July 2018 - Deloitte Zurich Offices

Dear Sir or Madam,

While some early adopters are already moving from experiment to scale, many organizations have yet to fully realize benefits from Robotic Process Automation (RPA). At Deloitte, we often encounter interesting questions and point of views concerning the development of RPA within organizations. Although each organization is facing its own topics, we have observed some general trends in the acceleration of Robotics.

Where do you start Robotics journey? How do you scale up and deliver benefits? In order to share lessons learned and help organizations embark on Robotics journey, Deloitte is organizing a targeted event for industry stakeholders, taking place in Zurich on July 12th, 2018 from 16h onwards.

Who is the event for?

The event is relevant for all financial services professionals who are interested in learning more about Robotic Process Automation in their domain, but also for those who have already embarked on RPA journey and are interested in scaling Robotics within their organization.

Speakers and moderators

Deloitte speakers include Antonio Russo, Partner and Charlie Hainsworth, Director in our Service Delivery Transformation team which focuses on the RPA topic in Financial Services. Automation Anywhere speakers include Arnaud Lagarde, Commercial Director, Banking and Financial Services Europe.

We look forward to welcoming you at the event.

Best regards,

Antonio Russo

Partner, Head of Robotic and Cognitive Automation, Deloitte Consulting
