

Follow-up and preparation for the time after the crisis: Legal aspects to be considered

Medium-term measures

Employment law

- long-term personnel and restructuring planning, in particular (re)development or reduction of staff
- analysis of increasing flexibility through use of external personnel
- translating experience into action plans for the case of recurrence
- (other) measures to ensure Day 1 After COVID-19 readiness

Commercial law

- Examination of existing claims, if necessary extrajudicial or judicial assertion
- defence against claims made
- follow-up measures with regard to initiated measures to withhold/refuse payments (including leases)

Insurance (law)

- Examination of existing claims, if necessary judicial/extrajudicial assertion
- call for appropriate measures to be taken by contracting partners
- if necessary, review and revision of insurance contracts

Emergency Prevention

- examination of appeals against measures ordered by authorities (closure of business operations, etc.)
- examination of possible (compensation) claims (Infection Protection Act)
- other state liability

Grants and subsidies

- measures under the Economic Stabilisation Fund (WSF)
- follow-up measures with regard to subsidies used
- compliance and monitoring of terms and conditions
- examination of state aid implications

Insolvency law

- continuous examination of changes in the economic situation
- observe the time limits for the suspension and the requirements of the obligation to file for insolvency
- initiate necessary measures in good time

IT/Data Protection

- data protection examination of the special measures and follow-up of justifications

- implementation of data protection requirements, if necessary subsequently
- ensuring IT and data security for remote work

Corporate/Capital Markets

- review and implementation: Capital market reporting obligations
- special provisions for general meetings and other special provisions under company law

M&A

- examination of the effects on ongoing M&A transactions
- evaluation of opportunities (distressed M&A, consolidation, "leap into the digital age" by taking over start-ups)

Overall

- Ensuring Day 1 After COVID-19 readiness
