What is the Garage?

A flexible space designed for collaboration, inspirational meetings and problem-solving team-work.

Spread over 1,200 sqft, The Garage allows for creative room configurations enhanced by state-of-the-art technology.

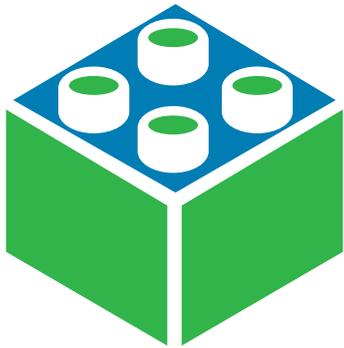

The Garage is where creatives, strategists and technologists connect, collaborate and create.

What happens at the Garage?

Enabling innovation

The Garage is here to support your organization's innovation journey – making sure it's safe and secure along the way!

Get started

Understand the basic principles required to innovate with a variety of entry-level workshops designed to encourage out-of-the-box thinking, complex problem solving and ideation

Make it happen

Get straight to building products, services and solutions with our team of technology risk and innovation consultants

Do it securely

Work with our team of cyber intelligence specialists to design secure solutions from the get-go

The background is a solid green color with several abstract, semi-transparent shapes in various shades of green. These shapes include long, thin rounded rectangles and larger, more complex rounded rectangular forms, all oriented diagonally from the top-left to the bottom-right. The shapes overlap and vary in opacity, creating a layered, modern aesthetic.

Get started

 Design thinking 101

Design thinking is at the center of everything we do at The Garage! Learn the basic tools and methodology for client-centric problem solving and design.

What does that mean? Quite simply, learn how to create products and solutions that people need and want!

 Business challenge

Bring your teams together to solve internal or external challenges using the design thinking methodology.

This is a great way to put design thinking into practice and start co-creating solutions together with clients to solve their problems that matter.

 Lego® Serious Play®

At The Garage we believe in the importance of play! LEGO® Serious Play® is an excellent and fun way to solve problems and explore new ideas.

Incorporate LSP into your next workshop to get your team (even the quiet ones!) expressing ideas and thinking in 3D.

 Business chemistry®

Business chemistry uses science to improve the art of relationships by drawing upon analytics technologies to reveal four scientifically based patterns of behavior.

The insights and tools gained through business chemistry will help your team to better understand customers and clients to deliver user-centric solutions.

Make it happen

Co-creation labs

Work with our team of creatives, strategists and technologists to design, build and prototype new ventures, products and services. We tailor our Lab's to meet your objectives. If you're looking to test a proposition or transform your business from top to bottom The Garage is here to drive those projects.

Case studies

Secure by design

As you innovate and transform, the use of new technologies opens up a greater threat landscape and exposes you to sophisticated adversaries that can affect your business.

Deloitte's Cyber Intelligence team can work alongside you to develop secure applications, products and services from the get-go.

By integrating security into your development process at the start you will be able to innovate and grow with confidence and avoid unnecessary costs along the development cycle.

Cyber war-gaming

The human factor is one of the most important factors within the field of cyber security. To secure an organization in the digital domain, it is imperative that all its employees are aware of risks. In this realistic game your team will be put to the test to strengthen their cyber incidence response skills.

The game is set up for a maximum of 5 to 6 participants per rotation. Employees are dared to solve 7 challenges within 20 minutes to complete the game.

Private escape room

Cyber war-gaming is a scenario based exercise, executed in a controlled environment, that is designed to improve and assess an organisation's ability to respond to a cyber event, incident, attack or data breach.

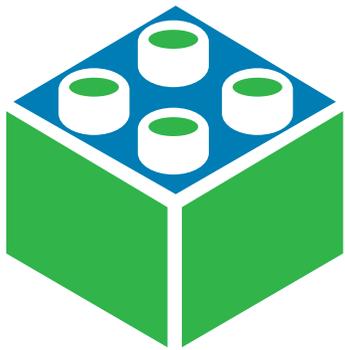

Cyber war-gaming is interactive and designed to strengthen the core aspects of your organisation; your people, processes and technologies.

This workshop is suitable for various departments and roles in an organisation.
