

Today's fast changing technology landscape presents boards with a range of choices, opportunities and challenges. In this issue, we have visited the topic of technology – from the latest technology trends to how boards may exercise their oversight responsibilities.

Markku Viitanen, Technology Strategy and Transformation Partner, will discuss technology and its wider implications for the board agenda — how the board may strengthen its role related to technology governance and decision-making. Read the article here >>

Our expert says that it is useful to gain an overview and dive deeply where relevant. Deloitte Global recently published Tech Trend report 2022 could also help you in obtaining an overview of technology trends and changes. Read the full report here >>

Deloitte's Frontier Topics series reports findings from surveys of audit committee members across the globe. A new survey, open to all directors and c-suite members, explores their role with respect to digital transformation and cyber risk. This is the second edition of the Frontier topics series and the results will be published in May 2022. We hope that you can find some time to participate in this survey.
