Africa Tax Desk

Deloitte has a presence in 34 countries in Africa servicing 51 countries. The Deloitte member firms in Africa have been clustered into English, French and Portuguese-speaking areas to better facilitate service delivery for our clients. Deloitte is very fortunate to already have well established practices across the African continent, with most of them being the leading firms in their markets. The recent legal integration of these firms has enhanced the position of Deloitte and further cemented its market-leading position in Africa. Deloitte in Africa is represented by over 350 partners, over 6 000 people comprising numerous industry and subject matter experts, including tax professionals who have successfully assisted clients with their Africa expansion strategies.

The Deloitte Africa Tax Desk (ATD) is a liaison between our Deloitte offices across Africa and the Global network, as well as a guide to Deloitte clients to ensure they are in contact with the right people and have access to up-to-date Deloitte publications.

Getting up-to-date and accurate information on taxation in many African countries can be challenging, however, a wealth of knowledge exists within the Deloitte network of country offices, Independent Correspondent Firms and contact firms throughout Africa. Providing easy and timely access to this knowledge is a key role of the ATD.

As part of the ATD's role, it:

- Acts as the first point of contact for basic Africa tax and investment enquiries by orientating our people and clients with published tax and business materials.
- Connects Deloitte people and clients looking for more detailed support with the appropriate advisor in our African network.
- Initiates and nurtures relationships with non-Deloitte offices in Africa to provide a continent-wide support network.
- Works with the Deloitte Africa Tax Leaders to address client needs and coordinate a client service team, especially for international clients active in multiple African tax jurisdictions.
- Promotes the services offered by Deloitte African offices to practices and clients within and outside the region.
- Facilitates cross-office sharing of knowledge and experience about tax and investing in Africa to strategically position member firms to exploit new market opportunities.

Algeria

Income Tax

Residents

The source basis of taxation is applied in Algeria. Payroll of expatriates is a complex area because of the impact of Algerian exchange control regulations. Thus, it is recommended that specific advice be sought in relation to the regulations.

Income Tax Rates for Resident Individuals: 2015 (Annual)

Taxable Income as exceeds	But does not exceed	Rate
DZD	DZD	%
0	120 000	0%
120 001	360 000	20%
360 001	1 440 000	30%
1 440 000 +		35%

Notes:

1. Personal income tax (PIT) is a direct tax levied on the income of an individual. Taxpayers are classified into residents and non-residents.
2. Basis – Residents are subject to tax on worldwide income. Non-residents are subject to tax only on Algerian-source income.
3. Residence – Individuals who either own a home in Algeria or have a rental agreement, of at least one whole year, for their current place of dwelling; individuals for who Algeria is either their principal place of residence or the centre of their economic interests; individuals with a professional activity in Algeria (salaried activity or not).
4. In principle, all Algerian income taxes are withheld at source. It is the company/employer who is responsible for the withholding and payment of the taxes withheld on the employees' behalf.
5. An employee who receives other income, in addition to his principal salary, is required to file, if he/she is considered as a tax resident, in addition to the specific return for the additional revenue category, a global revenue return (series G n°1).

6. Rates – Individual income tax is imposed progressively up to 35% on amounts exceeding DZD120 000 per annum. A 10% or a 15% withholding tax (WHT) is a final tax applied for dividends received by individuals depending on whether the individual is a resident or not. For foreign individuals and entities, the WHT is 15%.
7. Capital gains – Capital gains on the disposal of a principal private residence, and other personal effects, are exempted from taxation. For business assets, the same rules apply as for corporations. Capital gains realised on the shares by a non resident individual, are taxed at 20%. Capital gains realised by a resident individual on the shares, are taxed at 15%.

Non-Residents

Non-residents are subject to tax on Algerian-source income only.

Employment Income

In principle, all Algerian income taxes are withheld at source. It is the company/employer who is responsible for the withholding and payment of the taxes withheld on the employees' behalf.

Benefits in Kind

As fringe benefits are considered to be a part of the salary paid to an employee, they are subject to social security and income taxes. Fringe benefits taxable are generally.

Algeria

Companies

Income Tax Rates for Companies (CIT)
Companies	Rate of Tax
Manufacturing companies	19%
Construction, public works, hydraulic activities, tourism and spa activities	23%
Other activities including trade and services	26%

Notes:

1. Residence – Article 03 of the Direct Tax Code provides the definition of fiscal residence. A corporation is generally considered resident if it is incorporated in Algeria. Branches of foreign corporations and Permanent Establishments (PEs) are also considered as residents.
2. Basis – Resident and non-resident companies are subject to tax on their Algerian-source income while Algerian citizens are subject to tax on their worldwide source income.
3. Rate – Company tax rates are between 19% and 26%. However, a companies which conduct various activities and are subject to different tax rates, must provide separate accounting records in order to determine the taxable base for each activity otherwise a 26% rate will be applied to the overall taxable profits.
4. The Alternative Minimum Corporate Tax (AMT) is DZD10.000 per year.
5. Taxable income – Corporate tax is computed on net profits derived from Algerian sources.
6. Losses – Losses may be carried forward for four years. The carryback of losses is not permitted.
7. Dividends – In principle, dividends received between Algerian companies are not subject to WHT and are exempted from tax in the hands of the recipient.
8. Foreign tax credit – Algerian tax law does not provide for unilateral tax relief. A tax treaty, however, may provide for bilateral relief. This is a complex area in Algeria. Specific advice is therefore recommended.

9. Corporate groups – When an Algerian company holds 90% or more of the shares of one or more Algerian companies, the group may choose to be taxed as a single entity. Hence, the subsidiaries are treated as branches of the parent company and corporate tax is payable only by the parent company. Under this system, the profits and losses of all controlled branches, subsidiaries and partnerships in Algeria, are consolidated. The consolidated group may also benefit from other tax advantages.

Withholding Taxes (WHTs)

The WHTs are set out below. For non-residents the WHT is a final tax.

WHT Rates
	Note	Residents	Non-Residents
Dividend	1	0-10%	15%
Interest	2	10%	10%
Royalties	3	0%	24%
Technical service fees and services fees	4	0%	24%
Branch remittance tax	5	0%	15%

Notes:

1. Dividends – Dividends paid to non-resident shareholders are subjected to a WHT at the source of 15%. Dividends paid to local companies are exempted.
2. Interest – It is not possible to contract an international loan except intercompany loan.
3. Royalties – 24%. (Please note that it is a complex area. Expert advice would thus be necessary).
4. Technical service fees – 24%.
5. Branch remittance tax – 15%. (Note that since 2010, it is no longer possible to register a branch in Algeria. However, under certain conditions, a foreign company could operate in Algeria by registering its contract to local tax authorities. Under this scenario, a 15% tax rate applies on the distribution of profits).

Algeria

Maximum WHT Rates once Double Tax Agreement* (DTA) is applied

WHT on payments to some countries with which Algeria has a DTA in force are as follows:

	Type of Income
	Dividends	Interest	Royalties
Belgium	15%	15%	15%
France	5%/15%	12%	5%/12%
Germany	5%/15%	10%	10%
Italy	15%	15%	5%/15%
Netherlands	n/a	n/a	n/a
South Africa	10%/15%	10%	10%
UK	n/a	n/a	n/a
Switzerland	5%/15%	10%	10%

* Because of the impact of exchange control regulations this is a complex area and it is recommended that specific advice be sought in relation to international taxation.

 International loans are forbidden since July 2009. However, intercompany funding are allowed since 2013 (provided to be reimbursed without interest within 3 years by the recipient affiliate).

 International transfers of royalties is a complex matter it is therefore recommended that specific advice be sought in relation to international transfers.

Capital Gains Tax (CGT)

In general, capital gains are taxed as ordinary income. For certain assets, 35% relief is given where the assets have been held for up to three years, and 70% relief is given where the assets have been held longer. However, the capital gains realised by local company on shares held more than two years are taxed as ordinary income. The capital gains realised by non-residents are taxed at 20%. Please note that the selling of the listed shares are exempted.

The following capital gains are exempt from tax or receive special tax treatment:

- Capital gains realised within a group of corporations in the context of group transfers.
- Unrealised gains from the reassessment of fixed assets if they are booked in a special reserve.
- Capital gains resulting from mergers, divisions or partial transfers of assets between group corporations in Algeria.

Rollover relief is available where a company undertakes to acquire similar assets within three years.

Anti-avoidance

Transfer Pricing

An arm's length approach to transfer pricing applies. All entities registered with the tax department responsible for multinational companies (the Direction des Grandes Entreprises), must submit documentation to support their transfer pricing practices within 30 days after a request is made by the Algerian tax administration. Investment Incentives

Major incentives are available for investments made by enterprises located in areas that need development.
- The most significant incentives are a 10-year corporate tax and property tax exemption under some conditions. There are also specific incentives, for example, investments by region, investments promoting environmental protection and the oil industry.

 - industrial activities contained in the Finance Act for 2015 (such as pharmaceutical, mechanical, automotive)
- A special tax regime applies to investments that the Algerian economy benefits from, especially those using clean technologies. Notes:

1. Algeria is the second largest country in Africa. The hydrocarbons sector is the backbone of the Algerian economy. In 2010, the country was said to have the 9th largest natural gas reserves in the world and the fourth largest gas exporter despite some economic challenges.
2. The Algerian Stock Exchange was officially opened in 1999. To this day, the Exchange is still in its infancy and plays a very minor role in the financing of the country's economy with only two companies being listed in the Bourse d'Algerie. Conversely, the bond market has expanded in recent years. The total market capitalisation of the Algerian Exchange was USD97 million at the end of 2007 (approximately 0.1% of the country's GDP).

Income Tax

The source basis of taxation is applied in Angola, although resident companies are taxed on certain foreign income as well. The tax year is the calendar year ending on 31 December.

Individuals (Personal Income Tax)

All resident or non-resident individuals are liable to personal income tax (PIT) on Angolan-sourced income from employment, which is understood as income paid for or borne by an Angolan employer. The PIT Code does not establish any definition for resident or non-resident. However, the new General Tax Code that entered into force on January, 1, 2015, states a specific definition of tax residency criteria for individuals. In this sense, even though the PIT code is not (by now) stating a tax residency criteria the legislation may change in the future in order to incorporate such tax residency criteria and the worldwide income taxation principle might be applicable to all individuals that will be considered as tax residents in Angola.

The concept of remuneration for PIT purposes is broadly defined and includes any remuneration paid or payable in cash or in kind to an individual, in the form of regular or incidental, fixed or variable.

Certain compensatory items are totally or partly exempt/not subject to PIT according to the conditions stipulated in the law, such as allowances for travel and accommodation (just applicable to public servants), holidays and Christmas allowances up to a limit of 100% of employees' basic salary, housing allowances, social allowances (e.g. family allowances to the limit of 5 % of the employee's monthly basic salary, maternity, death, and labor accidents) and old-age, disability and survivor's pensions, retirement bonuses, social security contributions, severance payments (up to a maximum ceilings as foreseen in the labor law). Meal and transport allowances are not subject to PIT up to a total limit of Kz30 000 per month.

The different types of income are now segmented into three taxation groups:

- Group A – This includes the remuneration earned by employees (paid by an employer entity under an employment contract entered into accordance with the labor law), as well as the remuneration earned by the public servants.

- Group B – This includes the remuneration received by entrepreneurs/freelance workers that fall under the activities list included as an attachment to the PIT Code, as well as the remuneration earned by directors and members of the board or of other statutory bodies.
- Group C – This includes all remuneration obtained as a result of the development of industrial or commercial activities, as foreseen in the table of minimum profits.

Specific rules are introduced for the computation of taxable income for each taxation group.

The following rates apply on taxable income:

- Group A – Progressive PIT rates foreseen in the table included as an attachment to the PIT Code, with a maximum of 17%.
- Group B – Single rate of 15%.
- Group C – Rate of 30% for the cases in which the taxable income corresponds to the amounts included in the table of minimum profits and for remaining cases where the amount exceeds the amounts on the table of minimum profits (four times), and to taxpayers that provide services subject to withholding tax (WHT), a rate of 6.5% is applicable .

The Angolan PIT has progressive rates and tax brackets depending on the monthly income. The employer has to withhold the tax according to the applicable rates and hand it over to the State until the end of the month following the one in which the income was paid.

Angola

These rates vary, as provided below:

Monthly Income Tax Rates for Resident and Non-Resident Individuals: Income Tax Table
Taxable Income as exceeds	But does not exceed	Tax Payable
Kz	Kz	Kz
0	34 450	0
34 451	35 000	5% of amount exceeding 34 450
35 001	40 000	550 + 7% of amount exceeding 35 000
40 001	45 000	900 + 8% of amount exceeding 40 000
45 001	50 000	1300 + 9% of amount exceeding 45 000
50 001	70 000	1 750 + 10% of amount exceeding 50 000
70 001	90 000	3 750 + 11% of amount exceeding 70 000
90 001	110 000	5 950 + 12% of amount exceeding 90 000
110 001	140 000	8 350 + 13% of amount exceeding 110 000
140 001	170 000	12 250 + 14% of amount exceeding 140 000
170 001	200 000	16 450 + 15% of amount exceeding 170 000
200 001	230 000	20.950 + 16% of amount exceeding 200 000
230 001 +		25.750 + 17% of amount exceeding 230 000

Notes:

1. The top PIT rate is currently 17%.
2. It is always the entity that pays the income (i.e. salary, wage or fee) that must deal with the tax administration (i.e. the paying entity must withhold the tax and subsequently remit it to the tax administration).
3. PIT must be deducted by the employer and paid by the end of the month following the month in which the personal income was paid.
4. Unless they can prove that they contribute to another social security scheme, all employees must register with the National Social Security Institute and contribute to it. The social security contribution is 11% of the monthly salaries, but the employer covers only 8%. The employer is required to withhold the employee's contribution and pay both contributions by the 10th day of the month following the month in which the personal income was paid. Employment income earned by an employee of a diplomatic mission or international organisation, is exempt from tax if the home country of the organisation or mission offers reciprocal treatment.
5. There are no specific concessions for expatriates.
6. Most PIT infringements, including the absence, inexactness and omissions in the tax returns, are now subject to the penalties established in the General Tax Code (GTC).

Business Income/Independent (Self-employed) Professionals

Unlike employees, individuals engaged in business activities must file tax returns. Basic costs in connection with such self-employment activities can, in accordance with the law and its limits, be regarded as deductible costs.

Companies

A resident company is taxed on its worldwide income. A company is resident in Angola if it has its head office or is effectively managed and controlled in Angola. In the event that an employee of a foreign entity renders services in Angola for a period of time exceeding 90 days, this would create a Permanent Establishment (PE) of the foreign entity in Angola. As a result, the said foreign entity will be subject to all Angolan taxation. Non-residents that derive income from activities in Angola are subject to the same rules as residents on Angolan-source income.

Corporate Income Tax (CIT) must be paid annually by 31 May of each year for the previous tax year for taxpayers of Group A and B. However, a nominal provisional tax on sales payment must be made in the course of the year. Penalties, are applicable for late payment of CIT.

The generally applicable CIT rate has been reduced to 30%. However, a rate of 15% applies, among others, to agricultural, forestry and cattle breeding activities.

Special tax regimes apply to the petroleum and mining sectors, and in order to stimulate investment in certain economic areas, exemptions can be granted.

The new CIT Code comes into force on 1 January 2015, with the exception of the autonomous taxation regime, which is effective from 1 January 2017. Under these new regulations, the tax groups are now limited to two groups; namely, Group A and Group B.

Angola

Withholding Taxes (WHTs)

WHTs: Residents and Non-Residents, Corporate or Individual
Income	Notes	Rate
Dividend	1, 2	10%
Interest	1	15%
Royalties	1	10%

Notes:

1. These are final taxes i.e. for residents, the tax withheld on payments received, is considered as a payment on account of the tax due at year-end.
2. Capital income tax at a rate of 10% is withheld on dividends paid to both residents and non-residents. Exemptions apply in certain cases and the rate may be reduced under an incentive package.
3. Angola has not concluded any double taxation agreements (DTAs) with other countries.

Resident or Non-Resident Company WHTs: Service Contracts

	Rate
Services of any nature	6.5%

Notes:

1. If the service company is resident, it can deduct the WHT from its annual CIT under certain conditions.
2. If the service company is non-resident, the amount withheld by the resident company is the final tax.

Capital Gains Tax (CGT)

As a general rule, capital gains and losses from the disposal of fixed assets are taxed as business income if certain conditions are met. Capital gains deriving from the sale of shares are not subject to PIT or CIT but are subject to Capital Income Tax.

Capital Income Tax

Capital Income Tax is levied on income derived from the use of capital (i.e. interest, dividends and royalties). This tax is normally paid through the WHT mechanism. The following rates are applicable to the most relevant types of income:

Resident or Non-Resident Company WHTs: Service Contracts
Type of income	Rate
Loan interests	15%
Shareholders' loan interests	10%
Interest on current and term deposits placed with financial institutions	10%
Dividends or profit sharing	10%
Interest on Treasury notes and bonds and on Central Bank securities	5%/10%
Royalties	10%
Capital gains deriving from the disposal of shares or other securities that generate income subject to tax	10%
Other residual income arising from capital investment	15%

* In interest deriving from titles with maturity equal or superior to three years.

Transfer Pricing and Thin Capitalisation

The arm's length principle applies to related party transactions.

Transfer pricing rules have been passed in Angola. Under the terms of the legislation, the Angolan Tax Administration can proceed with the corrections deemed necessary for determining the taxable amount when "special relations" exist between entities and taxpayers, subject or not subject to industrial tax and have been established for its operations, conditions different from those which would normally be agreed on in relations between independent entities.

Angola

Taxpayers will have to justify arm's length pricing in the cases of commercial transactions of the taxpayer with other "special relations" entities, whether or not these transactions are subject to industrial tax. The proposed rules generally cover commercial transactions including any transaction of goods, rights or services, and they also include financial transactions. The transfer pricing dossier would have to be prepared by each company individually and sent to the tax administration within six months of the date of closing of the fiscal year.

In order to conduct an economic analysis to test the arm's length principle, the new regime specifies the use of traditional transfer pricing methods such as:

- Comparable controlled method.
- Resale minus method.
- Cost plus method.

Special Contribution applicable to the Invisible Exchange Transactions

This regime is levied on the transfers made under contracts for the rendering of foreign technical assistance or management services, governed by the regulations in Contract of Foreign Technical Assistance or Management Services, approved by Presidential Decree no. 273/11 of October.

The Special Contribution applies to contracts for the rendering of foreign technical assistance or management services contracted by public companies.

Under this Regime, the transfer of funds in order to perform payments regarding contracts for the rendering of foreign technical assistance or management services.

The assessment and the payment of the Special Contribution is the responsibility of the Angolan contracting entity and shall be delivered at the local tax office, before the transfer is made by the financial institution.

The rate for the Special Contribution is 10% over the value of the transfer made.

Inheritances and Donations

A Gift and Inheritance Tax system exists. The Gift and Inheritance Tax applies to the transfers of property of any value, kind or nature, in whatever denomination or form.

The Gift and Inheritance Tax applies to gratuitous transfers of any movable or immovable property located or existing in Angola, or transferred from an Angolan resident. The transfer of assets with a value of Kz500 000 (new Kz according to law 15/92) or less to ascendants, descendants or spouses, is exempt from Gift and Inheritance Tax.

The Gift and Inheritance Tax rates are as follows:

- Between spouses or to descendants and ascendants:
 - Up to Kz3 000 000 – 10%.
 - >Kz3 000 000 – 15%.
- Between any other persons:
 - Up to Kz3 000 000 – 20%.
 - >Kz3 000 000 – 30%.

The rates are progressive. For calculation purposes, when the taxable base is above Kz3 000 000, the value is divided into two parts and the marginal rate is applied above that ceiling.

Other Transaction Taxes

Consumption Tax

There is no Value-Added Tax (VAT) on commercial transactions in Angola. However, there is a Consumption Tax which is a combination of a single-stage sales tax and excise duty on the supply and import of certain goods and services in Angola.

The standard rate is 10%. A reduced rate of 2% applies to essential foods and medical supplies. Rates of 20% and 30% apply to certain luxury products.

The operations subject to Consumption Tax have recently been widened to cover several types of services rendered. Concerning certain types of services, the taxpayer is the provider of those services but the amount of tax due can be added to the value of the invoice or equivalent document for purposes of passing it on to the acquirer of the services. In what concerns production and import of goods, the taxpayer is the producer or the importer, respectively.

The monthly return and payment of Consumption Tax is due by the last business day of the following month.

New legislation reinforced that Oil Operators when paying for the services provided, shall deliver the amount of consumption tax due.

The Consumption Tax rate in Angola, applicable to the provision of services, will depend on the type of service.

Urban Property Tax (UPT)

UPT is levied on the income from properties (i.e. rental income for leased property) situated in Angola at an effective tax rate of 15% (tax payable may not be lower than 1% of the value of the property that generates the rent). The capping limit for these eligible expenses (i.e. charges with the maintenance and conservation of the immovable property), is 40% of the property rent or lease value. Income derived from rents subject to UPT, and the correspondent charges are not relevant for CIT purposes.

Property Transfer Tax (SISA)

SISA is levied on the transfer of property located in Angolan territory. The tax rate is 2% and it is due by the acquirer of the property on the higher of the value of sale or the value of the property.

The acquisition of at least 50% of shares in limited liability companies, or corporations that own immovable property, can trigger Property Transfer Tax, if the acquiring entity ends up holding more than 50% of the company and does not prove that the main purpose of the operation is not the acquisition of the immovable properties.

Tax benefits include that the SISA exemption, or reduced rates, can be granted under the Private Investment Law.

Stamp Tax

A stamp duty at nominal or ad valorem rates applies to acts, contracts, documents, titles, books, papers, operations and other events listed in the Stamp Tax Table (STT) annexed to the Stamp Tax Code, which includes, for example:

- Acquisition of ownership or other rights on real estate – 0.3%.
- Real estate lease and sublease:
 - On the amount, lease amount increase or lease or sublease contract extension for housing purposes – 0.1%.
 - On the amount, lease amount increase or lease or sublease contract extension for commercial, industrial or freelance professional activity purposes – 0.4%.
- Written contracts not specifically foreseen in the STT, including those entered into with public entities – Kz1 000.

It should be noted that there is a specific 1% Stamp Tax on monthly turnover. Furthermore, there are some applicable exemptions such as shareholder loans under certain conditions. There is also an exemption for employment agreements.

As a general rule, there will be no cumulative taxation on the taxable events subject to Stamp Tax. In cases where more than one Stamp Tax rate may be applicable, only the higher will apply.

General Investment Information

Investment Incentives

The new Private Investment Law, Law 14/15, repealing the enacted by Law 20/11, of 20 May 2011.

The new law applies to foreign investment of any amount and domestic investments amounting in aggregate to Kz50 000 000 (fifty million kwanzas) or more. This private investment regime does not apply to investments made by state-controlled legal persons governed by private law, by the State or by other public legal entities subject to specific regulation.

The new law states mandatory local partnerships regarding certain areas of activity (i.e. water sectors, hospitality management and tourism, transport and logistics, civil construction).

In terms of the Tax Incentive Law the incentives are based on a matrix that combines geographic areas and priority sectors. The law on Fiscal Incentives consecrates a fiscal incentives policy which aims to attract private investment. For purposes of attribution of incentives to the investment, the country is divided into two areas. The granting of tax incentives may last for a maximum period of 10 years

Further to the new law concerning Private Investment, it is necessary to consider specific legislation such as oil, mining and banking industries.

Exchange Controls

Exchange controls are administered by the Central Bank (the National Bank of Angola – BNA). Any import and export of funds is subject to the rules established by the central bank. The Law on Private Investment provides for varied procedures for the approval of foreign investment based on the value of the investment, whether the investment is of significance to Angola's economy.

Furthermore, in terms of Angola's Law on Private Investment, foreign investors can be guaranteed the repatriation of profits and dividends arising in Angola after certain conditions have been complied.

Expatriates and Work Permits

All foreign workers performing duties in Angola must obtain visas after justification is made for their stay.

Trade Relations

- Memberships – Cotonou Agreement, The Southern African Development Community (SADC), Common Market for Eastern and Southern Africa (COMESA) and Organization of the Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC).
- African Growth and Opportunity Act (AGOA) beneficiary country.

1. Basis – An individual, whether Beninese or a foreign national, whose tax domicile is in Benin, is generally subject to personal income tax (PIT) on worldwide income. Foreign-source income that already has been taxed may be exempted if there is a tax treaty. Individuals not domiciled in Benin are subject to tax only on Benin-source income.
2. Residence – Domicile is based on habitual residence, evidenced by a permanent home, principal place of residence or centre of economic interests.
3. Rates – Progressive annual rates range from 20% (XOF280 001 – XOF2 million) to 45% (above XOF5.5 million). The tax on salaries is deducted at source at progressive annual rates from 10% (first XOF50 001 – XOF130 000) to 30% (above XOF530 000).
4. Taxable income – Income is taxed under five schedules: industrial and commercial profits; non-commercial profits; employment income; income from moveable capital (investments); and property income.

6. Filing status – Joint returns apply i.e. tax is assessed on the taxpayer's household (generally the husband's return). Children that have income separate and distinct from that of the parents are assessed separately.
7. Relief from double taxation is available through tax treaties to which Benin is signatory. Benin has four tax treaties; namely, with France, Norway, Kuwait and the WAEMU (covering eight other countries and addressing income taxes, Value-Added Tax (VAT) and other duties).

Non-Residents

Individuals not domiciled in Benin are subject to tax on Benin-source income only.

Employment Income

Taxable employment income includes salaries and wages, bonuses, overtime, and all kinds of benefits and allowances.

Salaries, wages and remuneration accessories are taxable in Benin under some conditions:

- When the beneficiary is domiciled in Benin even though the gainful employment is exercised out of Benin and the employer is domiciled or established outside of Benin.
- When the beneficiary is domiciled outside of Benin to the condition that the gainful employment is exercised in Benin or that the employer is domiciled or established in Benin.

Benefits in Kind

Taxable income from employment is broadly interpreted and includes fringe benefits, assessed at actual cost, or 15% of salary for housing at 15% of salary for house staff.

Pay-As-You-Earn (PAYE)

Tax is withheld on salaries, wages and remuneration accessories by employer and paid to the tax administration each month at the latest the 10th day of the following month of payment.

Companies

Income Tax Rates for Companies

1. Residence – Residence is not defined in the tax law, but includes companies registered in Benin and Permanent Establishments (PEs) and branches of non-resident corporations.
2. Basis – Resident corporations are taxable on Benin-source profits and foreign-source dividends, interest, royalties and capital gains, but not on foreign-source industrial and commercial profits. Non-resident corporations are subject to tax only on Benin-source income (and on the rental value of their property).
3. Rate – The corporate income tax (CIT) rate for non-industrial companies and partners that opt for corporate income taxation is 30%. Industrial companies are subject to a special rate of 25%. The rate is between 35% and 45% for oil companies carrying out research and the exploitation, production and sale of natural hydrocarbons.
4. Taxable income – Income is taxed under four schedules: industrial and commercial profits; non-commercial profits; income from moveable capital (investments); and rental income. Deductions are normally allowed for expenses incurred in generating income. Management fees may be deducted if they are reasonable for the services rendered.

Withholding Taxes (WHTs)

WHT of Payments to Resident Persons

WHT at the appropriate rate must be deducted from payments made to resident persons in respect of the following:

- Advance on CIT.
- Salaries.
- Dividends.
- Interest.
- Rental payments.

WHT on Payments to Non-Resident Persons

WHT must be deducted from payments made to non-resident persons in respect of the following:

- Salaries.
- Dividends.
- Interest.
- Rental payments.
- Services.
- Royalties.

Benin

The WHTs are set out below. For non-residents the WHT is a final tax:

WHT Rates
	Note	Residents	Non-Residents
Dividend	1	15%-10%-7%-6%-5%-3%-0%	15%-10%-7%-6%-5%-3%-0%
Interest	2	15%	15%
Royalties	3	See below	10% -12%
Technical service fees	4	See below	10% -12%
Other	5	See below	See below

Notes:

1. Dividends – Income of securities paid to residents and non-residents are subject to a 15% withholding tax. This rate is reduced to: 10% for dividends, to 7% for income for income properly distributed from shares of companies listed on a stock exchange approved by the Regional Council for Public Savings and Financial Markets (CREPMF in French) in the West African Economic and Monetary Union (WAEMU); to 7% for capital gains realised on the disposal of shares and perceived by individuals.
2. Interest – Interest paid to a resident or a non-resident generally is subject to a 15% withholding tax rate. A 6% rate applies to income arising from bonds which may be reduced by the Beninese government under some conditions. With regard to bonds issued by WAEMU countries or by local authorities, the rate is reduced to: 3% if the bonds duration is five and ten years and 0% if the term of the bonds is greater than ten years. The applicable rate is 5% for capital gains realised on the disposal of bonds.
3. Royalties paid to a foreign individual are subject to 10% withholding tax and royalties paid to foreign companies are subject to a 12% withholding tax. Royalties paid to resident individuals are considered as non-commercial profits and are subject to personal income tax (PIT) at progressive rates. Royalties paid to resident companies are not addressed in General Tax Code, so they are subject to corporate income tax at the 30% rate.
4. Technical service fees – Technical service fees paid by resident companies to non-resident companies are subject to a 12% withholding tax. Technical service fees paid by resident companies to other resident companies are subject to a 1% or a 5% withholding tax. Technical service fees can be deducted if they are not excessive and do not have the character of an indirect transfer of profit (to the extent of 20% of overhead).
5. Other – A 12% withholding tax on profits is imposed on payments made to non-residents; the tax is levied on the gross amount in respect of all activities carried out with a resident of Benin. A 5% withholding tax applies for capital gains realised by a resident or non-resident on the disposal of bonds and a 7% tax applies for capital gains realised by a resident or non-resident individual on the disposal of shares.
6. Branch remittance tax – Branches are subject to corporate income tax, as well as a 15% WHT on payments of after-tax profits made by a Benin branch to its foreign head office, which may be reduced under a tax treaty. If there is no treaty between Benin and the jurisdiction in which the head office is located 90% of the after-tax profits are used as the base in applying the 15% withholding tax.

Individuals

Resident Individuals are exempted from personal income tax on capital gains derived from the disposal of shares, however, withholding tax may apply to resident and non-resident individuals (see "Other" under withholding tax above). In other respects, the rules governing capital gains derived by companies apply.

Anti-avoidance

Pre-tax profits indirectly transferred abroad (by adjusting the sale or purchase price or by any other means) to a company outside Benin that controls or is controlled by the Benin corporate taxpayer, may be added back to taxable income.

5. Other – Although exempt from VAT, small enterprises must register with the tax authorities and are liable to Synthetic business tax at a flat rate which varies according to the turnover.

Customs and Excise Duties

Since 1 January 2000, countries pay regardless of their point of entry into the WAEMU (West African Economic and Monetary Union), taxes and duties as defined in the Common External Tariff ("TEC" in French).

Import Duties

For all imports, there is a WHT on corporate income at a 1% rate for the registered companies. This WHT is applied on the customs value in addition to all duties and taxes except VAT. This WHT is an advance on CIT. There is also VAT at the rate of 18% on the customs value of the goods with duties and taxes of any kind.

Benin

Miscellaneous Taxes

Stamp Duty

There are fixed rate charges for the stamping of business contracts and other documents. Ad valorem charges are made as described in "Capital Duty" (below) and "Transfer Tax" (also below) at rates of 1% (short-term lease or hire), 5% (long-term lease or sale of moveable property) or 8% (sale of a business) and at a fixed fee of XOF6 000 (shares or mergers, capital increase, share transfers that do not involve the company's takeover).

Capital Duty

No duty is levied on the formation of a company, but an increase in capital is subject to a fixed duty rate of XOF6 000.

Transfer Tax

A transfer tax of 8% is levied on the transfer of land and buildings. The transfer of shares that results in the company's takeover are also subject to a rate of 8%.

Real Property Tax

An annual real property tax is levied on the owner of property in "main" towns at a rate of 6% of the rental value for developed property and 5% for undeveloped property. The charge may be reduced where the property remains vacant. The tax is payable in advance, in equal instalments in January and March. The balance is payable no later than 31 May.

An "additional tax" of 6% on leased property is payable by the tenant.

Inheritance/Estate Tax

See "Stamp Duty" under "Other taxes on corporations". The same rates apply for transfers from a deceased person's estate.

Net Wealth/Net Worth Tax

None.

Payroll Tax

A 4% rate applies, based on a widely defined concept of emoluments.

Other Taxes on Corporations

The business licence tax includes fixed and variable elements, taking into account the rental value of premises used and the nature of the activities.

An annual radio tax of XOF1 000 is due from companies that are subject to corporate tax in Benin. An annual television tax of XOF3 000 is due from companies that are subject to corporate tax in Benin, except companies subject to a fixed tax regime.

An annual tax on financial activities is charged on banks and other financial institutions at 10% of the gross value of interest, commissions and other financial income. Contracts for insurance of assets in Benin are subject to insurance tax at rates from 0.25% (export credit) to 20% (fire).

Social Security

The employer's contribution is 15.4% of gross salary (6.4% pension and 9% family allowance), plus 1% to 4% as industrial injury insurance, depending on the degree of risk in the employment. The employee's contribution is 3.6% of gross salary.

Tax Administration

Corporations

- Tax year – The calendar year is used, although a company may adopt a different taxable period.
- Consolidated returns – Consolidated returns are not permitted. Each company in a group must file a separate tax return.
- Filing requirements – Tax returns for business income must be filed no later than 30 April or four months after the end of the fiscal year, with any balance of tax due paid at the time. Equal quarterly advance payments are due on the 10th of March, June,

September and December based on the previous year's tax. Tax is also collected on account of the final liability when a company makes purchases, or deals with service providers, at rates of 1% (for registered enterprises) and 5% (for unregistered enterprises). The rate is 1% for all enterprises (registered or not) when they make imports of goods.

- Penalties – Penalties are assessed at rates ranging from 20% to 80% of tax due, depending on whether the taxpayer's return was accidentally, mistakenly or fraudulently in error. The 80% rate also applies to estimated assessments in the absence of a return or a return submitted only after an injunction.
- Rulings – While there is no statutory requirement to issue binding rulings, the tax authorities may provide advance discussion on the interpretation of tax legislation.

Individuals

- Tax year – Calendar year.
- Filing and payment – The individual tax return must be filed no later than 30 April or four months after the fiscal year for business income, with any balance of tax due paid at that time. The individual income tax is paid in quarterly advance instalments on the 10th of March, June, September and December. A tax return is still required when all income is from employment and tax has been deducted at source.
- Penalties – Penalties are assessed at rates ranging from 20% to 80% of tax due, depending on whether the taxpayer's return was accidentally, mistakenly or fraudulently in error. The 80% rate also applies to estimated assessments in the absence of a return or a return submitted only after an injunction.

- Real property tax – an annual real property tax is levied on the owner of property in "main" towns at a rate of 6% of the rental value built properties and 5% for non-built properties. The charge may be reduced when the property remains vacant. The tax is payable in advance, in equal instalments in January and March. The balance is payable no later than 31 May.
- Other – An annual radio tax of XOF1 000 is due from individuals subject to individual income tax in Benin and an annual television tax of XOF3 000 is due from individuals subject to individual income tax in Benin (except employees whose taxable income does not exceed XOF50 000 per month).
- Social Security – The employee's contribution is 3.6% of gross salary.

Accounting principles/financial statements

International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) can be used in Benin even though it is not mandatory, together with accounting standards of the Organisation for Harmonisation of Business Law in Africa (OHADA) Financial statements must be prepared annually according to OHADA and filed with tax administration.

The CFA members (i.e. Benin, Burkina Faso, Cote d'Ivoire, Guinea-Bissau, Mali, Niger, Senegal and Togo) have agreed to apply exchange control regulations modelled on those of France. Transfers within the CFA Zone, are not restricted. Dividends paid out of revenue, and capital on disinvestment, may be remitted.

Expatriates and Work Permits

Work permits are required for expatriates who should come in Benin with a long-term visa (i.e. valid for one year). The employment contract of the expatriate is submitted to the Ministry of Labour for approval, and issue of the work permit valid for one year, renewable. A resident permit issued by Immigration Ministry is also required for all the expatriates.

Trade Relations

- Memberships – World Trade Organisation, West African Economic and Monetary Union (WAEMU), Economic Community of West African States (ECOWAS).
- Tax treaties – Benin has four treaties; namely, with France, Norway, Kuwait and the WAEMU (covering eight other countries and addressing income taxes, VAT and other duties).

Interest and Currency Exchange Rate

Monetary Policy Rate

Monetary policy is determined by the objective to:

- Increase the mobilisation of domestic resources.
 - Ensure the alignment of public expenditures with the strategy to reduce poverty.
 - Improve the business climate to foster private sector development.
 - Reduce the inflationary pressures due to rising fuel prices.
 - Ensure adequate liquidity to support the business.
- Interest rate is variable and determined by the TBB (base rate) decided by the Central Bank.

Notes:

1. Benin has just a single company listed on the regional stock exchange in Abidjan, Ivory Coast. This is despite the existence of four brokerage firms dealing in securities in Cotonou, Benin's commercial hub. And the one company to have its shares traded on the market (Bank of Africa-Benin) is controlled by a Moroccan group, BMCE Bank. Benin's situation is similar to most African countries where the overwhelming majority of companies are slow to have anything to do with the stock exchange.

Income Tax

The source basis of taxation is applied in Botswana, although citizens and some companies may be subject to tax on their income from foreign-sources. Expatriates who are resident in Botswana are not taxed on investment income or business income arising from a source outside Botswana.

Residents

Income Tax Rates for Resident Individuals: Years of Assessment Commencing On or After 1 July 2011

P	P	P
36 000	72 000	0 + 5%
72 000	108 000	1 800 + 12.5%
108 000	144 000	6 300 + 18.75%
144 000 +		13 050 + 25%

Notes:

- The threshold for individuals is P36 000.
- All persons earning more than P36 000 per annum are required to register with the Botswana Unified Revenue Service (BURS) and obtain a tax identification number (TIN). Failure to do so will result in a penalty of P10 000. All persons earning more than P36 000 per annum are required to file annual tax returns.
- Individuals, whether resident or non-resident, are liable for income tax on Botswana-source income. Residence status is important as non-residents are subject to tax at different rates.

- Individuals are considered to be a resident for tax purposes:-
 - if the permanent place of abode is in Botswana;
 - if they are physically present in Botswana for more than 183 days in any tax year; or
 - if the individual is physically present for any period of time and that period is continuous with a period of physical presence in the immediately preceding or immediately succeeding tax year, where the individual had been treated as a resident.
- There are no rebates or abatements.
- From 1 July 2011, all amounts accrued to any person are now deemed to be from one source with the exception of mining, farming and capital gains. (This was always the case with companies but is now extended to individuals).
- Individuals are taxed on the value of any benefit or advantage arising from employment, whether in cash or otherwise.
- Few deductions are allowed. Contributions to a pension or superannuation fund are deductible. Taxpayers with business income are allowed the same deductions as for companies. For retrenchment packages, one-third or P36 000 (whichever is greater) is exempt. Contractual terminal gratuities and severance payments are exempt to the extent of one-third.
- Each spouse is taxed separately on his/her income.
- The interest exemption for individuals is P7 800 per annum. Interest income which has been subjected to the 10% withholding tax (WHT) does not have to be declared and the WHT suffered is considered a final charge to tax.
- Where residents receive interest in excess of P1 950 per quarter, they will be subject to a 10% WHT.
- Self-assessment tax applies to non-corporate taxpayers on an optional basis.
- The income tax return for individuals must be filed within three months of the end of the tax year. Currently there are no penalties for late filing of returns by individuals. Any balance of tax due is payable within 30 days of receipt of the assessment.
- The tax year is the 12-month period from 1 July to 30 June.

Non-Residents

Income Tax Rates for Non-Resident Individuals, Trusts and Estates: Years of Assessment Commencing On or After 1 July 2011

108 000	144 000	8 100 + 18.75%
144 000 +		14 850 + 25%

Notes:

1. The non-resident tax rates have remained unchanged.
2. These rates are applicable to non-residents in respect of employment and business income earned in Botswana. In addition, certain payments made to non-residents at an address outside Botswana are subject to WHT.
3. The non-resident tax rates also apply to trusts and estates.

150 001 – 200 000	10 000	4 000
200 001 +	10 000 + 15% of excess	5 000

Notes:

1. Where the fuel cost is paid for by the employee, the fuel cost adjustment is deducted from the benefit, but where the fuel cost is borne by the employer, the full benefit is taxable.

Medical Contributions

The employer's contributions to a medical benefit fund on behalf of his employee, up to an amount equal to 100% of the required contributions, are not taxable in the hands of the employee.

Individual’s Housing Benefit

 - (a) 10% of property’s rateable value; or
 - (b) 25% of taxable employment income before housing benefit.
- If not rated – The lower of (a) or (b) pro-rated by occupation and reduced by any charge borne by the employee:
 - (a) Gross floor area x P250 x 8%; or
 - (b) 25% of taxable employment income before housing benefit.

Individual’s Furniture Benefit

10% of furniture cost in excess of P15 000 pro-rated by usage.

Companies

Income Tax Rates for Companies: Years of Assessment Commencing On or After 1 July 2011
	Note	Rate
Resident companies	1, 4	22%
Non-resident companies	1, 4	30%
Capital Transfer Tax
Aggregated taxable value	7	12.5%
On application
Manufacturing companies and International Financial Services Centre (IFSC) companies	1	15%

Notes:

1. The corporate tax rate for resident companies is 22%. WHT rate on dividends paid is 7.5%. This equates to an effective tax rate of 27.85%. Manufacturing and IFSC corporate tax rates remain at 15%. In respect of a manufacturing company, the effective tax rate is 21.375%. The tax rate of a branch of a foreign company is 30%, which makes this the least tax-efficient vehicle through which to operate in Botswana.
2. A company, for income tax purposes, includes any association or society (whether or not incorporated or registered), but excludes a partnership.
3. A company is resident, if it is incorporated in Botswana or managed in Botswana.
4. Corporate tax is levied on the Botswana sourced taxable income of all companies, other than tax-exempt bodies (such as pension funds and charities) and small companies that elect to be treated as partnerships or sole proprietorships.
5. Foreign-sourced dividends and interest are deemed to be from a Botswana source and taxed on accrual, while business profits are taxable only when remitted to Botswana.
6. Capital gains derived by companies are taxed at the rate of 22%. Where the gain arises from the sale of shares, only 75% of the amount realised is taxable. Gains from shares which are listed on the Botswana Stock Exchange (BSE) are tax exempt if the seller holds at most 49% of the shares and for a period of at least one year prior to the date of disposal. (The holding of 49%, to get a tax exemption from Capital Gains Tax (CGT), only applies to the promoter/holding company. It does not apply to the “man-in-the-street”). Gains from the disposal of IFSC shares are exempt from tax.
7. Capital Transfer Tax has remained unchanged at 12.5%.
8. Local dividends are exempt. However, dividends from sources outside Botswana are subject to a flat rate of 15%.
9. Approved financial operations that qualify as an IFSC company include: banking and financing operations, broking and trading of securities, investment advice, management and custodial functions in relation to collective investments, insurance and related activities, exploitation of intellectual property, and accounting and financial administration. In the past, IFSC companies were only allowed to do business with non-residents. The rule was relaxed in 2006/7 to allow such companies to transact with related companies which have existing operations in Botswana.

10. For mining projects, the company is taxed on the basis of the tax agreement entered with the Ministry of Finance and Development Planning, as per the provisions of the Income Tax Act.

- In the case of companies where no such agreement has been entered into, the mining profits will be taxed as per the tax formula set out below:-

$$\text{Tax rate} = 70 - 1500/x$$

where x is the ratio expressed as a percentage of taxable income to gross income, subject to a minimum tax rate of 22%.

- Mining companies are eligible for a mining capital allowance calculated at 100% of the mining capital expenditure incurred in the tax year.
11. Amounts contributed to an approved mine rehabilitation fund are a deductible expense. The investment income of the fund is exempt from tax and a 10% WHT on the refund of excess contributions from the fund to the contributor, applies.
12. An assessed loss may be carried forward for five years. Mining and farming losses can be carried forward indefinitely. However, the amount of farming losses that can be claimed against non-farming income is limited to 50% of the non-farming income, for persons other than a company.
13. Corporate Income Tax returns must normally be submitted for each tax year within four months from the end of that tax year or four months from the end of the company's financial accounting year, if it differs from the tax year. Failure to pay tax or late filing may give rise to interest at 1.5% per month or part of a month and penalty of P100 per day, respectively.
14. Relief from double taxation is provided in the form of a foreign tax credit. The credit may be granted under a tax treaty or unilaterally under Botswana domestic tax law. In the latter case, the credit is limited to the amount of Botswana tax applicable on the foreign income.
15. The exemption from income tax and CGT of public benefit organisations (PBOs), is only available to those organisations which satisfy the Commissioner that such income is applied for public benefit purposes.
16. There are currently no anti-avoidance rules for transfer pricing, thin capitalisation rules (except in the case of IFSC, mining companies), controlled foreign companies (CFCs) and disclosure requirements.

17. The payment of the training levy is a deductible expense, and any refund received from the Botswana Qualifications Authority (BQA), is assessable income. The double deduction only applies to training costs to which there is no entitlement to a BQA refund.

18. No payroll or social security tax is imposed on corporations.

Tax Administration and Compliance

- Botswana tax law treats every company within a group as a separate and independent taxpayer. No provision is made for group companies to file a consolidated tax return, nor are there provisions for losses to be transferred between group companies. However, relief is provided in respect of dividends paid out of dividends received.
- A Self-Assessment Tax (SAT) system applies. Under self-assessment, a company that has a liability of over P50 000 is required to pay the tax in four quarterly payments commencing the first quarter after its financial year-end. A final, or fifth instalment, can be made four months after its year-end at the same time that the company submits its return. A company with a liability of less than P50 000, is required to pay the full liability four months after its year-end at the same time that the company submits its return.
- Penalties may be imposed at P100 per day for late filing of corporate returns. Late payment interest on quarterly SAT payments and assessed tax is compounded at 1.5% per month. Late payment of Pay-As-You-Earn (PAYE) and WHT is also compounded at 1.5% per month.
- There is no formal advance tax ruling system in Botswana. However, a company may seek a non-binding interpretation of particular provisions of the law from the Botswana Unified Revenue Service (BURS).

Botswana

- The definition of assessment has been expanded to include a liability for WHT. This simplifies the objection and appeal procedures in cases of WHT disputes.
- All appeals against disallowed objections, which from 1 July 2011 includes WHT disputes, must first be heard by a board of adjudicators. Previously, taxpayers had the option of taking a dispute directly to the High Court, and this was the preferred route.
- General anti-avoidance measures are of application and thin capitalisation rules apply to mining companies and IFSC companies.

Withholding Taxes (WHTs)

Certain payments made to residents and non-residents, whether corporate or individual, are subject to WHT.

These tax rates are set out below:

WHT Rates
		Residents	Non-Residents
	Note	Rate	Rate
Contractors	4	3%	3%
Dividends	1,3,5	7.5%	7.5%
Entertainers/sportsmen	1,9		10%
Interest	1,5,10	10%	15%
Management, technical and consulting fees	1,5,6,7		15%
Royalties	1,5,8		15%
Rent	11	5%	5%
Commissions and brokerage	11	10%	10%
Surplus mine rehabilitation funds	13	10%	10%

Notes:

1. The WHT payable on dividends and on interest, royalties, entertainers/sportsmen fees, and management, technical and consulting fees paid to non-residents, is a final tax.
2. No WHT is levied on branch profit remittances and IFSC companies.

3. The WHT rates applicable to non-residents, as above, may be varied, based on the rates as per the Double Tax Avoidance Agreement (DTAA) with the relevant countries.
4. The WHT does not apply to construction related services e.g. design, engineering and surveying.
5. Botswana has DTAA's with Barbados, France, India, Lesotho, Mauritius, Namibia, Russia, Seychelles, South Africa, Swaziland, Sweden, Mozambique, United Kingdom (UK) and Zimbabwe. These WHT rates are reduced by the DTAA's, other than in the case of the agreement with Sweden (see below). It is proposed that the WHT rate on dividends will be the lower of 7.5% and the treaty rate.
6. Management, technical and consulting fees include payments in consideration for any services of an administrative, technical, managerial or consulting nature. Virtually all service fees are caught irrespective of where services are rendered.
7. Payments by local telecommunication companies to foreign telecommunication companies under international agreements for international telephone service fees, are exempt from the WHT requirements applicable to commercial royalties.
8. The definition of an entertainment fee specifically includes payments to associations and companies for the activities of non-resident entertainers. Therefore, all payments to non-resident entertainers, regardless of who actually receives the payments or how they are made, are subject to the 10% WHT applicable to entertainers. Previously, the definition could be interpreted to include only payments to an individual entertainer.
9. Botswana residents receiving interest in excess of P1 950 per quarter, payable by banks and financial institutions on deposits, bonds and securities, are subject to a 10% WHT. This is a final tax.
10. Tax must be withheld on payments of rent (5%) and commissions and brokerage (10%). There are exemptions if rent is paid to an exempt person, or if the rent is paid by an individual who will not claim the deduction as a business expense.
11. Where payments of royalties, management or consultancy fees, interest and entertainment fees, are made to non-residents, a deduction is only allowed for income tax if the WHT has been paid in that tax year.
12. A 10% WHT on the refund of excess contributions from the mining rehabilitation fund to the contributor, applies.

Notes:

1. The lower rate applies if the recipient is a company which owns at least 25% of the share capital of the company paying the dividend.
2. The DTA with Sweden does not provide for the reduction of WHT rates.

- The rollover relief will also apply where property is disposed of as a consequence of the reorganisation (including a restructuring or merger) of a resident company, and the Commissioner is satisfied that the sole object of the reorganisation is to enable the company to offer its shares for listing on the BSE.
- Relief available where a person reinvests the original investment plus all or part of the gain from the disposal of the immovable property;
- Gain reinvested will be considered for CGT purposes only upon disposal of the property in which it was reinvested;
- The portion of the original gain not reinvested is subject to CGT in the tax year in which it arose;
- Investment to be made within one year of the disposal of property.

Notes:

1. In order to obtain the exemption from CGT on the sale of shares listed on the BSE, the taxpayer must have held the shares for at least one year.
2. In order to qualify for the exemption from CGT on the sale of an individual's principal private residence, the house must have been owned for at least five years, and in respect of any further sale of a principal private residence, the house must have been owned by the individual for a further five years from the previous exemption.

General Investment Information

Investment IncentivesGeneral Incentives

There are two types of investment incentives:

1. Development Approval Order (DAO).
 - Companies which conduct an approved business of manufacturing qualify for a lower corporate tax rate of 15%. However, only certain types of manufacturing processes qualify.
 - Any project that will benefit the economic development of Botswana may qualify. This is particularly used in the mining industry but can apply to any project with the emphasis being on employment generation. The relief given can take any form and is totally negotiable.
2. The Citizen Entrepreneurial Development Agency (CEDA) provides low-interest loans to citizens.

Further investment incentives include the following:

3. Local Participation or Management Requirements.
 - There are no nationality or residence requirements for shareholders.
 - Companies may be 100% foreign-owned. However, certain types of businesses are reserved for Botswana citizens, or for companies that are majority owned by Botswana citizens.
 - There are no local management requirements, but there is an expectation that citizen employees will be trained so as to enable them to participate in management. At least one director must be resident in Botswana. However, that person does not have to be a Botswana citizen.

Taxes

- All business taxes, such as municipal rates and VAT, are deductible with the exception of income taxes.
- The creation of reserves and provisions is generally not permitted. However, banks are allowed to make provision for bad or doubtful debts, which may not exceed 1.5% of the amount of their loans and advances as at the end of the tax year. Such provision is deductible only if it had been recorded in the accounts of the bank for the relevant tax year or accounting period.
- Relief from double taxation is provided in the form of a credit against Botswana tax for foreign tax paid on the same income. The credit may be granted either in terms of a DTA or unilaterally in terms of Botswana domestic tax law.

An upturn in coffee production and construction should lead to a modest rise in growth in 2013/14. However, growth remains vulnerable in the context of volatile oil prices, an uncertain international trade situation and uncertain foreign aid.
2. There is no stock, corporate, or government bond market in Burundi. Capital is raised from commercial banks. In terms of government securities, 91-day Treasury bills are issued.

Cameroon

The Cameroonian concept of income taxation is the same as in industrialised countries. There are two main income taxation systems; namely, one for individuals and the other for entities. Turnover is also subject to taxation. The Turnover Tax (Taxe sur la valeur ajoutée) is borne by the final consumer.

Income Tax

Individuals

- On an annual basis – Annual Real Estate Tax.
- In case of acquisition of real estate – Due on transfer.
- In case of qualifying capital gains – At the moment of sale.

The transfer of real property located in Chad is subject to a flat tax of 10%.

Inheritance/Estate Tax

Inheritance tax is levied in the form of registration duty (droits d'enregistrement) on transfers of property for no consideration to resident individuals, and on the transfer of Chadian-situs property to non-residents.

Wealth Tax

There is no net wealth tax in Chad.

Payroll Tax

Payroll tax in Chad is very similar to income tax but is paid by the employer on the basis of "Pay-As-You-Earn" (PAYE). Social security fees, public health insurance and other deductions, are all included in this payment, and other deductions in Chad are dependent on the individual's income.

Employers are required to pay a lump sum tax on employment income (taxe forfaitaire) at a rate of 7.5% on gross income paid to employees, including the portion of benefits in kind. In addition, companies subject to CIT, are also subject to the Apprenticeship Tax.

Other

Individuals carrying on a business are subject to the business licence duty (contribution des patentes) in the same manner as companies.

Apprenticeship Tax

Any individual, subject to GIT in the categories of industrial and commercial, non-commercial or agricultural profits, is subject to Apprenticeship Tax (taxe d'apprentissage et de formation professionnelle) in the same manner as a company.

Tax Administration

Corporations

- Tax year – Calendar year. A company cannot request a different 12-month period.
- Filing requirements – The tax return must be filed before 30 April of the following year. A 15-day extension may be requested from the General Tax Authorities. Companies must make advance payments of tax before 15 August and 15 November of each year. Advance tax paid may be credited against the final corporate tax liability for the year.
- Penalties – Late payment penalties are imposed at the following rates: 1.5% per month, or fraction thereof, with a maximum of 50% or 100% (if deemed deliberate).

Individuals

- Tax year – The tax year runs from 1 January to 31 December.
- Filing and payment – Individuals carrying out a trade must file returns by 1 April, except for individuals carrying professional activities (i.e. industrial, commercial, agricultural), who benefit from an extension until 30 April.
- Penalties – Late payment penalties are assessed at the following rates: 1.5% per month, or fraction thereof, if the tax authorities have to intervene.

General Investment Information

Investment Incentives

General Incentives

Chad has enacted several laws to encourage foreign investment in the industrial, services, finance and tourism sectors. Various incentives (i.e. exemptions, reduced rates, financial support, investment bonuses, and full tax allowances etc.) are provided for by the Investment Incentives Code. This has increased investment in Chad.

Exchange Controls

Foreign-owned companies, and branches of foreign companies, may freely repatriate profits provided applicable taxes have been paid. Certain transfers, however, must be approved by the Central Bank.

Expatriates and Work Permits

Inward Expatriates

There is no special regime for expatriates in Chad. Employees with no habitual residence in Chad are subject to income tax on wages and salaries received in respect of their employment in Chad. The family circumstances of an expatriate are not taken into consideration in calculating the total income tax payable, unless his/her family members reside permanently in Chad.

Outward Expatriates

Wages and salaries from employment exercised abroad by an individual, with habitual residence in Chad, are taxable in Chad, unless tax treaties provide to the contrary.

Persons who leave Chad before 31 December in any year, and who retain their interests in the country, will remain liable to tax if they have not given prior notice that they intend to leave for good.

Employment Visas

In order to be in compliance with both the labour and immigration authorities, all expatriates working in Chad must hold the following legal documents:

- An employment authorisation that cannot exceed a one-year period of time (autorisation d'emploi).
- A work permit (permis de travail).
- A resident card (carte de séjour).
- A long-term visa and a return visa (visa long séjour et visa retour).
- A labour contract to be stamped by the National Office for the Employment Promotion. The employment contract cannot start before this stage. (The delivery of these legal documents is interconnected and therefore, their duration will not exceed a one-year period (renewal possible)).

Chad

Notes:

1. There is no need to register for tax and social security purposes since this is handled by the employer. It is, however, necessary to register with immigration services within three days after arrival in Chad.
2. The assignee leaving Chad shall file a tax return reporting all income earned during the period between 1 January (or the date of his arrival in Chad) and the date of his departure.

Trade Relations

- Memberships – World Trade Organization (WTO), Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD).
- Tax treaties – Countries with which Chad currently has double taxation agreements (DTAs) include: Cameroon, Congo (Brazzaville), Gabon, Central African Republic and Equatorial Guinea (under CEMAC Treaty).

Income Tax

Residents

Resident individuals are subject to tax on worldwide income.

Income Tax Rates for Resident Individuals

Taxable Income as exceeds	But does not exceed	Rate
XAF	XAF	%
0	464 000	1%
464 001	1 000 000	10%
1 000 001	3 000 000	25%
3 000 001 +		40%

Notes:

1. Basis – Resident individuals are assessed on their worldwide income and non-residents on income derived from a source in Congo.
2. Residence – Residence begins from the first day of work performed in Congo and applies to individuals staying more than 14 days in a calendar year. For French or CEMAC (Central African Economic and Monetary Community) citizens, in terms of double tax treaties (DTAs), an individual becomes tax resident after 183 days of presence in Congo during a calendar year.
3. Rates – The personal income tax (PIT) rates for resident individuals, set out in the table above, apply in aggregate to all income.
4. Taxable income – The remunerations received under conditions of Congolese law, are subject to PIT as soon as they are regarded as wages.

5. Deductions and allowances – Allowances for professional expenses (i.e. transport, allowances of representation etc.) are not considered as being part of wages.
These allowances are not taxable if:
 - They do not exceed 15% of the taxable income.
 - Such allowances cannot be reimbursed.
 The taxable income is then determined as follows:
 - By deducting from wages (to be considered as the gross sum to be paid), the withholdings made by the employer for the constitution of pensions or retirement benefits with capital alienated within the limit of 6% of the gross value of remunerations, as well as the withholdings made for social security.
 - By adding the benefits in kind.
6. Treatment of families – The head of a family is normally subject to PIT on his/her income and on the income of his dependent children or spouse. However, an individual may elect to be assessed separately. A married woman can be assessed separately if she has employment income, or if her husband is not subject to tax in Congo, or if she is separated from her husband. The family circumstances of the taxpayer are taken into account using an income tax relief system based on number of dependents, as follows:

Income Tax Relief System

Single, divorced or widowed without children	1
Married without children	2
Single or divorced with 1 child	2
Married or widowed with 1 child	2.5
Single or divorced with 2 children	2.5
Married or widowed with 2 children	3
Single or divorced with 3 children	3
Married or widowed with 3 children	3.5
Single or divorced with 4 children	3.5
+ 0.5 for supplementary child up to factor of 6.5	0.5

Congo

7. The yearly declaration of wages – Congo applies the Pay-As-You-Earn (PAYE) system. This means that PIT is withheld each month by the company, and employees whose sole income consists of employment income, are not required to submit an income tax return. Nevertheless, the employer must file each year (in January) an annual declaration of salaries to reconcile the PAYE paid each month with the global amount reversed to employees during the tax year.
8. Non-residents – Individuals not domiciled in the Republic of Congo are subject to tax on Congo-source income only. According to article 185ter of the General Tax Code (GTC), persons or entities of foreign nationality not being domiciled, nor having a tax residence in Congo, are subject to a withholding tax (WHT) at 20% if they earned incomes in Congo and/or resulting from work or services of any nature carried out, provided or used in Congo. The wages paid to staff not domiciled in Congo, are not subject to the progressive scale with application of the family ratio, but instead to a 20% WHT. This tax applies only after 14 days of presence in Congo. However this is retroactive i.e. after those first 15 days, the tax application starts from the first day of presence in Congo.
9. Employment income – Income from salaries, wages, pensions, annuities and per diems for attending meetings of boards of directors is taxable, subject to a deduction for expenses incurred in the performance of the employment or office, to the extent that they are properly applied and accounted for and not excessive or expenses of a private nature. It was agreed between the tax authorities and the employers' federation (UNICONGO) on the principle of fixing an acceptable level of wages being used as taxable base of the non-resident personnel of foreign companies. This scale is in theory applicable only to the oil subcontractors.
 - Housing: 20% of gross salary.
 - Domestic services, security: 5% of gross salary.
 - Water, lighting, gas: 7% of gross salary.
 - Phone: 2% of gross salary.
 - Car: 3% of gross salary.
 - Food: 20% of gross salary.
10. Benefits in kind – Since the Finance Act 2011, each benefit in kind is retained for its actual amount when known i.e. billed and paid by the employer. If the amount is not known, the benefits in kind are valued as follows:

11. Personal assessments and payments – PIT arising from employment is withheld at source under a PAYE system. Payments are due from the employer before the 20th of the following month, together with the statutory return.
12. Industrial and commercial profits – Low income individuals earning professional income, agricultural profits or working as artisans may agree with the tax administration how to compute their net income. In other cases, the net income is computed as it is for companies.
13. Income from real estate – Real estate income includes income from leased land and developed property, including leased plant and equipment that is a permanent part of such property. Interest and actual expenses incurred can be deducted as expenses in computing the net taxable income.

Companies

Income Tax Rates for Resident Companies
	Rate of Tax
Corporate income tax rate (normal)	30%
Corporate Income tax rate (mining)	30%
Corporate income tax rate (ATE)	7.7%

Notes:

1. Residence – A commercial entity is resident in Congo if its registered office, or centre of activity, or management, is in Congo or it has resident employees in Congo that render services to its customers, except in cases where a Temporary Authorisation to Operate (ATE) has been granted. According to the Congolese commercial legislation, temporary commercial activities may be carried out in Congo under a Temporary Authorisation to Operate (Autorisation Temporaired Exercece) obtained from the Ministry of Commerce. The application for an ATE requires the following documents (certified translations in French language):
 - A copy of the contract signed with the Congolese company or the State.
 - A copy of the articles of association of the contracting foreign company.
 - A copy of the foreign company registration certified by the foreign company's home Chamber of Commerce and countersigned by an authority of the Congo Embassy or Consulate, if applicable.

Note: The ATE must be requested within 10 days after the contract signature, unless a specific date for commencement of work is provided in the contract. The ATE lasts for six months (initial fee, XAF10 010 000), and may be renewed once in theory, but up to three times in practice, within the limit of a total duration of one year (renewal fee, XAF25 000 000). The ATE is issued for one single contract. In case of multiple contracts executed simultaneously in Congo, one ATE per contract should be requested.
2. Basis – Resident entities are assessed on their worldwide income, subject to the application of DTAs. Non-residents are assessed on transactions carried out in Congo.
3. Rate – Corporate tax is currently levied at 30% rate. The minimum company tax amounts to 1% of the turnover of the previous year with a minimum of XAF500 000 where the turnover was under XAF10 million and XAF1 million otherwise.
4. Foreign-source income – Income subject to CIT is determined on the basis of profits earned or transactions carried out in Congo, subject to international conventions.

5. Taxable income – The taxable profit is the actual profit assessed in respect of the total financial income statement of operations carried out by the company, including transfers of any assets during or at the end of the financial year. The taxable profit is established upon deduction of all operating fees i.e.:
 - Salaries to wage-earners and associates.
 - Representation fees.
 - General fees, technical assistance-related, financial and accounting consultancy related fees (this is limited to 20% of the taxable profit when the beneficiary is not a resident of the CEMAC member states or France).
 - Renting expenses.
 - Royalties for the acquisition of patent and licences.
 - Tax and duties.
 - Financial charges (i.e. interest on the company's debts).
 - Losses.
 - Amortisations and depreciation allowance.
 - Deficit carried forward.
6. Deductions – Deductions are allowed for reasonable expenditure incurred in performing activities that produce assessable income. Expenditure considered either excessive or unnecessary for the reasonable needs of the business, will be disallowed and may be subject to a 50% or 100% tax penalty depending on the authority's perception of the motive.
7. Losses – Losses may be carried forward for up to three years but may not be carried back. (Note: capital allowance claims can be deferred indefinitely. Losses of one entity may not be transferred to another entity either in a consolidated group, or in the case of a corporate merger or other reorganisation.).
8. Dividends – Dividends received by a resident company from a resident or non-resident company, are subject to income tax. However, the recipient company has the right to set off any Congo tax withheld from the dividend against its company tax liability. Where the resident company owns at least 25% of the shares in the affiliate, and the shares remain registered in the name of the shareholder for at least two consecutive years, only 10% of the dividend is subject to tax.
9. Royalties – The costs of patents, trademarks, licences, drawings, manufacturing procedures, models and other similar rights, are deductible if they are not excessive, provided the rights are actually used in the business.

10. Interest – Interest on capital borrowed for business purposes is deductible with all necessary receipts if it is a real expense. Interest paid to the members of a company on funds provided by them to the company in excess of their share capital holding, is deductible subject to a limitation on the interest rate applied. For tax deductibility purposes, this may not exceed two percentage points above the lending rate of the Central Bank at the time the interest payments were due.
11. Purchasing commissions – Deductible if they are invoiced separately.
12. Management fees – Head office expenses of the Congo branch are fully deductible if an actual service is provided. Costs of studies and fees for technical, financial, or accounting assistance, are deductible if the costs are within a limit of 20% of the taxable income before deduction of these costs, provided an actual service is provided. If a company has a tax loss, the limit is 20% of the taxable income made during the previous year, subject to a tax audit. Purchasing commissions are deductible if they are invoiced separately.
13. Remuneration – Payroll and benefits in kind are deductible in full, provided that they are reasonable and related to actual employment. Payments made to the members of the board are deductible if such payments are reasonable and related to actual service, provided such payments have been properly authorised. Payments to a sole administrator of the board are not deductible. Lump sum allowances paid to management and staff are not deductible where the actual expenditure incurred is reimbursed as well.
14. Rents – Real estate rental payments are deductible in full, provided that they are reasonable. However, any rent paid to a member of a company who owns at least 10% of the company's shares, will be disallowed. The total shares owned by the member's spouse, children and parents, are also taken into account in calculating the 10% limit.

15. Depreciation – Tax depreciation is calculated using the straight-line method. Generally, all new or used tangible fixed assets owned by the company and used for business purposes, are depreciable for tax purposes, provided the asset value diminishes with time or through use. To be deductible, depreciation must be recorded in the accounting books. A company can indefinitely defer depreciation claims if it is in a loss position. The annual allowance rates are as follows:

Asset Type	Allowance Rates
Buildings	5% to 20%
Fixed plant and machinery	5% to 25%
Moveable plant and machinery	10% to 33.33%
Vehicles	5% to 33.33%
Furniture	10% to 33.33%

16. Bad and doubtful debts – Bad debts are deductible but only specific provisions for doubtful debts are deductible. If the debt provided for is subsequently recovered, the recovery is taxed in the year in which the recovery was made. Present circumstances may be deducted, provided that the provisions have been booked for accounting purposes in that year, deductible. For example, provisions for inventory losses and current asset depreciation, treated as expenditure in the financial statements, are deductible for tax.
17. Provisions – Provisions made for clearly specified losses or costs which are likely to occur given that the corresponding cost is purposes.
18. Other expenses – All entertainment expenses related to fishing, yachting, tourist airplanes or recreational real estate, are not deductible. Leave passages for a salaried partner, his/her spouse and his/her minor children are deductible for one trip per year (only for expatriate employees who have signed an employment contract abroad). Insurance premiums are deductible if these premiums are ordinary expenses. Donations, gifts and subsidies are deductible if granted to support sport, scientific, educational, family and social activities in Congo, limited to 0.05% of turnover.

19. Exchange differences – Realised foreign exchange gains are taxable and realised foreign exchange losses are deductible. Unrealised exchange gains are not taxable and unrealised exchange losses are not deductible. The same treatment applies whether the exchange differences arise from trading or from foreign currency denominated assets and liabilities.
20. Taxation of non-resident entities – Unless otherwise provided by a DTA, companies that are not domiciled or taxes resident in Congo, are subject to a 20% WHT on all income derived from Congo. Dividends payable to foreign shareholders are also subject to a WHT at a 20% rate.
21. Group companies – A company is always treated as an independent entity for tax purposes. It is not possible for companies, however related, to combine their results for tax purposes.

Tax Treatment of Branches, Entities Working under ATE and Subsidiaries

In principle, branches are taxed in the same way as resident companies. However, in practice, the tax administration taxes non-CEMAC branches working in the oil and gas sector as if they were entities operating under ATEs and WHT acts as a final tax in Congo. The CEMAC branches are taxed in the same way as resident companies.

Foreign companies temporarily providing services to locally incorporated oil companies in Congo, or in the Congolese territorial waters, are subjected to the following tax regime: taxable income is gross income less mobilisation, demobilisation or reimbursable costs. Sums received or due in respect of reimbursement of costs and expenses, or in respect of the movement of plant, equipment and personnel to or from Congo (mobilisation and demobilisation), are not included in this taxable income, provided such sums are reasonable and correctly classified. The foreign company is then subject to corporate tax at the standard rate of 35% on 22% of their taxable deemed profit margin. The effective rate of tax (on taxable income) is therefore, 7.7%.

Withholding Taxes (WHTs)

Individuals, or companies, not domiciled or having tax residence in Congo, are subject to a WHT of 20% on income arising from services, supplied, carried out, or used in Congo, or from dividends, except where relieved by a DTA. The rate of the WHT is reduced to 5.75% for Congolese or foreign individuals, or legal entities with incomes coming from contracts related to the "Zone of Unitisation."

The WHTs are set out below. For non-residents the WHT is a final tax:

WHT Rates
	Note	Residents	Non-Residents
Dividends	1	20%	20%
Interest		20%	20%
Royalties	2	20%	20%
Technical service fees		20%	20%

Notes:

1. Dividends – Dividends paid by a resident entity are subject to a 20% withholding, deductible from the tax payable by the recipient. There are some tax agreements to limit double taxation.
2. Royalties – Individuals, or companies, not domiciled or having tax residence in Congo, are subject to a WHT of 20% on income arising from services supplied, carried out, or used in Congo. This provision does not apply to interest on loans paid by the debtor company located in the Congo to banks and credit institutions which have no domicile or tax residence in the Congo. For countries having signed a tax agreement with the Congo (e.g. France, Italy, Mauritius), this tax withholding is collected at a reduced rate.
3. Branch remittance tax – A branch of a foreign company is subject to a remittance tax, regardless of whether there is an actual transfer of profits. Seventy percent of branch profits is treated as though it had been remitted as a dividend and are taxed at a rate of 15% (i.e. a 1,502% rate effectively applies to the branch's turnover).

Maximum WHT Rates Once a DTA is Applied

WHT on payments to countries with which Republic of Congo has a DTA area as follows:

Type of Income	CEMAC	France	Other Countries
Dividends	0%	15%	20%
Interest	0%	0%	20%
Royalties	0%	0%	20%
Technical service fees	0%	0%	20%

Capital Gains Tax (CGT)

Companies

Capital gains are treated as ordinary business income and are taxed at the standard income tax rate (i.e. 30%). However, a capital gain realised on the disposal of a fixed asset, in the course of trading, is excluded from income for a period of three years if the taxpayer reinvests the gain in new fixed assets for the business.

A capital gain resulting from the gratuitous allocation of shares, founders' shares, or debentures on the merger of limited liability companies or limited partnerships with share capital, is also excluded provided that the company arising from the merger has its registered office in Congo.

On the assignment, transfer, or cessation of a company within five years following its incorporation or purchase, net capital gains will be assessed at only half their value. If such an event takes place more than five years after the company is formed or purchased, the net capital gains will be assessed at a third of their value.

Notes:

1. Taxation of capital gains on sales of shares of the companies by non-residents owners – The Finance Act 2013, added new significant provisions for taxation of capital gains. According to the GTC, in case of direct or indirect sale of company assets and/or shares leading to a change of control of the Congolese company, net capital gains are taxed:
 - For half of the capital gain if the sale occurs within five years of the creation of the Congolese subsidiary.
 - If the sale occurs after five years, one-third of the capital gain is taxable in Congo.
 Capital gains realised by physical, or corporations domiciled abroad, from the sale of all or part of its shares in the capital of companies under Congolese law, are taxable at the rate of 20%. The tax on capital gain is payable at the registration of transfer of shares. The assignor and the Congolese company which shares were sold, are jointly and severally responsible for the payment of the tax.
2. Taxation of capital gains made by the Congolese holding – In terms of the GTC:
 - Capital gains from the disposal by the holding companies of their participating interests, are taxable at a rate equal to a quarter of ordinary rate of CIT, if those shares sold were acquired or subscribed for over two years.
 - Capital gains from the sale of ownership interests held for less than two years, are taxed at the CIT under the common law, unless if the shares were acquired as a result of merger or a contribution.
 - The capital gain is not taxable when the portfolio of securities of the holding company consists of at least 60% of participation of companies whose head office is situated in one of the countries which are members of the CEMAC, and if the transfer occurs more than two years after their acquisition.

Individuals

Capital gains of resident individuals are subject to PIT. Taxable gains are added to other income and taxed accordingly, except for private building and lands in the scope of a private patrimonial management. Capital gains attributable to non-resident taxpayers are subject to a WHT of 20%.

Congo

Anti-avoidance

Transfer Pricing

The tax authorities may make adjustments to taxable income where related party transactions are not conducted at arm's length. The tax administration may request any information concerning the amount, date and form of payments to determine the taxable base. In absence of answer to said request by the company, or in the absence of production (or partial production of documentation), taxable bases are evaluated by the tax administration from the elements available to it. If it is not possible, profits to be taxed will be determined compared with those of similar companies typically operating in the Congo.

In the new Finance Act 2012, there are significant changes on transfer pricing regulations; namely, the requirement for any resident legal entity whose annual turnover equals or exceeds €152 449 to document the policy of transfer pricing and the introduction of rulings to validate such a policy in advance.

Thin Capitalisation

According to article 112E (of the GTC), interest on capital borrowed for business purposes, is deductible with all necessary receipts if it is a real expense. Interest paid to the members of a company on funds provided by them to the company in excess of their share capital holding, is deductible subject to a limitation on the interest rate applied. For tax deductibility purposes, this may not exceed two percentage points above the lending rate of the Central Bank at the time the interest payments were due. Moreover, as regards amounts paid by shareholders, the deduction shall be allowed only if such amounts do not exceed half of the capital.

Value Added Tax (VAT)

VAT	Rate
Standard rate	18.9%*

* The normal rate of 18% applies to all taxable transactions. A reduced rate of 5% applies to some consumer goods listed in the VAT legislation and a zero rate applies for exports and local sales of lumber.

Notes:

1. The individuals or legal entities performing any operation in the Congo, against payment and coming within an economic activity, are subject to VAT.
2. A business transaction is deemed to be made in the Congo: if it is a sale, when it is performed under the conditions of delivery in the Congo; and if it is a service, when the service provided, the right sold or the leased property are used or operated in the Congo.
3. Additional taxes, of which the causing event and the payability are defined as for VAT matter, are applicable to transactions subject to VAT. The tax base for additional taxes is the amount of VAT collected and the applicable rate is 5%. The additional taxes are not deductible.
4. Exports and similar transactions are assessed at a 0% VAT rate. All other transactions are assessed at the standard VAT rate of 18% plus an additional tax of 5% of the tax, making an effective rate of 18.9%. Article 7 of the Law on VAT specifies goods exempt from VAT. It includes in particular: some necessities, bank interests paying foreign loans, gambling and entertainment, mining, operations for the purpose of transmission of real estate and intangible personal property subject to registration fees, etc.
5. VAT on car purchases, spare parts and repairs, is not deductible as an input tax.
6. Registered VAT taxpayers are required to file monthly VAT returns within 15 days of the end of the month. The tax due has to be paid within 15 days following the filing of the return. Late payment of VAT attracts interest at the rate of 5% monthly up to a 50% penalty on the VAT liability (if good faith), or up to 100% in the case of willful default.
7. Non-resident entities whose supplies are subject to VAT in Congo are required to appoint solvent resident representatives to be responsible jointly with them for the payment of VAT and the discharge of other VAT obligations.

Congo

Customs and Excise Duties

Customs duties are set by CEMAC to which the Republic of Congo belongs. Trade between CEMAC countries are, in principle, exempt from customs duties. An Integration Community Tax of 1% is collected on imports from outside the CEMAC. An OHADA (Organisation pour l' Harmonisation en Afrique du Droit des Affaires) Community Tax of 0.5% is also collected on imports from outside the OHADA Zone.

Exports are exempt from exit duties and taxes, except for logs and manganese. The import of large industrial complexes is subject to a special procedure permitting the declaration under a single tariff for all elements of the larger whole.

Miscellaneous Taxes

Business Tax

All entities none expressly exempted and carrying out in Congo a trade or an industry, temporarily or permanently, are subject to a business license tax (or professional tax) levied according to the turnover of company. His calculation is based on the scale of turnover as in the table below.

	Scale of turnover in XAF	Rate or Value
1	1,000,000	XAF 10,000
2	1,000,000 to 20,000,000	0.750%
3	20,000,000 to 40,000,000	0.650%
4	40,000,000 to 100,000,000	0.450%
5	100,000,000 to 300,000,000	0.200%
6	300,000,000 to 500,000,000	0.150%
7	500,000,000 to 1,000,000,000	0.140%
8	1,000,000,000 to 3,000,000,000	0.135%
9	3,000,000,000 to 20,000,000,000	0.125%
10	Upwards of 20,000,000,000	0.045%

The business license is due from the first day of the first quarter of activity, but for and until the entire year by all those carrying out taxable businesses.

Companies are exempted from this tax for the first year of activity.

Property Taxes

This tax applies to stores, shops, factories, warehouses, building sites and other buildings being used for the exercise of professions subject to the business licence, including all the installations of any nature liable to land tax on built properties, whether these buildings or installations are rented or otherwise. The tax calculated on the rental value of the building is payable at the beginning of each calendar year. The rate is fixed each year per deliberation of the Popular Community Council and cannot exceed 15% of the rental value of the taxable buildings. The current rate is 14%.

Land Tax on Built Property

- Taxable entities and properties – Liable to this tax on built properties, buildings, as well as materials installed to remain permanently.
- New constructions and reconstructions, and additional constructions, are tax-exempt over:
 - 10 years, if the construction is used as an estate.
 - Five years, if the construction is of a use other than an estate.

Social Security

Contributions Owed by the Employer

Article 29 of the Employment Code provides that the execution of an employment contract in Congo, whatever the place of residence of the parties is, is subject to the provisions of the Congolese Employment Code. However, an exception is made for employment contracts governed by different legislation and where the employees in question are temporarily seconded to Congo for a period which must not exceed three consecutive months in Congo. Therefore, social security contributions should not apply to rotators if they stay less than three months in Congo. The employer must pay social security contributions on the whole remunerations in cash and in kind to the National Social Security Office (CNSS). The rate of social security contributions is 20.29%. This rate includes:

- A pension contribution (cotisation sociale vieillesse): 8% of maximum gross salary; monthly limited to XAF1.2 million.
- A family allowance contribution: 10.04% of maximum gross salary; monthly limited to XAF600 000.
- An industrial accident contribution: 2.25% of maximum gross salary; monthly limited to XAF600 000.

Contributions Owed by the Employee

For the employees, the rate of social security contribution is 0.04% of maximum gross salary, monthly capped to XAF1.2 million. This contribution is withheld by the employer.

Single Tax on Salaries

In order to simplify the former tax regime on this issue, the new Budget Law for Fiscal Year 2012 has set up a Single Tax on Salaries at the rate of 7.5%, calculated on uncapped salaries and benefits. This tax cancels the following taxes on employment:

- National Construction Fund Contribution (FNH).
- The lump sum tax owed by employers and payers of a life annuity.
- Tax on training.
- National construction fund contribution (Fond National pour l'Habitat).

General Investment Information

Investment Incentives

General Incentives

- Foreign Trade Zones/Free Trade Zones (FTZs) – As a member of the Central African Customs Union (UDEAC), the Republic of the Congo belongs to a FTZ which includes Cameroon, Central African Republic, Chad, Equatorial Guinea and Gabon. Within this zone, imports are subject to very low or no customs duties. The CEMAC Zone is also considered as a preferential trade area for Congo and other member countries. There are no foreign trade zones or free ports established in the country, however, this project is currently under consideration by the Ministry of Commerce.
- Bilateral investment agreements – Commercial and bilateral agreements to safeguard investments exist with the United States (US), France and China several African nations, including South Africa and Namibia.
- Protection of property rights – As a member of CEMAC, Congo is automatically a member of the African Intellectual Property Organisation (AIPO). AIPO is charged with issuing a single copyright system which is enforceable in all CEMAC member states. As a member of the World Trade Organisation (WTO), Congo is conforming its legislation to trade-related aspects governing intellectual property.
- Right to private ownership and establishment – The Republic of the Congo guarantees the legal right and freedom of private business to:
 - Import or export raw materials or products, equipment and materials necessary for economic activity.
 - Define their own production, commercial and hiring policies.
 - Select suppliers and customers and set prices. Given these guarantees, the Republic of the Congo is one of the most progressive and open economies in the Central African region to encourage and promote foreign private business development.
- Dispute settlement – The Republic of the Congo is a member of the WTO and is party to other DTAs governing trade and commerce. Binding international arbitration of investment disputes is accepted.

- Conversion and transfer policies – Funds are freely transferred within the French Franc Zone and there are no restrictions on importing foreign capital into Republic of the Congo.
- Openness to foreign investment – The Investment Charter offers a range of advantages to foreign investors such as free enterprise, no discrimination or disqualification on types of investment, and equal justice under Congolese law. The judicial system upholds the sanctity of contracts; parties also may appeal to foreign or international justice courts for any necessary relief.

Tax Incentives

- The Investment Charter provides some tax reductions for companies exercising a new activity.
- The GTC provides tax reductions for farm businesses.
- Specific codes (i.e. Mining Code, Hydrocarbons Code, and Forestry Code) also provide various tax incentives (and exemptions).

Exchange Controls

- As a member of CEMAC, Congo has the same currency as other community members. Members are required by international agreement to apply exchange control regulations modelled on those of France.
- The CFA agreement guarantees the availability of foreign exchange and the unlimited convertibility of the CFA Franc with the euro (€) at the fixed rate, which provides considerable monetary stability and simplifies multinational transactions. Transfers within the CEMAC Zone are not restricted.
- Inward direct investment requires prior declaration. The term inward direct investment means the purchase or acquisition of at least 10% of the shares in a resident entity or the purchase of shares costing XAF100 million or more.
- Loans obtained by companies in Congo from foreign shareholders, or from foreign enterprises within the same group, also require prior authorisation. The reinvestment of undistributed profits does not require prior declaration.
- Transfers outside the CEMAC Zone require prior authorisation, except those below XAF1 million, although this is primarily for statistical purposes. Transfers in excess of XAF5 million must be lodged with an authorised intermediary; namely, a bank authorised by the Central Bank to act as an intermediary.

Congo

- Expatriate employees may repatriate their earnings on a regular basis. All transfers to cover family and dependents' expenses outside the CEMAC Zone are authorised without limit.
- Transfers in settlement of imports in excess of XAF100 million require the submission of certain documents to the department responsible for exchange controls (including, an import licence and the final invoices). The CEMAC exchange control regulations do not apply to companies located in the Franc Zone, i.e.:
 - France, including its departments and territories and the Principality of Monaco.
 - Members of the Bank of Central African States (BEAC).
 - Members of the Bank of West African States (BCDEAO).

Notes:

1. Basis – There is no personal taxation per se in the DRC. Taxes due by individuals are remitted to the authorities by the employer. Both residents and non-residents, as a consequence of a source-based tax system, are taxable on employment income derived from the DRC. However, individuals engaged in a business are taxed under the rules governing companies i.e. all income accruing in, or derived from the DRC, is subject to tax on income in the DRC.
2. Residence – An individual is resident for tax purposes if he/she spends more than six months in the country.
3. Rates – DRC income tax rates are progressive between 0% and 40%. The overall tax shall not exceed, in any case, 30% of the taxable income.

4. Taxable income – Subject to the provisions pertaining to international agreements (i.e. DTAs), the incomes generated by professional activities carried out in the DRC, even though the beneficiary's registered office, main administrative place of business, domicile, or permanent residency, is not located in the DRC, shall be subject to the professional tax. Employment income includes salaries and other remuneration received as compensation for activities carried out in the country.
5. The payroll taxes (IPR) are calculated based on employee remuneration (i.e. salaries, fees, allowances, which do not represent reimbursement of actual, professional expenditure, gratuities, bonuses or pensions of any kind). The IPR is an annual tax but payable as a monthly withholding tax (WHT). It is due upon payment of salaries to employees.
6. Deductions and allowances – All fringe benefits are taxable, except for housing allowances (if it does not exceed 30% of basic salary), non-taxable transport and family allowances (if they do not exceed the legal limits).
7. Filing status – Although the tax law contains provisions applicable to individuals, personal taxes are collected through business entities.
8. Relief from double taxation is available through tax treaties to which the DRC is a signatory. It is important to note that the application of these treaties is still a controversial issue.
9. Exceptional Tax on Expatriates Salaries (IER) – This is an additional tax levied on the expatriates' taxable salaries as an expense for the employer. The IER is not a WHT.
10. Non-residents – Non-residents are subject to tax on DRC-source income only.
11. Benefits in kind – Any fringe benefits or benefits in kind, consisting of provision of furniture, staff meals, telephone, and water and electricity or power supply, are taxable on income as per the DRC's tax requirements. In addition, any other benefits exceeding the legal limits, or deemed exaggerated as compared to normal standards, are added to taxable income.
12. Pay-As-You-Earn (PAYE) – The employer is required, as stated above, to submit monthly PAYE returns on behalf of their employees, except for assignees of diplomatic bodies which are entitled to submit PAYE returns personally. These returns need to be submitted before the 15th of the month following the month the salaries have been paid.

8. Normal business losses can be carried forward for five years. The carryback of losses is not permitted except for losses incurred by a construction company on long-term contracts.

WHT Rates
	Note	Corporate Bodies	Individuals
Dividends	1	10%/5%	10%/5%
Royalties	3	20%	20%
Interest	2	20%	20%
Rent (including hire of equipment)	3	20%	20%
Services	5	20%	20%
All aspects of contract activities or agency arrangements including contract for supply	5	20% on service portion	20% on service portion
Management services	4	20%	20%
Consultancy and professional fees	5	20%	20%
Technical services	4	20%	20%

Notes:

1. A 10% WHT rate has been introduced on gross distributions of dividends to resident and non-resident corporate entities. Such rate may be reduced to 5%: (1) if the ownership in the distributing entity exceeds 25% of the share capital or the voting rights; and (2) and the participation is held for at least two years. Dividends distributions paid to resident legal entity from another resident legal entity should be excluded from the recipient entity’s tax pool after deducting the related costs.
2. Interest paid to non-residents is subject to a 20% WHT, which may be reduced under a DTA. Interest paid under a long-term loan (i.e. exceeding three years) is not subject to WHT.
3. Royalty payments made to non-residents are subject to a 20% WHT, unless the rate is reduced under a double tax treaty.
4. The Egyptian tax law does not have any specific WHT rules governing technical service fees and management services, although the tax authorities may treat such payments as royalties for WHT purposes (and thus, subject to a 20% WHT). The ultimate tax treatment will depend on the scope of services provided and will be determined on a case-by-case basis.
5. Services are subject to 20% WHT under domestic law and may be reduced/made free of WHT if a DTA applies.

These projects, however, are subject to a 1% levy on the value of goods entering their warehouse(s). Companies involved in assembly or manufacturing activities are subject to a 1% levy on the value of goods exiting their warehouse(s). Companies with no warehousing activities are subject to a 1% levy on their total revenue.

Net capital gains arising on the assignment, transfer or cessation of a company within five years following its creation or purchase, will be assessed at only half their value. Capital gains include proceeds from the sale of stock and options, income from securities, bonds, loans, deposits or from the sale of real estate assets. Capital gains accruing to individuals as a result of company mergers are not subject to PIT if the new company has its registered office in EG or another CEMAC state. The standard tax rate on such income is the same as for the other categories. Capital gains are subject to the general tax rate, except for non-residents who are subject to a 25% WHT.

Transfer Pricing

EG law and CEMAC regulations only provide for a general rule on the prohibition of a direct or indirect transfer of income to an affiliated company by way of a diminution or increase in sale or purchase prices or interest on loans. General Investment Information

Investment Incentives

General Incentives

The Investment Code is intended to encourage and stimulate productive investment in EG. It provides certain general guarantees, such as no expropriation or nationalisation without a just and equitable prior compensation. There are specific customs and tax incentives for some activities such as the oil industry. Special incentives are also offered under tax regulations for companies located in non-coastal areas, including Annobón.

Exchange Controls

Transfers within the CEMAC Zone are not restricted. Prior declaration is required for inward direct investments, which are capital investments in an entity to acquire control (excluding the purchase of less than 10% (or XAF100 million) of the share capital of an unquoted company). Loans obtained by EG companies from foreign shareholders, or from a foreign enterprise within the same group, also require prior authorisation. The reinvestment of undistributed profits is not subject to prior declaration, but transfers of at least XAF1 million outside the CEMAC Zone do require authorisation. Expatriate employees may repatriate part of their earnings on a regular basis and transfers to cover family and dependent expenses outside the CEMAC Zone, may be made without limit.

Expatriates and Work Permits

Expatriates need a work permit. Foreign employees cannot exceed 10% of the staff (30% in the oil and gas sector). At least a third of the members of the board of directors must be EG nationals, and nationals must also be involved with the management of the company.

7. Relief from double taxation is available through double taxation treaties (DTAs) to which Ethiopia is signatory. Ethiopia has entered into DTAs with several Arab countries, European Union (EU) countries and African countries.

Non-Residents

Non-residents are subject to tax only on all Ethiopian-source income. The above income tax rates are also applicable to non-residents in respect of employment. In addition, certain payments made to non-residents, at an address outside Ethiopia, are subject to a 10% withholding tax (WHT).

Employment Income

The following categories of income are exempt from payment of PIT:

- Income from employment received by casual employees who are not regularly employed, provided that they do not work for more than one month for the same employer in any 12 months.

Benefits in Kind

Individuals are taxed on the value of any benefit or advantage arising from employment.

Business Profit Tax

This is the tax imposed on the taxable business income net profit realised from entrepreneurial activity. Taxable business income would be determined per tax period on the basis of the profit and loss account or income statement, which shall be drawn in compliance with the Generally Accepted Accounting Standards.

Corporate businesses are required to pay a 30% flat rate of business income tax. This rate is 25% flat rate for mining companies. For unincorporated or individual businesses, the business income tax rate ranges from 10% to 35%. Unincorporated or individual businesses are taxed in accordance with the table/schedule of rates for individuals.

Companies

The principal taxes imposed on companies, currently in place, include: profit tax, Turnover Tax (TOT), Value Added Tax (VAT), excise tax, customs duty and income tax from employment. VAT has replaced sales tax. Other taxes include: corporate tax, dividend income tax, royalties and stamp duties.

Income Tax Rates for Companies
	Rate of Tax
Standard corporate tax rate (Non-mining companies)	30%
Mining companies tax rate	25%

Notes:

1. Residence – A company is resident when it is registered according to the countries law for commercial registration.
2. Basis – The accounting basis used to determine is accrual accounting principles where income is recognised as earned and expenses are recognised when incurred.
3. Rate – The Corporate Income Tax (CIT) in Ethiopia is 30% for non-mining companies and 25% for mining companies.
4. Losses – Losses can be carried for two years.

Withholding Taxes (WHTs)

The WHTs are set out below. For non-residents the WHT is a final tax:

WHT Rates
	Note	Residents	Non-Residents
Dividends	1	10%	10%
Interest	2	5%	5%
Royalties	3	5%	5%
Technical service fees	4	2%	10%
Other	5

Notes:

1. Dividends – Every person deriving income from dividends from a share company, or withdrawals of profits from a private limited company, shall be subject to tax at the rate of 10%. The withholding agent shall withhold or collect the tax and account to the tax authority.
2. Interest – Every person deriving income from interest on deposits shall pay tax at the rate of 5%. The payers are required to withhold the tax and account to the tax authority.
3. Royalties – Royalty income shall be liable to tax at a flat rate of 5%. The withholding agent who effects payment shall withhold the foregoing tax and account to the tax authority. Where the payer resides abroad, and the recipient is a resident, the recipient shall pay tax on the royalty income within the time limit set out.

Ethiopia

4. Technical service fees – All payments made in consideration of any kind of technical services rendered outside Ethiopia to resident persons in any form, shall be liable to tax at a flat rate of 10%, which shall be withheld and paid to the tax authority by the payer. The term “technical service” means, “any kind of expert advice or technological service rendered”.
5. Other – WHT is payable on import of goods, and is set at 3% of the same cost, insurance and freight (CIF). In cases of organisations having legal personality, government agencies, private non-profit institutions, and non-governmental organisations (NGOs), the amount withheld is 2% of the gross amount of payment.

Capital Gains Tax (CGT)

The current CGT system in Ethiopia applies on sales of building at 15%, and transfer of shares at 30%.

Anti-avoidance

Transfer pricing

Transfer pricing legislation regulates international goods or services transactions between connected persons. The rules allow Revenue and Customs Authority to disallow certain expenditure or adjust income if the contract price is less or more than what the price would have been between parties dealing at arm’s length.

Thin capitalisation

Thin capitalisation rules, which regulate the financial assistance granted by non-residents connected to Ethiopians, enable Revenue and Customs Authority to determine whether a local company is thinly capitalised and to disallow interest charged on excessive debt.

Value Added Tax (VAT)

VAT	Rate
Standard rate	15%

Notes:

1. VAT is levied at the rate of 15% of the value of:
 - Every taxable transaction by a registered person.
 - Every import of goods, other than an exempt import.
 - Import of services.
2. A person who carries on taxable activity and is not registered is required to file an application for VAT registration with the tax authority if:
 - At the end of any period of 12 calendar months the person made, during that period, taxable transactions the total value of which exceeded ETB500 000; or
 - At the beginning of any period of 12 calendar months, there are reasonable grounds to expect that the total value of taxable transactions to be made by the person during that period will exceed ETB500 000.
3. NGOs are exempt from charging VAT on services. However, they are not exempt from paying VAT on services or goods purchased. This creates a higher tax burden on NGOs than on tax-paying companies as there is no method of recouping amount spent.

Turnover Tax (TOT)

TOT is an indirect tax. The rate for TOT is 2% on goods sold locally; for services, 2% on contractor, grain mills, tractors and combine harvesters, and 10% on others.

Customs and Import Duties

Ethiopia, being a member of the Customs Cooperation Council, ratified the harmonised Commodity Description and Coding System in August 1993.

Duties are levied on CIF value. Excise tax varies widely for different goods.

Ethiopia has significantly reduced customs duties on a wide range of imports. Duty-free items are allowed to visitors. However, the amount allowed is limited. Professional articles and samples, including those imported by businesspersons and commercial travellers, such as cameras and radio equipment, and items imported by visitors, requires special permits which must be obtained from the Ministry of Information and Culture and Environmental and the Wildlife Protection Authority.

Tax on Income from Rental of Buildings

This is a tax imposed on the income from rental of buildings. If the taxpayer leased furnished quarters, the amounts received attributable to the lease of furniture and equipment, would be included in the income and taxed. The tax payable on rented houses would be charged at the following rates:

Sickness and Maternity

No statutory benefits are provided.

- Permanent disability pension – 47% to 70% of the insured's monthly basic salary is paid according to the assessed degree of disability. If the value of the disability pension is less than or equal to the insured's entitlement to the old-age pension, the old-age pension is paid, up to 70% of the insured's monthly basic salary.
- Survivor benefits – Survivor pension is 50% of the deceased's pension paid to the widow(er). The pension ceases on remarriage if the widow is younger than age 45 (age 50 for a widower, no limit if disabled).

Tax Administration

Corporations

- Tax year – Accounting period.
- Filing requirements – Balance sheet and income statement.
- Penalties – Non-filing, late filing, understatement of income and interest.

Individuals

- Tax year – Calendar year.
- Filing and payment – Monthly.
- Penalties – If the amount of tax shown on a declaration understates the amount of tax required to be shown, the taxpayer is liable for a penalty in the amount of 10% of the understatement, or 50% if the understatement is considered substantial. The understatement is considered substantial if it exceeds 25% of the tax required to be shown on the return or ETB20 000. A taxpayer, who fails to pay tax liability on the due date, is subject to a penalty of 5% of the amount of unpaid tax on the first day after the due date has passed; and an additional 2% of the amount of tax that remains unpaid on the first day of each month thereafter.

General Investment Information

Investment Incentives

General Incentives

- Ethiopia's Investment Code provides incentives for development related investments, reduces capital entry requirements for joint ventures, permits the duty-free entry of capital goods (except computers and vehicles), opens the real estate sector to expatriate investors, extends the losses carried forward provision, and gives priority to investors in obtaining land for lease.
- Ethiopia reserves many businesses in the service and trade sectors for domestic investors. These areas include: broadcasting, retail and wholesale trade (except in petroleum and locally produced goods), import trade, export trade of local agricultural products, small and medium-scale construction, bars and nightclubs, small hotels and restaurants, travel agencies, car and taxi services, bakery products, grinding mills, barber shops and beauty salons, goldsmith shops, tailoring services, building and vehicle maintenance services, saw-milling, customs clearance, museums and theatres, and printing.
- The Government reviews investment proposals in a non-discriminatory manner; the screening process is not regarded as an impediment to investment, a limit to competition, or a means of protecting domestic interests.
- There is no discriminatory or excessively onerous visa, residence, or work permit requirements against foreign investors. Foreign investors do not face unfavourable tax treatment, denial of licence, discriminatory import or export policies, tariff or non-tariff barriers, etc.

Tax Incentives

To encourage private investment and promote the inflow of foreign capital and technology into Ethiopia, the following incentives are granted to both domestic and foreign investors engaged in areas eligible for investment incentives:

- Customs Import Duty.
- Income Tax Holiday.
- Duty Draw-Back Scheme.
- Voucher Scheme.
- Bonded Manufacturing Warehouse Scheme.

Export Incentives

A number of export incentives are available including facilitation of access to working capital finance.

Other Incentives

- Privatisation programme – The Government has embarked upon an extensive programme of divestiture of state enterprises with a view to curtailing the Government's role in the production of goods and services.
- Mining – Ethiopia offers very good prospects for mineral prospecting and development.
- Agriculture – Agriculture is the backbone of the economy, providing employment to 85% of the population. The sector contributes about half of the

Ethiopia

Gross Domestic Product (GDP) and three-fourths of total exports, with coffee alone accounting for up to 65% of total exports. Furthermore, agriculture plays a crucial role in providing raw material inputs for industry.

- Agricultural services – Considerable scope exists for investment in the provision of agricultural support services such as pest and disease control, technical consultancy, agricultural machinery, cold storage, transport and marketing services.
- Horticulture – Ethiopia is endowed with agro-climatic conditions that are suitable for the production of a broad range of fruits and vegetables, including temperate, tropical and sub-tropical crops.

Exchange Controls

All foreigners are required to open Birr accounts with one of the commercial banks in Ethiopia. Credits to these accounts can only be made with foreign exchange receipts from abroad or checks from other similar accounts. Credits between two locally based accounts are not allowed. Cheques from Ethiopian nationals, Birr cash and funds from a locally paid working spouse, may not be deposited without approval from National Bank. International personnel can pay by cheque, or in cash, for expenses such as rent, air tickets, school fees and purchases from Victory and duty-free shops.

Foreigners may remit limited funds abroad from their earnings deposited into local accounts. Such cases are considered individually and after the deduction of what is considered a reasonable amount for local living expenses. Foreign currency may be drawn on presentation of a confirmed air ticket for international travel. On final departure from the country, the balance in the account may be converted into foreign currency upon presentation of evidence to the National Bank as to how the remaining funds were acquired.

Currency Import Regulations

Local currency (ETB): Up to ETB100 per person; foreign currencies: unlimited, provided declaration is made to Customs on arrival. Exchange of foreign currency only via authorised banks.

Currency Export Regulations

Local currency (ETB) provided the passenger holds a re-entry permit: ETB100 per person; foreign currencies: up to the amounts imported and declared.

Expatriates and Work Permits

Visas may be secured upon application to an Ethiopian diplomatic or consular mission abroad.

The basic eligibility criteria for getting work permits are as per the procedural requirements provided by the Ministry of Labour and Social Affairs. The requirements may differ depending on the type of organisation that is going to hire the expatriate worker i.e. it may be a NGO, government or a private organisation. Moreover, the requirements may also differ in the kind of permit the applicant seeks to obtain i.e. a new work permit, to renew an existing permit or to obtain clearance for the permit. Obtaining a work permit therefore involves a strict requirement of providing the work permit of the hiring organisation, a recommendation letter from the concerned governmental bodies and other pertinent government organs, based on the kind of work for which the work permit is requested, providing appropriate educational and experience documents.

A resident permit will be issued to a foreign investor upon submission of an investment permit issued by the Ethiopian Investment Authority and work permit to the Security Immigration and Refugee Affairs Authority.

Trade Relations

Treaties – A number of collaborative treaties are signed with a number of countries to enhance economic cooperation and trade facilitation.

Notes:

1. A first time comprehensive Double Taxation Convention between the United Kingdom and the Federal Democratic Republic of Ethiopia was signed in London on 9 June 2011. The Convention generally follows the OECD Model Double Taxation Convention. Important features include: low WHTs for dividends, interest and royalties, a “matching credit” provision for tax given up under Ethiopia’s Investment Incentive Legislation, and the latest OECD Model provision on Exchange of Information.

Notes:

1. In Ethiopia, interest rate decisions are taken by Monetary Committee of the National Bank of Ethiopia. The official rate is the Bank's Savings Rate.
2. In an effort to combat inflation, the Government implemented a tight monetary policy stance. This measure, aided by slowdown in global food and fuel price inflation, saw CPI decelerate to an estimated 8.16 % in 2015, from 22.9% in 2012-2013. The Government's determination to hold down prices was further reflected in its prudent fiscal policy focusing on strengthening domestic resources and reducing domestic borrowing.

Residents are subject to tax on worldwide income.

7 500 001	11 000 000	30%
11 000 001 +		35%

Notes:

1. Basis – Residents are taxed on global net income. Non-residents are taxed only on Gabon-source income.
2. Residence – Individuals having their usual abode, or having spent at least six months, in Gabon are considered resident. Normally an individual is considered having his/her usual abode in Gabon, if his/her principal residence, main business or professional activity, or centre of financial interests, is located in Gabon.
3. Taxable income – Taxable income includes: employment income, investment income, capital gains, income from real estate and business income.
4. Deductions and allowances – Deductions and allowances are available mainly based on family situations.
5. Rates – The tax rates on ordinary income are progressive, ranging from 0% to 35%.
6. Filing status – Married persons may file an individual or joint tax return.

Non-Residents

Non-residents are taxed only on Gabonese-source income.

Employment Income

The individual, or company, who pays taxable incomes, must withhold Personal Income Tax (PIT).

Companies

Income Tax Rates for Companies
	Rate of Tax
Standard corporate rate (oil and mining sectors)	35%
Lower rate – companies operating in other sectors	30%
Lower rate – public businesses, associations, non-profit making communities, certain real estate companies, authorised companies in the tourism sector, companies holding intellectual property titles and the Gabonese Bank of Development	25%

Notes:

1. Residence – A corporation is resident if it is registered as a Gabonese company and it is incorporated in Gabon. Corporation tax is assessed on income earned by companies operating in Gabon, or from transactions carried out in Gabon, subject to double taxation treaties (DTAs).
2. Basis – A territorial tax system applies, under which tax is imposed only on profits derived by a resident or non-resident entity from operations in Gabon.
3. Alternative Minimum Tax (AMT) – Companies subject to corporate tax, or to revenue personal tax, are subject to minimum tax based on the global gross turnover. The minimum corporation tax is equal to 1% of the reference basis and cannot be less than XAF1 million. Companies newly incorporated are exempted from the AMT during the first two tax years, irrespective of their sector of activities.

4. Chargeable income – The “taxable income” of both resident and non-resident companies is defined as “net income” determined by the overall results of operations during the taxable period, including without limitation transfers of any part of the assets. This also includes capital gains resulting from the transfer of shares from persons whose assets are mainly constituted of such shares or of shares directly or indirectly held in a company incorporated in Gabon. The “net income” represents the difference between the value of “net assets” at the opening and the close of the period, less additional contributions and increased with the levy realised during this period by the shareholders. “Net assets” is the excess of asset values on the total after taking into account liability claims by third parties, depreciation and justified provisions/reserves.
5. Dividends – Dividends received by a resident company, from a resident or non-resident company, are subject to a 20% withholding tax (WHT) (final tax). Where dividends are received by a corporate shareholder that holds at least 25% of shares of the payer company, the head offices of the shareholder and its affiliates are located in Gabon or another Central African Economic and Monetary Union (CEMAC) state, and the shares remain registered in the name of the shareholder for at least two consecutive years, the rate of the WHT on dividends is reduced to 10% (final tax). In the case of dividends received from a non-resident company, foreign tax paid on the dividends is not creditable against Gabon company tax unless a tax treaty provides for such a credit.
6. Losses – Tax losses may be carried forward for up to five years but may not be carried back.
7. Foreign tax credit – A foreign tax credit may be obtained only for tax paid to jurisdictions with which Gabon has concluded a tax treaty.

8. Holding company regime – Holding tax regime does not allow to file a consolidated tax return or to transfer losses between group members. Only Gabon resident companies are qualified to be group holding companies. However, resident and non-resident legal entities may qualify for the status of a subsidiary company in a group. The minimum (direct or indirect) participation between the companies is 50% of the share capital, and shall allow one or several of these companies, jointly, to control the others. Such control is deemed to be when the company detains directly or indirectly the majority of the voting rights or when the company appoints, during two consecutive years, the majority of the members of the board of another company. The group holding company must supply certain services to its subsidiaries which include, among other things, financial, technical, accounting, legal, management, information technology (IT), human resources, marketing and research and development (R&D). A holding company, whose sole purpose is to hold shares in its subsidiaries, is not qualified to participate in the group special tax regime. The following main specific rules apply under the group tax regime:
 - Capital gains on the transfer of assets between group member companies which are liable to Corporate Income Tax (CIT), are subject to a final 20% tax rate.
 - Head office expenses and technical assistance lump sum fees between group companies are deductible subject to an advance pricing agreement.
 - Interests on current accounts are fully deductible. However, the interest rate must not exceed the Central Bank Rate increased by two percentage points.
 - Rental payments for hiring movable assets between group members are deductible.
 - An exemption is granted from the 10% WHT on payments for fees, royalties, services provided or interest paid to non-resident group member companies.

Gabon

- A tax-sparing credit is granted on incomes from moveable capital received from foreign sources which have been subject to a similar taxation in the source country, even in the absence of a tax treaty between Gabon and the source country. The tax credit may be carried forward for two years. Under the group tax regime, a 5% WHT applies on dividends paid by a Gabonese member company to another group member company. Also, a 10% WHT is due on dividend payments made by the holding company to its shareholders.

Withholding Taxes (WHTs)

The WHT rates are set out below:

WHT Rates
	Note	Residents	Non-Residents
Dividends	1	20%	20%
Interest	2	10%	10%
Royalties	3	10%	10%
Technical service fees	4	9.5%	10%
Branch remittance tax	5	n/a	15%

Notes:

1. Dividends – Dividends paid by a Gabonese company to a resident or non-resident individual or corporate shareholder are subject to a 20% WHT, unless a tax treaty provides for a lower rate. In the case of a dividend received from a non-resident company, foreign tax paid on the dividend is not creditable against Gabon company tax unless a double tax treaty (DTA) provides for such a credit. The treatment of dividends received by corporate shareholders differs when cumulatively: (i) the shareholder owns at least 25% of the shares in the affiliate; (ii) the head offices of the shareholder and its affiliate are located in Gabon or another CEMAC state; and (iii) the shares remain registered in the name of the shareholder for at least two consecutive years. In this situation, dividends are subject to a 10% WHT.
2. Interest – Interests paid by a Gabonese company to a non-resident entity are subject to a 10% WHT calculated on the gross amount paid (excluding tax on turnover).

3. Royalties – Royalties paid by a Gabonese company to a non-resident entity, as well as commissions, consultancy fees and fees for services performed in Gabon, are subject to a WHT of 10%.
4. Technical service fees – Technical service fees paid by Gabonese entities to resident entities liable to CIT but not subject to Value-Added Tax (VAT) are subject to a WHT of 9.5%. Technical service fees paid by Gabonese entities to non-resident entities are subject to a WHT of 10%, subject to a DTA. If the technical service performed by resident or non-resident entity is provided in Gabon, technical service fees are also subject to VAT at 18%.
5. Branch remittance tax – After taxation to corporate tax, net profits realised by one or several Permanent Establishments (PEs) in Gabon belonging to a public limited liability company, or to a private limited liability company having its head office outside Gabon, are subject to a WHT of 15% (10% in the case that the non-resident company is located in a country having signed a DTA with Gabon).

Gabon

Capital Gains Tax (CGT)

Individuals

Capital gains derived from the sale of securities are taxed at 20%. Capital gains from the sale of real estate property are exempt from PIT in certain cases.

Companies

Capital gains are treated as ordinary business income and are taxed at the normal CIT rate. This notably includes capital gains made on the transfer of shares owned by persons whose assets are mainly constituted with such shares, or with shares directly or indirectly held in a company located in Gabon. However, capital gains realised on the disposal of a fixed asset in the course of trading, are excluded from income for a period of three years, if the taxpayer records the capital gain in a special account and reinvests the gains in new fixed assets for business within this period. Capital gains resulting from mergers, split or partial transfer of assets are also excluded subject to certain conditions.

Anti-avoidance

Transfer Pricing

For companies which are under the dependence, in law and de facto, of companies or groups located outside CEMAC, or for those having the control of companies located outside CEMAC, non-arm's length payments or expenses realised by all means are considered as abnormal management acts and constitute income transfers subject to CIT.

Abnormal acts of management not only include expenses but also any form of advantage granted to third parties without equivalent compensation for the company.

For the determination of the CIT of companies being under the control or having the control of companies outside of Gabon, the profits indirectly transferred to the such non-resident companies either by increase or decrease of sale or purchasing prices or by thin-capitalisation or by any other mean, shall be included in the results determined in the accounts.

The conditions of dependence or control are not required when the transfer is made to companies established in a low-tax country or a non-cooperative country.

Advantages granted to companies belonging to the same group may be considered as normal acts of management when the company that grants them demonstrates the existence of a proper interest to do so, being specified that the interest of the group itself does not justify these practices.

Also, sums paid as consideration for the use of valid patents, brands, drawings or models; interests paid and remunerations for services rendered by a company located in Gabon to a foreign company located in a tax haven are reintegrated in the taxable income unless the company demonstrates that the sums paid correspond to effective operations and are not exaggerated.

Moreover, at the beginning of each fiscal year, companies shall provide the tax administration with transfer pricing documentation.

Thin Capitalisation

There are no thin capitalisation rules in Gabon.

Value-Added Tax (VAT)

VAT
Standard rate	18%

Notes:

1. VAT is imposed on the supply of goods or services in Gabon and on the import of goods or services.
2. The standard rate is 18%. General Investment Information

Investment Incentives

General Incentives

- Gabon provides certain legal guarantees, such as non-discrimination between enterprises owned by nationals and those owned by foreigners and no expropriation or nationalisation without just and equitable prior compensation as determined by an independent third party.
- There are specific incentives for some activities, such as the oil, timber and cement industries, hardware, airport infrastructure development, regulatory "agency of posts" and telecommunications, mines and tourism, as well as for new businesses.
- Specific tax, social and custom regimes for economic zones (such as Mandji Island and Nkok) have been introduced to promote new investment in industry, commerce and services through the establishment of new enterprises. The most significant investment incentives are corporate tax exemption for 10 years for new companies, VAT exemption for 25 years, WHT exemption for 25 years, property tax exemption for 25 years and import duty exemption for 25 years.
- Other social incentives include the recruitment of employees in an economic zone with a special regime done by an employment contract freely negotiated.

Tax Incentives

On 2 January 2012, the President of Gabon promulgated Decree No.0001 on the Finance Law for 2012 that provides the following tax incentives:

- Companies in the cement production sector will enjoy a seven-year period of exemption from CIT; reduction of the WHT rate from the standard 15% rate to 10% on distribution of dividends and interest payments; full deduction of interest incurred for business purposes; a seven-year period of exemption from VAT on certain operating expenses; and possible refunds of input VAT on equipment used for business purposes.
- Benefits for companies engaged in the wood industry include a five-year period of exemption from CIT and from the minimum lump sum tax; a five-year period of exemption from WHT on distribution of dividends and interest payments; application of the declining balance depreciation method for certain equipment; and creation of a special renewal reserve for certain equipment.

- In addition, the Law applies a reduced 5% customs duty rate on imports of personal computers, and a registration duty of 1% on the contribution in kind upon a company's formation or increase of share capital.
- The Law also requires that oil subcontractors keep their local accounts under the OHADA Simplified Accounting Standards.

The Finance Law for 2013 provides the following incentives:

- Enterprises operating a hotel business in the tourism sector, that realise a new minimum investment of XAF300 million (taxes excluded), are exempted from CIT during the first three years of activity.
- Concerning the investments in the tourism sector below XAF300 million (authorised by the ministries in charge of tourism and finance), the CIT is reduced within the limit of this tax by the tax credit corresponding to 50% of the amount of the investment (taxes excluded), during a five-year period.
- Enterprises operating in the tourism sector (as defined under the Order No.02/2002 dated 12 February 2002), are exempted from the CIT/PIT during the first five years of activity following the end of the construction period of the project. After the period of total exemption, only half of the taxable profit is subject to CIT/PIT.
- Companies newly incorporated are exempted from the minimum corporate tax during the first two tax years, irrespective of their sector of activity.
- The Law requires that oil subcontractors benefiting from the simplified tax regime, exclusively operate within the framework of petroleum operations. The option for the simplified tax regime is not revocable during a two-year period renewable once, without exceeding a total period of four years.

Exchange Controls

Inward direct investment requires prior declaration when the investment exceeds XAF100 million. "Inward direct investment" means the participation up to 10% of the share capital of a company (below 10% participation to the share capital of a company assimilated to a loan). Loans obtained by Gabonese companies from a foreign company, also require prior authorisation when the amount exceeds XAF100 million. The reinvestment of undistributed profits is not subject to prior declaration. Transfers outside the CEMAC Zone require prior declaration, except those below XAF1 million.

The transfers must be made through banks authorised by the Central Bank to act as intermediaries. An import licence permitting the importation of merchandise, also constitutes an authorisation to pay the relevant invoice.

Expatriates and Work Permits

Both a visa and a work permit are required by anyone entering Gabon with the intention to work.

Business Visa

If entering Gabon to work for a period of less than 90 days, it is possible to enter the country on a simple business visa, which is available from the nearest Gabonese Embassy in the applicant's country of residence. This process takes approximately five working days. Costs depend on the country of residence's embassy.

Work/Resident Permit

There are three stages to the work/resident permit application:

Work Authorisation Application

An application for "work authorisation" must be sent to the Gabonese Ministry of Labour and Employment before entering the country. This process takes approximately one month, costing XAF250 000.

Entry Authorisation Application

Once "work authorisation" is received, the applicant must apply to the Direction Générale à la Documentation et l'Immigration (DGD) in order to obtain "entry authorisation". This process takes approximately 10 working days, costing XAF45 000.

Residence Permit Application

If the applicant is planning on staying in Gabon for a period in excess of 90 days, a residence permit is also required. Applications must be sent to the DGD. This process takes two weeks. Costs depend on the nationality of the individual concerned.

Income Tax

Residents

Residents are subject to tax on worldwide income.

Note: Personal Income Tax (PIT) is calculated according to a schedule given by the General Tax Code. This is a progressive rates system and, for each bracket, the rate is applied to the corresponding part of the taxable income as shown in the table below:

Income Tax Rates for Resident Individuals: Effective 1 January 2013
Taxable Income as exceeds	But does not exceed	Rate
GMD	GMD	%
0	18 000	0%
18 001	28 000	5%
28 001	38 000	10%
38 001	48 000	15%
48 001	58 000	20%
58 001 +		30%

Notes:

1. Basis – Residents are subject to tax on worldwide income. Non-residents are subject to tax on most Gambian-source income only under reserve of double taxation treaties (DTAs).
2. Residence – An individual is resident in The Gambia if he/she has a main residence in The Gambia or is present in The Gambia for at least 183 days in the relevant calendar year.
3. Rates – Individual income tax is levied at progressive rates up to 30%.
4. Interest income – Interest income is subject to withholding tax (WHT) at source at the rate of 15% for individuals which is also a final tax.
5. Taxable income – Income is taxed under a scheduler system. Employment income, including most employment benefits, is taxable. Profits derived from carrying on of a trade, or profession, by individuals are generally taxed under the Pay-As-You-Earn (PAYE) system.

6. Deductions and allowances – Retirement benefits to approved pension funds may be deducted up to the lesser of 25% of employment income or GMD7 500 reduced by the employer's contributions. There are no personal allowances.
7. Filing status – Joint returns are not permitted. Each taxpayer must file his/her own return separately.
8. Foreign tax relief – Relief is available to resident individuals for all foreign source incomes included in gross income. The amount allowed as relief is equal to the lesser of:
 - a) The foreign income tax paid
 - b) The Gambian income tax payable in respect of the net foreign source income for the year.
 If a resident has a foreign tax loss for a tax year, the amount of the loss can be carried forward to the following tax year and allowed as a deduction against the person's foreign-source income. The loss can be carried forward for a period of six years on a First-in-First-Out (FIFO) basis.

Non-Residents

Non-residents are taxed only on their Gambia-source income.

Employment Income

Salaries are subject to a wages tax under a PAYE system. Expenses incurred in deriving employment income are not tax deductible:

- When the employee is tax resident in The Gambia, notwithstanding the fact that his remunerative activities are performed outside The Gambia or the employer is not established in The Gambia.
- When the employee is not tax resident provided that his/her remunerative activities are performed in The Gambia and the employer is established in The Gambia.

The Gambia

Benefits in Kind

Fringe benefits are taxable on the employer and not on the employee. The benefits are subject to a so-called fringe benefits tax.

A “fringe benefit” is defined as a housing fringe benefit, motor vehicle fringe benefit, household personal fringe benefit, loan fringe benefit, debt waiver fringe benefit, property fringe benefit, medical fringe benefit, life insurance fringe benefit, entertainment fringe benefit and residual fringe benefit.

The value of a right, or option to acquire shares, under an employee share scheme granted to an employee, is not subject to income tax, but to capital gains tax. If, in a tax year, an employee is issued with shares under an employee share scheme, including shares issued as a result of the exercise of an option or right to acquire the shares, the employment income of the employee for the year includes the fair market value of the shares at the date of issue reduced by the employee’s contribution for the shares.

If shares issued to an employee under an employee share scheme are subject to a restriction on the transfer of the shares; no amount is included in the employment income of the employee until the earliest of the time the employee has a free right to transfer the shares and the time the employee disposes of the shares; and the amount included in the employment income is the fair market value of the shares at the time the employee has a free right to transfer the shares or disposes of the shares, as the case may be, as reduced by the employee’s contribution for the shares.

Payroll Tax

Payroll tax is imposed on employers who employ Non-Gambian nationals. The annual payroll tax payable is GMD40 000 for each non-Economic Community of West African States (ECOWAS) employee and GMD10 000 for each ECOWAS employee. The tax is due and payable in January or at any other time depending on when the expatriate started work in The Gambia.

The tax paid is not deductible and cannot be set off against any other taxes in The Gambia.

Pension Income

Any lump sum payment withdrawn from an approved fund at retirement, death or upon the beneficiary becoming permanently incapable of engaging in an occupation, is exempt from tax.

For tax purposes, only contributions made to an approved fund are deductible. The deduction is limited to 25% of one’s gross assessable annual emoluments or GMD7 500 per annum, whichever is lower.

Contributions made to non-resident pension funds are not deductible for individual income tax purposes.

Investment Income

Dividends received by an individual are subject to a final WHT at the rate of 15% on the gross receipt. Dividends distributed by a company operating within a priority sector, declared under The Gambia Investment and Export Promotion Agency (GIEPA) Act of 2010, are exempt for a period of five years from the date of first declaration.

Interest earned by an individual is subject to a final WHT of 15%. The tax is based on the gross amount received. However, interest earned on savings at The Gambia Postal Services Corporation is exempt from tax.

Royalties are taxable at standard tax rates. No WHT applies. Revenue expenses incurred in deriving royalties are deductible. However, royalties paid to a non-resident person will be subject to WHT at the rate of 15%.

Income from immovable property is generally subject to tax at the standard tax rates. However, income from the rental of residential and commercial properties, is subject to tax at the rates of 10% and 15% respectively, which are final.

Business and Professional Income

The principles for determining an individual’s taxable business and professional income, including determining the deductible expenditure, are the same as those for corporate entities, i.e. the taxable income of an individual is calculated as gross income, less permitted general deductions. Different sources of income are taxed separately.

2. Residence – An individual is resident in Ghana for tax purposes if: (1) he/she is a citizen of Ghana, other than a citizen who has a permanent home outside Ghana from 1 January to 31 December in any calendar year; or (2) present in Ghana for 183 days in a 12-month period; or (3) a citizen who is temporarily absent from Ghana for a period not exceeding 365 continuous days where that citizen has a permanent home in Ghana. All other individuals are considered non-residents.

3. Deductions and allowances – A resident individual may deduct various personal reliefs from gross income in arriving at his/her annual taxable income. These reliefs include a basic allowance of: GHC200 for a married taxpayer supporting a spouse or an unmarried taxpayer supporting at least two children; an employed, or self-employed taxpayer over the age of 60, GHC200; child education relief of GHC200 for the education of a child (maximum three children); and additional relief of GHC 100 for taxpayers supporting an elderly relative (a maximum of two relatives). Professional, vocational or technical skill training relief is GHC400. Social security contributions and life insurance premiums are also deductible within certain limits.
4. Rates – Resident individuals are taxed at progressive rates with the top marginal rate at 25%.
5. Personal Income Tax (PIT) – Self-employed persons are required to pay income tax at progressive rates in four equal instalments. The current PIT rates took effect from 1 January 2016.

Non-Residents

Non-resident individuals pay taxes on their income at a rate of 20%.

Employment Income

Taxable employment income includes: salaries and wages, bonuses, overtime, and all kinds of benefits and allowances. Remuneration earned by resident individuals for work performed abroad is taxable in Ghana and not when received or brought into Ghana. Similarly, income attributable to employment in Ghana is taxable in Ghana, wherever and however paid.

Pay-As-You-Earn (PAYE)

The PAYE contributions are withholdings from salaries of employees in order to satisfy their income tax responsibilities. The PAYE is computed with the PIT rates.

5. Losses – Losses may be carried forward for any previous five years in respect of priority sectors. Other businesses may carry forward losses for any previous three years.

7. Foreign tax credit – Companies can claim a foreign tax credit for taxes imposed on their foreign-source income.

Withholding Taxes (WHTs)

WHT on Payments to Resident Persons

WHT at the appropriate rate must be deducted from payments (for works, goods and services, interest, dividends, rental payments etc.) made to resident persons.

WHT on Payments to Non-Resident Persons

WHT on Payments to Non-Resident Persons WHT must be deducted from payments made to non-resident persons in respect of the following:

- Management or professional fees.
- Royalties.
- Rental payments.
- Dividends.
- Interest, including deemed interest.

The WHTs are set out below. For non-residents the WHT is a final tax:

	Residents	Non-Residents
Dividends	8%	8%
Interest	8%	8%
Royalties	15%	15%
Management/ professional fees	15%	20%
Rental payments	8%	15%

Notes:

Maximum WHT Rates once a Double Tax Agreement (DTA) is applied

WHT on payments to countries with which Ghana has a DTA are as follows: the domestic WHT on dividend and interest are generally 8%. Therefore, the 15% for dividends and the 10% for interest is reduced to 8%.

Transfer Pricing Regulation (TPR)

Ghana has transfer pricing regulations that require taxpayers to demonstrate that related entity transactions are at arm's length by maintaining contemporaneous documentation of such transactions for each tax year. Ghana's TPR is generally consistent with the OECD Guidelines on transfer pricing.

Entities with related party transactions in a year of assessment are to file transfer pricing returns together with their annual income tax returns

Capital Gains Tax (CGT)

Investment Incentives

Tax Incentives

- A reduced tax rate of 8% for companies engaged in non-traditional export, and 20% for financial institutions on income from loans granted to farming enterprises and leasing companies.
- Rural banks and Free Trade Zone (FTZ) companies pay tax not exceeding 15% after a 10-year exemption period.

- Employers receive a tax credit for employing new graduates as part of their workforce. This incentive ranges from 1% to 5% of the salaries or wages of such employees

Other Incentives

- Imports into FTZs are exempt from customs duty.

Exchange Controls

Exchange controls exist for imports/exports and also apply to outward transfers of capital, profits, royalties, interest, fees and income of expatriate personnel. Investors under the Ghana Investment Promotion Centre Act, 1994, are guaranteed free transfer of profits, interest, fees, charges, loan repayments and liquidation proceeds, while expatriate personnel are allowed to transfer a certain quota of their annual earnings. Non-resident companies are, in principle, free to transfer abroad their net after-tax profits, provided the transfer is done through persons approved by the Bank of Ghana.

Expatriates and Work Permits

There is no special expatriate tax regime in Ghana. Expatriates are subject to the same taxation system as other individuals. Emigration generally has no tax consequences, except that a tax clearance certificate is required.

Income Tax

Residents

Residents are subject to general income tax. General income tax is levied on taxable income at the following rates:

National Contribution Rates for Resident Individuals (monthly basis)
Taxable Income as exceeds	But does not exceed	Rate
GNF	GNF	%
0	100 000	0%
100 000	1 000 000	10%
1 000 001	1 500 000	15%
1 500 001	3 000 000	15%
3 000 001	6 000 000	25%
6 000 001	10 000 000	30%
10 000 001	20 000 000	35%
	20 000 000 +	40%

Notes:

1. Basis – Habitual residents are taxable on worldwide income. Non-residents are subject to tax on Guinea-source income only.
2. Residence – Habitual residents are individuals with a permanent home available for their use in the Guinea Coast, or who are employed by a resident corporation.
3. Rates – The general income tax is imposed at scheduler rates ranging from 0% to 40%. Non-commercial profits (fees) are generally subject to a withholding tax (WHT), applied at an effective rate of 15%. The WHT applies to individuals that are active and have no professional establishment in Guinea. An individual in business may opt to be taxed at a flat rate of 15% and become exempt from the general income tax.
4. Taxable income – Individuals are taxable on the same schedules of income as companies, and on employment income. All income is pooled and subject to a general income tax.

5. Deductions and allowances – Expenses deductible from general income include: social security contributions (subject to certain limits and conditions), loan interest, and subsistence allowances paid to dependent parents or a spouse.
6. Filing status – Spouses are generally taxed separately. Children are usually taxed with one of their parents but may be taxed separately if they have employment income.
7. Relief from double taxation is available through tax treaties (DTAs) to which Guinea is a signatory.

Non-Residents

Non-residents are subject to tax on Guinea-source income only.

Companies

Income Tax Rates for Companies
	Rate of Tax
Standard corporate tax rate	35%

Notes:

1. Residence – An entity incorporated in Guinea is resident for tax purposes.
2. Basis – A resident corporation is subject to tax on income from movable capital on a worldwide basis. Other types of taxable income are taxed at source.
3. Rate – The corporate tax rate is 35%. However, in the case of losses, taxpayers must pay a minimum tax of 3% of the year's turnover instead of Corporate Income Tax (CIT). The minimum tax must fall between GNF15 million and GNF60 million.

4. Taxable income – Income is taxed under separate schedules for industrial and commercial profits, non-commercial profits and income from movable capital, land and agriculture. A non-commercial schedule is mainly used for professional income, royalties and know-how and for non-resident corporations. Business costs and expenses are deductible if they are strictly related to the business. Management fees, royalties and similar payments to parent companies, are deductible if the following conditions are met with respect to the expenses:
- exposed in the direct interest of the business;
 - corresponded to an effective charge and should be supported by sufficient evidence;
 - resulted in a decrease in the net assets of the business;
 - included in the expenses for the year in which they were incurred.
- Moreover, the royalty paid to a related company based on an agreement must not have an excessive nature. To be deductible, these payments should also have been subject to the withholding tax at a rate of 15%.
5. Losses – Losses generally may be carried forward three years. Losses may be carried forward indefinitely to the extent they arise from capital allowances. The carryback of losses is not permitted.
6. Dividends – Dividends received are subject to the CIT rate.
7. Foreign tax credit – None, unless a tax treaty provides otherwise.
8. Holding company regime – Only a proportion of 5% of the dividends received by a parent company is taxable.

Withholding Taxes (WHTs)

The WHTs are set out below. For non-residents the WHT is a final tax:

WHT Rates
	Note	Residents	Non-Residents
Dividends	1	10%	10%
Interest	2	10%	10%
Royalties	3	none	15%

Notes:

1. Dividends – Subject to the provisions of a DTA, dividends paid to residents and non-residents are taxed at a rate of 10% for distributions paid.
2. Interest – Interest paid to residents and non-residents is taxed at 10%.
3. Royalties – Royalties paid to a non-resident are subject to a 15% WHT. Royalties paid to a resident are not subject to a WHT. The revenue concerned must be taxed to CIT (for companies) or general income tax (for individuals).

Capital Gains Tax (CGT)

Companies

Capital gains arising from the disposal of fixed assets and shares are normally included in taxable income. Rollover relief for gains is granted where the taxpayer invests a sum equal to the amount of the gain in the acquisition of a similar asset within three years of the sale. For shares, the relief applies only to significant long-term holdings. Subject to certain conditions, capital gains arising from a merger or partial business transfer, are exempt.

Individuals

Capital gains from the disposal of assets are exempt from tax. Capital gains from the disposal of shares are taxable only where the individual had a long-term significant shareholding and was employed in the business.

Anti-avoidance

Transfer Pricing

Profit transfers included in payments between resident corporations and non-resident affiliates may be adjusted so that arm's length conditions apply for tax purposes.

A "tax privileged jurisdiction" refers to companies established in a location where the CIT amount is less than half Guinean CIT. A transfer pricing documentation was introduced by the Finance Law 2014.

Thin Capitalisation

A company subject to CIT is undercapitalised when advances from related companies to the company exceed, at any time of the year, one and half (1.5) times the amount of its equity valued at the end of that year. The interest fraction paid that exceeds the sum of: the amount of the interest received from related companies; and 25% of its taxable income plus deductions of the interests paid to related companies; shall be reinstated to the taxable income of the undercapitalised company.

Value-Added Tax (VAT)

VAT	Rate
Standard rate	18%

Notes:

- VAT is imposed on production activities, the distribution of goods and the rendering of services in the Guinea. VAT is also applied to imported goods and services.
- The standard rate is 18% and a zero rate (0%) is applicable for exports and international carriage.
- Taxpayers must register with the local tax authorities.
- VAT returns and payments are due monthly by the 15th of the following month.

Miscellaneous Taxes

Stamp Duty

Stamp duty is required for administrative acts. The stamp duty amount depends on the nature of the acts and a fixed rate or a prorated fee may apply.

Transfer Tax

Transfer Tax does not apply in Guinea. Instead, a registration duty is due on the sale of shares, tradable obligations, and profit shares. The registration duty rate is 10%.

- 15% of the annual rental value for rented buildings.

Payroll Tax

Payroll tax is equal to 6% of the global amount (i.e. salary plus benefits in kind) of the salaries paid to employees.

Other

A company, or individual, carrying on a trade in Guinea must also pay a business licence duty, subject to certain exemptions. A fixed rate of duty applies.

Social Security

Employers are required to make social security contributions based on an employee's gross wages (family allowances (6%), work injuries (4%), medical expenses (4%) and benefits (4%)). Contributions payable by an employee are withheld by the employer at rate of 5% of gross salary.

Tax Administration

Corporations

- Tax year – Calendar year.
- Consolidated returns – Consolidated returns are not permitted. Each company must file a separate tax return.
- Filing requirements – The tax return is due by the 30 April, together with the balance of tax for companies with an annual turnover. The tax is payable after the end of the year in two equal parts on the 15 June and 15 September, based on the realised profits.
- Penalties – Penalties are charged at a rate of 10% for late tax returns, failure to pay tax due and for errors and mistakes, and 50% with a minimum of GNF100 000 when the tax payer does not reply to a request from the tax authorities.
- Rulings – A taxpayer may seek clarification from the tax authorities on the interpretation of provisions in the tax legislation.

Individuals

- Tax year – Calendar year.
- Filing and payment – Personal income tax returns are due by the 30 April. An individual receiving employment income from only one employer is not required to file a return, unless he/she is eligible for a refund. Payments of tax relating to a business are due as described above for companies. Tax is normally withheld at source for other sources of income.
- Penalties – Penalties are charged at rate of 10% of tax, with a minimum of GNF10 000 for late tax returns, failure to pay tax due and for errors and mistakes, and 50% with a minimum of GNF100 000 when the taxpayer does not reply to a request from the tax authorities.

General Investment Information

Investment Incentives

General Incentives

- Guinea has considerable potential for growth especially in the agricultural, fishing and mining sectors.
- Laws for specific sectors (like mining and oil) provide certain incentives and there is also an Investment Code in Guinea.
- Guinea applies a rule of reciprocity so that all foreigners from countries which allow Guineans to carry on business activities may undertake business activities in Guinea.
- The OPIP (Office de Promotion des Investissements Privés) promotes private investment and the CFE (Centre de Formation des Entreprises) assists investors with formalities to incorporate companies.
- Guinea has signed the L'Organisation pour l'Harmonisation en Afrique du Droit des Affaires (OHADA) treaty between 17 West and Central African countries to harmonise business laws and is a member state of the Organisation Africaine de la Propriété Intellectuelle (OAPI), the central intellectual property registration system for 16 African countries.

Tax Incentives

- Anyone doing business in Guinea to start a business, or to expand an existing business, can benefit from the tax advantages associated with one or more of the privileged regimes, provided the business activity, or expansion, contributes to the achievement of one or more of the priority objectives of Economic Development. To benefit from one or more of the privileged regimes, at least 20% of the total cost for small and medium-sized enterprises, and 33% for other companies proposed for approval, must be financed by a capital investment.
- Tax incentives include, amongst others, a five to eight year exemption from the tax on industrial or commercial profits, business licence duty, property tax and import tax (depending on the location of the investment).

Guinea Conakry

Expatriates and Work Permits

The employment contract with a foreign worker must be the subject of written stipulations. It is subject to approval by the National Office of Employment and Labour. The visa application rests with the employer and is granted when the competent authority to attest the contract does not tacitly express its opinion within 30 days from the date of filing of the application. In the absence of a visa, or tacitly explicitly granted, the contract of employment may receive a beginning execution. Natives from an ECOWAS (Economic Community of West African States) member state do not need a visa to work in the country.

Trade Relations

- Memberships – United Nations, WTO, ECOWAS, West African Economic and Monetary Union (WAEMU), the International Monetary Fund (IMF), World Bank, the African Union and the Mano River Union (MRU) with Liberia and Sierra Leone.
- Treaties – Guinea has only one tax treaty signed with France. This treaty was signed on 15 February 1999 and entered into force on 1 October 2004. It is based on the OECD Model.

For shares, the relief applies only to significant long-term holdings. Subject to certain conditions, capital gains arising from a merger, or partial business transfer, are exempt.

Individuals

Capital gains from the disposal of assets are exempt from tax. Capital gains from the disposal of shares are taxable only where the individual had a long-term significant shareholding and was employed in the business.

General Investment Information

Investment Incentives

General Incentives

Regional incentives – There are no specific regional incentives. However, the new Investment Code (dated 7 June 2012) provides a longer exemption period (15 years) when the investment site is located outside the region of the economic capital, Abidjan.

Tax Incentives

- Certain tax incentives are available to all qualifying enterprises in the Ivory Coast. Enterprises may apply for a reduction in the tax on industrial and commercial profits. For the reduction to be granted, the amount invested in the Ivory Coast should be at least XOF10 million for an investment period not exceeding three years. Ivory Coast also offers a favourable accelerated depreciation regime.
- Plant, machinery and equipment that are used exclusively in manufacturing, agriculture, transportation or storage, and that have an expected life of more than five years, may be granted capital allowances at up to twice the normal rate. Enterprises investing at least XOF10 million may apply for a reduction in the tax on industrial and commercial profits.
- Tax incentives are granted under the Mining Code and the Petroleum Code for enterprises involved in mining and petroleum activities. These Codes provide exemption from VAT and additional tax on imports and purchases to companies involved in exploration or production of oil, gas or minerals. The tax exemption applies to transactions or purchases directly and exclusively assigned to petroleum or mining activities. The Code also provides specific rules concerning calculation of corporate income for tax purposes. Exemption of VAT, and additional tax on imports and purchases accorded to oil and gas companies, are extended to their subcontractors providing petroleum-specific services. They are also granted a five-year exemption from CIT. The starting year of this exemption is the fiscal year of the effective start of production. A new Mining Code is being prepared in the Ivory Coast.

- Other incentives include a five to eight-year exemption from the tax on industrial or commercial profits, business licence duty, property tax and import tax, depending on the location of the investment. Special tax incentives may be granted to enterprises involved in mining (a five-year tax exemption) petroleum and certain construction activities.

Export Incentives

- Export incentives and Free Trade Zones (FTZs) – Exemption from VAT is allowed on exported products or services.

Ivory Coast

Exchange Controls

The XOF is linked to the euro (€) at a fixed exchange rate and unlimited convertibility to the euro is guaranteed. CFA members have agreed to apply exchange control regulations modelled on those of France. Transfers within the CFA Zone are not restricted. Dividends out of revenue and capital on disinvestment may be remitted.

Expatriates and Work Permits

A visa is required to work in the Ivory Coast and is valid for a maximum of three months. An extension is required to stay longer. To get a visa, a company letter (stating a specific mission), and a confirmation of itinerary from a travel agent, must be provided. Natives from an Economic Community of West African States (ECOWAS) member state do not need a visa to work in the country.

Kenya

The Cabinet Secretary for Finance, Mr. Henry Rotich, delivered the National Budget for the year 2015/16 on 11 June 2015.

The tax measures, and various other miscellaneous amendments proposed, are broadly categorised into six priority areas which complement the expenditure policies; namely, improving the business environment, better infrastructure for private sector growth, agriculture and industrial transformation, enhancing women and youth employment, investment in health, education and social protection of people, and strengthening devolution and regional development.

Note:

This edition, covering fiscal information on Kenya, incorporates changes in legislation introduced by the Finance Act 2015, the Budget Speech, and other subsidiary legislation. It also includes references to changes in the practice of the East African Revenue authorities (where they are significant).

Income Tax

Kenya applies both the source and residence basis of taxation. Income accrued in, or derived from, Kenya is taxable in Kenya. Conversely, foreign-source income is exempt from Kenya tax.

Notes:

- The Kenya Income Tax Act (Capt. 470) was enacted in 1973, and its date of commencement was 1 January 1974. It replaced the East Africa Income Tax Management Act, which had served the countries of the East African Community (EAC), and which became outdated following the break-up of the Community.
- Income tax is charged for each year of income on all the income of a person, whether resident or non-resident, which accrues in, or is derived from Kenya.
- Kenyan residents are taxed on their worldwide employment income while non-residents are taxed on income from employment with a Kenyan resident employer, or a non-resident employer with a Permanent Establishment (PE) in Kenya.
- An individual is resident in Kenya if he/she has a permanent home in Kenya and was present in Kenya for any period in a particular year of income under consideration; or has no permanent home in Kenya but was present in Kenya for a period or periods amounting in the aggregate to 183 days or more in that year of income; or was present in Kenya in that year of income and in each of the two preceding years of income for periods averaging more than 122 days in each year of income.
- In general, payment of the following by a resident person or a person having a PE in Kenya, is deemed to constitute income accrued in or derived from Kenya:
 - Management, professional or training fees.
 - Royalties.
 - Interest.
 - Rents (including leasing of equipment).
 - Payments to sportsmen or entertainers.
- The personal relief for 2005 to 2016 is KShs13 944 per annum. Relief is apportioned in the case of death, or in the case of an individual who arrives in Kenya, or leaves Kenya permanently. Employees are eligible for personal relief from only one employer in cases where they have more than one employer.
- The following may be deducted from taxable income: up to KShs150 000 annually in mortgage interest for owner-occupied property, contributions to a registered pension or provident fund up to KShs240 000 annually (the deduction may not exceed 30% of employment income), and 15% of health or life insurance premium payments (up to KShs60 000 annually). Any daily subsistence allowance of up to KShs2 000 paid when working away from the normal place of duty is not taxable.

8. Premiums paid for either health or life insurance can be deducted from tax payable. The deduction amounts to 15% of the premiums with a maximum of KSh60 000 per annum, effective 1 January 2007 (KSh36 000 per annum prior to 1 January 2007). However, where a policy is surrendered before its maturity, all the relief granted to the policy holder is repayable to the Kenya Revenue Authority (KRA).
9. Medical services, or medical insurance paid by an employer on behalf of full-time employee beneficiaries, is a non-taxable benefit.
10. A pension received by a resident individual from a pension fund established outside Kenya will be deemed to have been derived from Kenya to the extent to which it relates to employment or services rendered in Kenya.
11. Where a business is carried on by a resident person partly within and partly outside Kenya, the whole of the profit from that business is deemed to have accrued in or to be derived from Kenya.
12. The income of a wife is not aggregated with her husband's income in determining the appropriate rate of tax where she opts to file a separate tax return (effective 1 January 2006).
13. Personal tax returns are due by 30 June following the end of the tax year. Any balance of tax payable is due by 30 April in the following calendar year. A personal tax return is required even where an individual's personal tax had been fully settled through the Pay-As-You-Earn (PAYE) system.
14. The Commissioner has been granted express powers to register taxpayers who do not to apply for a Personal Identification Number (PIN).

Non-Residents

A non-resident is taxable only on Kenyan-source employment income. Only Kenyan citizens may offset tax on foreign employment income against the tax charged in Kenya on such income. Non-citizen residents must include their after tax foreign-source employment income in their Kenya taxable income.

Employment Income

- Taxable income from employment is widely defined and includes: wages, salary, commission, bonuses and allowances. Travelling, entertainment and other similar allowances, are taxable unless they are purely a reimbursement of expenses incurred in the production of income. The first KSh2 000 per day received by an employee as reimbursement of subsistence, travelling, entertainment or other allowances, whilst on official duties outside the usual place of work, is not taxable as a benefit of employment.

- Benefits in kind from employment income are taxable where their aggregate value exceeds KSh36 000 per annum or KSh3 000 per month.
- Benefits in kind are taxed at the higher of the cost to the employer, their market value or prescribed values. The provision of housing by an employer for an employee is taxed on the employee as follows:
 - Directors – the higher of:
 - 15% of employment income, excluding the value of the premises.
 - The market value.
 - The rent paid by the employer.
 - Whole-time service directors* – the higher of:
 - 15% of employment income, excluding the value of the premises.
 - Greater of fair market value or rent paid if lease agreement is not at arm's length.
 - Fair market value if company owned.
 - Agricultural employee – 10% of employment income.
 - Other employees – 15% of employment income or rent paid or payable by the employer, whichever is higher
- * A whole-time service director is a director who spends substantially all of his/her time on company business and who does not own or control more than 5% of the company's share capital or voting power.
- A company car provided for an employee's private use is taxed on the higher of the values prescribed by the Commissioner or 2% per month of the initial capital cost of the car incurred by the employer. Where such a vehicle is hired or leased from a third party, the employee shall be deemed to have received a benefit in that year of income equal to the cost of hiring or leasing. From 1 January 2008, where the employee has restricted use of the car, a lower rate of benefit would apply subject to provision of proof of this to the Commissioner.

- Benefits in kind consisting of the provision of furniture, staff meals, telephone (landline and mobile) and communal water and electricity (for agricultural employees) are, by concession, taxed at values prescribed by the Commissioner. Effective 1 January 2015, the value of meals provided to an employee by the employer will not be taxable provided the value of the meals does not exceed KShs48 000 per year (KShs4 000 per month). The meals can be provided in a canteen or cafeteria operated or established by the employer, or provided by a third party at the employer's premises, or at the third party's premises. The third party supplier, however, must be a registered taxpayer.
- An employee, participating in a registered employee share ownership plan, will be taxed at vesting on the difference between the offer price and the market value at the grant date, as a benefit of employment.
- Insurance premiums paid by an employer on the life of, and for the benefit of, an employee or his/her dependents, are taxable on the employee, except where paid to a pension or provident fund, or scheme or individual retirement fund. Premiums paid by employers in respect of group life policy and personal accident policy, that does not confer a benefit to the employee or the employee's dependent will, however, not be deemed to be a taxable benefit.
- The following are not taxable on an employee:
 - Passages between Kenya, and any place outside Kenya, paid for by the employer provided the employee is not a Kenyan citizen, was recruited outside Kenya, and is in Kenya solely for the purposes of his/her employment.
 - Medical services, or medical insurance cover, provided by an employer for a full-time employee or his beneficiaries, provided that for non-whole-time service directors, the value of non-taxable benefit is up to KShs1 million.
 - From 1 January 2010, medical expenses, or medical insurance cover paid by a partnership on behalf of a partner, will be an allowable deduction when computing taxable income of a partnership subject to a limit of KShs1 million.

- Employer's contribution to a pension or provident fund or individual retirement fund are not taxed on the employees. However, with effect from 1 July 2004, employees of organisations not chargeable to tax, will be liable to tax on contributions the employer makes to an unregistered fund or on the excess contribution to a registered fund.
- Payment by an employer of education fees of an employee's dependents, or relatives, if taxed on the employer.
- From 1 January 2011, payment by an employer not exceeding KShs240 000 per annum of gratuity or similar payment, which is paid into a registered pension scheme, shall not be taxable on the employee.
- Expenses paid by employers on behalf of the employees and their immediate family members on vacation to destinations in Kenya not exceeding seven days from July 2014 up to 1 July 2015.
- A deduction of one-third of employment income may be claimed by a non-citizen resident employee of a non-resident company, who is absent from Kenya for an aggregate of 120 days or more in a year of income and whose employment income is not deductible in ascertaining the employer's income chargeable to Kenya tax.
- From 13 June 2008, Kenyan citizens are entitled to offset tax on foreign employment income against tax charged in Kenya on the same income to the extent of tax due in Kenya.

Companies

Income Tax Rates for Companies: Years of Assessment Commencing On or After 1 July 2008

	Rate of Tax
All companies	30%

Notes:

1. Tax on the total income of a person (other than an individual) is charged at the corporate tax rate. Since 2000, the corporate tax has been 30% for residents (and 37.5% for non-residents i.e. branches of non-resident companies). Newly listed companies enjoy a reduced rate for three to five years following the year of listing, the rate (20%-27%) and period depending on the percentage of capital listed (more than 20%). To further encourage listing of companies, with effect from 1 January 2016 the corporate tax rate for newly listed companies is reduced from the normal 30% rate to a 25% rate for a period of five years commencing immediately in the year of income following the year of such listing, regardless of the percentage of capital listed
2. Resident and non-resident corporate entities are subject to tax on all income accruing in or derived from Kenya. A company, or similar corporate entity, is tax resident if it is incorporated under Kenyan law, if management and control of its affairs are exercised in Kenya or if the Minister of Finance declares the entity to be tax resident in a notice published in the Kenyan Gazette.
3. Generally, expenses are allowed only if incurred wholly and exclusively in the production of income. Expenses specifically allowed include, amongst others: bad debts written off; legal expenses and stamp duties in connection with the acquisition of a lease not exceeding 99 years; expenses incurred prior to commencement of business where these would have been deductible if incurred after the date of commencement; capital expenditure incurred in the prevention of soil erosion by a farmer; costs of structural alterations to maintain rents; loss in value of tools and utensils; agricultural land development; scientific research; club subscriptions paid by an employer on behalf of an employee, with effect from 1 January 2006; cash donations to charitable organisations that are registered and whose income is exempted under the Income Tax Act; and expenditure on the construction of a public school, hospital, road or any similar kind of social infrastructure, upon approval by the Minister etc.
4. Disallowable expenses include: capital costs and losses; personal expenses (including personal entertainment expenses, hotel and restaurant expenses except for specified exclusions, vacation expenses except for airfares on home leave for expatriates, employee's dependents or relatives educational fees etc.); income tax or tax of a similar nature paid on income; expenses of non-resident persons relating to certainty types of income (management fees, royalties, etc.); and interest payments by a non-resident controlled company to the extent that loans made to that company exceed the greater of three times the sum of paid up capital and revenue reserves or the sum of all loans acquired prior to 16 June 1988 and still outstanding. From 11 June 2010, "deemed interest," calculated on basis of 91-day Treasury bills, will also be disallowed on interest-free loans received from a related non-resident person.
5. From 1 January 2010, tax losses for a year can only be carried forward for four years. This carry forward period has been extended with effect from 1 January 2016 to ten years. If not utilised the losses will be lost unless an application for extension is made based on provision of evidence of inability to extinguish the deficit and approval received from the Minister. Previously, there was no time limit on the carry forward of tax losses. No allowance is made for a terminal loss but certain expenditure incurred after the cessation of a business may be regarded as incurred in the year in which the business ceased. Losses that arose before 1 January 2010, are redeemed to have arisen on that date.
6. From 1 January 1987, interest paid on money borrowed to finance investment is restricted for tax purposes to the amount of investment income (excluding income from most dividends) in the same year; any excess being carried forward.

7. The tax year is the calendar year although a company (other than a financial institution) may adopt any year-end. Consolidated returns are not permitted. The self-assessment and compensating returns must be filed within six months of the end of the company's accounting period. Tax instalments are due within 20 days of the end of each quarter year based on the relevant proportion of the estimated current tax or 110% of the tax for the prior year, less previous instalments paid and withholding tax (WHT) deducted at source, with the balance of tax, if any, due four months after the company's year-end. Agricultural companies make their first instalment payment 20 days after the third quarter.
8. A turnover tax has been introduced (with effect from 1 January 2007) for businesses with a turnover of less than KSh5 million per annum. The applicable rate is 3% of the gross receipts of the business.
9. Turnover tax shall not apply to rental income and management or professional or training fees; the income of incorporated companies; and any income which is subject to a final WHT under this Act.
10. The Income Tax Act has been amended to exempt REITs from corporate tax, in addition to exempting investors who receive dividends from REITs from payment of WHT.
11. With effect from 1989, realised foreign exchange gains or losses resulting from a Kenyan business will be treated as trading receipts or deductible expenses. Such gains or losses will be calculated by reference to the exchange rate ruling at 30 December 1988, or date on which the foreign asset or liability is established, whichever is the later. A foreign exchange loss will be deferred for tax purposes if realised in respect of a loan from person who, alone or with up to four other persons, controls the indebted company and where the aggregate of all loans made to that company exceeds three times the sum of paid up capital and revenue reserves. With effect from 13 June 2008, the aggregate "revenue reserves" includes accumulated losses.

Dividend Income

- Dividends received by a resident company from another resident company, of which it controls 12.5% or more of the voting power, are not subject to tax.
- Dividends received by specified financial institutions are subject to tax (from 13 June 2008).
- Taxation on the dividend income of Kenyan residents is limited to the WHT deducted from payments of such dividends.

- Dividends received from sources outside Kenya are not chargeable to tax in Kenya.
- Dividends declared by Kenyan resident companies are deemed to be income of the year in which they are payable.
- Dividends include any distribution by a company to its shareholders, including in a winding-up, except for reimbursement of sums paid in as share capital.
- Where the Commissioner considers that a company has not distributed as much of its after tax income to shareholders as in his/her view could be so distributed without prejudice to the company's business, he/she may deem the company to have paid such a dividend 12 months after its accounting date. As a "rule of thumb", the Commissioner allows trading companies to retain 60% of their after-tax profit, although investment income is expected to be distributed in full.

Withholding Taxes (WHTs)

WHT on Payments to Resident Persons

WHT at the appropriate rate must be deducted from payments made to resident persons in respect of the following:

- Dividends.

- Payments by authorised agents in respect of specified agricultural produce (currently suspended).
- Pensions or lump sum withdrawals from pension or provident funds in excess of the tax exempt limits.

Notes:

Agents' commission paid in respect of flowers, fruits or vegetables exported from Kenya and auctioned in any market outside Kenya, and audit fees for analysis of maximum residue limits paid to a non-resident laboratory or auditor, are not subject to WHT. From 12 June 2009, commissions paid by a resident air transport operator to a non-resident agent in order to secure tickets for international travel, are not subject to WHT.

Notes:

1. WHT on management, professional or training fees was increased to 10% from 5%, effective 9 June 2011. However, from 2 May 2012, this was revised back to 5%.
2. From 1 July 2004, WHT deducted from consultancy and contractual fee for East African citizens is 15% of the gross sum payable.
3. The rate for Presumptive Income Tax (PIT) has not been removed from the legislation, although Section 17A dealing with PIT, was repealed on 15 June 2000.
4. From 1 January 1994, WHT is deducted from insurance commission paid at the rate of 5% from amounts paid to broker and 10% from amounts paid to any other person (agents).
5. From 15 June 2007, WHT on dividends from shares listed on the Nairobi Stock Exchange (NSE), held by citizens of EAC states, will be deducted at the resident rate of 5% (rather than the 10% non-resident rate applicable before).
6. On pensions, the first KSh300 000 per annum received by a resident individual from a registered fund, shall not be subject to WHT. Amounts above that shall be subjected to WHT, but such WHT shall be a final tax.
7. If no tax has been deducted under PAYE, then it should be withheld according to the following scale rates:
 - Payments after 15 years of pensionable service, or attainment of 55 years, or early retirement due to ill-health:
 - 10% on the first KShs400 000.
 - 15% on the next KShs400 000.
 - 20% on the next KShs400 000.
 - 25% on the next KShs400 000.
 - 30% on any amounts over KShs1.6 million of the amounts in excess of the tax-free amount.
 - Withdrawals before 15 years of service and attainment of 55 years:
 - 10% on the first KShs121 968.
 - 15% on the next KShs114 912.
 - 20% on the next KShs114 912.
 - 25% on the next KShs114 912.
 - 30% on any amounts over KShs466 704 of the amount in excess of the tax-free amount.

8. Effective 1 January 2014, winnings from betting and gaming activities will attract a 20% WHT, which is a final tax. In addition, the Commissioner will prescribe how to calculate deemed interest and this deemed interest will be subject to WHT. Also, leasing of locomotives, or rolling stock from non-residents, will now be exempt from WHT.
9. PAYE deductions are made on payments for employment.
10. Natural resource income is defined as "an amount, including premium or such like amount, paid as consideration for the right to extract minerals or living or non-living resources from land or sea". The effective date for application of WHT on natural resources is 1 January 2015.
11. This is applicable from 9 January 2013 to 31 December 2014. From 1 January 2015, these rates are no longer applicable as the gain is now subject to corporate tax.
12. This is applicable from 1 January 2016.

Capital Gains Tax (CGT)

CGT, which had been suspended since 1985, has been re-introduced. Capital gains will now be taxable in Kenya, effective 1 January 2015. The rate applicable is 5% on the net gain and is a final tax.

CGT will be levied on the profit or gain made on the transfer of qualifying property or assets. With effect from 1 January 2016, CGT will not apply on gains arising from the transfer of shares traded on any securities exchange licensed by the Capital Markets Authority. The tax is chargeable on both individuals and companies. In the case of companies, qualifying property will include, amongst others, money, goods, land, and every description of property whether moveable or immovable. However, for individuals qualifying property will comprise land and any right of interest over that land.

Certain transactions involving property dealings do not constitute a transfer for capital gains purposes. These include:

- Transfer of property for the purpose only of securing a debt or a loan.
- The issuance by a company of its own shares or debentures.
- The vesting of property in a personal representative of a deceased person by operation of law.

Determination of Capital Gain

Based on the Eighth Schedule, the capital gain is determined as follows:

$$\text{Chargeable Gain} = \text{Transfer Value} - \text{Adjusted Cost}$$

The transfer value could be in various forms, such as the amount of or value of consideration for the transfer of property; or sums received under a policy of insurance for damage to or for loss of property. The adjusted cost is the sum total of the original cost of acquiring or constructing the property, the cost of capital expenditure wholly and exclusively incurred on the property after its acquisition, and the incidental costs to the transferor of acquiring the property.

Restriction of Benefits under DTAs

The Finance Act 2014 introduced a provision that the benefit of lower tax rates, or exemptions granted under DTAs, will not apply in situations where 50% or more of the underlying ownership of the resident of the other contracting state is held by individuals who are not resident in that other contracting state. Underlying ownership has been defined to include both direct and indirect ownership. This provision is effective from 1 January 2015.

Kenya

Anti-avoidance

Kenyan law requires arm's length pricing between related enterprises. Compliance with the OECD Guidelines generally ensures compliance, although domestic transfer pricing rules have been in place since 2006.

Regarding thin capitalisation rules, interest expenses are proportionately restricted for foreign controlled companies (other than licenced financial institutions) when the ratio of all interest-bearing liabilities exceeds three times the payer's issued and paid up capital and revenue reserves/accumulated losses. "Control" (for these purposes) includes participations of at least 25%.

In terms of 2011/12 amendments, Kenya Government allows organisations to enter into Tax Information Exchange Agreements (TIEAs) with other countries for transfer pricing and other purposes.

Inheritances and Donations

There is no inheritance tax/estate duty or donations tax in Kenya.

Value-Added Tax (VAT)

VAT
Standard rate	16%

Notes:

1. VAT is imposed on the supply of taxable goods and services made or provided in Kenya by a taxable person in the course of, or in furtherance, of any business carried on by that person and on the importation of goods and services into Kenya.
2. Zero-rated supplies include: the export of goods and taxable services, and the supply or import of specified goods.
3. Exempt supplies include: financial services provided by banks and most agricultural produce in its unprocessed or preserved state.
4. Registration is compulsory where the turnover of taxable supplies is, or is expected to be, KSh5 million or more in a 12-month period.
5. VAT returns and any related payments are due by the 20th day of the following month.

VAT Act 2013

A new VAT Act came into force on 2 September 2013. Some of the key changes introduced included the following:

- VAT status of supplies
 - The VAT status of many exempt and zero-rated supplies changed to standard rated.
 - The list of zero-rated supplies significantly reduced.
 - Under the repealed Act, major projects that were deemed to be in the public interest, were granted remission from VAT at the discretion of the Minister of Finance. While existing remissions remain in place for a period of five years from enactment of the new law, no new remissions will be granted as the law has been repealed. This trend is being seen in other countries in the region where remissions have been thought to significantly erode the tax base.
- Place of supply
 - The VAT Act did not previously include place of supply rules. These rules now apply in respect of services, and provide that a supply of services is made in Kenya where the supplier's place of business from which the services are supplied, is in Kenya, or where the supplier is non-resident, the recipient is non-registered and the services are:
 - Physically performed in Kenya by a person who is in Kenya at the time of the supply;
 - Directly related to immovable property;
 - Radio or television broadcasting received at an address in Kenya;
 - Electronic services (as defined) delivered to a person in Kenya at the time of supply; or

Kenya

- The transfer or assignment of, or grant of a right to use, a copyright, patent, trade mark or similar right in Kenya.

• Tax representatives

- A non-resident person, who is required to register for VAT, must appoint a tax representative. If non-residents fail to appoint a representative, one will be appointed for them.
- A tax representative must be resident in Kenya, be responsible for all the VAT obligations of the non-resident, and be jointly and severally liable with the non-resident for taxes, penalties and interest imposed under the VAT Act.

• Reverse charge on imported services

- Reverse charge VAT no longer applies to the extent that a taxable person is able to claim VAT input tax recovery on the reverse charge. Where a taxpayer is 100% taxable, no reverse charge is payable. Where a taxpayer is partially exempt, the reverse charge must only be paid on the amount of non-recoverable VAT. Fully exempt persons must account for the reverse charge in full.

• Input tax

- Input tax must be claimed within a six month period (previously 12 months) from the time of supply. Given the increased risk of being unable to claim VAT input tax, especially where VAT invoices are not received in a timely fashion or there is a dispute relating to the supply, effective systems will be required to ensure input VAT is claimed within the six month period.

• Other changes

- Going concerns – The transfer of a business as a going concern is a zero-rated supply, without requiring the approval of the tax authorities, as was the case.
- Partial exemption – Only one formula is provided for calculating deductible input tax by partially exempt persons. There have been changes to the de minimis limit for claiming input VAT (the amount of exempt supplies that can be made before the deduction of input tax is limited) and the requirement for an annual adjustment abolished.
- Assessments – The tax authorities can only issue an amended assessment within five years of the submission of the initial return (except in the case of fraud). Previously, there was no time limitation.
- Rulings – The tax authorities can make binding public rulings and taxpayers can apply for binding private rulings.

- Tax avoidance schemes – Provisions apply in relation to tax avoidance schemes.
- Transitional provisions – Transitional rules apply to manage the transition to the new Act.

2014/15 VAT Changes

VAT changes made during the 2014/15 Budget cycle include the following:

- The reintroduction of the withholding VAT regime. i.e. government ministries, departments and agencies are required on the purchase of taxable supplies to withhold 6% of the taxable service at the time of paying for the supplies and remit it to the Kenya Revenue Authority (KRA).
- The VAT status of aircrafts exceeding 2000 kgs, and the supply of taxable services in respect of goods in transit has changed from standard rated to exempt.

2015/16 VAT Changes

VAT changes made during the 2015/16 Budget include the following:

- Services in respect of goods in transit will now be zero-rated for VAT purposes. The Finance Act 2014 had previously exempted these services.
- The Cabinet Secretary has now clarified the timeframe for lodging the VAT Refund Claims to be within 12 months from the date the tax became due and payable. The 2013 VAT Act was silent on this which caused uncertainty over the period within which a taxpayer could lodge a refund claim.
- Goods and services purchased for use in film making have now been exempted from VAT.
- Plastic bag biogas digesters for use in biogas energy have been exempted.
- Taxable goods and services for use in the construction of infrastructure works in industrial and recreational parks of 100 acres or more have been exempted from VAT.
- Inputs imported or purchased locally for the assembly of electronic devices which includes school laptops or tablets will be exempted from VAT.
- The Cabinet Secretary has proposed an amendment to allow returning residents who have owned left hand drive vehicles for at least twelve months to sell them and import VAT free right hand motor vehicles of equivalent value and specifications subject to specified conditions.

2015 Finance Act Changes made in September 2015

Duty Free Shop

A new definition of duty free shop has been included in the Vat Act 2013 defining them as a bonded warehouse for goods on which duty has not been paid and are for sale to passengers departing Kenya.

Goods sold from a duty free shop have been included in the second schedule of the VAT Act classifying them as zero rated.

Definition of Money

The definition of Money has been expanded to include any amount provided by Way of electronic payment system.

Customs Duties

East Africa Community (EAC) member states are required to apply similar customs duties (member states have their own excise duty rates). However, some changes to the EAC Customs Management Act, and the Common External Tariff (CET), are made to address specific country requirements on request by the member states.

The following changes were made with regard to customs duties in the 2015/16 annual Budget:

- Full operationalisation of the single window system for use by all importers, exporters and other stakeholders.
- Import duty on made up fishing nets increased from 10% to 25%.
- Specific import duty rate on sugar increased from USD200 to USD460 per metric tonne.
- Specific import duty rate on rice increased from USD200 to USD345 per metric tonne.
- Increase of import duty on plastic tubes used for packaging toothpaste and cosmetics from 10% to 25%.
- Increase of import duty on iron and steel products from 10% to 25%.
- Reduction of import duty on aluminum milk cans from 25% to 10%.
- Withdrawal of stay of application of the EAC Common External Tariff (CET) on paper and paperboard and import duty to be charged at the CET rate of 10%.

- Stay of application of the EAC CET by increasing the import duty rate of 10% to 25% for electronic integrated circuits, paper and paperboard products, hot rolled and other bars and rods of alloy steel, made-up fishing nets, towers and lattice masts, prefabricated buildings, iron and steel products, finished products of iron and steel i.e. bridges and bridge sections; equipment for scaffolding, shuttering, propping or pit propping; screws and bolts; bars, rods, sections, angles, shapes, ribs, grooves or other deformations produced during the rolling process; oil, air and petrol filters of combustion engines; gas cylinders, sim cards and smart cards; aluminium milk cans.
- Stay application of the EAC CET by increasing the import duty rate of other flat rolled products of iron and non-alloy steel not further worked than hot rolled from 0% to 10% and decrease the import duty rate for aluminium alloy sheets from 25% to 10%.
- Harmonisation of export duty on raw hides and skins by the EAC Partner States at 80% of FOB value or USD0.52 per kg whichever is higher.
- Introduction of duty remission at 0% instead of 10% on wood splints for the manufacture of matches, nylon yarn and synthetic twine used for manufacture of fishing nets; glucose and glucose syrup and acrylic polymers for the manufacture of paints.
- Introduction of duty remission on semolina used for manufacture of pasta at 0% instead of 25% and wheat grain at 10% instead of 35%.
- Introduction of a Miscellaneous Fee and Charges Bill to cater for Railway Development Levy (RDL), Import Declaration Fees (IDF) and other levies which were covered under the repealed Customs and Excise Act Cap 472.

Kenya

- Reduction of Import Declaration Fees from 2.25% to 2%.
- Goods, materials, equipment and other supplies for official use by the prison authorities exempted under the Fifth Schedule of the EAC Customs Management Act.

Excise Duties

- Introduction of a new stand alone Excise Duty Act.
- Various changes have been proposed in the new excise duty bill and include the following:
 - CS National Treasury given powers to grant remission of excise duty on beer or wine brewed from agricultural products grown in Kenya except barley.
 - Excise duty to be based on units of quantity only.
 - Excise duty to be charged on all classes of fossil fuels.
 - Increase in excise duty rate on alcoholic beverages, juices, bottled water, food supplements, cigarettes, tobacco, motor vehicles.
 - Excise duty on cigarettes to be charged at a specific rate rather than a hybrid rate.
 - Excise duty on motor vehicles and motor cycles to be charged based on classes of age.
 - Excise duty on non-biodegradable plastic to be charged at KES 120 per kg.
 - Removal of excise duty on excisable goods that have no harmful effects such as petroleum jelly, deodorants, body lotions and certain food preparations.

Notes:

1. There were no changes in the excise duty rates in the 2014/15 annual Budget. However, the Cabinet Secretary announced that a stand-alone Excise Duty Bill would be published and a draft of this was done in September 2014.

Advance Tax

An advance tax is payable annually in respect of all commercial vehicles at the following rates:

- For vans, pick-ups, trucks, lorries and (with effect from 11 June 2010), prime movers and trailers but excluding tractors and trailers used for agricultural purposes; KShs1 500 per ton of load capacity per annum or KShs2 400 per annum, whichever is higher.
- For saloons, station-wagons, mini-buses, buses and coaches; KShs60 per passenger capacity per month, or KShs2 400 per annum, whichever is higher.

Prior to 11 June 2010, advance tax was applicable on all public service vehicles.

Miscellaneous Taxes

- Stamp duty is payable on a variety of instruments or transactions; namely: on the creation or increase of capital; on stock transfers of non-quoted companies; on leases; on debentures; and on property transfers i.e. stamp duty of 1% is payable upon the creation and increase of authorised share capital; and stamp duty of 4% is payable on immovable property (2% if levied outside municipalities). Stamp duty of 1% is payable on the transfer of shares and other securities. An exemption applies if the shares/securities are listed on the NSE.
- Other taxes include: a single business permit obtainable from the relevant local authority, property rates, customs and excise duties, export duties, an export duty on coffee and tea, a refinery throughput tax, and an air passenger service tax.

Social Security

Employee contributions to the National Social Security Fund (NSSF) for employees are mandatory. Such contributions are matched by an equal employer contribution.

Previously, NSSF of 5% of gross salary, up to a maximum of KShs200 per month was accountable. However, a new NSSF Act was assented to at the end of 2013. Effective from June 2014, the basis of calculating the NSSF was to change. Each employer will now pay to the NSSF, in respect of each of his/her employees, an employer's contribution at 6% of the employee's monthly pensionable earnings; and the employee's contribution at 6% of the employee's monthly pensionable earnings subject to an upper earnings limit. The current 6% upper limit per month is KShs2 160 for employees earning more than KShs18 000 per month. Currently though, an injunction is in place pending outcome of a High Court case rejecting the changes to NSSF. Thus, the old rate continues to be applied at present.

An exemption from such contributions is available for expatriates who continue to contribute to a social security scheme overseas and will not be present in Kenya in excess of three years.

In addition, mandatory contributions are made to the National Hospital Insurance Fund (NHIF). Previously NHIF was approximately 1% of gross monthly income to a maximum of KSh320 per month. From April 2015, the rates have increased to a maximum of KSh1 700.

There are currently no NHIF employer contributions. The NHIF rates of contribution are being reviewed though it is not clear when proposed changes will be enacted.

Tax Administration

Penalties

Penalties imposed in Kenya (under the Income Tax Act) are as follows:

- Failure to keep adequate books of accounts – KSh20 000.
- Failure to submit a final return with self-assessment – 5% of the normal tax (after reducing amounts already paid and WHT credits).
- Failure to submit a compensating tax return – 5% of compensating tax which should have been shown for each month or part of the month.
- Omission, claim or statement due to fraud or gross negligence – Additional tax not exceeding twice the tax concealed.
- Knowingly omitting income from a return or improperly claiming relief or making incorrect statements including compensating tax – Additional tax of an amount twice the tax concealed, plus a maximum KSh200 000 fine and/or up to two years imprisonment for those concerned.

- Penalty and interest on unpaid tax -
 - Prior to 11 June 2010, 20% of the tax remaining unpaid after due date plus late payment interest of 2% per month (on tax unpaid plus penalty). This applies to instalment tax only where instalment tax remains unpaid at the date of self-assessment. With effect from 13 June 2008, the 2% interest shall not exceed 100% of the principal tax.

- From 11 June 2010, the 20% penalty will not be applicable on late payment of WHT and PAYE tax. In addition, the 2% interest per month will not be applicable on the 20% penalty where imposed.
- The penalty for late payment of WHT is 10% while that for PAYE tax is 25%.
- Minimum additional tax, or penalties to be levied (excluding interest), will be KSh1 000 for individuals and KSh10 000 for companies.
- General penalty – Offences under the Act, for which no other penalty is specified, are subject to a maximum fine of KSh100 000 and/or imprisonment not exceeding six months.
- The Commissioner has the discretionary right to remit a penalty up to KSh1.5 million (KSh500 000 before 13 June 2008) without prior approval of the Minister of Finance, with the exception of penalties imposed under section 72(2) and section 72A.
- From 11 June 2010, the Commissioner shall refrain from assessing or recovering taxes, penalties or interest in respect of income earned by a Kenyan citizen living abroad for any year of income ending on or before 31 December 2010, provided the Kenyan citizen declares his/her income for the year 2010 and submits a return by 30 June 2011. This provision, however, only applies where the Kenyan citizen has not already been assessed for tax or is under an audit or investigation.
- From 1 July 2015 to 30 June 2016, the Commissioner shall not assess or recover taxes, penalties or interest thereon in respect rental income relating to years of income 2013 and prior. In addition, the Commissioner will waive penalties and interest in respect tax due for years of income 2014 and 2015. In order to benefit from the amnesty, a taxpayer must submit the tax returns or amended tax returns for years of income 2014 and 2015 on or before 30 June 2016. Where the person submitting the returns seeks to claim relief for the expenses he incurred in earning the rental income but does not have documentation to support the expenditure he will be allowed a deduction of forty percent of the gross rent. The tax amnesty does not apply in instances where the taxpayer has already been assessed to the tax or is under audit or investigation in respect of the undisclosed income or any matter relating to it.

Other Matters

- In the context of corporate taxation; returns, records or documents required for tax purposes, shall be prepared in Kenya Shilling and maintained in English or Kiswahili.
- The Act permits incorporated businesses to alter the date to which accounts are made provided six months' notice is given to the Commissioner, and subject to written approval. Financial institutions and unincorporated businesses (partnerships and sole proprietors) are required to have accounting periods ending on 31 December each year.
- The Commissioner will be given express powers to register and recruit taxpayers refusing to register Personal Identification Numbers (PINs).
- The law has been amended to allow the Government to enter into TIEAs with other tax jurisdictions in order to facilitate exchange of information that will assist in curtailling tax evasion and ensuring all potential taxpayers pay their due taxes.

General Investment Information

Investment Incentives

Tax Incentives

- Farmworks allowance – For any year commencing on or after 1 January 2011, the allowance in respect of expenditure on farmworks, is 100% of the expenditure incurred. Previously, the allowance was calculated on a straight-line basis over a two-year period. Farmworks are structures necessary for the proper operation of a farm and include fences, ditches, drains, water and electricity works (other than machinery), windbreaks etc., as well as farm buildings. Only one-third of the cost of a farmhouse may be claimed.
- Industrial building allowance – This is an annual allowance computed on the straight-line method at 10% per annum on cost from 1 January 2010. Previously, the rate was 2.5% of cost per annum. The rate for hotels is 10% (prior to 1 January 2007, the rate was 4%). From 1 January 2010, the rate for a commercial building will be 25%. To qualify for the commercial building allowance, the person must have provided roads, power, water and other social infrastructure. A commercial building has been defined to include an office, shop and showroom. Where an industrial building is eligible for investment deduction allowance, the annual allowance is computed on cost net of the investment deduction allowance. Industrial buildings are defined at length in the Act; but in general, consist of buildings in use for purposes of a factory, mill or manufacturing business. A hotel, together with its kitchens, quarters and sports facilities, is included, as are (from 1 January 1995) specified civil works. Certain types of buildings (such as offices, retail shops and dwelling houses) are specifically excluded. Prescribed dwelling houses (i.e. quarters for employees) and staff welfare buildings, are eligible for the allowance. Where less than 10% of the cost of a building does not qualify, the disqualification is ignored. Cost of land is excluded from any allowance. From 1 January 1995, substantial renovation or rehabilitation costs are eligible for the allowance. No balancing allowances or charges arise on the sale of an industrial building.

The purchaser takes over the vendor's unexpired residue of cost and annual allowance, irrespective of the transfer price. A 50% industrial building allowance can be claimed on a hostel or educational building from 1 January 2010. This allowance also applies to buildings used for training. From 1 January 2008, a 5% industrial building allowance can be claimed on residential buildings built for rental purposes to low-income earners in an approved planned development area.

- Wear-and-tear allowances on plant and machinery – Plant and machinery includes furniture and fittings, office equipment, vehicles, aircraft and ships. Assets in this category are divided into four separate classes or pools, each with its own annual allowance rate as follows:
 - 37.5% – Tractors, combine harvesters, lorries over three tonnes, and similar heavy self-propelled vehicles.
 - 30% – Computer hardware, calculators, copiers and duplicating machines.
 - 25% – Other vehicles and aircraft.
 - 20% – From 1 January 2010, telecommunication equipment purchased and used by a telecommunication operator.
 - 20% – From 1 January 2010, software purchased.
 - 12.5% – All other machinery, including ships.
- * The Commissioner can allow accelerated rates of allowance where he considers this appropriate, but his discretion in this respect is sparingly used. The cost of additions, net of any investment deduction allowance claimed, is added to the relevant pool. The cost of non-commercial vehicles is restricted to KShs2 million (KShs1 million per vehicle for 2005). The sale proceeds of disposals are deducted from the relevant pool. The sale proceeds of a non-commercial vehicle are reduced in proportion to the abatement of the original cost.

- Investment deduction allowance – This is intended as an incentive to investment in the manufacturing sector and consists of a “once-and-for-all” claim based on the cost of buildings and machinery installed therein. Claims can only be made by manufacturing concerns and hotels on expenditure of eligible assets as follows: where the year of first use is any year of income or accounting year, commencing on or after:
 - 1 July 2000 – 100%.
 - 1 January 2002 – 85%.
 - 1 January 2003 – 70%.
 - 1 January 2004 – 100%.
 - 1 January 2005 – 100%.
 - 1 January 2006 – 100%.
 - 1 January 2007 – 100%.
 - 1 January 2008 – 100%.

However, where capital expenditure is incurred on the construction of a building or purchase and installation of machinery outside the city of Nairobi, or the municipalities of Mombasa or Kisumu, whereof the value of the investment is not less than KShs200 million, investment deduction shall be claimed at the rate of 150%.

- * For assets used for purposes of manufacture under bond or situated in EPZs, the rate is 100%.
-  Manufacture under bond must continue for three years to retain eligibility for the 100% allowance.
-  Claims made by hotels will relate to the building cost only. No claim may be made for furniture or fittings installed in the hotel.
- * Design, storage, transport or administration units do not qualify for the allowance, unless in total their cost does not exceed one tenth of the cost of the whole building.
- Shipping investment deduction – A shipping investment deduction equal to 40% is claimable in the year of first use on capital expenditure incurred on the purchase or on purchase and refitting of a power-driven ship of more than 495 tons. Not more than one investment deduction is claimable for the same ship and use of a ship must continue for no less than five years for the deduction to be retained. With effect from 1 January 2016 this incentive has been increased to 100% of the cost incurred to purchase any power-driven ship of more than 125 tons.

- Buildings used for training film industry personnel – Effective 1 January 2016, buildings used for training of film producers, actors and crew will be eligible for a capital allowance of 100%.

Taxation of the Extractive Industry

The previous Ninth Schedule (to the Income Tax Act) was repealed in its entirety and a new Schedule was introduced to provide for the taxation of mining, petroleum and geo-thermal operations.

Under the new Ninth Schedule, references to a licensee means “a person who has been granted a mining right under the Mining Act or the Geothermal Resource Act”; while reference to a contractor means “a person with whom the Government has concluded a petroleum agreement”.

A summary of the pertinent provisions under this new Schedule are as follows:

- Expenditure incurred by a licensee/contractor in the licence/contract area of mining/exploration can only be offset against income derived from the same licence/contract area. This effectively introduces ringfencing of operations in separate mines/oil blocks.
- Losses incurred in the licence/contract area can be carried forward indefinitely until utilised against income derived from the same licence/contract area.
- Upon ceasing operations in a licence area, a taxpayer may elect to transfer the loss from one area to another or carry it back for a period of not more than three years from the year in which the loss arose.
- If contractors incur losses in the year and they cease operations in a contract area, they may elect to treat the loss as arising in relation to the operations of the previous year of income and may carryback the same for a period of not more than three years from the year in which the loss arose.
- Machinery used for prospecting/exploration is subject to wear-and-tear allowance at the rate of 100%.
- A deduction for extraction/development expenditure can be claimed in the year of income when the expenditure is incurred and in the following years until fully deducted at 20% on a straight-line basis. Expenditure incurred before commercial production commences, will be treated as incurred at commencement of commercial production.
- Exploration expenditure incurred by a contractor will be an allowable deduction in the year in which the expenditure is incurred.
- At the time of disposal of interest for which extraction/development expenditure was deducted, no extraction/development expenditure shall be deducted in that year. Where the disposal proceeds exceed the written down value, the excess is taxable. However, where the written-down value exceeds the disposal proceeds, the deficit will be an allowable deduction.
- Where a licensee/contractor recoups an amount deducted as extraction expenditure (where there is no sale), this shall be deemed to be income of the licensee/contractor to tax.
- Rehabilitation expenditure incurred by a licensee, and decommissioning expenditure incurred by a contractor, shall be deductible for tax purposes.
- An amount accumulated in, or withdrawn from, an approved rehabilitation fund or escrow account for the contractors to meet the expenditure, is tax exempt. However, if such amount is withdrawn and returned to the licensee/contractor, it shall be subject to tax.
- A surplus in the rehabilitation fund/escrow account of a licensee/contractor at the time of completing rehabilitation/decommissioning, shall be income chargeable to tax in the year of completion.
- The rate of income tax applicable to a licensee is 30%; while for contractors the rate is 30% for residents and 37.5% for non-residents.
- For petroleum operations, where the portion of profit oil that the Government is entitled to take is inclusive of taxes payable by a contractor, such taxes shall be only those payable by the contractor directly in relation to petroleum operations and will exclude:
 - The tax payable on any gain made by the contractor or any other person on a disposal, directly or indirectly, of an interest in the petroleum agreement; or
 - Any tax that the contractor is liable under the Act to deduct from a payment made by the contractor.

Rules for Mining and Petroleum Operations

- The Rules prescribe how to determine the taxable consideration for the disposal of an interest in a mining right or petroleum agreement (farm-out agreements).
- A licensee/contractor is required to notify the Commissioner in writing if there is a 10% or more change in his underlying ownership.

Kenya

- A licensee/contractor, disposing of an interest on behalf of a non-resident shall be deemed to be an agent of the non-resident, person and shall be required to account for tax on the transaction.
 - Payments to non-residents for services will be liable to WHT at the rate of 5.625% for contractors and 20% for licensees (from 1 January 2016 the WHT rate for licensees is reduced to 5.625%). However, this will not apply where the non-resident person has a Permanent Establishment (PE) in Kenya, in which case the PE will be liable to CIT at the non-resident rate of 37.5%.
 - The following rates will apply for other payments to non-residents:
 - Dividends – 10%.
 - Interest – 15% (this was previously taxed at 10%).
 - Royalties or natural resource income – 20%.
 - Management or professional fees and training fee – 12.5%.
 - The debt to equity ratio for thin capitalisation purposes for licensees/contractors, will be 2:1 as opposed to the ratio of 3:1 prescribed for other companies.
 - Hedging transactions entered into by a licensee or contractor (with the exception of approved hedging transactions with annual turnover of less than KSh$10 million) will now be considered a separate source of income and therefore taxable separately from mining/petroleum operations.
 - Hedging transactions are defined as transaction entered into by a licensee or contractor to manage commodity price risk.
- * Commercial activities include: trading in, breaking bulk, grinding, repacking or relabeling goods and industrial raw material. Thus, if any commercial activity is carried out by the EPZ enterprise, the exception would not apply.
-  For a period of 10 years commencing immediately after its initial 10 year period, the EPZ will be subject to corporation tax at the rate of 25%.
-  Notwithstanding the above, an EPZ must submit annual tax returns and accounts. Employees and directors of EPZs, if resident, are liable to tax and deduction of PAYE in the normal way.

Special Economic Zone (SEZ)

With effect from 1 January 2016, the Income Tax Act provides that Special Economic Zone enterprises are subject to corporate tax at a reduced rate of 10% for the first 10 years and 15% for the next 10 years. The Special Economic Zone Act, however, suggests that no tax is to be charged. It is expected that this discrepancy will be addressed in the near future

Exchange Controls

Foreign exchange controls do not apply in Kenya. In other words, commercial banks may process remittances with respect to bona fide business transactions without approval from the Central Bank of Kenya. However, commercial banks are required to inform the Central Bank of any daily remittances from the country in excess of USD10 000.

The Exchange Control Act was repealed in late 1995. Following recent volatility in the exchange rate, certain importers are required to purchase their foreign currency directly from the Central Bank. Primarily, this relates to oil importers and marketers.

Expatriates and Work Permits

An individual is liable to Kenyan income tax on their worldwide employment income if he/she is resident in Kenya as follows:

- Where the cost of remuneration paid to the expatriate is incurred by the home country and not remitted to the Kenya entity, the tax due should be paid via quarterly instalments within the tax year. The quarterly instalment payments are due on the 20th of the fourth, sixth, ninth and 12th month of the tax year. The amount of each instalment tax to be paid for the year is the lower of:
 - 25% of 110% of prior year assessed tax.
 - 25% of an estimate of tax due for the current year.
- Where the local entity bears some (or all) of the costs of the remuneration paid, the local entity would

Duty Remissions

- Materials imported for use in the manufacture of exports, for the production of raw materials for use in export manufacture, or for the production of duty-free items for domestic sale, are eligible for duty remission.

Export Processing Zones (EPZs)

- For the first 10 years from the date of commencement of business by an EPZ:
 - Payments to the EPZ will be subject to WHT at non-resident rates.
 - Payments by the EPZ to non-resident persons will be exempt from tax.
 - The EPZ will be exempted from corporation tax provided it does not carry out any commercial activity (15 June 2007).

Kenya

be obliged to withhold tax from the expatriate on a monthly basis via the PAYE regime.

- Where the expatriate is provided with a net employment remuneration package, the employer would bear the burden of the employee's tax. The company should in this case gross up the employee's tax-free remuneration and compute the PAYE liability on the grossed up value. The tax so paid by the company would become a benefit chargeable to tax in the hands of the employee.

Notes:

1. As far as immigration is concerned, every non-citizen is required to have a work permit from the Kenyan Immigration Department before he/she is allowed to work in Kenya. For employees, work permit applications are made by the employer. In addition, an individual must apply for a PIN. This serves as the individual's tax file reference. The Customs and Excise Department require the individual's PIN when importing any personal effects from home country or any other importation.

Trade Relations

- Memberships – Over-and-above the domestic demand, Kenya's membership of several regional bodies provides an expanded market. Membership of the EAC and Common Market for Eastern and Southern Africa (COMESA) guarantees a market of approximately 300 million people, and provides free movement of goods and services. Exports from Kenya also enjoy preferential access to the European Union under the ACP-EU Framework. In addition, Kenya is one of the initial beneficiaries of the African Growth and Opportunity Act (AGOA), which provides for preferential market access in textiles to the US.
- International organisations – Kenya's most significant international affiliations are with the EAC, the Organisation of African Unity and the Commonwealth of Nations. In addition to this, her trading partners are: the United Kingdom, Japan, Germany, Iran, the US, Tanzania, Zambia, the Netherlands and Saudi Arabia. Consequently, Kenya also has affiliations with organisations based in these countries. More particularly; these are The Department for International Development United Kingdom (DFID), the World Bank, United States Aid (UNAID), and United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) among many other such international organisations.

The country effectively became Africa's ninth largest economy, up from 12th, surpassing Ghana, Tunisia and Ethiopia. The jump by Kenya's economy into this middle-income status was driven largely by agriculture, manufacturing, and real estate sectors. Information and Communication Technology (ICT) sectors are now treated as a standalone sector, taking into account the country's vibrant telecoms industry which pioneered mobile payments technology and exported the innovation across Africa and around the world.

Lesotho

Lesotho

The Honourable Dr Mamphono Khaketla, Minister of Finance, presented the Budget for the 2015/16 fiscal year on 22 May 2015, with the theme being, "Bringing Back Hope", tabling the projected revenue collection and planned priorities for expenditure for the fiscal year beginning in April 2015.

Income Tax

Income tax is a tax payable on a person's taxable income and is classified as a direct tax. It is assessed annually and all rate changes also fixed annually by Parliament's motion through the Minister of Finance's recommendation through his Budget Speech, and is regulated by the provisions of the Income Tax Act of 1993, and its regulations thereof.

Taxes levied under the Income Tax Act include:

- Corporation Tax.
- Advance Corporation Tax (ACT).
- Pay-As-You-Earn (PAYE).
- Withholding Tax (WHT).
- Fringe Benefit Tax (FBT).

The source basis of taxation is applied in Lesotho, although residents are also subject to tax on their income from foreign sources.

Residents

Income Tax Rates for Resident Individuals: Years of Assessment Commencing On or After 1 April 2015

Taxable Income as exceeds	But does not exceed	Tax Rate
M	M
0	54 770	20%
54 770		30%

Notes:

1. Income tax is imposed on every resident individual, trustee and non-resident individual, with chargeable income.
2. Individuals will be considered resident for tax purposes if they are present in Lesotho for more than 182 days in any consecutive 12 month period, or have a normal place of abode in Lesotho and are present in Lesotho for any part of the year of assessment.
3. Taxable income is computed as gross income (excluding exempt income) less any allowable deductions.
4. PAYE is a tax charged by an employer from an employee's earnings, then remitted to the Lesotho Revenue Authority (LRA).
5. A resident individual (other than a resident minor) is allowed a non-refundable personal credit of M6 446 against the individual's liability for income tax. As a general rule, the personal credit is only available to residents of Lesotho. However, it will also be available to non-residents who live permanently outside Lesotho but who are employed full-time or engaged full-time in a business in Lesotho.
6. Where both spouses of a married couple are earning, each will be separately assessed, each being entitled to the single person's abatement.
7. A flat rate of 40% is levied on trustees, fringe benefits and electing non-residents.
8. Exemptions applicable to individuals include, inter alia, income of resident individuals from subsistence farming, dividends received from a resident company, and the first M500 of interest derived from one savings account by a resident individual.
9. Employment income does not include a benefit subject to the FBT.
10. Pension income is taxable as any other income. An employee may deduct contributions to an approved resident superannuation fund up to 20% of the employment income. For the purpose of this deduction, the employee's contribution will be taken into account first.

Companies

Income Tax Rates for Companies: Years of Assessment Commencing On or After 1 April 2015

Nature of Income	Note	Rate
Manufacturing income		10%
Income from farming operations (excluding subsistence farming which is exempt)		10%
Other income		25%

Notes:

1. Corporate tax is paid ahead of the financial year-end, usually/preferably in four (quarterly) instalments. This helps ease the burden of paying the taxes due as a lump sum at the end of the financial year, with the taxpayer adding a little more to his/her payment if he/she had been under-assessed and where the taxpayer had been over-assessed, a refund will be made.
2. The corporate tax rate applies to all income of a Lesotho branch of a non-resident company.
3. A branch profits tax of 25% is levied on branch profits remitted to a non-resident head office.

Withholding Taxes (WHTs)

Certain payments made to non-residents, whether corporate or individual, are subject to WHT. These rates are set out below:

WHT Rates: Non-Residents

	Note	Rate
Dividends, interest, royalties	1, 2, 4	25%
Natural resource payments, trustee's fees	4	25%
Management charges	4	10%
Other fees	3, 4	10%

Notes:

1. No tax is withheld on dividends paid out of manufacturing income.
2. Royalties payable are considered part of taxable income and are taxed on the same basis as other income. The rate for royalties in respect of manufacturing income is 15%.
3. Applies to payments under a Lesotho-source services contract (other than an employment contract).
4. All non-resident WHT is a final tax, unless the non-resident files a return of income, in which case he/she may elect to be assessed at the normal tax rates.
5. The above rates are reduced by double taxation agreements (DTAs) that Lesotho has in place with Mauritius, South Africa and the United Kingdom (UK).

Maximum WHT Rates Once DTA is Applied

Recipient's Country of Residence	Dividends	Interest	Royalties	Management Charges
Mauritius	10%	10%	10%	Note 1
South Africa	15%	10%	10%	10%
United Kingdom	10%	10%	10%	10%

Notes:

1. Management charges are not dealt with in the DTA.

Lesotho

Capital Gains Tax (CGT)

Residents and non-residents are liable for CGT on disposals of all business assets. In the case of resident taxpayers, CGT is charged regardless of where the assets are located. Non-resident taxpayers are taxed only on Lesotho-source capital gains. Capital gains are treated as ordinary income and are subject to income tax at the standard progressive rates of 20%, or 30% in the case of individuals, and the flat rate of 25% in the case of companies. There are no primary exemptions but an inflation adjustment is allowed in respect of immovable property.

Inheritances and Donations

The value of a deceased estate is subject to estate duty at progressive rates of duty of up to 33.5%. There is a M600 abatement on the dutiable value of an estate. Donations are taxed as ordinary income in the recipient's hands.

Notes:

1. Donations are generally not tax allowable expenses. However, following an amendment to the Income Tax Act in 2007, an exception applies to sports donations subject to a taxpayer having made a charitable donation of M1 000 or more, in cash or in goods and services, to:
 - (a) Support sport and recreation development through the provision of sports equipment and facilities; and
 - (b) Provide sponsorship of different sports codes and sport competitions and tournaments at different levels of the sports development continuum.
2. The taxpayer shall be entitled to a deduction in income tax equal to the value of the donation. This is subject to such charitable donation referred to being paid to the Lesotho Sports and Recreation Commission established under Section 5 of the Lesotho Sports and Recreation Act, 2002, for distribution to the beneficiary sporting association, body, community, team or individual athlete as may be stipulated by the donor in a letter of donation.
3. The Commissioner-General may disallow or reverse such deduction claimed where the donation was indirectly meant to benefit the taxpayer, the taxpayer's employees, and members of their families or the taxpayer's associates. Regulations made under the Lesotho Sport and Recreation Act, 2002, with regard to sporting sponsorships and other sporting financial assistance, apply.

Value-Added Tax (VAT)

VAT	Rate
Basic rate	14%
Telecoms and electricity supplies	5%
Exports and zero-rated items	0%

Notes:

1. VAT is a form of an indirect tax levied on goods and services supplied in and outside Lesotho. It was introduced in July 2003 to replace an old system of indirect taxation called General Sales Tax (GST). It is applicable on all transactions where value is added.
2. As an administrative requirement, registered businesses (vendors) are required to file a return every month and make payment when it is due.
3. Limitations apply in respect of input tax deductions.
4. Banking services, except for the leasing of bank safes and insurance services, are exempt from VAT.
5. Zero-rated supplies include: maize meal, maize grain, beans, peas, lentils, milk, bread, agricultural inputs (fertilisers, seeds and pesticides), paraffin, livestock and poultry feed.

Other Transaction Taxes

Taxes	Note	Rate
Transfer duty – Immovable property	1	3% – 4%
Marketable securities tax – Share transfers		2%

Notes:

1. There is no freehold property in Lesotho. Property rights are based on a leasehold system. Duties are assessed by the Registrar of Companies; the average rates payable being 3% to 4%.

General Investment Information

Investment Incentives

General Incentives

- Lesotho is a signatory to the convention on the settlement of investment disputes between states and is a member of the Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency (MIGA). Furthermore, as a member of the International Monetary Fund, Lesotho has accepted the obligations of the Articles of Agreement, thereby giving confidence to the international community of its pursuance of sound economic policies, contributing to a multilateral payment system free of restrictions.
- A comprehensive export finance facility to support exporters with working capital on concessionary terms and unimpeded access to foreign exchange.
- Financial incentives to manufacturing companies establishing in Lesotho e.g. unimpeded access to foreign exchange, long-term loans and an import VAT credit facility providing input tax credit upon importation and local purchasing of raw materials and capital goods.
- A member of MIGA which promotes flow of direct investments to developing countries by providing investment guarantees to investors to mitigate against non-commercial risks (e.g. expropriation, transfer restrictions and breach of contract).
- An abundant labour force that is predominantly English speaking, literate and well-motivated, with high productivity and competitive wage rates.

- A non-repayable skills training grant that covers up to 50% of the wage bill during the initial training period for newly established manufacturing company.
- Availability of serviced industrial sites and purpose-built factory shells for rental at competitive rates.
- Lower water and electricity tariffs as a direct spin-off from the Lesotho Highlands Water Project.
- Reduced municipality rates applicable to industrialists.
- Government efforts towards improvement of public service delivery (e.g. implementation of the new Integrated Financial Management Information System etc).

Tax Incentives

- Preferential tax treatment for manufacturing, Including a permanent maximum manufacturing tax rate of 10% on profits, no WHT on dividends distributed by manufacturing companies to local or foreign shareholders, and free repatriation of profits derived from manufacturing companies.
- Investment in pioneer industries is encouraged under the Pioneer Industries Encouragement Act, 1969, as amended. Such industries include approved manufacturers, hotel business and construction companies. Tax incentives available include exemptions from tax and additional allowances for capital and other expenditure in respect of new buildings, machinery and plant, electric power, transportation and water.
- Deduction of start-up costs – A four-year write-off period is provided for expenditure incurred in starting up a business to produce income subject to corporate income tax. Such expenditure may be of two broad categories. It may be incurred in acquiring intangible assets essential to the carrying on of a business (such as goodwill, intellectual or industrial property rights, or contractual rights) or it may involve an intangible advantage which does not manifest itself in any particular asset (such as the cost of feasibility studies, large-scale advertising, and initial transactional expenses, such as stamp duties, or professional fees). The second category is intended to cover expenditure which is not deductible under general principles because it is incurred preliminary to the derivation of income from the business.
- Capital allowances:
 - New machinery and equipment allowances for manufacturers – 20% to 25%.
 - Special allowances on certain expense items.

Lesotho

- An extension of the VAT Refund Scheme to all exporters.
- Role of the LRA – The administration and implementation of tax policy, and various tax laws, is under the care and management of the LRA. Apart from general administration of taxes (assessment and collection of taxes), including accounting for the taxes collected, the LRA is responsible for advising Government on tax treaty negotiation issues. In addition, the LRA ensures that in carrying out its tax assessments and collection role, every claim, objection, appeal, representation or the like made by any taxpayer are sufficiently considered by it. This will ensure that taxpayers have confidence in the administration of the tax system in the country. The LRA is also expected to provide guidance to the taxable public, as well as general public.

Other Incentives

- A Partial Credit Guarantee Fund (a joint initiative with commercial banks) to assist young graduates, women and other self-employed entrepreneurs.
- Ongoing plans to strengthen the financial sector by strengthening its supervision and regulation by the Central Bank, especially control of pyramid schemes, money lenders, and insurance brokers. It will also bring legislation to modernise and update life and insurance legislation in order to protect consumers. Legislation to establish a credit bureau and to protect the confidentiality of personal information supplied as part of credit application is far advanced.
- Government, together with the Central Bank, still plans to consolidate the issuing of government bonds and to establish a market for their sale and purchases. This bond market is to be followed by a stock exchange.

- Government places top priority on making Lesotho competitive with other SACU members in terms of the time it takes to register company, obtain licences, work permits, credit, and asset financing or leasing. Rankings provided by the International Finance Corporation on “doing business” will continue to be used to set specific targets to be achieved. This, coupled with the Minimum Infrastructure Programme for attracting investment, should help to address the problems of SMMEs where most jobs can be created.
- Entrepreneurship initiative aimed at young graduates, women and other self-employed entrepreneurs. This is the establishment of a Partial Credit Guarantee Fund which will be a joint initiative with commercial banks.
- Government, in line with all African states, will change from analogue to digital in broadcasting and video in the coming years. Lesotho is also part of the Fibre Optic project that provides an undersea cable from the Horn of Africa round the Cape. This should give businesses and people high speed connectivity. It should facilitate the transformation of the communication sector as we embrace and build broadband technologies.

Investment Assistance

The Lesotho National Development Corporation provides certain incentives for investors including, inter alia, training grants, loans and sites for industrial buildings and project services. In addition, tax concessions may also be negotiated with the Corporation.

The investment incentive regime is to be reviewed and improved with a view to enhancing Lesotho’s attractiveness to investors. Measures will include accelerated depreciation, allowances on manufacturing plant and machinery and the possible reduction of municipal rates.

The Government has also embarked on a joint program with the World Bank and the International Finance Corporation to improve Lesotho’s investment climate for “doing business”. The World Bank will, in addition, finance a programme for worldwide tourism promotion by providing an online reservation platform.

Lesotho

Investment Opportunities

Investors with financial strength, managerial and technical skills, and marketing capabilities are required to form joint ventures with local investors. Investment opportunities exist in the following strategic areas:

- Clothing and blanket manufacture.
- Furniture.
- Footwear production.
- Agro-industries, especially in processing of locally produced wool and mohair, establishment of mineral water bottling operations.
- Electrical or electronic consumer products. (Strategic partners to produce television sets, video cassette recorders, electronic stoves, microwave ovens, refrigerators, washing machines and dryers, telecommunications equipment).
- A wide range of potential projects in the manufacturing, construction and services sectors connected to the Lesotho Highlands Water Project.
- Consulting engineering services for rehabilitation of rural hospitals.
- Hotels, lodges and other facilities catering for tourists.
- Road rehabilitation and maintenance.
- Health care equipment.
- Production of high quality rock-wool for insulation.
- Use of local clays for production of ceramic products such as sanitary ware, stoneware utensils, glazed advertising slabs.

Exchange Controls

Lesotho is part of the Common Monetary Area (CMA) (other countries in the CMA are Namibia, South Africa and Swaziland). In broad terms, there are no restrictions on inward investment by foreigners and profits may be fully repatriated. There are restrictions on outward investment by local residents. The Central Bank of Lesotho, in cooperation with Authorised Dealers, administers exchange control regulations for transactions outside the CMA.

Expatriates and Work Permits

If any non-resident enters Lesotho for any reason other than tourism, they must have obtained a work permit prior to entering the country. The Lesotho Police and Labour Department carry out random inspections in this regard. Because work permits can take a long time to be issued, directors can request for a few days to stay in the country at the port of entry.

Trade Relations

Lesotho's network of trade preferences has played a crucial role in providing favourable access to world markets. Ideally located for export orientated manufacturing industries, foreign companies are able to serve world markets. (There is access to 28 million consumers in SACU and 360 million consumers in the European Union (EU)). The highly concessionary Generalised System of Preferences (GSPs) gives access to North American, Japanese, Nordic and other developed markets, with preferential access to 18 markets in the Preferential Trade Area in Eastern and Southern Africa. Other Preferential Trade Agreements have been entered into with the Southern Africa Development Community (SADC), and countries of the Western African Preferential Trade Area. Bilateral Trade Agreements have been concluded with a number of countries. National efforts to attract more inward investment include DTAs with other countries.

- Memberships – Cotonou Agreement, Southern African Customs Union (SACU).
- AGOA beneficiary country.
- The Agreement on Textiles and Clothing.

Lesotho

Notes:

1. Despite Lesotho's market-based economy being heavily tied to its neighbour, South Africa, the United States (US) is an important trade partner because of the export sector's heavy dependence on apparel exports.
2. China is a partner in solving the many problems facing the struggling textile industry. China has also increased its overall commitment to Lesotho by funding secondary schools and granting soft loans for telecommunications upgrading and expansion.
3. The EU, Canada, China and Japan have all granted Lesotho duty-free and quota-free access to their markets for almost all products except arms. The European Commission, furthermore, recognises Lesotho's good governance and therefore agreed to increase its "Indicative Aid" allocation under the European Development Fund (EDF).
4. Imports from outside the SACU are usually licenced in conformity with South Africa's import regulations. A wide range of imports from outside the SACU are subject to surcharges ranging from 0% to 60%.
5. There are no known specific government regulations or requirements governing counter trade.
6. Samples of no commercial value are received free of charge.
7. There are no foreign trade zones in Lesotho.
8. Lesotho is driving a process of scaling up regional economic integration. This includes launching a Free Trade Area (FTA) within which member states trade with each other duty-free and quota-free.
9. Lesotho has a DTA with Mauritius, South Africa and the United Kingdom. Agreements with Botswana and Swaziland are under discussion.

3. The rate of inflation has again increased this year. Categories that continue to reflect inflationary pressures are food and non-alcoholic beverages and housing, electricity, gas and other fuels. The rise in the general price level was mainly attributable to exogenous factors, particularly the surge in international food and fuel prices. The weakening of the Rand against major currencies was transmitted to Lesotho because of Lesotho's heavy reliance on imports of goods and services from South Africa.

Income Tax

Individuals

Residents

Income tax applies to Libyan-source income of individuals performing activities or working in Libya, irrespective of their residency status.

Tax applies on employment income at the following rates:

Employment Income
Taxable Income as exceeds	But does not exceed	Rate
LYD	LYD	%
0	12 000	5%
12 000 +		10%

Different tax rates apply to certain categories of income provided under the income tax law, as follows:

Other Categories of Income
	Rate of Tax
Income of private businesses practiced independently	15%
Commercial income	15%
Income from industry and craft activities	10%
Partnership income	10%

Notes:

1. Basis – Individuals are taxed on Libya-sourced income. Both Libyan nationals and non-Libyan nationals should be subject to tax on wages, salaries and/or all benefits received (in cash or in kind) in respect to employment, whether permanent or temporary, based on their contract with the Libyan entity/employer/sponsor.
2. Residence – The liability to taxation is typically premised on the source of income (particularly for non-Libyan nationals), so residence is not generally a key factor in determining tax liability in Libya.
3. Taxable income – Tax is levied on salary or wage income (including allowances) derived from employment, professional income and in certain circumstances, investment income.

4. Capital gains – Capital gains generally are treated as ordinary income and taxed at the standard rate applicable to the taxpayer.
5. Deductions and allowances – Limited personal allowances and deductions are granted in calculating taxable income.
6. Rates – The payroll tax rates are as follows: annual taxable income of less than LYD12 000 is subject to a 5% tax rate. Annual taxable income above LYD12 000 is subject to a 10% rate. Companies

Libya introduced a new income tax law (Law No. 7 of 2010) that became enforceable from 28 April 2010. According to the new law, Corporate Income Tax (CIT) is levied on the net income of an entity, irrespective of the nationality of its shareholders (Libyan nationals or foreigners), at a rate of 20%.

CIT
	Rate of Tax
Standard rate	20%

Notes:

1. Residence – An entity established in Libya is considered tax resident in Libya.
2. Basis – Any income generated in Libya from assets held in Libya, or work performed therein, should be subject to income tax in Libya.
3. Taxable income – Tax is imposed annually on net income accrued during the tax year. Taxable income includes: income from business operations, less allowable expenses. Libyan companies, and branches of foreign companies, should be taxed on the basis of their submitted tax declaration, duly supported by audited financial statements, including statements of depreciation and general and administrative expenses. However, “deemed profit” based taxation may apply when a foreign entity is not registered at the time of contracting, the entity does not hold statutory books in Libya or the books are not maintained in accordance with the local regulations. Additionally, the tax authorities can assess tax on a deemed profit basis if they consider figures, margins, etc. inaccurate or out of line with industry norms (e.g. potential concealment, high quantum of inter-company transactions, etc.). While, in theory, tax should be levied on accounting profit, in practice, the Libyan tax authorities tend to raise assessments based on deemed profit, therefore tax may be payable even when losses are incurred.
4. Losses – Net operating losses may be carried forward for five years. Losses incurred by upstream oil and gas companies may be carried forward for 10 years. The carryback of losses is not permitted.
5. Surtax – A 4% defence contribution applies in addition to CIT. A stamp duty of 0.5% is also levied on the total CIT liability.

Withholding Taxes (WHTs)

Notes:

2. Royalties (except those derived from the oil and gas sector) generally, are taxed as ordinary income on the basis that the asset is held/used in Libya.
3. Technical service fees – Work performed in Libya is considered Libyan-source income and is subject to tax accordingly.

Companies

Income Tax Rates for Companies

1. Residence – An entity is generally deemed to be a resident of Madagascar if its registered office, Permanent Establishment (PE) or centre of activity is located in Madagascar.
2. Basis – A resident corporation is subject to tax on its worldwide income, while a non-resident is taxed on Madagascar-source income only.

In general, the minimum tax is MGA100 000 plus 0.5% of annual turnover (including capital gains) for companies carrying out the following activities: agricultural, craft, mining, industrial, tourism and transport. This minimum tax equals 0.1% of annual turnover for fuel station filling companies. For companies engaged in other activities, the minimum tax is MGA320 000 plus 0.5% of annual turnover. 6. Inventory – Inventory is normally valued at the lower of cost or market value. For goods that are not identifiable, cost must be determined through the use of the weighted-average cost-price method or the first-in first-out (FIFO) method.
7. Provisions – Provisions are generally deductible for tax purposes if they are established for clearly specified losses or expenses that are probably going to occur and if they appear in the financial statements and in a specific statement in the tax return.
8. Depreciation – Land is not depreciable for tax purposes. Other fixed assets may be depreciated using the straight-line method at rates generally used in the industry. The following are some of the applicable straight-line rates:

Asset (%)	Rate

Motor vehicles	15%
Plant and machinery	10%

* In certain circumstances, plant and machinery, and other assets, may be depreciated using the declining balance method or an accelerated method.

13. Holding company regime – None.
14. Controlled foreign companies (CFCs) – There are no specific CFC rules but measures exist to prevent international tax evasion.

These entities provide medical insurance. The contribution rates are 5% for employers and 1% for employees. The rates are applied to the gross monthly remuneration (no remuneration limit is imposed). Employers may purchase medical insurance from private companies instead of OSIE or AMIE but these private companies must have special authorisation from the Malagasy Administration. Employers may also purchase supplemental medical insurance from private companies in addition to insurance from OSIE and AMIE.

- Consolidated returns – Malagasy law does not provide for consolidated tax filings.
- Other – Taxpayers that compute taxable income under the actual or simplified actual regime must open a bank account in their name. Financial statements provided to private or public entities require the visa or certification of the tax authority.

General Investment Information

Investment Incentives

General Incentives

- Abundant natural resources (i.e. gemstones, industrial and decorative stones, oil, and rare metals for mining activities; 5000 km of beaches and exceptionally unique fauna and flora for tourism business; big and fertile land with favourable climate for any agriculture and farming activities; various agricultural and farming products as raw materials for transformative industries and rivers, wind and sun for renewable energy production).
- Low cost of local inputs and labour – Labour intensive industries, such as textile manufacturing, have thrived in Madagascar with the Law on Export Processing Zone (EPZ) and the American African Growth and Opportunity Act (AGOA)* provisions. The labour force is young, skilled and fast-learning.
- Access to markets and strategically located
 - With trade agreements and preferential treatment granted to some developing countries, Madagascar has advantageous access (quota-free; duty-free) to the American and European markets, as well as to other developed countries.
- In addition, as a member of the following regional economic communities, Madagascar offers the advantage of being a good location for the ease of exporting goods and services to these markets: SADC  (Southern African Development Community), COMESA (Common Market for Eastern and Southern Africa), the Indian Ocean Rim, COI (Communauté de l'Océan Indien). Finally, strategically located between Asia and Africa and on major maritime routes, Madagascar gives an advantage to international businesses. With the current extension of the port of Toamasina in the East, and the construction of the Ehoala port in the South, Madagascar provides world-class facilities for transportation of goods.
- Attractive business environment – The regulatory reforms and public investments in infrastructure since 2002, have led to improvement of the country's business environment. Significant public and private investments in infrastructure (such as road, ports, airports, telecommunication, and energy) reduce the costs of doing business. There are no restrictions on capital flow in and out of the country, either for debt service or dividend payment. There is no requirement that nationals own shares of foreign companies. Rules of law are enforced without discrimination. Intellectual property protection is granted by laws. There are no government-imposed conditions on permission to invest, including location in a specific geographical area, specific percentage of local content, substitution for imports, export requirements or targets, employment of host country nationals, or technology transfer. Property rights are protected by laws (guarantee against nationalisation and expropriation).

- Quick and easy procedure for company creation.
- Peaceful and stable country – Malagasy people are peaceful by nature. Disputes and conflicts are resolved through amiable settlements and by rules of laws.

* Madagascar eligibility to AGOA has been renewed after the election of the new President of the Republic of Madagascar.

 Madagascar has returned to SADC after the election of the new President of the Republic of Madagascar.

Tax Incentives

- A few exceptional company tax exemptions implemented.
- Abolition of VAT collection for exporting and EPZ firms up to the amount of their VAT credit.
- Abolition of deposit payment and facilitation of income payment.
- Regime of the Common Rights which applies to all activities operating on the local market. For example, a tax cut of about 50% is granted for each investment carried out by a company; exemption of income tax (IBS) for the first working year run; the tax credits IBS obtained can be deferred until exhaustion; facilities are applied for the operations of imports such as the temporary admission or draw back.

- Preferential regime of FTZs, exclusively for activities directed towards export. This includes: an exemption for five to ten years of the income tax following the activity, and the payment of the income tax at 10% thereafter; an exemption of the professional tax; and exemption of the customs duties, import tax and the VAT. In addition, exceptional reduction of the taxation of companies by the abolition of VAT collection for exporting and EPZ firms up to the amount of their VAT credit; abolition of deposit payment and facilitation of income payment; abolition of import tax on some goods such as cement, yarns and fabric, iron, steel, and other items for construction, agricultural material and equipment; and abolition of VAT on the purchase of equipment good.

Exchange Controls

Exchange control regulations exist in Madagascar. For foreign exchange control purposes, the two kinds of operations are current operations and capital operations. Current operations include: transfers abroad of profits after payments of taxes, dividends, earned income, expatriate allowances and savings. Current operations require only a transfer declaration to a local bank. Capital operations include: operations relating to stock transfers, shares of liquidation bonuses, sales of businesses or assets and compensation for expropriations. Capital operations involving transfers abroad require an authorisation from the Ministry of Finance.

Income Tax

General Note

The tax measures referred to under "Income Tax" include those pertaining to Pay-As-You-Earn (PAYE).

Residents

Malawi taxation is based on source of income. Certain payments to residents are subject to withholding taxes (WHTs) (see Withholding Taxes below).

Income Tax Rates for Individuals: Years of Assessment Commencing On or After 1 July 2015

Annual Taxable Income	Rate of Tax
First MWK240 000	0%
Next MWK60 000	15%
Excess over MWK300 000	30%

Update:

The Income Tax measures introduced in the 2015/16 budget include:

- A deeming provision for recognising foregone interest income on non-interest bearing loans. The amount of the foregone interest is determined using the prevailing bank rate plus 5% per annum. The borrower is not allowed to claim a deduction for the deemed interest;
- Restriction of application of qualified re-organisation provisions to companies resident in Malawi. Previously, the definition was not exclusive and was also taken to apply where one party to a re-organisation was resident and the other party was non-resident. A qualified reorganisation defers any capital gains which would ordinarily be realised in respect of the underlying transactions;
- Introduction of a specific thin capitalisation provision to prescribe a ratio of debt to equity to guard against over-claiming of interest for tax purposes. The Minister is yet to gazette the order specifying the ratio.

General information:

1. Self-assessment – Taxpayers are encouraged to self-assess their tax liabilities. In this regard, a tax return which is prepared and delivered to the Commissioner, constitutes a self-assessment and may be accepted as such by the Commissioner. The Taxation Act gives a legal basis to the self-assessment process.
2. An annual return of income is required to be filed within 180 days of the end of the year of assessment i.e. accounting date. Late or non-filing of a return attracts a penalty of MWK200 000 and MWK50 000 for companies and individuals respectively. Individuals earning only employment or pension income or both in respect of which Pay-As-You-Earn tax is withheld are not required to file a return.
3. The tax-free threshold for individuals remains at MWK240 000 per annum (MWK20 000 per month). Those whose income is estimated not to exceed the threshold of MWK240 000 per annum, are not required to pay provisional tax.

4. Employers are taxed on the value of any fringe benefit or advantage availed to employees in respect of their employment. The employer makes a quarterly return of the taxable values of fringe benefits on which tax is paid at a rate of 30%. The taxable values are normally the cash values, except for vehicles (15% of the cost of the vehicle per annum), school fees paid directly to institutions (50% of cost) and company-owned housing (50% of the taxable value).
5. Individuals are not liable for tax on bank interest up to MWK10 000 per year.
6. There are no personal abatements or rebates.
7. The definition of person includes an individual, a partnership, a company, a corporation, a trust, a club, a society, an organisation, a public authority and an association.
8. Individuals will be considered resident for tax purposes if they are resident in Malawi for an aggregate of 183 days or more in any 12-month period beginning or ending in the year of assessment involved. A company incorporated in Malawi and any trust, estate or partnership established or otherwise organised under any written law of Malawi is considered resident in Malawi.
9. The due date for payment of provisional tax is the 25th day after the end of each quarter. The rules require that at least 90% of the actual tax liability for the year has to be paid with the fourth quarter provisional tax payment. Payment of insufficient provisional tax attracts penalties of 25% or 30% where the unpaid tax (as a percentage of total tax liability) exceeds 10% but does not exceed 50% or exceeds 50% respectively.
10. Interest on any outstanding tax arrears is charged at the bank rate plus 5% per annum. The bank rate is defined as the rate which the Reserve Bank of Malawi charges on its lending to commercial banks. On good cause shown, the Commissioner may waive the interest chargeable.
11. Transfer pricing regulations, which previously considered transfer pricing as applying to entire business arrangements, apply to particular transactions. Any reference to resident and non-resident parties no longer applies and local groups may be required to have a formal transfer pricing policy.
12. Tax losses may be carried forward until utilised by the same taxpayer, subject to certain restrictions in the event of changes in shareholding which capitalise on tax losses. Assessed losses may only be carried forward for up to six years for all companies

Non-Residents

Non-residents are subject to a final 15% WHT on gross income. A person who achieves tax residency is subject to tax at the normal rates.

Business Income – Turnover Tax

There is a Turnover Tax at the rate of 2%. This tax is payable by any person on business income where the annual turnover exceeds MWK2 million but does not exceed MWK6 million.

Any person who is liable to pay Turnover Tax may elect, by writing to the Commissioner not to be subject to Turnover Tax, in which case the other provisions of the Taxation Act would apply. Turnover Tax is paid/collected on a monthly basis in order to afford the taxpayer the opportunity to pay the tax when cash is available and has not accumulated into a significant amount.

Turnover Tax does not apply in respect of rental income, management fees, training fees, income of incorporated companies, and any income which is subject to a final WHT. Where the aggregate business turnover does not exceed MWK2 million, such person is deemed to be under the taxable threshold and as a result no tax is payable.

Malawi

Withholding Taxes (WHTs)

Certain payments made to non-residents, at an address outside Malawi, whether corporate or individual, are subject to WHT (non-residents tax). In addition, certain payments to residents are also subject to WHT. These rates are set out below:

WHT Rates
	Note	Residents	Non-Residents
Dividends	1, 5, 6, 7	10%	10%
Interest	2	20%	15%
Services		20%	15%
Casual labour		20%	15%
Royalties		20%	15%
Fees		10%	15%
Rents		15%	15%
Commission		20%	15%
Carriage and haulage		10%	15%
Contractors	9	4%	15%
Other receipts	4, 10, 12	3%	15%
Imports	13	3%	n/a

Notes:

- Both residents and non-residents are subject to a final WHT on dividends unless specifically excluded by a tax treaty.
- The first MWK10 000 of bank interest payment to resident individuals is exempt from income tax.
- Any WHT in respect of non-residents is a final tax in Malawi.
- WHT rates of 3% apply on the payment for any supplies, including foodstuff, tobacco and other products.
- Malawi has double taxation agreements (DTAs) with France, South Africa, United Kingdom (UK), Switzerland, Norway and Sweden. The DTA with the Kingdom of Netherlands was terminated effective 1 January 2014. Where income is specifically exempt from tax in a DTA, and is taxable in the other country, WHT is normally not applied.
- Group relief is available on the dividend WHT. Dividends originating from dividend income (which are distributed by a subsidiary company to a holding company or related company) are exempted from the 10% WHT, provided that the dividend income was subject to WHT in the first instance. The Taxation Act does not provide a definition of a related company. The Malawi Revenue Authority (MRA) has indicated that the main criterion is the holding of shares in another company, but the test is not based on the degree of control/influence exercised or even the size of the shareholding. It would seem that any shareholding by a company in another company qualifies.
- Based on the "Dividend Article" in some DTAs, such as the one with the UK, a dividend paid by a company resident in Malawi to a resident in the other country is exempt from Malawi tax. The Malawi tax authority believes that these agreements might be renegotiated in order to prevent discrimination against resident shareholders who will be taxed at 10%.
- In the DTA with South Africa, no "Dividend Article" is available. Therefore, the 10% WHT will be deducted at source and a foreign tax credit would be claimed against South African tax.
- The WHT on contractors applies to contractors and sub-contractors in the building and construction industries. A building site will often constitute a deemed Permanent Establishment (PE) so that the WHT rate applicable to residents would apply to major building contracts.

10. WHT exemption certificates are granted by the MRA to holders of securities papers in secondary markets, with a proven track record of tax compliance. Suppliers of foodstuffs and other goods can also be granted exemption certificates.
11. Payments for supplies to traders and institutions are generally subject to WHT deduction. The only payments exempted from WHT are what are termed as cash and over-the-counter purchases bought from open stock, utility and fuel bills, telephone bills, rates and medical and insurance subscriptions or premiums.
12. In order to achieve equity between farmers, there is no tax exemption for farmer clubs. As a result, all tobacco sold through the auction floors or directly to tobacco buyers, is subject to WHT of 3% of gross sales.
13. The issuance of WHT exemption certificates to compliant taxpayers, in order to facilitate their business transactions, will depend on the following requirements:
 - The applicant has filed all income returns for all the years since commencement of the business and timely filed an income tax return which is due.
 - The applicant has paid all outstanding taxes due including VAT and customs duties.
 - The taxpayer has been audited for tax purposes.
 - The applicant has complied with any special or general directions or has fulfilled any special conditions which the Commissioner considers necessary.
14. There is a 3% WHT on all commercial imports. Exemptions apply to registered taxpayers with valid WHT exemption certificates, government ministries and departments, tax-exempt persons, and importations done under customs procedure codes, and other special transactions accorded duty-free status. This WHT is duly allowed as a credit against income tax charged upon final assessment.

Capital Gains Tax (CGT)

Capital gains are treated as ordinary income and are subject to income tax at the personal or company income tax rates. Subject to any DTA, where non-residents sell shares in Malawian companies, WHT at 15% is deducted from any gain before remittance of the proceeds.

Capital gains and losses are calculated in one of two ways according to whether the capital asset has been subject to a capital allowance claim or not. Where capital allowances are claimed the gain or loss is the difference between the proceeds from the disposal of the asset and the tax written-down value of the asset. Such capital losses are deductible from other taxable income without restriction. Where capital allowances are not claimed the gain or loss is the difference between the proceeds from disposal and the adjusted basis of the asset.

The adjusted basis of an asset is the original cost or value adjusted for the movement in the Consumer Price Index (CPI) published by the National Statistical Office (NSO) between the year of the purchase or construction of the asset was affected and the month of disposal.

Tax on capital gains can be deferred in the case of “involuntary conversion”, which is strictly defined, or in the case of a “qualifying reorganisation”, which includes most forms of corporate restructuring, provided the substance of the transaction is not a sale. Where an asset has been voluntarily converted, no capital gain will be recognised if the capital gain has been used to acquire a qualifying replacement asset similar to or related in service or use to the asset disposed, provided that the new asset is of equal or greater value. The replacement must take place within 18 months from the date of voluntary disposal.

No capital gain is recognised on the disposal of an individual taxpayer’s principal residence, transfers between spouses, or transfers from a deceased spouse to a spouse or deceased parent to a child, disposal of shares held in a company listed on the Malawi Stock Exchange (MSE) for more than one year, transfers from an individual to a trust.

Any capital gain realised by an individual on the disposal of a personal and domestic asset, not used in connection with any trade, is exempt from tax. Roll-over relief is available on the disposal of business assets where these are replaced by similar assets. The gain has to be reinvested in the replacement assets within a period of two years.

A proposed CGT Act, to regulate capital gains taxation as a separate tax, is yet to be developed.

Transfer Pricing

Malawi has transfer pricing laws and regulations which are modeled on the OECD Guidelines.

Inheritances and Donations

The value of a deceased estate is subject to estate duty at progressive rates of duty of 5% to 11%. No tax is levied if the estate is valued at MWK30 000 or less.

Donations are not taxable in the hands of the recipient. Donations made to approved charities are deductible subject to restrictions.

Value-Added Tax (VAT)

Standard rate	16.5%

Update:

1. The VAT measures introduced in the 2015/16 budget specifically related to the use of electronic fiscal devices EFD and introduced offences for:
 - Failure to issue an electronic fiscal device generated tax invoice, issue and retain a duplicate fiscal receipt or invoice upon demand and failure to use an electronic fiscal device without approval;
 - Fraudulent use of an electronic fiscal device in order to mislead, deceive or manipulate information sent to a system or the Commissioner General;
 - Tampering with an electronic fiscal device or causing an electronic fiscal device and its software to perform improperly;
 - Violation of obligation as a user or local supplier under the VAT Act or the VAT (Electronic Fiscal Devices) Regulations of 2014;
 - Conniving not to demand or keep a fiscal receipt after purchasing goods or services or failure to report refusal by a user to issue a fiscal receipt;

2. The consequences range from penalties to fines and imprisonment for up to ten years.

General information:

1. The registration threshold for VAT is annual taxable supplies of MWK10 million.
2. Taxable persons, including all businesses currently earning over MWK10 million in annual turnover in Malawi, but excluding certain exempt and zero-rated categories, charge VAT on outputs and can recover VAT incurred on business inputs, other than certain non-allowable inputs such as on entertainment and private cars. It is necessary to determine the proportion of standard plus zero-rated VAT sales, over total sales, and where the proportion is less than 5%, then no input VAT incurred is claimable. Where such a proportion is above 5%, but less than 95%, input VAT should be claimable on the same proportionate basis. However, where the proportion of the standard plus zero-rated VAT sales, over total sales, is above 95%, then all input VAT incurred, relating to sales, is claimable.
3. Credit claims of inputs in a tax period are limited to the cost of goods or services procured in a month.
4. The remittance of VAT payable and submission of the related return is due within 25 days of the end of the month to which the return relates.
5. Bad debt relief is available.
6. The Commissioner cannot raise a VAT assessment after a period of six years after the VAT became due and payable, unless fraud is a material element of the assessment.
7. The basis for charging Interest on unpaid VAT has been amended in 2015 and is now calculated as an additional amount payable at the bank rate plus 5% per annum. The Commissioner has discretion to reduce the amount of the additional sums where a satisfactory explanation is made.
8. The Commissioner is empowered to recover VAT via third parties without the need to obtain a court order.

General Investment Information

Investment Incentives

Tax Incentives

- Capital allowances – Investment allowance. This allowance is claimable by a taxpayer who is also a manufacturer or a farmer in the first year of use of a qualifying asset. The balance of the expenditure, if any, is deducted as an annual allowance at the rate of 5% for industrial buildings, or 10% to 33% for plants, on the cost of the asset in the first year, and on the tax written-down value of the asset in subsequent years. The investment allowance which is claimable by taxpayers in the manufacturing, agricultural and tourism sectors, is as follows:

	Rate
New and unused qualifying assets	100%
Used qualifying assets	40%

- Capital allowances – Initial and annual allowances are available, as follows:

Class of allowance	Initial allowance	Annual allowance
Industrial buildings (for manufacturers)	10%*	5%
Plant and machinery (including equipment) used in process of manufacture	20%	10%-25%
Newly constructed commercial buildings of over MWK1million	0%	2.5%
Furniture and fittings	20%	10%
Office and other equipment	20%	10%
Computers	20%	40%
Motor vehicles	20%	20%-25%

* This is not available where an investment allowance has been claimed.

 An allowance exists for manufacturing companies to deduct all operating expenses incurred up to 24 months prior to the start of operations.

- Incentives in respect of petroleum storage facilities.
- Manufacturers may claim initial business expenditure incurred not more than 18 months prior to commencement and in the process of establishing the business, which is ordinarily allowable as a deduction in the normal course of the manufacturing business.
- The agro-processing and commercial electricity generation and distribution industries are designated priority industries. Under the Taxation Act, companies operating in designated priority industries are currently subject to income tax rates of between 0%, for periods of up to 10 years, or 15% indefinitely.
- A modern mining tax regime includes a rate of mining income tax in line with the general rate of 30% or 35% as the case may be, mining allowances in the first year of assessment of equal to 100% of mining expenditure incurred, a new resource rent tax on returns generated by high commodity prices at 10% of after-tax profits, and special exemptions from import customs duties and VAT.
- Pension fund contributions of employers are tax deductible up to 15% of the employees' annual salary while the contributions of employees are net of PAYE. Pension benefits that accrue to a pensioner are exempt from tax.

Notes:

- A 100% first year allowance limited to two years only was proposed on 1 July 2008, most likely in the form of an investment allowance, in respect of investment in the construction of petroleum storage facilities.

Export Incentives

- 25% of the taxable income from export sales may be deducted from taxable income as an export allowance.
- A special additional allowance of 25% of international transport costs related to exports may also be deducted from taxable income. (The above incentives do not apply to traditional exports i.e. tea, coffee, unmanufactured tobacco and tobacco refuse or cane sugar).
- 100% duty-free importation of equipment and raw materials for those exclusively engaged in horticultural production for export.
- Exporters in Export Processing Zones (EPZs) benefit from an exemption from excise duties and customs duty on certain purchases. Further incentives for establishing operations in an EPZ include: no WHT on dividends, no duty or capital requirement on capital equipment and raw materials and no VAT. Some of these benefits are available to other exporters.

Malawi

- The Malawi Investment and Trade Centre (MITC), formed from the merger of the former Malawi Export Promotion Council (MEPC) and the Malawi Investment Promotion Agency (MIPA), exists as a designated “one-stop” agency to assist investors with establishing a business in Malawi and in obtaining an “investor’s license”, although this is not mandatory.

Notes:

1. All companies under EPZs are subject to the standard corporate tax at 30%, as provided in the Taxation Act.
2. The additional 15% investment allowance given to companies operating under EPZs, is no longer applicable.
3. All other incentives provided to EPZs under the Customs and Excise Act, remain applicable.

Other Incentives

- Malawi is a uranium producer and home to one of the world’s largest reserves of rare-earth metals.
- Low wage rates and a stable social and political environment.
- The Kwacha, the Malawi currency, was floated in 2012. Capital controls still remain in place.
- Malawi forms part of the SADC Free Trade Area (FTA) aimed at furthering economic integration and industrialisation and eliminating tariffs and trade barriers among member countries.

Exchange Controls

There are no restrictions on equity ownership by foreigners. Inward investment must be registered with the exchange control authorities if repatriation of profits, dividends or capital is contemplated. Once registered, profit or dividend remittance approval may be obtained from a commercial bank subject to the production of the required documentation. The commercial banks will refer capital transactions, and those relating to royalties and technical or management fee agreements, to the Reserve Bank of Malawi. Foreign-owned companies may borrow from abroad with exchange control approval. Loans must bear interest at the prevailing rate for the currency in which the loan is denominated. No exchange control approval is necessary for local currency borrowings.

Expatriates and Work Permits

Temporary employment permits (TEPs) are normally available where a specific case can be made to the Minister of Home Affairs (through the Department of Immigration) for the employment of an expatriate. Investors, or established international organisations, may be granted a number of renewable permits for “key posts”. All applications are subject to individual scrutiny and for “time posts”. TEPs are normally granted for a specific person and employer for two years at a time, with an expectation that the individual should not remain in the same post beyond six years.

Expatriate individuals may, once authorisation is obtained, repatriate up to two-thirds of their after-tax remuneration and bonuses, as well as end-of-contract gratuities and leave pay.

Trade Relations

- Memberships – Cotonou Agreement, Southern African Development Community (SADC), the Common Market for Eastern and Southern Africa (COMESA).
- African Growth and Opportunity Act beneficiary country.

Malawi

Notes:

1. Malawi has a bilateral trade agreement with South Africa. As a result of this trade agreement, a number of export products may enter the South African market at reduced rates of import duty.
2. Malawi signed a preferential trade agreement with the Government of Mozambique with the intention that Malawi export products to the neighbouring country are duty-free. The agreement was signed on 28 December 2005, and came into force on 20 September 2006. The agreement replaces the 1959 trade agreement with Mozambique. Certain products are excluded from the agreement and these include: beer, certain soft drinks, dressed chickens, explosives, firearms and ammunition, manufactured tobacco, petroleum products, refined edible oil, stationery excluding exercise books, sugar, table eggs, and unmanufactured tobacco. Duties (import duty, excise duty and VAT) are payable on these products.
3. Malawi continues its commitment towards aligning the national tariff to the COMESA Common External Tariff (COMESA CET) and the COMESA Common Tariff Nomenclature (COMESA CTN). In order to conform to the regional agreement under the COMESA Simplified Trade Regime (STR) programme aimed at promoting small cross border trade among member countries, the country aligned the processing fee for customs documents under the STR to the Malawi Kwacha equivalent of USD1.00.
4. The country is also committed to fast-tracking the process of phasing down tariffs under the SADC Free Trade Area in order to reap the economic benefits of deeper integration and regional trade. In an effort to do so, the country continues to adhere to commitments made under the SADC Trade Protocol.

General Investment Information

Investment Incentives

Tax Incentives

There are a number of tax incentives available under the Investment Code which apply to all economic sectors except for banking, insurance (including reinsurance) activities and mining and hydrocarbon activities.

Two types of incentives are provided for in the Investment Code; namely, the capital gains exemption and the export-oriented companies' regime:

- Exemption of capital gains – Capital gains derived from the disposal of shares in the capital of enterprises operating under the Investment Code are exempt from tax in Mauritania if the transfer was made to a Mauritanian national.
- Export-oriented companies – A number of advantages are granted to companies whose business relates solely to export, whether directly or indirectly. An enterprise whose businesses relate indirectly to exports, is an enterprise that carries out transactions only with other export-oriented companies. Export-oriented companies, which are subject to the control of the customs authorities, are eligible for the following incentives:
 - exemption from all duties and taxes due on exports;
 - exemption from customs duties and similar taxes on the import of equipment, machinery, material, engines etc., as well as on the import of raw materials, semi-finished goods etc. required for the - purposes of setting up or running the business;

- exemption from registration and stamp duties of the transfers and similar deeds required for the setting up and the organisation of the business;
- exemption from the business licence duty and any similar taxes, as well as any tax on real property;
- application of a reduced flat rate minimum tax of 2%; and
- the possibility to recruit up to four foreign employees in executive positions without prior agreement. The tax liability of these employees may not exceed 20% of their total payroll.

Note, the exemptions mentioned above are applicable not only in respect of the setting up of (approved) projects, but also in respect of any extension and modernisation etc. made thereto.

Tax Regime for Public Procurements contracts Funded by Means of Foreign Resources

A special regime for public procurements funded by foreign resources is available under Law 97/8 of 21 January 1997. Such procurements include the supply of works, products and services, funded by means of grants, non-reimbursable subsidies and foreign loans contracted by the State, collective authorities and public establishments. The main features of this regime include:

- Taxes on transactions relating to public procurements funded by means of foreign resources are borne by the Mauritanian State. These include customs duties, VAT, Statistics Tax and excise duties (except for duties and taxes levied on hydrocarbons and lubricants).
- Equipment imported to perform such projects is entitled to the following regime:
 - Equipment which is the property of the State or of local authorities – the tax is borne by the State of Mauritania.
 - Equipment that the ownership of which is to be transferred to the State at the end of the project
 - the temporary admission regime applies to suspend the collection of taxes and duties on such equipment. When transferred to the State of Mauritania at the end of the project, tax is to be paid by the State.
 - Equipment imported by foreign or Mauritanian companies to be used for studies, control and supervisory activities – the temporary admission regime applies. Taxes and duties are payable by these companies in proportion to the period of use in Mauritania.

Mauritania

- Foreign individuals in charge of studies, control and technical assistance within the framework of these projects may also import one personal vehicle under the temporary exemption regime, subject to the condition that they are paid exclusively and directly by the foreign state or institution funding the project during the period of their stay.
- In addition, procurement contracts funded by foreign resources are exempt from registration duties. Such contracts are, however, still subject to registration formalities.

Exchange Controls

Exchange control regulations exist in Mauritania for foreign financial transactions.

Expatriates and Work Permits

Typically, foreign individuals working in Mauritania should obtain a work permit and a residency card. Getting a work permit requires sponsorship from a local employer. The residency card is mandatory for all foreigners in Mauritania as from May 2012.

Trade Relations

- Memberships – African Union (AU) and New Partnership for Africa's Development (NEPAD).
- International organisations – AU, Arab League, Groupof 77, United Nations.
- Tax treaties – Mauritania has entered into DTAs with Algeria, France, Kuwait, Qatar, Senegal, Sudan and states of the Arab Maghreb Union.

Notes:

1. The treaties generally provide the following relief: commercial profits are taxable in the treaty country where a foreign firm performs its activities through a PE; interest is taxable in the state of residence of the beneficiary, but the state of source may withhold tax at source if allowed by the domestic law of such state; and employment income is taxed in the treaty country where the activity is performed, except in the case of a short assignment.
2. The treaties with France and Senegal provide that royalties and remuneration paid to a non-resident for services rendered in Mauritania are taxable in the state of residence of the beneficiary, but the state of source may withhold tax at source if allowed by the domestic law of such state.

Mauritius

Introduction

The Honourable Minister of Finance and Economic Development, Mr. Vishnu Lutchmeenaraidoo presented the 2015 Budget for Mauritius on 23 March 2015.

Fiscal Year

The fiscal year previously ending on 31 December would now end on 30 June.

Income Tax

Residents

Residents are taxed on their worldwide income. However, any earned income derived from outside Mauritius is taxed in Mauritius only if it is actually received there. Individuals are assessed and pay tax annually in arrears i.e. income earned in the year ended 30 June 2016 (year of income) is taxed by 30 September 2016.

However, in view of the change in fiscal year, individuals will be required to submit 2 returns in 2015.

The second return would be in respect of income earned during the period 1 January 2015 to 30 June 2015. The tax return for that period will be due by 30 September 2015.

Subsequently, individuals will be assessed and pay tax annually in arrears i.e. income earned in the year ended 30 June (year of income) is taxed by 30 September.

All dividends paid by companies resident in Mauritius are tax-free in the hands of individual or corporate shareholders. Dividends paid by non-resident companies to residents are taxable in Mauritius.

5. Prior to the announcement of the 2009/10 Transitional Budget, banks were taxable at the rate of 5% on their net income from transactions with non-residents and Global Business Licence Companies. A special levy of 0.5% of turnover, and 1.7% of accounting profit, was imposed on profitable banks. The special levy of 3.4% of profit, and 1% of turnover payable by profitable banks, was planned to be cut by half as from the income year 2011. Instead, these two rates were maintained for a further two years.
6. As regards telephone operators, the solidarity levy of 5% of book profit, and 1.5% of turnover, was extended to income year 2017.
7. Profitable companies are required to allocate 2% of their chargeable income to government-backed activities under corporate social responsibility schemes, or as contributions to the Mauritius Government in its fight against poverty.
8. In 2011, the restriction imposed on Global Business Companies, to conduct business within Mauritius, was lifted in order to provide a much-needed boost to the Global Business Sector and to enhance substance.

Tax Deduction at Source (TDS)

Under the system of TDS, tax must be deducted at the time certain types of payments are made. The payments covered and the rates of tax are:

TDS Rates

Non-resident	15%

Payments to contractors and sub-contractors in construction industry	0.75%

The following persons are required to deduct TDS:

- From interest – Any bank, including the Bank of Mauritius; any non-bank deposit-taking institution; any person (other than an individual) issuing debentures, and any other loan instrument.

Where a payer fails to remit to the Mauritius Revenue Authority (MRA) by the due date, the tax required to be deducted at source, he/she is liable to a penalty of 5% of the tax due, and to interest at the rate of 1% per month, or part of the month during which the tax remains unpaid. The basis of income taxation of companies engaged in long-term insurance business, was effective on the 1 January 2014.
2. Ministries, departments, local authorities, the Rodrigues Regional Assembly and parastatals will, apart from the normal TDS, also be required to effect deduction at source in respect of high-value contracts relating to implementation of projects and procurement of goods and services.

The scope of TDS is extended to cover:

- Certain consultancy and management services.

30 001	50 000	10%

60 001	80 000	30%
80 001	180 000	34%

Notes:

1. Basis – Habitual residents are taxable on worldwide income. Non-residents are subject to tax on Morocco-source income only.
2. Residence – Habitual residents are individuals with a permanent home available for their use in Morocco, or who are employed by a resident corporation.
3. Withholding tax (WHT) is applied to Morocco-source investment income at the rates described below (under "Withholding Taxes").
4. Taxable income – Individuals are taxable on the same schedules of income as companies, and on employment income. All income is pooled and subject to a general income tax.
5. Deductions and allowances – Expenses deductible from general income include: life assurance premiums (subject to certain limits and conditions), loan interest, and subsistence allowances paid to dependent parents or a spouse, and the general income tax itself.
6. Filing status – Spouses are generally taxed separately. Children are usually taxed with one of their parents but may be taxed separately if they have employment income.
7. Relief from double taxation is available through tax treaties (DTAs) to which Morocco is a signatory.

Non-Residents

Non-residents are subject to tax on Morocco-source income only.

Employment Income

The individual, or company, who pays taxable income(s), must withhold Personal Income Tax (PIT).

Notes:

1. Residence – A company is resident if it is incorporated in Morocco or its place of activities is in Morocco.
2. Basis – Morocco operates a territorial tax system. Companies (both resident and non-resident) are generally subject to corporate tax on income generated from activities carried on in Morocco. A foreign corporation is subject to tax on income arising in Morocco if it has, or is deemed to have, a Permanent Establishment (PE) in Morocco.

Morocco

3. Rate – The normal corporate rate is 30%, with a 37% rate applying to leasing companies and credit institutions. A foreign contractor carrying out engineering, construction or assembly projects, or projects relating to industrial or technical installations, may opt to be taxed at a rate of 8%, calculated on the total contract price, net of Value-Added Tax (VAT) and similar taxes. There is no Alternative Minimum Tax (AMT) but the tax payable by a company must be at a rate of at least 0.5%, regardless of the amount of taxable profits, calculated on turnover and other profits.
4. Taxable income – A company is taxed on the difference between its trading income and expenditure. Expenses incurred in the operation of the business are generally deductible, unless specifically excluded. Expenses that are not permitted include: penalties, fines, interest on shareholder loans where the stock is not fully paid up, and interest on shareholder loans in excess of the official annual interest rate.
5. Losses – Tax losses may be carried forward for a period of four years from the end of the loss-making accounting period. However, the portion of a loss that relates to depreciation may be carried forward indefinitely. Losses may not be carried back.
6. Dividends – Dividends received by corporate shareholders from taxable Moroccan-resident entities, must be included in business profits of the recipient company but the dividends are 100% deductible in the computation of taxable income. As of January 2008, the participation exemption in Morocco is also applicable to dividends derived from foreign subsidiaries. The original participation exemption regime granted a 100% allowance to a Moroccan recipient company of Moroccan-source dividends.
7. Foreign tax credit – A foreign tax credit is only available to the extent provided in an applicable tax treaty.
8. Interest – Interest paid on loans and other debts, is deductible to the extent it relates to borrowings made for income producing purposes. Thin capitalisation rules apply to reduce the deduction available where the taxpayer is a foreign entity operating in Morocco, a foreign-controlled Moroccan entity, or a Moroccan resident with foreign business investments. In each of these cases, the tax deduction for interest may be reduced if the taxpayer's debt exceeds the levels permitted under the thin capitalisation provisions.

Withholding Taxes (WHTs)

The WHTs are set out below. For non-residents the WHT is a final tax:

WHT Rates

Royalties	3	n/a	10%
Management and professional fees	4	n/a	10%
Leasing equipment from non-residents	5	n/a	10%
Branch remittance tax	6	n/a	10%

2. Interest – Interest on loans obtained from a non-resident is subject to a 10% WHT.
3. Royalties – Royalties paid to non-residents are subject to a 10% WHT unless the rate is reduced under an applicable tax treaty.
4. Management and professional fees – Subject to a 15% WHT according to the Moroccan Tax Code.
5. Leasing equipment from non-residents – Subject to a 10% WHT according to the Moroccan Tax Code.

Capital Gains Tax (CGT)

Companies

Capital gains are treated as ordinary income and taxed at the corporate tax rate.

Individuals

Individuals earning capital gains from selling property are subject to tax on property profits. Profits on the sale of property are taxable at 20% of any profit but with a minimum tax of 3% of the sale price. The tax is 30% when it is related to plots of land acquired of more than six years. The taxable gain is computed by deducting the following from the selling price:

- Acquisition price and incidental costs.
- Transfer costs.
- Investment expenses.
- Interest payments.

Capital gains from the sale of a property, which has been the primary residence of the taxpayer, are not subject to tax under certain qualifications; namely:

- The property has been the seller's primary residence for at least six years.
- The property has been the seller's primary residence for at least four years on the day of the sale, and the property area does not exceed 100 square meters and the profit does not exceed MAD250 000.
- The profit made on one or more transfers by individuals within a calendar year, whose total value does not exceed MAD60 000.

Anti-avoidance

Transfer Pricing

There is no formal transfer pricing legislation in Morocco, but transactions between related parties should be at an arm's length. Two methodologies are used by the tax authorities: the comparable uncontrolled price method and direct assessment based on available information.

Thin Capitalisation

There are no thin capitalisation rules in Morocco but the deduction of interest on shareholder loans is limited to the rate provided by Bank Al Maghreb (the Central Bank), with the difference disallowed as a deduction for corporate tax purposes.

Value-Added Tax (VAT)

VAT
Standard rate	20%

Notes:

1. VAT is levied on all industrial, commercial and craft activities, on services rendered in Morocco and on import transactions.
2. The standard rate is 20% with reduced rates of 7%, 10% and 14% applying for certain transactions.
3. All persons subject to VAT should register for VAT purposes within 30 days as of the start of their operations.
4. VAT returns and payments are generally due on a monthly basis.

Customs and Excise Duties

Equipment, goods, materials, tools, spare parts and accessories, which are considered necessary to promote and develop investment, are subject to import duty at between 2.5% and 10% ad valorem if there is no other stipulation of a trade treaty with the country of origin. Morocco has signed several agreements aiming to reduce these rates; namely, with the US, European Union, United Arab Emirates and other Arab countries.

Miscellaneous Taxes

Stamp Duty

Legal documents are subject to stamp duty at a rate up to MAD1 000.

Transfer Tax

A 6% registration duty, and a 1% real estate tax, are levied at the time real property is acquired.

Property Tax

Properties occupied as a main or second residence, are taxed at progressive rates as follows:

Tax Base (MAD)	Tax Rate (%)
Up to 5 000	0%
5 000 – 20 000	10%
20 000 – 40 000	20%
40 000 +	30%

If the property is used as a primary residence, only 25% of the assessed rental property value is subject to tax.

Municipal Tax

Municipal tax is assessed on the rental value of the property. The general property tax rate is 10.5% of the assessed rental value as determined by the local tax authorities for the property tax.

Business Tax

A business tax (or Taxe Professionnelle) is levied on individuals and enterprises that habitually carry out business in Morocco. The tax consists of a tax on the rental value of business premises (rented or owned) and a fixed amount depending on the size and nature of the business. The tax rates range from 10% to 30% with exemption for the first five years of activity.

Payroll Tax

Payroll tax is imposed on the gross monthly remuneration of employees at a rate of 1.6%.

Social Security

An employer is required to register its employees with the Social Fund and pay Social Security Tax on the basis of the employee’s gross salary.

Tax Administration

Corporations

- Tax year – Calendar year.
- Consolidated returns – Consolidated returns are not permitted. Each company must file a separate tax return.

General Investment Information

Investment Incentives

Tax Incentives

- Exemption from Business Tax – New enterprises which set up operations in certain demarcated zones of Morocco and new, small and medium-sized industries set-up anywhere in Morocco, will be exempt from this duty for the first five consecutive years of operation.
- In the case of companies exporting goods and services, an exemption is granted from corporate tax for the first five consecutive years of operation. The normal corporate tax rate is 30%, except banks, insurances, and other finance institutions, which are subject to a rate of 37%. Thereafter, a reduction of the corporate tax to 17.5% is granted on that portion of export sales. For exports services, this exemption is applied only for the sales turnover generated in a foreign currency.

Morocco

- An exemption from VAT on goods, merchandise and services financed or delivered as a gift by the European Union.
- An exemption from the minimum contribution in respect of corporate tax during the first 36 months of operation.

Expatriates and Work Permits

Foreign citizens can work in Morocco for resident employers if they obtain a visa to the employment agreement.

Trade Relations

- Memberships – United Nations (UN), World Trade Organisation (WTO).
- Tax treaties – Morocco has concluded 34 tax treaties.

Mozambique

Introduction

During the year 2015 no alterations came into force in regards to Corporate Income Tax (CIT), Individual Income Tax (IIT) and all the complementary legislation regarding direct tax.

For the mining, and oil and gas operations, as from 1st January 2015, new legislation regarding the taxation entered into force. The new legislation has been summarised and included in the last edition of the Guide.

Note further, that a technology project for the administration of domestic taxes has been set in course, which aims to use the facilities offered by information and communication technologies (ICTs) to improve the quality of services to citizens; namely, submitting tax returns electronically. However, electronic submission of tax returns is not yet expected in 2016.

Income Tax

The taxpayers, qualified as per residents according to the provision of the legislation in force are taxed on the worldwide income obtained during the year. The non-residents are only taxed on income obtained in Mozambican source at the WHT rate of 20%, excepting the incomes from international transport, telecommunication services, assembling and installation of telecommunication equipment and incomes from securities quoted in the Mozambique stock exchange that are taxed at the WHT of 10%.

Income from employment is subject to monthly withholding tax (WHT) on PAYE basis. However, the filing of the annual return is still required.

The tax year is the calendar year from 1 January to 31 December, and unilateral relief is available for any foreign tax paid by a resident.

Mozambique

Notes:

1. Regarding description of a taxable person, since 2014, with the entering in force of the law 20/2013, the tax is now payable individually by each person who is part of the household and receives income.
2. There are some personal abatements or rebates for individuals and families (but not material).
3. Exempt income is taken into account in determining the applicable rate of tax.
4. Individuals will be considered resident for tax purposes if they reside in Mozambique for more than 180 days in a tax year, or if resident for a shorter period and on 31 December (being the last day of the tax year) they occupy a residence under circumstances indicating an intention to continue occupancy on a permanent basis. Persons who form part of a household are deemed to be resident, provided that the person in charge of managing the household is resident in Mozambique.
5. Losses may generally be carried forward subject to a limitation of five years in respect of income from a business or profession, investments or capital gains.
6. Losses relating to agriculture, forestry and livestock activities may not be set off against other business related income, unless that income results from an activity of the same nature e.g. a loss from a livestock trade may not be set off against income from forestry, whereas if the taxpayer carries on two forestry businesses, then the loss from the one forestry business may be set off against income of the other forestry business.
7. For agricultural or livestock industry, the income tax rate applicable is 10% from 1 January 2012 until 31 December 2015.
8. Mozambique does not have a specific Capital Gains Tax (CGT). Capital gains or losses are included in ordinary income and taxed accordingly.

Non-Residents

Non-residents are subject to WHT on income from a Mozambican source (see Withholding Taxes). The transfer of income abroad to non-residents is not allowed unless the tax due has been paid or guaranteed.

Companies

A company is resident if its head office or place of effective management, or control, is in Mozambique, or if the business is registered in Mozambique. A resident company is taxed on its worldwide income.

A non-resident company is subject to tax only on its Mozambique-source income.

Corporate Income Tax (IRC) is levied on profits obtained by taxpayers during the taxation period; namely, commercial or civil companies, cooperatives, public companies and other corporate entities both public and private, including entities with no legal personality, whose income is not subject to taxation under the Individual Income Tax (IRPS).

Income Tax Rates for Companies: Years of Assessment Commencing On or After 1 January 2015

	Note	Rate
Agriculture and livestock	3, 4	10%
All other industries	4	32%

Notes:

1. The Mozambique tax year is the calendar year, although a company may adopt a different tax period when there is over 50% participation from entities that adopt a different tax period. Consolidated tax returns are not required. Each company in a group must file a separate tax return.
2. All income and gains are included in taxable income. Expenses considered indispensable in the generation of income, or gains subject to tax, are deductible.
3. Additionally, non-documented charges and illicit expenses (e.g. a bribe revealed as a result of an audit) are taxed at a rate of 35%.

Mozambique

4. Companies must make three provisional corporate tax payments in May, July and September. The total amount should be 80% of the amount of the tax assessed for the previous year. Annual tax returns, and the balance of tax due, must be submitted by 31 May, with supporting documents filed a month later.
5. Companies must make an additional three special provisional tax payments in June, August and October when the result of the following formula is positive: 0.5% of the turnover of the previous tax year, with a minimum limit of 30 000MT and maximum limit of 100 000MT, minus the provisional tax payments done made in the previous year.
6. There are penalties for late filing, non-payment of tax and failure to disclose records. Penalties range from approximately USD100 to USD33 000. Interest is charged on late payments. Prison terms for tax fraud may be up to eight years, or up to two years for negligence.
7. Some amendments were introduced to the existing CIT Code to accommodate IFRS legislation introduced in the Mozambican jurisdiction. For example, gains or losses resulting from the effects of deferral of IRPC are not qualified for the computation of the taxable profit. Only realised exchange differences are considered as gains or losses for tax purposes.
8. Tax losses can be carried forward for five years. No carryback is allowed.
9. Alternative Minimum Tax (AMT) applies to very small entities (turnover less than USD85 000).
10. Mozambique does not have a specific Capital Gain legislation. The profits derived from capital applications are taxed at the corporate tax rate of 32%. There is no surtax in Mozambique.
11. A Permanent Establishment (PE) of a non-resident is subject to CIT. Non-residents without a PE in Mozambique but who/which derive income from a source within Mozambique, are subject to WHT (see Withholding Taxes below), and are obliged to appoint a resident representative in Mozambique when income is not taxable under WHT (e.g. capital gains) or tax is not a final tax (e.g. income from real estate).
12. The transfer of income abroad to non-residents is not permitted unless the tax due has been paid or guaranteed.
13. A tax credit is available for foreign taxes paid. Mozambique applies the ordinary foreign tax credit as a unilateral method for the avoidance of double taxation of income obtained abroad for resident companies and PE of non-resident companies. Unused credits may be carried forward for up to five years.
14. Participation exemption – No WHT is levied on dividends paid to a Mozambique company that has held 20% or more of the shares in an associated company in Mozambique for at least two years.
15. General rulings on the interpretation of the tax law, or advance rulings on the taxation of specific transactions, may be obtained from the tax authorities. Such rulings are binding on the authorities with respect to the disclosed facts of the transaction.

Mozambique

Notes:

1. The 20% is applied to 70% of the invoiced amount.
2. Other interest paid to residents and non-residents is subject to a 20% WHT unless the rate is reduced under a tax treaty. A zero tax rate applies to interest paid to a registered Mozambique financial institution.
3. This rate is only applicable where the taxpayer does not earn his/her income on a regular basis working for an employer.
4. The rates applicable to non-residents are the same as for residents. For other income not specifically expressed for residents, and related with services rendered, the rate will be 20%. These taxes are final taxes in respect to non-residents (except when the income obtained is derived from real estate) and may be reduced by an applicable double taxation agreement (DTA). Mozambique has DTAs with the countries listed below (after notes).
5. There is no branch remittance tax.
6. Gains resulting from the direct or indirect transmission of shares, participating interests or rights, between non-resident entities involving assets situated in Mozambique, are considered obtained in Mozambican territory irrespective of the location where the alienation occurs.
7. Capital gains derived from the sale of a resident company's shares obtained by a non-resident company without a PE, will be taxed at the full 32%, irrespective of the holding period of the shares.

Maximum WHT Rates Once a DTA is Applied

Recipient's Country of Residence	Dividends	Interest	Royalties
Portugal	10%	10%	10%
Mauritius	8%/10% (a)	8%	5%
Italy	15%	10%	10%
United Arab Emirates	(b)	(b)	5% (d)
Macau	10%	10%	10%
South Africa	8%/15% (c)	8%	5%
Botswana	0%/12% (c)	10%	10%
India	7.5%	10%	10%
Vietnam	10%	10%	10%

- (a) These rates apply if the beneficial owner of the dividend is a company. Otherwise the rate is 15%. The lower rate will be applicable where a shareholding of at least 25% exists.
- (b) Incomes are taxable only in the residence country of the beneficial owner.
- (c) The lower rate is applicable where the beneficial owner is a company holding at least 25% of the capital of the paying company.
- (d) Depending on the nature of the royalty, the income may be only taxable on the residence country of the beneficial owner.

Transfer Pricing and Thin Capitalisation

The arm's length principle applies to dealings between related parties in Mozambique. In other words, the tax authorities are allowed to adjust the taxable income declared where a special relationship exists between the taxpayer and other entities, if any dealings between these parties are not on an arm's length basis. Regulation on this matter is under preparation and expected to be in force in 2016. For payments to companies in low tax jurisdictions, the authorities will need to be satisfied that the payment was genuine and reasonable.

Companies are subject to thin capitalisation rules. Where the indebtedness of a taxpayer to a non-resident entity is twice the value of the shareholding in equity, and a special relationship exists between these two parties, then any excessive interest paid is not deductible for the purpose of determining taxable income. A special relationship between a resident and a non-resident entity exists according to thin capitalisation rules when:

- The non-resident entity holds, directly or indirectly, at least 25% of the share capital of the resident entity.
- The non-resident entity, holding less than 25%, exercises a significant de facto influence on the management of the resident entity.
- The non-resident and the resident entity are controlled by the same entity by virtue of a direct or indirect holding by that entity.

In accordance with the amendments of the CIT Code, interests and other forms of loan payment conceded by the partners to a corporation, when they exceed the value corresponding to the referenced rate, increased by two percentage points, are not tax deductible.

Inheritances and Donations

Estate duty and donations tax is paid by the beneficiary or recipient. The rate varies from 2% to 10% and is dependent upon the amount and the relationship between the donor and the recipient.

Value-Added Tax (VAT)

There is a 17% VAT rate levied on the supply and importation of goods and services. The monthly VAT return must be filed and the VAT paid by the last day of the following month.

The supply by any local supplier of goods and services to a special free zone is classified as an export and is exempt from VAT. Any operator licensed within a special free zone does not pay VAT on the import of construction materials, equipment and spare parts. VAT is, however, levied on the import of goods or services for consumption.

Supplies are completely exempt (i.e. zero-rated), thereby resulting in a VAT refund, and include the following:

- All exports, related operations and international transport.
- The cost of services which are included in the taxable base of the imported goods, such as packaging, transport and insurance incurred up to the first place of destination of the goods in the national territory.
- Supplies of certain food products (maize meal, rice, bread, iodized salt, powdered milk for babies up to one year old, wheat, wheat flour, fresh and refrigerated tomatoes, potatoes, onions and frozen mackerel).
- Supplies of paraffin (for lamps), jet fuel, communal bicycles and condoms.
- Supply of goods and services (under customs control) destined for Special Economic Zones (SEZs), Free Trade Zones (FTZs), and free warehousing or shop arrangements. This applies as long as they are not consumed in these zones and the goods remain under such regimes. Also included are goods in transit, drawback or goods subject to temporary importation arrangements.
- Acquisition of goods to offer to national institutions of public interest and relevant social aims or to lessen the effect of natural disasters.
- Supplies of goods resulting from the activity to produce food to feed animals destined for human consumption.
- The acquisition of services related to drilling, research and construction of infrastructures under the scope of mining and oil activity, are zero-rated on the exploration phase.

Notes:

1. The following goods and services were exempt from VAT until the 31 December 2015 and now the Government is analysing whether there will be extension or not:
 - Supply of goods (by the respective factories) of raw materials for the edible oil and the soap industry.
 - Supply of goods and services in the industrial production of sugar cane.

Mozambique

The VAT on construction services is only payable at the time of receipt of the invoiced value when the client is the State. This also applies to sub-contracted construction companies. Services in public works (roads, bridges and infrastructure linked with the supply of water) and rural electrification services are covered under a specific taxation regime, which only considers as a taxable base 40% of the counter-instalment obtained or to be obtained by the purchaser. The taxable base is 62% of the counter-instalment for sale of energy, whose price is fixed by the Public Authority, and 85% of the counter-instalment for services rendered whose price is fixed by aeronautical rates.

The VAT contained in invoices or equivalent documents shall be deducted on the VAT return from the period corresponding to the date of the invoice or equivalent document. Not being able to deduct the VAT in the terms abovementioned, the taxpayer may exercise the right to deduct on the following 90 days, counted from the time that the tax became payable.

The taxpayer has to keep in his secondary establishments the records containing adequate information to the assessment of the VAT and pay VAT in the respective tax department of the secondary establishment. Note, it has not yet regulated and therefore not been applicable.

Simplified Tax for Small Taxpayers

A Simplified Tax for Small Taxpayers (ISPC) was introduced in 2009, and has been in force since 14 April 2009. ISPC only applies at the election of the taxpayer, and once elected it replaces VAT, CIT and individual income tax. The tax introduces simplification for micro-enterprises and small individual taxpayers, who have an agricultural, industrial or commercial activity, including services, when the turnover does not exceed 2 500 000MT. The annual tax could be either paid as a fixed amount of 75 000MT or by applying an annual tax rate of 3% to the turnover.

Other Transaction Taxes

Transaction Tax Rates
	Note	Rate
Property tax	1	0.4/0.7%
Transfer tax (SISA)	2	2%/10%
Specific consumption tax (ICE)	3	15% – 75%
Marketable securities tax – share transfers	4	0.4%
Social security fee	5	7%

Notes:

1. Urban properties are subject to an annual tax (which is 0.4% of the property value where the building is for housing purposes and 0.7% for the other cases).
2. All land is owned by the state. The Property Transfer Tax is therefore based on the property value excluding the value of the land. In cases where the buyer resides in a country where the fiscal regime is more favorable than in Mozambique, the rate is 10%.
3. The Specific Consumption Tax (ICE) is taxable, in a selective manner, on the consumption of certain goods, produced or imported. ICE is levied on luxury products such as alcohol, tobacco, perfumes, cosmetics, jeweler, gold and passenger vehicles.
4. The stamp duty on marketable securities is at a fixed rate of 0.4%. Stamp tax on share capital no longer applies.
5. The registration of workers and their respective employers with the National Social Security System is mandatory. The tribute for social security is 7%, being 4% paid by the employer (with no upper limit) and 3% by the employee.
6. There is no capital duty and no payroll tax in Mozambique.

Mozambique

The taxation system is completed by other taxes; namely, the Special Tax on Gambling, National Reconstruction Tax, Vehicle Tax and other legally established taxes and specific charges. An Economic Activity Tax is charged on businesses in municipal areas but the costs vary according to location, type and size of the business, and are not significant.

Customs Duties

Customs duties are taxable on imported and exported goods in the customs territory, whose values vary in the following manner: 2.5% for raw materials; 5% for capital goods (Class K); 7.5% for intermediary goods; 20% for consumption goods. In the framework of the materialisation of the Southern Africa Development Community (SADC) Trade Protocol, various products from the SADC region countries will benefit from exemptions from payment of customs duties from 2008.

Mining Activities

As of 1 January 2015, mining activities are subject to specific taxes under Law No.28/2014. Previous Law No.11/2007 has been revoked:

- Production Tax (imposto sobre a produção mineira) is levied on the value of the quantity of mineral products extracted, concentrates and mineral water derived from a mining activity within Mozambican territory, regardless of the sale, export or other disposition of such mineral products. The value of the product is based on: last sales price or reference price of international market where there have been no sales. The applicable rates are as per the following table:

Product	Rates
Diamonds	8%
Precious metals (gold, silver and platinum) and precious stones	6%
Semi-precious stones and heavy sands	6%
Base minerals, coal, ornamental rocks, and other mineral products	3%
Sand and stone	1.5%

- All mining products used for the development of local industry enjoy a 50% Production Tax rate reduction.
- The license holder of the mining product, in case of commercialisation of the mining product in the domestic market without proof of Production Tax payment, shall be required to pay corresponding tax.
- The export of the mining product is only permitted after payment of the Production Tax due.
- Surface Tax (imposto sobre a superfície) is an annual tax levied concerning the area of mining activity and in the case of mineral water is levied on the mining title. This tax is payable by both holders and non-holders of mining titles who develop mining activity in the national territory. Surface Tax is calculated on the basis of the number of hectares of the area under license or by mining title in the case of mineral water. Taxpayers subject to Surface Tax are exempt from the annual rate of use and exploitation of the land in regard to the area of the mining title.
- The companies, holders of mineral rights, granted under the law of mines, must assess the taxable income and organise its accounting records autonomously, which means each mining title must have a specific/individual tax registration number.
- The tax and accounting returns from the companies (abovementioned); namely, annual income returns, tax and accounting information return, registration, amendment or cancellation of taxpayer registry, must be completed separately, for each mining title, not being allowed to compensate losses assessed in a particular mine or area of concession agreement by the gains assessed in another.

Mozambique

The current and expected rates for mining titles are as follows:

Description	Rate
Prospecting and Exploration Licences for All Minerals
1st and 2nd year	17.50MT/ha
3rd year	43.75MT/ha
4th and 5th year	91.00MT/ha
6th year	105.00MT/ha
7th and 8th year	210.00MT/ha

- Thin capitalisation rules (debt equity 2:1) applies no matter if there are special relations between the entities or not and if the owner of the debt is resident or not.
- The following are deemed as costs and losses derived from mining activity:
 - Treatment and process of mining product.
 - Transport costs up to the delivery point.
 - Resettlement of populations as approved by the one responsible for the mining activity in said sector.
 - Professional training of Mozambican workers.
 - Costs of signing the concession contract, with exception of any bonus associated with the acquisition.
 - Financial security provided in cash, in the form of bank guarantee or insurance and costs relating to mine closure.
 - Closure of the mine.
 - Other fiscally accepted costs.
- In addition to the provisions of the CIT Code, there are a number of non-deductible charges; some of which include:
 - Prospecting and exploration without occurrence of discovery.

- Vocational training expenses of expatriate personnel and training programs, if they do not comply with the terms required by applicable law.
- Marketing costs or transportation of mining products beyond the point of delivery.
- Independent expert expenses that may be consulted for determining the price of mining produce, when not solicited by the Government.
- Production Tax.
- Rent Tax.
- Mining WHT – The taxpayer who pays non-resident amounts derived from services related to mining activity, independent of where they are held, must withhold tax at the flat rate of 10% of the gross amount paid.
- CGT on mining activity – Gains obtained by Non-residents, with or without a PE, resulting from the onerous or gratuitous alienation of mining title, are subject to a CGT of 32%. When the beneficiary of the income is non-resident without a PE, the acquirer is jointly liable for the CGT payment.
- The following are deemed as profits or gains derived from mining activity:
 - Revenues from the sale or disposal of the extracted mining product.
 - The compensation received for any loss or destruction of mineral products or ores and resulting from insurance or from other source.
 - Amounts received from the sale of information relating to mining activity or mining assets.
 - Capital gains arising from direct or indirect sale of assets in the area of the mining license, which are located in Mozambican territory.
 - Not using a provision concerning mine decommissioning costs.

Mozambique

- Other income related to mining activity.
- The Title Miner must amortise all tangible and intangible depreciable elements that are susceptible to losing value as a result of common wear-and-tear, from the exploration, passage of time or obsolescence, whether it be taxpayer's property or finance lease by the taxpayer lessee. The rates of depreciation of assets used in the mining industry, under a Title Miner are:

Type of Asset	Rate
Acquisition of mining rights	10%
Exploration expenses	100%
Development expenses	25%
Mining production assets	20%
Other assets	10%

- Rent Tax (Imposto sobre a Rendade Recurso Mineiro Rendimento – IRRM) is a direct tax on the net cash flow of a mining project. The tax is due by mining title holders and is applicable to mining projects that have accrued net revenues (cash gains) during a fiscal year.
- The IRRM rate is 20%. The amount due is obtained by applying the 20% rate to the closing balance of accumulated net cash gains when positive.
- The taxpayer must submit the annual IRRM statement on the same date as the annual declaration for CIT.
- The taxpayer must keep detailed records of assets in use in their mining records, in accordance with applicable law.
- Investments under the Mining and Petroleum Law – Companies that carry out mining operations in Mozambique may apply to get the following benefits:
 - A five-year exemption of custom duties on the importation of equipment, apparatus, materials and spare parts for prospecting and exploration, mineral production and exportation of mineral resources (Class K/Capital Goods and comparable to Class K items).
 - A stability clause of taxes may be negotiated for a period of 10 years. In this case, from the 11th year of production, it will be due an additional 2% to the Production Tax.

Notes:

1. Mining activities are also subject to the other general taxes (i.e. corporate tax, VAT etc.).

Oil Activities

As of 1 January 2015, oil exploration activities are taxed under Law No. 27/204.

Petroleum Production Tax (imposto sobre a produção) is levied on the value of the quantity of oil products extracted within Mozambican territory. The value of oil produced is based on the balanced average prices as sold by the producer and its contractors in the month in which the tax settlement takes place. The rates are:

- Crude oil: 10%.
- Natural gas: 6%.
- Under the new Law, there is a 50% reduction of the above mentioned rates when the production of oil and gas is designated for use by the local industry.

The following costs will be deductible for tax purposes:

- Operating costs (including the capture collection treatment storage and transport of petroleum from the petroleum deposit to the point of delivery).
- Costs related with the signature of the Concession Contract (except acquisition bonuses).
- Service costs related to the petroleum operations.
- Costs relating to the training of Mozambican employees.
- Cash contributions to the fund for closure and decommissioning and demobilisation costs.
- General and administrative expenses limited to a percentage of the total cost incurred which varies from 1.5% to 5% depending on the level of the costs incurred.

Mozambique-source income of foreign legal entities which do not have a branch in the country, is taxable via a withholding mechanism at the tax relief rate of 10%, if the beneficiary of the services is a resident entity or has a PE in Mozambique and carries out petroleum activities.

Petroleum Production Tax is not accepted as cost for determination of the taxable income. The companies, holders of oil rights, granted under the Law of Oil, must assess the taxable income and organise its accounting records autonomously (which means each concession agreements must have a specific/individual tax registration number).

Mozambique

The tax and accounting returns from the companies abovementioned; namely, annual income returns, tax and accounting information returns, registration, amendment or cancellation of taxpayer registry, must be completed separately for each concession agreement, not being allowed to compensate losses assessed in a particular mine or area of concession agreement by the gains assessed in another.

Under the tax regime law, the holder of the concession shall reintegrate and amortise all of the depreciable elements of tangible and intangible assets according to the rates set out below (unless the period of its useful life in a petroleum operation approved in a development plan is lower, in which case the rate is 1 divided by the number of years of expected petroleum operations):

Type of Asset	Rate
Search and evaluation expenses	100%
Development expenses	25%
Petroleum production assets	20%
Oil rights acquisition	10%
Other assets	10%

Oil exploration activities are also subject to the other general taxes (i.e. corporate tax, VAT etc.).

Capital gains arising from direct or indirect sale of oil and gas rights are taxable for CIT purposes. When the beneficiary of the income is non-resident, without a PE, the acquirer is jointly liable for the CGT payment.

When the capital gains are obtained by a non-resident, with or without PE, they are taxed at 32%.

Ventures pursuant to the oil and gas law benefit, over a five year period from the date of approval of a development plan, exemption of customs duties payable on the importation of equipment for use in petroleum operations, as classified in Class K of the Customs Tariff.

Forms of Business Organisation

In Mozambique, individuals or companies can carry out business activities. Persons who wish to set up a company can choose between the two most common types of commercial companies:

- Sociedades por Quotas de Responsabilidade Limitada – The private limited liability company (LDA).
- Sociedades Anónimas de Responsabilidade Limitada – The public or joint-stock company with limited liability (S.A.).

Branches – The granting of licences is governed by the Ministry of Trade and Industry and regulated by Decree 34/2013. Under this new regulation the period of issuance of the branch licence has increased from three to five years.

Under article 85 of the Commercial Code, foreign companies that operate, or have any commercial activity within the national territory for more than a year, should set up a branch and comply with the national legislation, as well as appoint a resident representative.

Exchange Controls

The new regulation of the Foreign Exchange Law came into force on 11 July 2011. The aim of the new Foreign Exchange Law (approved in March 2009), and the respective regulation, is to liberalise controls in the banking sector and to move the Reserve Bank into a role of regulation and control. The main changes of this new legislation are:

- Liberalisation of some transactions of goods, services and other transfers. Capital operations still require pre-authorisation of the Central Bank (such as foreign direct investment, loans, credit arrangements contracts outside Mozambique, opening and movement of bank accounts outside Mozambique when undertaken by resident entities).
- Mandatory use of the national banking system for any foreign exchange operation (payments and income received).
- Mandatory declaration of foreign exchange assets.
- Mandatory remittance to the country of income received from exports of goods and services.
- Conditions imposed to open new bank accounts in foreign currency for residents and on the bank movements of accounts in foreign currency.

Expatriates and Work Permits

Under the Labor Act, 2007, foreign employees are automatically approved to be contracted by Mozambican companies under the following circumstances:

- The company has an Investment Authorization which pre-establishes the number of foreign employees that it is going to need.

- Where the company employs at least 100 Mozambican workers, it can contract up to 5% of its workforce as foreigners.
- Where the company employs between 10 and 100 Mozambican workers, it can contract up to 8% of its workforce as foreigners.

800 001	1 500 000	205 000	32%
1 500 001 +		429 000	37%

Notes:

1. There are no abatements or rebates.
2. Individuals are taxed on the value of any benefit or advantage arising from employment.
3. Part-time employees are taxed at 18%.
4. The annual aggregate allowable deductions in respect of contributions to Namibian registered pension funds, provident funds, retirement annuity funds and premiums payable to educational policies, are N$40 000.
5. The exempt threshold for lump sum pension fund pay-outs is N$50 000. If the pay-out is in excess of N$50 000, one-third will be paid as a tax-free lump sum and the remaining portion as an annuity. Similar provisions apply for pay-outs in terms of preservation and retirement annuity funds.
6. An exemption limited to N$300 000 is allowed for gratuity payments made to an employee at retirement, who is 55 years of age or older, or whose employment is terminated due to ill-health or retrenchment due to his/her position becoming redundant.

7. Contributions made to retirement annuity funds, and donations to welfare and educational institutions, recovered or recouped during a particular tax year, are excluded from taxable income.
8. The interest portion of unit trust income is subject to withholding tax (WHT) of 10% except if payable to Namibian companies and entities normally exempt from tax (e.g. pension funds). The dividend portion of a unit trust income is exempt from tax.
9. The definition of "person" includes a trust.

Non-Residents (Individuals/Trusts)

The above income tax rates are also applicable to non-residents in respect of employment and business income earned in Namibia. In addition, certain payments made to non-residents, at an address outside Namibia, are subject to WHT. (See Withholding Taxes below).

Ringfencing

Where an individual's taxable income exceeds N$200 000 in a particular tax year and if the individual is carrying on a "suspect trade" * (see definition below), the individual may have to ringfence such losses from other taxable income. The application of this provision is limited depending on the number of years the taxpayer made losses and whether or not there is a prospect of deriving taxable income within a reasonable period.

*" Suspect Trade":

- Any sport practiced by the taxpayer.
- Dealing in collectible items.
- Rental of residential accommodation unless at least 80% of the accommodation is used by non-relatives for at least half of the year.
- Rental of vehicles, aircraft or boats unless 80% are used by non-relatives for at least half of the year.
- Animal showing.
- Farming or animal breeding unless carried on a full-time basis ("full-time basis" – any trade carried on most or all of the taxpayer's normal working hours).
- Any performing or creative arts practiced by the taxpayer.
- Any form of gambling or betting practiced by the taxpayer.

Companies

Income Tax Rates for Companies: Years of Assessment Commencing On or After 1 January 2015

Nature of Income	Note	Rate
Non-mining		32%
Manufacturing	1	18%
Diamond mining	2	55%
Petroleum mining (oil and gas companies)		35%
Other mining	2	37.5%
Mining service	2	55%/37.5%
Insurance	3	32%
Branches of foreign companies	4	32%
Retirement funds		Exempt

Notes:

- The rate for registered manufacturing companies is 18% for the first 10 years after manufacturing status was granted. For companies that have been granted manufacturing status more than 10 years ago, the tax rate will be 32%. The non-manufacturing rate was 33% between January 2013 and December 2014.
- Mining service companies will be taxed at 37.5% (non-diamond mining) and 55% (diamond mining). It would mean, for example, that a company subcontracted by a non-diamond mining company to conduct mining on its behalf, would be taxed at 37.5% as opposed to 32%.
- Insurance companies are taxed at the same rate as other companies, but there are special rules dealing with the computation of taxable income for long-term and short-term insurance companies.
- A rate of 33% applies unless the branch is a mining, manufacturing or mining service company, in which case the applicable manufacturing or mining tax rate will apply.

Withholding Taxes (WHTs)

Dividends, royalties and certain service payments to non-residents, whether corporate or individual, are subject to WHTs as shown below:

WHT Rates: Non-Residents

	Note	Rate
Dividends	1, 5	10%/25%
Interest	2	10%
Royalties	3, 5	10%
Directors fees	4	25%
Services	4	25%

Notes:

- The WHT on dividends is a final tax. WHT on dividends for non-Namibian shareholders, with shareholding of less than 25%, is 20%, while the rate for shareholding in excess of 25%, is 10%.
- Namibian registered banks, and Namibian registered unit trust management companies, must withhold a final tax at a flat rate of 10% from interest accruing to an individual, trust, the estate of a deceased person and non-Namibian companies. There is currently no WHT on inter-company loans. A final 10% WHT will be imposed in future in respect of all interest payments made to non-residents.
- The WHT on royalties may be credited against the final assessed income tax liability. The royalty withholding scope was increased from 30 December 2015 to include all rentals of commercial, scientific and industrial equipment.
- A final WHT of 25% is applicable in respect of payments made to non-resident directors. A 10% withholding tax applies to any payments made to a non-resident person entertainers and non-residents for any administrative, managerial, technical, consulting services or any similar services, whether such services are of a professional nature or not. The rate used to be 25% until 29 December 2015.
- These rates may be reduced by double taxation agreements (DTAs). Namibia has agreements with the countries listed in the table below. Treaties with the following countries are at various stages of negotiation or ratification: Tunisia, Zimbabwe, Spain, Canada and Zambia.

Namibians, enable Inland Revenue to determine whether a local company is thinly capitalised and to disallow interest charged on excessive debt.

Transfer Pricing and Thin Capitalisation

Transfer Pricing

Transfer pricing legislation regulates international goods or services transactions between connected persons. The rules allow Inland Revenue to disallow certain expenditure or adjust income if the contract price is less or more than what the price would have been between parties dealing at arm's length.

Thin Capitalisation

Thin capitalisation rules, which regulate the financial assistance granted by non-residents connected to

Capital Gains Tax (CGT)

There is currently no CGT system in Namibia. In the 2014 Budget, it was announced that CGT could be implemented in due course, but no legislative changes have been made as yet. Certain capital gains are, however, specifically included in income and subject to income tax.

For tax years commencing on or after 1 January 2012, any income received or accrued from the sale, donation, expropriation, cession, grant, transfer or other alienation of a licence or a right to mine minerals in Namibia, irrespective of where the transaction will be concluded, the place where payment for the transaction will be made, or the place where the funds from which payment is made are held, is taxable in Namibia. Similarly, the sale of shares in a company that holds a licence, or has a right to mine minerals in Namibia, is subject to tax. From 30 December 2015 the indirect sale of shares in a company that holds mineral licences/ rights are subject to tax. The sale or other disposal of petroleum rights/licences or shares in a company that holds such rights licence, directly or indirectly, became subject to tax from 30 December 2015.

Inheritances and Donations

There is currently no estate duty or donations tax in Namibia. In the 2003/4 Budget, it was announced that the recommendations of the Namibian Tax Consortium, which reviewed the tax structure of Namibia, were approved by Cabinet. One of the recommendations of the Consortium was the introduction of estate duty and donations tax. No mention was made of this in subsequent budgets and it is still unclear whether these taxes will be introduced.

Export Levies

Export levies on the export of fish, meat and minerals will be introduced in due course. The applicable rates are expected to be between 0% and 2%. The legislation and rates per category of product have not been finalised yet.

Environmental Tax

Draft legislation has been prepared for the introduction of an environmental levy that was initially announced in the 2005/6 Budget. The levy will be applicable on inter alia carbon emissions of vehicles and tyres. The legislation has not been gazetted yet.

Land Tax

Land tax (on agricultural land only) is payable for every 12-month period ending 28 February at the following rates (applied to the unimproved site value):

- Namibian resident owner: 0.75%.
- Non-resident owner: 1.75%.

On each additional farm property, the rate increases by 0.25%.

Tax Administration

- A change in the method of calculating provisional tax was introduced for tax years commencing on or after 1 January 2012. Provisional tax payments must be based on estimates of taxable income for the year, as opposed to last year assessed.
- Interest at 20% per annum is imposed on the late/non-payment of all income tax, Pay-As-You-Earn (PAYE), provisional tax, VAT and import VAT. The interest amount may not exceed the original tax amount. Various penalties may also be imposed on the late/non-submission of returns and late/non-payment of taxes. The penalty amount may not exceed the original tax amount.

- The Ministry of Finance may make arrangements with any person to collect outstanding tax, penalties and interest on its behalf.
- Since 2005, the Ministry of Finance instituted several measures aimed at strengthening tax compliance and administration. Included in those measures were a number of forensic audits and the amendment of the Income Tax Act to allow for the publishing of the names of tax offenders. Ongoing efforts to clamp down on tax evaders have continued, with forensic audits widespread. The Minister announced a continuation of the strengthening of collection through capacity building, compliance enforcement and general revenue administration. The Government will also continue with optimising its "Public-Private-Partnerships" with regard to revenue collection.
- The Minister of Finance has also embarked on an integrated tax management system development and implementation that is expected to be finalised in 2016/2017. The system and new processes are expected to simplify tax administration process, improve services to taxpayers and compliance and collections. Comprehensive tax policy reviews will also be undertaken with the aim of finding alternative sources of revenue.
- The Ministry also announced that Inland Revenue will become a Revenue Agency in due course.

General Investment Information

Investment Incentives

Tax Incentives Applicable to Registered Manufacturing Enterprises

In order to qualify for the incentives listed below, companies must register as carrying on a manufacturing activity in terms of specified criteria. These incentives may not increase or create an assessed loss. The incentives include:

- An additional income tax deduction of 25% of employment and approved training costs in respect of employees directly involved in a manufacturing process.
- An additional income tax deduction of 25% for specified export marketing expenditure.
- An additional income tax deduction of 25% for certain land-based transportation costs for the first 10 years of registration.
- Exporters of goods manufactured in Namibia qualify for an allowance equal to 80% of taxable income derived from the export of manufactured goods (excluding fish or meat products).
- 8% annual allowance on qualifying buildings.
- Exemption from import duties on the importation or acquisition of manufacturing machinery and equipment, subject to ministerial approval.

Export Processing Zones (EPZs)

EPZ enterprises qualify for total relief from income tax, VAT, customs and excise duties, stamp duty and transfer duty (but not employees' tax and WHT). Essential requirements for EPZ status include: conducting a manufacturing activity and exporting at least 70% of the manufactured goods outside the Southern African Customs Union (SACU).

Capital Allowances

- Buildings used for the purposes of trade
 - 20% of the cost of erection in the first year of use and 4% over a 20-year period (the 4% allowance is increased to 8% for certain manufacturing buildings and the period of the claim reduced to 10 years).
- Except for the items listed below, a general three-year write-off period for all fixed assets other than buildings (e.g. plant, machinery, equipment, aircraft and ships). This allowance is not pro-rated in the first year.

Namibia

- Mining operations
 - Exploration expenditure – 100% deduction in the year the production commences.
 - Development expenditure – Three-year write-off.
- Farming operations
 - All capital expenditure except the cost of land, dwellings, machinery, implements, utensils and vehicles – 100%. This is deductible from farming income only. These expenses may not create a farming loss and the excess may be carried forward to following year of assessment.
 - Housing for employees – N$50 000 per employee. This is deductible from farming income only. These expenses may not create a farming loss and the excess may be carried forward to the following year of assessment.
 - Erection of power lines and cost of carrying electric power from the main transmission lines to the farm apparatus – These expenses may not create a farming loss and the excess may be carried forward to the following year of assessment.
 - Ringfencing of farming tax losses may be required depending on certain criteria where the taxpayer is not a full-time farmer.

Financial Sector Reforms

- The Banking Institutions Act of 1998 will be amended in order to align it with developments in the markets, including addressing the issue of limited competition in the banking sector.
- The Namfisa Amendment Bill seeks to improve the supervision of the non-banking financial sector and enhance consumer protection.
- Draft regulations that will complement the provisions of the Financial Intelligence Act have been finalised.
- Support for development and diversification of the capital market through fiscal policy.

Notes:

1. Incentives apply equally to domestic and foreign investors.
2. The major goals of incentives are: employment creation, industrial and economic development, exports, and to uplift previously disadvantaged people.

Exchange Controls

Namibia is part of the Common Monetary Area (CMA) (with Lesotho, South Africa and Swaziland).

In broad terms, there are few restrictions on inward investment by foreigners and profits may be fully repatriated. Currently, the debt-to-equity ratio may not exceed 3:1 without permission from the Bank of Namibia. There are restrictions on outward investment by local residents. An EPZ entity may acquire and use foreign currency without restriction. The administration of exchange control regulations is undertaken by the Bank of Namibia in cooperation with Authorised Dealers.

Resident individuals are allowed to operate foreign currency accounts with local Authorised Dealers, or invest abroad up to a maximum of N$2 million. Long-term insurers, pension funds and unit trusts (through unit trust management companies) are allowed to invest offshore up to a maximum of 20% of their total assets. The foreign capital allowance is N$4 million per emigrating family unit.

Non-residents can invest in equity, operational financing requirements, or in capital equipment and assets, through normal banking channels without reference to exchange controls. Dividends can be freely transferred to non-resident shareholders, except where local borrowings restrictions have been exceeded.

Namibia imposes a WHT (non-resident shareholder's tax) payable on the repatriation of dividends from Namibia to the foreign shareholders (see rates elsewhere). The rates of these taxes are limited through certain DTAs.

Namibia continues to gradually relax its exchange controls in line with other CMA countries. The following exchange control relaxations were introduced in 2011/12:

- Mandatory repatriation of export proceeds to Namibia increased from three to six months from the date of shipment.
- The retention period of foreign currency by foreign currency account holders, increased from 90 days to 180 days.
- Offshore investment limits for foreign portfolio investments by Namibian institutional investors, increased from 30% to 35%.
- Cash limits for Namibian residents travelling overland to and from Namibia through Botswana, increased from N$5 000 to N$10 000.

Namibia

Further exchange control features now include:

- A special exemption for oil and gas companies from the requirements of operating Customer Foreign Currency (CFC) accounts.
- Companies involved in international trade may now operate a single CFC account as opposed to the past requirement of multi-CFC accounts.
- For local importers, the threshold for “cash-with-order” payments has been increased from N$250 000 to N$500 000.
- The required shareholding in foreign entities by Namibian corporate investors investing outside the CMA, has been reduced from a majority holding (more than 50%) to 25%.

Expatriates and Work Permits

Work permits for skilled expatriates are obtainable but often with substantial administrative delays.

Anti-Corruption Commission

An Anti-Corruption Commission (ACC) has been established.

Namibian Competition Commission (NCC)

The Namibian Competition Commission (NCC) was formally launched on 9 December 2009, and is entrusted to promote and safeguard competition in Namibia. Parties involved in a merger, must notify the NCC of the proposed transaction, whereupon the NCC must either approve or decline the implementation of the transaction. The Competition Act also contains provisions around restrictive business practices, including restrictive agreements and dominant positions. The NCC may also, either on its own initiative or on receipt of information or a complaint, investigate restrictive agreements and/or dominant positions.

Trade Relations

- Memberships – Cotonou Agreement, Southern African Customs Union, Southern African Development Community, World Trade Organisation, Common Monetary Union.
- African Growth and Opportunity Act beneficiary country.
- Namibian products qualify for preferential market access to 34 countries under the Generalised System of Preferences (GSPs).
- Namibia/Zimbabwe Preferential Trade Agreement.

Notes:

1. The creation of a SADC Customs Union, and Free Trade arrangements with other Economic Blocs (such as the European Partnership Agreement between SADC and the EU), pose serious risks to tax revenue. To compensate for anticipated revenue losses, the domestic tax base is intended to be broadened and tax administration improved.
2. The Minister announced that a Preferential Trade Agreement is being negotiated by SACU with India.

Notes:

- Nigerian residents are taxed on their worldwide income.
- An individual would be deemed resident in Nigeria if, in an assessment year, he/she performs duties wholly or partly in Nigeria, unless all the following conditions apply: (i) the employee is not in Nigeria for an aggregate period of 183 days (including annual leave and temporary absence) in any 12-month calendar period; (ii) employment is with a company in a country other than Nigeria; (iii) the remuneration of the employee is liable to tax in that country with whom Nigeria has a treaty; and (iv) the employer is not in Nigeria and does not have a fixed base in Nigeria.
- Foreign-sourced income of residents, arising from dividends, interest, rents, royalties, fees or commissions earned from abroad, is exempt if brought into Nigeria in convertible currency and paid into a domiciliary account in a bank approved by the Government. Income brought into Nigeria through domiciliary accounts via an authorised bank by athletes, playwrights, authors, musicians and artists (who are professionals), is also exempt.
- The profit of a trade, profession, or vocation carried on in Nigeria, is liable to tax in Nigeria regardless of the period such a trade, profession, or vocation, has been carried on. Income from employment, however, is liable to tax when a person is deemed resident.

- Additionally, a certain proportion of earned income is tax-free based on certain allowances given.
- Capital gains are generally taxed at 10%. Gains from disposal of shares are not, however, subject to Capital Gains Tax (CGT).
- Each individual must file a return. Joint filing is not permitted.

Non-Residents

Non-residents are taxed on Nigerian-source income; generally, via withholding at source. Non-residents become liable to tax from the day they begin to carry on a trade, business, profession, or vocation, in Nigeria.

Double taxation treaties (i.e. DTAs) have been concluded with a number of countries and double taxation relief applies to such income.

Employment Income

The Pay-As-You-Earn (PAYE) system of collection is in operation.

Notes:

- There is a consolidated relief allowance of the higher of NGN200 000 or 1% of gross income, plus 20% of gross income.
- A minimum tax of 1% of gross income is applicable where computed tax amount is less than 1% of gross income.
- The following deductions are tax-exempt when computing taxable income:
 - National Housing Fund Contribution.
 - National Health Insurance Scheme.
 - Life Assurance Premium.
 - National Pension Scheme.
 - Gratuities.

Companies

Income Tax Rates for Companies
	Rate of Tax
All companies	30%
Small companies – turnover does not exceed NGN1 million (circa USD5 025)	20%

Nigeria

Notes:

1. The corporate tax rate is 30% for all companies except oil and gas companies in the upstream sector. However, a lower rate of 20% is applicable to manufacturing, mining of solid minerals or agricultural production companies and companies engaged wholly in exports within the first five years of operation and where the turnover does not exceed NGN1 million (circa USD5 025).
2. Nigerian companies are taxed on worldwide income (subject to some exceptions). Therefore, a duly registered Nigerian company is considered resident in Nigeria. Nigerian income tax applies to all companies that derive, bring into, accrue and receive income in Nigeria. With respect to non-residents, the companies' income tax applies the concept of "deemed derivation". Here the law sets out instances where a non-resident company's income will be deemed to have been derived from Nigeria. The first condition of the "deemed derivation" concept is of a fixed base. Any non-resident company doing business in Nigeria through a fixed base or Permanent Establishment (PE) (as defined in DTAs), is subject to tax. Other conditions include concluding contracts through a dependent agent.
3. Nigerian companies are taxed on worldwide income, while companies registered in a foreign jurisdiction with a fixed base or PE, are taxed only on Nigerian-source income.
4. Taxable income is a company's income less allowable deductions and losses. Income of a capital nature is not included in taxable income.
5. Interest paid on loans (used for business operations) are allowable for tax purposes. For new businesses, such interest is capitalised prior to starting commercial production. Interest income received by lending institutions, on loans to export-oriented companies and agricultural businesses, are granted tax exemptions depending on tenor and moratorium of the loans.
6. Dividends received by a Nigerian company from other domestic companies, are excluded in the determination of taxable income to the extent that such distribution had suffered withholding tax (WHT) in the hands of the initial recipient (distributing company). Dividends paid to non-resident companies and investors attract a WHT of 10%, unless reduced by a DTA to 7.5%. This is the final tax on such distribution. Dividends distributed by unit trusts and pioneer companies during the pioneer period, are tax-exempt in the hands of recipients and WHT is not deductible for such dividends.
7. Capital allowances are granted to companies against taxable income in lieu of the wear-and-tear of business assets. Rates of capital allowances are highest (95%) for expenditure on replacement plant and machinery for mining, agricultural production, industrial plant and machinery and motor vehicles used for public transportation. In addition, investment allowances of 10% are available to companies in their first year of acquisition of plant and machinery.
8. Certain business assets (such as factory buildings, furniture and fittings) enjoy capital allowances at lower rates of 25% (initial) and 20% (annual), but generally at 50% (initial) and 25% (annual) in other cases.
9. Normal business losses can be carried forward indefinitely except for insurance companies.
10. Closing stocks have to be appropriately valued at the lower of cost or net realisable value. Accepted valuation methods are: First-In-First-Out (FIFO) and weighted average. Last-In-First-Out (LIFO) valuation is not acceptable. The valuation method, once adopted, must be consistently followed.
11. A unilateral foreign tax credit is not available to corporate taxpayers. However, unilateral relief is applicable for Commonwealth (non-treaty) countries, if Nigeria also taxes the income.
12. There is no participation exemption and no holding company regime in Nigeria.
13. An Alternative Minimum Tax (AMT) is levied to ensure that unless exempt, every company pays a certain amount of Corporate Income Tax (CIT). The minimum tax is payable by a company where, in any year of assessment, the total assessable profits from all sources results in a loss or no tax being payable or tax payable that is less than the minimum tax. When turnover is NGN500 000 or less, the minimum tax is the highest of 0.5% of gross profits or 0.5% of net assets, or 0.25% of paid-up capital or 0.25% of turnover. When turnover exceeds NGN500 000, an additional tax is payable, calculated at the rate of 0.125% of the turnover exceeding NGN500 000. Agricultural and agro-allied companies, companies with at least 25% foreign equity and any company in the first four years of commencement of business are not required to pay the minimum tax.
14. There are no provisions for consolidation or accounts for group taxation in Nigeria.

Nigeria

Notes:

1. WHT paid by resident persons and companies in Nigeria is payment on account of tax. WHT credit notes can be used to offset personal and companies' income tax liabilities, except in cases where tax withheld is a final tax. Where the recipient of funds is a non-resident, the relevant WHT is a final tax.
2. Dividends are subject to a 10% WHT, whether paid to a resident or non-resident, unless the rate is reduced under a tax treaty. This is the final tax on the income.
3. Interest payments are subject to a 10% WHT, whether paid to a resident or non-resident. This is a final tax for the non-resident recipient, unless the interest is exempt. Exempt interest includes interest payable on a foreign loan; percentage of exemption ranges from 0% to 100%, and is based on the loan repayment period and grace period.
4. Payments, such as management consulting fees and fees for technical services and commissions, are subject to WHT at a rate of 10% for corporate recipients and 5% for individuals.
5. A 10% WHT applies to all rental payments and director's fees. These WHTs are final for non-resident recipients but may not be final for residents.
6. Branch remittance tax does not apply.

Capital Gains Tax (CGT)

Capital gains and losses are treated differently from regular business transactions of individuals, partnerships and companies in Nigeria. Gains arising from the disposal of assets are taxed at the rate of 10%. Taxable assets include: land, building, as well as other corporeal or incorporeal properties situated in Nigeria. With effect from 1 January 1998, corporate securities are exempted from CGT.

Inflation is not taken into account in determining capital gains. Payment of CGT can be postponed if the proceeds on disposal of an asset are reinvested in acquiring similar assets. Nigeria's tax law does not provide for capital loss relief.

Anti-avoidance

In Nigeria, the Income Tax Law applicable to companies contains general provisions on related party transactions. It requires that transactions by related parties are conducted at arm's length; if otherwise, the price will be restated. Further guidelines are provided within the Income Tax (Transfer Pricing) Regulations No.

1/2012; highlighting applicable transactions, acceptable transfer pricing methods, documentation requirements, advance pricing agreements and offences, penalties and dispute resolutions.

There are no thin capitalisation rules in Nigeria.

Inheritances and Donations

There is no donations tax and no inheritance/estate tax in Nigeria. Donations could, however, give rise to CGT in some instances.

Value-Added Tax (VAT)

There is a list of excisable items (i.e. wines and spirits, tobacco and cigarettes, alcoholic beverages etc.) and factories which can be obtained from the Nigeria Customs Service.

Other Taxes

Petroleum Profit Tax (PPT)

PPT (rather than corporate tax) is imposed on petroleum operations. Income for PPT purposes refers to the value of the oil and related substances extracted, except gas, plus any other incidental income of the company. Various deductions are allowed. The nature of the contract entered into by persons in the oil and gas industry determines the person's tax regime. The income derived by companies engaged in petroleum operations is assessable to tax at the rate of 85% with some variations for companies within the first five years of operation and those involved in a production sharing contract. Profit from any activity that does not qualify as petroleum operation is subject to tax at the rate of 30%.

Stamp Duties

The Stamp Duties Act sets out the details of dutiable transactions and applicable duties thereon. The transactions that attract stamp duties include: incorporation of companies, increase in companies authorised share capital, mortgage bonds, debentures and dealing in securities, settlement of estates and conveyance of property.

Tertiary Education Trust Fund Act

Tertiary Education Tax (at a rate of 2%) is payable by all resident companies on the adjusted/assessable profits for CIT, or PPT purposes, before the deduction of capital allowances. The Revenue authority is required to issue assessments for the tax which is payable within 60 days of service of the assessment notice on the company. However, in practice, the tax is self-assessed and paid six months after the accounting year-end.

Information Technology (IT) Tax

IT Tax (at the rate of 1% of profit before tax) is payable by telecommunication, cyber, insurance companies and banks with turnover of NGN100 million (circa USD502 512) and above. The tax is treated as a deductible expense when paid. The tax is payable within 60 days of service of the assessment.

Industrial Training Fund

All employers having either a minimum of five employees or having less than five employees, but with annual turnover of NGN50 million (circa USD251 256), are expected to contribute an amount equal to 1% of its annual payroll cost to the Industrial Training Fund. The Fund is utilised in the provision and promotion of skills acquisition in the industry. This is payable no later than 1 April of the following year. The employer could get a refund of up to 50% of contributions made if suitable training courses are provided to the employees.

Employees Compensation Act (ECA) 2011

ECA repealed the Workmen's Compensation Act. The Act is meant to provide safer working conditions for all the employees. The provisions of the Act are applicable to employees in the public and private sectors of the economy except the armed forces. The rate of contribution is 1% of total payroll cost consisting of total emolument. This includes any share award or benefit.

Nigeria Oil and Gas Content Development Fund

The sum of 1% of every contract awarded to any operator, contractor, subcontractor, alliance partner, or any other entity involved in any project, operation, activity or transaction in the upstream sector of the Nigerian oil and gas industry, shall be deducted at source and paid into the Fund.

Cabotage Fund Levy

A surcharge of 2% of the contract sum performed by any vessel engaged in coastal trade is to be paid into the Cabotage Vessel Financing Fund. The Cabotage Guidelines provide for the surcharge to be based on the gross earnings on contracts performed by the relevant vessel. The surcharge is to be deducted at source by the employer, or charterer of the relevant vessel, based on the charter or freight invoice and remitted to the Nigerian Maritime Administration and Safety Agency (NIMASA).

Local Taxes

States in Federation (currently 36 states) have a variety of local taxes in their areas of jurisdiction. Local taxes include: motor vehicles license/registration, consent fees for transfer of property in real estate, property tax, gaming/casino tax, water rates etc. Local councils impose tenement rates and several other fees.

Social Security

Nigeria operates a contributory pension scheme. Under the scheme, the employer is required to make compulsory pension contributions at a minimum of 10% of the employee's monthly emoluments. An employee also contributes a minimum of 8% of his/her monthly emoluments. While there is no maximum limit to the amount that may be contributed by an employer, the minimum total contribution is 18% where the employer chooses to be responsible for the employee's portion of the contribution.

Exchange Controls

Equity and/or loan capital must be brought into Nigeria through authorised Dealers (i.e. banks).

The remittance of dividends and interest is permitted, provided the equity and/or loan was imported and is evidenced via an appropriate certificate of capital importation.

There are no restrictions on the percentage of profits that may be distributed as dividends subject to the dividend tax rule consideration. The remittance of royalty and service fees is permitted, provided the underlying license and service agreements have been approved by the National Office for Technology, Acquisition and Promotion.

Authorised Dealers of foreign currencies need to notify the Central Bank of Nigeria of any cash transfer to, or from a foreign country, of any sum in excess of USD10 000.

A tax clearance certificate, or other evidence of payment of the appropriate tax, must, however, be obtained by anyone wishing to remit dividends, interest, royalty or service fees outside the country.

Recently, the Central Bank of Nigeria issued a directive making it illegal in Nigeria to price a product or consummate a business offer within Nigeria in any currency other than the local currency.

Expatriates and Work Permits

All non-residents/citizens must obtain visas before entry into Nigeria, except citizens of Economic Community of West African States (ECOWAS), who only need to process ECOWAS cards on arrival. There are four categories of visas – tourist, business, temporary work permits (TWP) and the subject to regularisation (STR) visas. Employers obtain expatriate quotas for their employees and these are usually valid for at least two years. Expatriate quotas are approved based on the need for the skill to be imported into Nigeria. Employers of expatriates are required to file monthly immigration returns stating the utilisation of expatriate quotas.

Capital Gains Tax (CGT)

Companies

Capital gains are taxable as ordinary income at the standard rate of corporation tax. However, capital gains derived from the sale or cession of commercial immovable property, are separately taxed at a rate of 30%, while capital gains on secondary market transactions, on listed securities, are exempted.

Individuals

Capital gains are taxable as ordinary income at the normal PIT rates. However, capital gains derived from the sale or cession of commercial immovable property is separately taxed at a rate of 30%, and capital gains on secondary market transactions, on listed securities, are exempt.

Anti-avoidance

Transfer Pricing

When independent parties deal with one another, the terms of trade are determined by market forces and may be presumed to be at an arm’s length. However, for related party transactions, determination of the arm’s length price requires a comparison of the conditions in a “controlled transaction” against the conditions in an unrelated party or uncontrolled transaction.

Thin Capitalisation

Interest on a loan from a related party, that exceeds four times the amount of equity, may not be deducted from taxable income unless the taxpayer is an individual. This provision does not apply to commercial banks or insurance companies.

Value-Added Tax (VAT)

VAT	Rate
Standard rate	18%

Notes:

- VAT is imposed on the sale of goods and the provision of services.
- The standard VAT rate is 18%, with exemptions and zero-rating available in certain cases.
- The registration threshold for VAT purposes is RWF20 million of annual turnover or RWF5 million for the previous quarter. Voluntary registration is possible for taxpayers with turnover under the threshold.

A non-resident is taxed on Senegal-source income only. Non-residents become liable to tax from the day they begin carrying on a trade, business, profession, or vocation, in Senegal. DTAs have been concluded with a number of countries and double taxation relief applies to such income.

Capital Gains Tax (CGT)

Companies

Capital gains are treated as operating profits and included in the corporate income tax base.

Individuals

Capital gains are taxable at source by a notary in the case of a real estate transaction, otherwise, they are taxable based on the taxpayer's declaration.

Anti-avoidance

Transfer Pricing

Senegal has integrated in the new Tax Code, a regulation regarding transfer pricing. Tax authorities are entitled to reintegrate to the taxable profits of Senegal resident companies or branches of foreign companies the profits indirectly transferred to non-resident related companies.

Two companies are considered related if:

- one of them has a direct or indirect minimum holding of 50% in the capital of the other or exercises de facto control over the other company; or
- a third party has a direct or indirect minimum holding of 50% in the capital of both companies or exercises de facto control over both companies.

However, the related company requirement does not apply where the transaction involves companies incorporated in a low tax jurisdiction or in non-cooperative states or territories.

The documentation requirements apply to Senegal resident companies that fulfil one of the following criteria:

- an annual turnover, excluding taxes, equal to or exceeding CFA5 billion;
- direct or indirect holding of more than 50% of the capital or voting rights of a company that meets the first criterion; or
- companies in which more than 50% of the capital is owned, directly or indirectly, by a legal entity that meets the first criterion.

Documentation requirements

Documentation requirements apply to Senegal resident companies that fulfil one of the following criteria:

- an annual turnover, excluding taxes, equal to or exceeding CFA5 billion;
- direct or indirect holding of more than 50% of the capital or voting rights of a company that meets the first criterion; or
- companies in which more than 50% of the capital is owned, directly or indirectly, by a legal entity that meets the first criterion

The documentation requirements consist of two main categories of information:

- general information on related companies; and
- specific information on the audited company itself.

Specific payments to non-resident persons will not be allowed as deductible expenses for income tax purposes when the recipient is subject to a privileged tax regime or when he is based in a non-cooperative country (Pays non coopératives).

Thin Capitalisation

While Senegal does not have specific thin capitalisation rules, limits are imposed on interest paid to foreign partners on funds provided to local companies. The maximum interest rate is the lending rate of West African States Bank (BCEAO), plus 3 points at the time the interest payment is due. Further, the loan may not exceed the amount of the share capital and the capital must be paid in full.

Senegal

Value-Added Tax (VAT)

VAT
Standard rate	18%

Notes:

1. All economic activities are within the scope of VAT, including activities of independent professionals. The main exemptions relate to healthcare, education, banking, insurance and reinsurance, farming and transportation. Banking transactions are subject to the tax on financial transactions (Taxe sur les opérations financières). The standard single rate in Senegal is 18%. Banking transactions are subject to 17% tax.
2. All corporate businesses are required to register. Non-resident VAT payers are required to appoint a solvent resident representative to be jointly responsible for the payment of VAT and the discharge of other VAT related obligations.
3. VAT returns and payments are due on the 15th of the month following the date of the relevant transactions.

Customs and Excise Duties

Senegal customs operates under the authority of the Ministry of Finance. Payment of taxes and duties are performed through a customs and excise bond. The customs and excise bond is handled by the Treasury.

Import Duties

- In January 2000, Senegal put into effect a new tariff scheme that conforms to the common external tariff (CET) scheme agreed on by member nations of the West African Economic and Monetary Union (WAEMU). Under this tariff structure, Senegal has four simple tariff rate categories: 0% on cultural and scientific goods, agricultural inputs, and capital goods and computer equipment not available from local production; 5% on raw materials, crude oil, and cereals for industry; 10% on semi-finished products, intermediate goods, diesel and fuel oil; and 20% on consumer goods, capital goods and computer equipment available from local production, and vehicles. There also exists an array of other import tariffs, with a maximum combined rate of 52%. VAT at 18% applies to all imports.
- In 1982, Senegal abolished its import licensing system, opening the market to all countries on an equal basis. Previously, only products from the Franc zone and the European Union (EU) could be imported without a licence. Certain import restrictions exist on agricultural and industrial products that support the Senegalese economy.

Miscellaneous Taxes

Stamp Duty

Stamp tax is levied on cash transactions based on the amount of the transaction.

Capital Duty

The initial capital duty is 1% of capital if the amount of capital is higher than CFA100 million, and CFA25 000 in all other cases. The tax on a capital increase is 1% of the amount of the increase, with 3% surtax in the case of contributions of real property.

Social security is supported by the employer, with an annual ceiling for contributions of CFA756 000. The rate for family benefits is 7% and that for industrial accidents ranges from 1% to 5%, depending on the line of business. National retirement fund contributions are paid by both the employer (60%) and the employee (40%). The rate of contributions for the general scheme is 14%, with an annual ceiling of CFA3.072 million. General Investment Information

General Incentives

Incentives are granted under several laws, including the General Tax Code, the Investment Code, Mining Code, Petroleum Code, Environment Code, Free Zone Law, Free Exporting Companies Law, etc. Investments valued higher than CFA250 billion are entitled to particular advantages negotiated directly between the investor and the ministry in charge, subject to non-objection from the Prime Minister.

Senegal

The Tax Code

New tax deductions from the taxable profits are granted to enterprises which invest more than CFA100 million in the creation or the extension of a business in specific sectors. The deduction rates are set as follows:

- 40% of the investment's value for the creation of a new business; and
- 30% of the investment's value for the extension of an existing business.

The deduction is capped at 50% of the taxable profits for enterprises created in Dakar and at 70% for enterprises created in other regions.

A 50% tax deduction from the taxable profits is granted to enterprises which export more than 80% of their production or services. Mining and oil companies are excluded from this measure.

Tax Incentives

- Tax incentives are automatically granted to investment projects meeting fulfilling criteria defined by the law.
- The Investment Code also provides exemptions from income tax, other taxes, and duties, which are to be phased out progressively over the next few years.
- Other tax incentives include the right to remit income and capital, and the opportunity to participate in Government contracts.

Other Incentives

- Stock exchange – The “Bourse Regionale des Valeurs Mobilières” (BRVM) was opened in September 1998 to serve as a regional financial market for the member states of the West African Economic and Monetary Union (UEMOA), which includes Benin, Burkina Faso, Côte d'Ivoire, Guinea-Bissau, Mali, Niger, Senegal and Togo. By the end of the 1990s, the BRVM had 35 listed companies. Listing requirements include: a share capital of CFA200 million – CFA500 million; 15% – 20% public ownership; five annual reports; and a balance sheet. The BRVM has computerised trading with satellite links.
- Openness to foreign investment – The Government welcomes foreign investment. There is no discrimination against businesses conducted or owned by foreign investors. In fact, there are no barriers regarding 100% ownership of businesses by foreign investors in most sectors. The Government has stopped participating in foreign investment projects.

- Senegal encourages investment from abroad, especially from developed countries. The main investment incentives are provided by the Investment Code, which was adopted in 1987 and amended in 2004. The following sectors may benefit from the Code:
 - Agriculture, livestock, fisheries, activities related to manufacturing, storage, packaging of vegetable, aquatic or animal product.
 - Manufacturing production or transformation activities.
 - Mineral substance extraction or processing activities.
 - Tourism and related activities.
 - Cultural activities.
 - Services provided in the field of health, education, tele-service, air and maritime transport, port, airport and railway infrastructure works.
 - Realisation of commercial centre, industrial park, touristic zone, cyber village and artisan centres.To be eligible to the Investment Code, the investor should project either to invest an amount up to at least CFA100 million for extension of business, or to create a new activity. Specific conditions of eligibility exist for small- and medium-sized companies. A formal application must be submitted near to the National Agency of Investment (APIX). The approval is issued within 10 days. During the investment period, a qualifying enterprise enjoys, amongst others, exemption from import duties and suspension of import VAT.

New companies may benefit from exemption from the payroll costs, deduction by the company of 40% of the amount invested, assuming that this deduction is limited to 50% of the taxable profits of the year.

Any company operating in the agriculture, industrial or on-line services field may benefit from Free Export Company Regime, provided it exports at least 80% of its turnover out of the UEMOA zone. The privileges granted under the FEC regime remain valid for a period of 25 years.

Free Export Companies may benefit exemption from withholding tax payable upon distribution of dividends, exemption from payroll taxes payable by employer, exemption from all registration taxes, exemption from business tax, land tax on development or underdeveloped property and licence tax, corporate tax reduced to 15% preferential rate.

- Private Ownership Rights – In addition to the traditional guarantees offered to investors (e.g. free transfer of capital and income and equal treatment (foreign and domestic private entities are permitted to establish and own business and to engage in most forms of remunerative activity)), other advantages granted cover both a firm's investment and operation.
- Protection of Property Rights – The Senegalese legal system enforces private property rights. Senegal is a member of the African Organisation of Intellectual Property (OAPI), a grouping of thirteen Francophone African countries, which has established among its member states a common system for obtaining and maintaining protection for patents, trademarks and industrial designs. Senegal has been a member of the World Intellectual Property Organisation since its inception and is a member of the Bern Copyright Convention. Local statutes recognise reciprocal protection for authors or artists who are nationals of countries adhering to the 1991 Paris Convention on Intellectual Property Rights.
- Transparency of Regulatory System – The Government of Senegal favours the principles of free competition. Senegal is reforming and developing its regulatory framework as a part of its effort to attract private sector investment.

- Relations between employees and employers are governed by the Labour Code, collective bargaining agreements, company regulations and individual employment contracts. There are two powerful industry associations that represent management's interests: the National Council of Employers (CNP), and the National Employers' Association (CNES). The principal labour unions are the National Confederation of Senegalese Workers (CNTS), affiliated with the former ruling Socialist Party, and the National Association of Senegalese Union Workers (UNSAS), a federation of independent labour unions.

Seychelles

Non-Residents

Non-resident individuals/employees are subject to tax rate of 15% in Seychelles on the income emolument and at the rate of 20% on the non-monetary benefit paid or provided by a person who is a resident in Seychelles as well as on all Seychelles-sourced income. An annual tax return must be submitted by non-resident individuals (or their resident representatives) engaged in business activities (in the prescribed form and manner) by 31 March following the end of the tax year. Personal income tax withheld by non-resident employers on the emoluments of their employees must be remitted to the Seychelles Revenue Commission on a monthly basis, using the Business Activity Statement.

Employment Income

A rate of 15% is deducted from individuals/employee's salaries under the INMBTA. Employers pay a 20% tax on benefits provided to employees. Directors are considered as employees. Sole Traders and Partners are not considered as employees. Non-residents as well as residents are covered by the INMBTA.

Salary

A wage tax system was introduced with effect from 1 July 2010. Income tax is withheld by the employer from the gross emoluments of employees on a monthly basis. The income tax is due on the gross amount of emoluments received by the employee. No deduction is allowed for losses or costs (including commuting costs) incurred by the employee in deriving emoluments.

Employer Obligations

The employer is responsible for the following:

- Withhold tax at the applicable rate from the employees' total emoluments
- Pay 20% tax on the non-monetary benefits
- Remit the tax withheld with the non-monetary benefits tax if there are any.

Benefits in kind

Benefits in kind (e.g. a motor vehicle, accommodation, utilities, meals, transport, etc.) are subject to the non-monetary benefits tax on their fair market value. The tax is payable by the employer through a final WHT on a monthly basis and the taxable amount of non-monetary benefits depends on the kind of benefits concerned.

Exemptions include: the provision of accommodation for business purposes for a maximum period of three months; the provision of accommodation to an employee in the construction and tourism sectors; utilities benefits (bills such as electricity, water, telephone, cable television or Internet access) provided to employees in the tourism sector; the provision of identifiable uniform, safety or protective clothing; in-house benefits up to a maximum of 20% of basic salary per month; medical expenses incurred in respect of injuries or illness of an employee arising during the performance of his or her work or at his or her place of employment; life insurance where the sum insured does not exceed SCR1 million per employee; health insurance, if applicable to all employees; transportation costs provided to employees for the purpose of commuting travel; and moving costs (airline and ferry transport) provided by the employer at the start and conclusion of an employment contract etc.

Seychelles

Business and Professional Income

Individuals deriving business and professional income are subject to the annual business tax.

Assessable business income includes: the gross receipts from the employment of the capital of the business, including dividends, interest, royalties, rent and natural resource amounts; the gross receipts from the carrying-on of the business, including the consideration received for the disposal of trading stock and the gross fees for the provision of services; the amount of any bounty or subsidy received in relation to the business; the amount of an expense, loss or bad debt previously allowed as deduction that has been reimbursed or recovered by the business, including by way of insurance, compensation, damages or an indemnity; premiums received on the grant, surrender or assignment of a lease of property; and amounts distributed to a beneficiary as his share of the income of a trust estate.

Taxable business income is computed as assessable income less any allowable deductions. The same rules apply to individual business owners as for companies.

Investment Income

Gross dividends, interest, royalties, fees and natural resource amounts are included in the assessable business income of an individual for a tax year. Credit is provided for the WHT paid against the business tax payable for a tax year. If the amount of credit allowed for a tax year exceeds the business tax due by the taxpayer for the year, the excess credit shall be refunded to the taxpayer.

Interest

Interest payments made to a resident person are subject to WHT on the gross amount, as follows:

- 33% on bearer bonds;

Royalties

Royalties paid to a resident individual carrying on business activities in Seychelles are treated as part of business income and subject to business tax at the applicable rate.

Income from immovable property

Residential rental income derived by an individual in a tax year is exempt, where such rental income is from one single unit of property or dwelling only.

Payroll Tax

Every employer is required to submit a payroll withholding statement to the Seychelles Revenue Commissioner within 21 days after the end of the preceding calendar month. The payroll shall not be seen as a "tax" insofar as it corresponds to the employee income tax or non-monetary benefits tax which is withheld as a final tax by the employer. From 1 January 2012, a new Pension Fund contribution is levied on the gross salary. The new contribution applies at the rate of 1.5% charged to the employee and 1.5% or SCR50, whichever is higher, charged to the employer.

Individuals

There is no CGT for individuals in Seychelles.

Anti-avoidance

General

A general anti-avoidance rule is provided to disregard the tax effect of schemes entered into with one of the main purposes being the avoidance or reduction of tax liability. Specific anti-avoidance rules apply to income splitting arrangements.

Transfer Pricing

Transfer pricing adjustments may be made under domestic law in respect of international non-arm's length dealings. The Revenue Commissioner is empowered to adjust the liability of a taxpayer where he considers that a transaction has not been entered into or carried out by persons dealing at arm's length. No mechanisms exist for concluding advance pricing agreements (APAs).

Thin Capitalisation

Thin capitalisation rules were introduced by the BTA to deny excessive interest deductions. This includes interest expenses in respect of all debt incurred by a taxpayer in a tax year to the extent to which the taxpayer has used the funds or benefit of the debt or other instrument or agreement giving rise to the interest to derive taxable business income. With effect from 1 January 2010, interest on the amount of debt which exceeds the permitted debt-to-equity ratio is non-deductible. Previously, the interest amount which exceeded the debt-to-equity ratio was also treated as dividend.

Seychelles

Notes:

1. Prior to 1 January 2013, General Sales Tax (GST) was levied on all imported goods and specified services. The rates ranged from 10% to 15%, depending on the goods and services. GST was abolished as of 1 January 2013 and replaced by a VAT system. The standard rate is 15% VAT above *SCR2 million of annual turnover and is voluntary below SCR2 million of annual turnover. For a sale to be taxable, it must be made for payment. This is usually a monetary form but another form of payment such as barter transaction may be also be considered as payment.
2. VAT applies on goods and services supplied in Seychelles or imported into Seychelles.
3. Exports and certain other supplies are zero rated and allow for the refund of the input tax credit. Some specified transactions are exempt without credit for previously paid VAT.
4. Taxable persons for VAT purposes are any individual, entity, partnership, trust, estate, government body or public international organisation who is habitually engaged in selling goods, rendering services or importing goods and services.
5. Non-resident entrepreneurs who make taxable transactions in Seychelles are subject to VAT and must appoint a VAT representative in Seychelles if they do not carry on an enterprise through a fixed place. The Revenue Commissioner may require a security to be lodged.

SCR 2,000,000 is the new VAT threshold for the year 2015

Customs Duties/Trade Tax

Customs duty exists in the form of Trade Tax. Trade Tax is a tax generally levied on goods imported into Seychelles at rates varying from 0% to 200%. Concessions on trade tax are approved by the Policy and Strategy Division of the Ministry of Finance. The approval is either stamped on the Bill of Entry or set out in a letter attached to the Bill.

Excise Duties

An excise duty was introduced with effect from 1 January 2010. Excise duty is levied on oil, motor vehicles, alcohol and tobacco. A common rate of tax is applied to these four items, equally affecting imported and locally produced items.

For non-residents, the rate is set by the Cabinet of Ministers at the time of consideration of the application for sanction. The rate is set depending on the type of development plan proposed by the applicant, between 10% to 30% of the stated transfer value. The tax is payable by the buyer. A notary fee of between 1% to 2% of the transfer value is also applicable.

The surcharge is due to be paid if contributions have not been paid by the 15th day of the following month.

Tax Administration

Corporations

- Tax year – The tax year in Seychelles runs from 1 January to 31 December. A taxpayer may, with prior permission of the Revenue Commissioner, adopt an alternate accounting period of 12 months. However, this accounting period has to be applied consistently.

- Filing requirements – Returns are made on a monthly basis for most taxes using a Business Activity Statement (BAS). Business tax is levied by a provisional assessment under which an estimate is made by the tax office of the Business's final taxable income for the year, and one twelfth of this estimate is included on the BAS each month (to be lodged by 21st of following month). The monthly payments for a year start on 21 February and finish on 21 January the following year. Most businesses have a 31 December year end, but if a substituted year end is used the Provisional Tax will still be paid from February to January. A final return is lodged by 31 March each year with a cheque for any shortfall in the eventual tax or a claim for a refund of provisional tax overpaid. Registered Tax Agents can get extensions for specific businesses of this deadline.
- Payment – Business tax may be remitted in different ways, depending on the circumstances of the taxpayer. Most businesses submit an annual return for a tax year, which is treated as a self-assessment. Other businesses are required to pay their tax on a monthly basis ("pay-as-you-go" (PAYG) installments) or via withholding at source (for some specified businesses).
- Consolidated returns are not allowed.
- Penalties – Additional tax is imposed as a late payment penalty. A rate of 20% p.a. LPP is legislated starting immediately after the date the debt is due. A late lodgement penalty is an amount equal to the tax assessable or the amount of SR2 000. An omitted income penalty is imposed if changes are made during the assessing stage. The penalty does not exceed the double amount of tax that would have been avoided if it had been correct.

The late lodgement surcharge is legislated at the greater of the unpaid contribution or the amount of SR 250.00.

Seychelles

Tax Incentives

- The business tax reform broadened the tax base and provided for a gradual reduction in rates to promote competitiveness and achieve harmonisation across sectors.
- There may be concessions on business tax depending on the industry you are in. Concessions may apply if you hold:
 - a Tourism Incentive Act (TIA) Certificate
 - an Investment Promotion Act (IPA) Certificate or
 - an Agricultural and Fisheries Act Certificate or
 - Agriculture and Fisheries Incentive Act, 2005.
 - a license as an importer/retailer operating an Exclusive Shop Outlet as authorised by the Government
 - a license as an importer/retailer operating as a Duty Free Shop as authorised by the Government
 - a registration under the International Corporate Service Providers Act 2003.
 - a Company's Special License under the Companies Special Licenses Act 2003.
- The Seychelles Tax System has since 1 January 2010 moved to Self-Assessment for the business tax return. This means that at the end of each business year, all businesses should complete a Self-Assessed Business Tax Return which was introduced in line with the Business Tax Act 2009 (Section 58). The Self-Assessment system gives taxpayers greater equity and fairness, increased certainty and simplicity. It places greater responsibility on the taxpayer to assess their tax debt or refund. It is therefore very important that all businesses are well acquainted with the system.
- The VAT will replace the current multiple-rate goods and services tax (GST), broadening the indirect tax base and improving both the efficiency of the indirect tax system and external competitiveness.

Other Incentives:

- Registration of companies is fast and efficient.
- Excellent conference facilities and incentive trips tailored for companies which includes sporting facilities from golf, fitness programmes, water sports and game fishing.
- Low unemployment rate of 2.684% (2015)

Exchange Controls

In the Seychelles there is no restriction placed on payment of imports or invisibles, however, import permits are required to import certain products. There is a limited form of exchange control in that under the Exchange Control (Exemption) (Amendment) Order, 1995, it is illegal to deal in foreign currency other than with an authorised dealer.

Expatriates and Work Permits

Entry Visas

Irrespective of the nationality of the visitor and his or her family members, there are no visa requirements to enter Seychelles.

Work Permits

Foreigners working in Seychelles require a Gainful Occupation Permit (GOP) issued by the Immigration Division, Department of Internal Affairs. The permit allows the holder to reside and work in Seychelles either as a company employee or self-employed person. The application must be submitted at least 10 weeks prior to starting work and applicants are not permitted to enter Seychelles for the purpose of taking up employment before obtaining the GOP. Foreigners may not acquire an interest in immoveable property or shares in a company with an interest in immoveable property without prior sanction of the Cabinet.

Trade Relations

- Memberships – South African Development Community (SADC) and the Common Market for Eastern and Southern Africa (COMESA)
- International Organisations – United Nations and World Trade Organisation (as from 26 April 2015).

Sierra Leone

Income Tax

Residents

Residents are subject to tax on worldwide income.

Income Tax Rates for Resident Individuals (As from 1 January 2015)
Taxable Income as exceeds	But does not exceed	Rate
LE	LE	%
0	3 600 000	0%
3 600 001	7 200 000	15%
7 200 001	10 800 000	20%
10 800 001 +		30%

Notes:

1. Basis – Sierra Leone applies a worldwide system of income and capital gains taxation. However, there are a few exceptions to this general rule.
2. Residence – An individual is resident in Sierra Leone for the year of assessment if that individual: has a normal place of abode in Sierra Leone and is present in Sierra Leone at any time during the year of assessment; is present in Sierra Leone on more than 182 days in a 12-month period that commences or ends during the year of assessment; or is an official of the Government of Sierra Leone posted overseas during the year of assessment.
3. Rates – Progressive up to 30%. Notably, for individuals receiving employment income, there is a threshold on non-taxable allowance of LE2 640 000 per annum (LE220 000 per month)

Non-Residents

Non-residents are subject to tax on all payments from which withholding tax (WHT) is deducted and all other assessable income from a source in Sierra Leone.

Pay-As-You-Earn (PAYE)

PAYE is one of the oldest forms of WHT, where an employer “withholds” from the employee’s salary, at each pay day, the amount of tax that the employee owes the National Revenue Authority (NRA). The employer must then pay over the tax to the NRA. Under the PAYE system, a person’s employment income is spread over the tax year and taxed accordingly.

The Income Tax Act, 2000 (as amended), mandates the employer to deduct the tax due from the employees’ earnings and pay it over to the NRA before the fifteenth day of following month. However, PAYE is not due on a persons’ entire employment income and allowances. A portion of every person’s salary is tax-free.

The PAYE rates applicable to individuals resident in Sierra Leone are as follows:

Yearly Basis

PAYE Rates for Resident Individuals (As from 1 January 2015)
Taxable Income as exceeds	But does not exceed	Rate

Fringe Benefits Tax

Non-cash benefits given by employers to employees are included in employment income on the basis of the higher of the cost to the employer or the market value. Infrequent fringe benefits of very small value are excludable.

Payroll Tax

Every employer who employs individuals, who are not citizens of Sierra Leone, must pay a payroll tax not later than the 31st January every year. The amount of the tax is LE500 000 for Economic Community of West African States (ECOWAS) nationals and LE3 000 000 for all non-ECOWAS nationals.

Tax on Redundancy and Retirement Payments

New tax rates on redundancy and retirement payments are as follows:

First LE50,000,000 – 0%

Companies

Corporation tax is a tax paid on the chargeable income or profit of a company (after the deduction of legitimate expenses such as employees' wages, raw materials and allowable running costs). It is charged at 30%. However, the NRA is in advanced stages to increase it to 35% for 2016. All registered businesses conducting business in Sierra Leone, and those employing PAYE staff, have to pay corporation tax. The corporate tax rates for resident and non-resident companies are as follows:

Income Tax Rates for Resident Companies (As from 1 January 2015)
Corporation Tax	Rate
Basic rate	30%
Mining companies	30%
Capital gains	none
Rental income	10%
Dividends	0%
Interest	15%
Royalties	25%
Natural resource payments	25%
Payments to contractors	5%

Income Tax Rates for Non-Resident Companies (As from 1 January 2015)

Corporation Tax	Rate
Basic rate	30%
Mining companies	30%
Capital gains	none
Rental income	25%
Dividends	10%
Interest	15%
Royalties	25%
Natural resource payments	25%
Payments to contractors	10%

Notes:

1. Basis – Residents are taxable on worldwide income, subject to certain exemptions for foreign income. Non-residents are taxable on any payments subject to WHT, and all Sierra Leone income. Temporary residents are taxable on Sierra Leone income and any foreign income remitted to Sierra Leone.
2. Residence – A company is resident in Sierra Leone if: it is incorporated or formed under the laws of Sierra Leone; It has its effective management and control in Sierra Leone; or it undertakes the majority of its operations in Sierra Leone.
3. Rates – The standard corporate income tax rate is 30%.
4. Double taxation treaties (DTAs) – None of the DTAs entered into by Sierra Leone reduce the rate of WHTs on payments to non-residents.
5. Depreciation – Capital allowances are given instead.
6. Losses – Losses are allowable and can be carried forward indefinitely. Foreign exchange losses can also be deducted.
7. Branch profits tax – A branch in Sierra Leone of a non-resident company is considered to be a resident company. Its profit (chargeable income) is taxed at 30%.
8. Corporate groups – No special rules exist for the taxation of groups.
9. Foreign tax relief – A resident taxpayer may claim a tax credit for tax borne on assessable foreign-source income (including capital gains).
10. Dividends received by a resident company from another resident company are exempted from tax.

Withholding Taxes (WHTs)

A WHT is that tax which is collected by a registered taxpayer at source. Examples of WHTs include: PAYE, which is deducted and withheld by an employer from an employee's salary, rent tax, which is deducted and withheld by a landlord, and contractor's WHT.

The taxes collected in this way must be paid over to the NRA by the registered taxpayer by the end of the month following the month in which they were collected.

If the services of a person is employed to provide construction, transportation, management, or any other service and the payment for these services, is more than LE500 000 in any month, then tax must be deducted at the rate of 5% in the case of residents, and 10% if the payment is made to a non-resident. If goods are also supplied then the WHT also applies to the price of the goods. This also applies to lottery winnings above LE500 000.

Capital Gains Tax (CGT)

Gains derived from the disposal of a business or investment asset are included in taxable income. Gains from the disposal of any other asset are not taxed. The loss incurred on the disposal of a business or investment asset is also taken into account in determining a person's taxable income. A business asset is an asset held for the production of assessable income and which is used in a business or is held for sale in a business.

Anti-avoidance

Expenses incurred in these transactions are allowable but the Commissioner has the power to re-characterise a transaction entered into as part of a tax avoidance scheme.

General Sales Tax (GST)

There is no Value-Added tax (VAT) in Sierra Leone but GST applies. GST is a consumption tax. It is applied at a rate of 15% on most goods and services supplied by registered businesses. It was introduced in Sierra Leone in 2009 to replace seven former outdated taxes.

Imposition

GST is imposed on a taxable supply and a taxable import. The amount of GST chargeable on a taxable supply or import, is calculated by applying the rate to the GST, exclusive value of the taxable supply or import.

The rate of GST applicable on a taxable supply or import is:

- If the supply or import is zero-rated – 0%.
- If the supply or import is standard rated – 15%.

The GST chargeable on a taxable supply is the liability of the supplier and accounted for by the supplier to the tax authorities, while the GST on imports is paid by the importer.

If a non-resident principal makes a taxable supply or import through a resident agent, the liability for GST lies with the agent. However, if such supply is made by a principal, that is treated as resident and registered for GST. The liability lies with the principal resident under the GST Act and is defined as:

- Government entity or a local council.
- Person resident in Sierra Leone for the year in question, for the purposes of the Income Tax Act, 2000.
- A person, other than an individual, which is formed or created under an enactment or is managed and controlled in Sierra Leone (whether or not that person is resident in Sierra Leone for the year in question for the purposes of the Income Tax Act, 2000).
- Any other person to the extent that the person carries on a taxable activity in Sierra Leone.

Registration

A person is required to register for GST if:

- The person's turnover in a period of 12 or lesser months exceeds LE350 million;
- The person's turnover exceeds one-third of the threshold (LE350 million) in a period of four months ending on that day; and

Sierra Leone

- There are reasonable grounds to expect that the person will exceed the threshold (LE350 million) in the 12-month period commencing on the following day.

Customs Duties

Customs duties are levied on imported goods under a single customs tariff with no preferential or differential rates. Duties are both ad valorem and specific. The rates of customs duties range from 3% on raw materials for mining, manufacturing, tourism and infrastructure projects, to 40% on luxury goods. Specific duties apply to goods such as foodstuffs, petroleum products and beverages. However, duty exemption is provided for textbooks, medical equipment, agricultural inputs and personal effects.

Excise Duties

Excise duty is paid for certain consumer items, whether imported or produced locally. The duty is levied at varying rates on imported goods and domestically produced goods.

Miscellaneous Taxes

Other

All land acquisitions are subject to stamp duty, registration fees and a land tax.

Foreign Travel Ticket Tax

This tax was imposed by the Foreign Travel Ticket Tax Act, 1975, and amended by Act No.4 of 2004. It is imposed at a rate of 10% of the normal price of a return ticket from Sierra Leone and is payable by every person departing the country by ship, aircraft, or other means of transport, irrespective of whether or not the ticket is purchased, obtained issued, or received in Sierra Leone.

Business Licence

Businesses are obliged to register a licence at commencement and are no longer required to renew their licences annually. The fee for registration and licences is based on the capital of the company.

Social Security

Employers and employees contribute 10% and 5% respectively of the employees' employment income.

Tax Administration

The Domestic Tax Department (DTD) of the NRA administers Sierra Leone's domestic taxes. The DTD facilitates tax payment for the taxpayer because it provides a "one-stop shop" for all domestic taxes. This allows taxpayers to deal with a single office for all their tax affairs and to receive taxation advice in a comprehensive fashion. Notably, all income tax returns must be submitted within 120 days of the end of the tax year i.e. for a tax year from 1 January to 31 December by 30 April.

Corporations

- Tax year – The tax year runs from 1 January to 31 December.

Individuals

- Tax year – The tax year in Sierra Leone is the same as that for companies.

South Africa

Income Tax – Individuals

Income Tax

South African residents are taxed on worldwide income. Non-residents are taxed on their South African-source income, and on capital gains from the disposal of immovable property and assets effectively connected with a Permanent Establishment (PE) in South Africa.

An individual is tax resident if he/she is “ordinarily resident” in South Africa. Alternatively, an individual is resident if he/she is physically present in South Africa for more than 91 days during the current and each of the preceding five tax years, and is physically present in South Africa for a period exceeding 915 days in the aggregate in the preceding five tax years.

Taxable Income

Taxable income comprises gross income less exempt income and allowable deductions, plus taxable capital gains (see below). Gross income from employment includes all remuneration in cash or in kind, including bonuses, allowances and taxes reimbursed or paid on the employee’s behalf.

Age rebate*
Secondary rebate (65 years and older)	R7 407
Third rebate (75 years and older)	R2 466

*Additional to primary rebate.

Notes:

- Rates are progressive to a maximum rate of 41% for the tax year ending 29 February 2016.
- The tax year for individuals runs to the end of February.
- Tax returns must be filed by a date published annually by the South African Revenue Service (SARS).
- All persons who earn income exceeding prescribed tax thresholds are required to be registered as taxpayers with SARS. This process does not happen automatically on entering the country. Individuals who earn income other than remuneration are, subject to certain exemptions, required to register as provisional taxpayers. In addition, SARS reserves the right to classify any taxpayer as a provisional taxpayer.
- The tax threshold for the tax year ending 29 February 2016 is R73 650 for individuals below 65 years of age, R114 800 for individuals aged between 65 years and 75 years of age, and R128 500 for individuals aged 75 years and older.
- Rebates are a credit against tax payable. Rebates are available only to natural persons and not to companies and trusts and must be apportioned where a taxpayer is assessed for a period of less than a year.
- Taxpayers may be entitled to a foreign tax credit (rebate) for foreign tax paid where income from foreign sources was subject to tax in a foreign country and in South Africa.

Exemptions

Local Interest

Local interest earned by individuals is exempt from income tax up to certain levels. For the tax year ending 29 February 2016, the exemption is R23 800 for individuals who are under the age of 65 years, and R34 500 for individuals 65 years and older. Additional relief from tax applies under the special tax free investment rules (see below).

South Africa

Interest received by or accrued to a non-resident will not be taxable in South Africa, unless that person is an individual that is in South Africa for a period exceeding 183 days in aggregate during the 12-month period preceding the date on which the interest was received or accrued, or the debt from which the interest arises is effectively connected to a PE of that person in South Africa.

Prior to 1 March 2015, no withholding tax (WHT) applied in respect of interest paid to non-residents but with effect from 1 March 2015, interest paid to non-residents may be subject to WHT at a rate of 15% (see discussion under Withholding Taxes).

Tax Free Investments

New rules came into effect from 1 March 2015 which are exempt from income tax any amounts received by or accrued to an individual, deceased estate or insolvent estate of that person in respect of particular prescribed investment instruments and policies. Contributions to these prescribed investments/policies will be subject to a R30 000 annual limit and a R500 000 life-time limit. Capital gains and losses on the disposal of a tax free investment are disregarded, and no Dividends Tax (DT) applies on dividends paid to an individual, deceased estate or insolvent estate of that person in respect of a tax free investment.

Dividends

Subject to certain exceptions, local dividends are fully exempt from income tax in the hands of the recipient. Dividends from a Real Estate Investment Trust (REIT) are not exempt unless received by a non-resident.

Foreign dividends are subject to income tax in the hands of the recipient but are exempt if, for example, the shareholder holds at least 10% of the total equity shares and voting rights in the foreign company declaring the dividend. Foreign dividends received by individuals from foreign companies are taxable at a maximum effective rate of 15%.

Remuneration for Services Rendered Outside South Africa

South African residents working abroad for more than 183 days over a 12-month period, and for a continuous period of more than 60 days during that period, are exempt from income tax on remuneration for services rendered while abroad.

Foreign Social Security and Pension Payments

Social security payments received by South African residents from another country are exempt from tax in South Africa. There is also an exemption for lump sums, pensions or annuities received from a source outside South Africa in respect of past employment outside South Africa.

Other Exemptions

Further exemptions include: disability pensions, compensation for occupational injuries and diseases, Unemployment Insurance Fund (UIF) payments, alimony, government grants and scrapping payments etc. (subject to certain conditions being met).

Deductions and Tax Credits

Subject to certain restrictions (for example, see discussion under Limitation of Employee Deductions) and stipulations, deductions are granted for contributions to pension, provident and retirement annuity funds, certain donations, travel and motor vehicle expenses, entertainment expenses if an employee is paid on a commission basis, and certain other qualifying expenses. A tax credit is available for medical expenses incurred by a taxpayer.

General Principles

The Income tax Act permits the deduction of certain expenses incurred in the carrying on of an individual's trade. "Trade" includes a profession, trade, business, employment, calling, occupation or venture, including the letting of property. Certain activities may not be regarded as carrying on of trade (the most common being investments in dividend and interest-bearing stocks and income from pensions and annuities). In order for an expense incurred in the carrying on of trade to be tax-deductible either:

- The expense must comply with the requirements of the general deduction formula (a general deduction); or
- The expense must specifically be allowed as a deduction under a section of the Income Tax Act (a specific deduction).

General Deductions

General deductions are permitted under what is called the “general deduction formula”. The general rule is that if an expense does not comply with the requirements of the formula, it will not be deductible, unless specifically allowed by another section of the Income Tax Act. Where an expense qualifies for a deduction under both the general formula and a specific section, it may only be deducted once.

In terms of the general deduction formula, the following requirements must be fulfilled before an expense can be deducted:

- The amount must have been actually incurred or there must be an actual loss.
- The taxpayer must be legally liable to pay the amount.
- The expense, or loss, must have been incurred during the year of assessment in respect of which it is claimed.
- The expenditure must be incurred in the production of income.
- The expenditure must be of a revenue nature and not a capital nature.
- The expense must be expended for the purposes of trade.

Specific Deductions/Tax Credits

Those expenses which qualify for a deduction under a specific section of the Income Tax Act need only meet the requirements of the specific section and do not have to meet the requirements of the general deduction formula. Specific deductions or credits include the following:

Medical Expenses Tax Credit

The amount of the tax credit changes periodically and, for the tax year ending 29 February 2016, the tax credit comprises the following:

- Medical scheme fees tax credit:
 - Monthly tax credit of R270 each for the taxpayer and his/her spouse (or first dependant), and a further R181 for every additional dependant, in respect of fees paid to a registered medical scheme.
- Additional medical expenses tax credit:
 - Taxpayers 65 years of age and older, and taxpayers with a disability (taxpayer, spouse or child): 33.3% of the amount of contributions to a medical scheme as exceeds three times the medical scheme fees tax credit, and 33.3% of qualifying medical expenses incurred.
 - Taxpayers under 65 years of age: 25% of the aggregate of the amount of fees paid to a medical scheme as exceeds four times the medical scheme fees tax credit and qualifying medical expenses, as exceeds 7.5% of taxable income (excluding retirement lump sum benefits/withdrawals and severance benefits).

Notes:

1. It has previously been announced that a new National Health Insurance scheme is to be phased in over a period of time. Funding options to be considered include a payroll tax (payable by employers), an increase in the Value-Added Tax (VAT) rate and a surcharge on individuals' taxable income. Further details are awaited.

Foreign Tax Rebates and Deductions

See discussion on this topic under Companies.

Donations to Public Benefit Organisations (PBOs)

Donations to certain approved PBOs are tax deductible. The tax deduction is limited to 10% of taxable income (excluding retirement fund lump sums/withdrawals and severance benefits). These organisations include: most welfare, healthcare, education and development, land and housing, and conservation, environmental and animal welfare organisations, with certain exceptions. Any excess may be carried forward and is treated as a donation made in the subsequent year.

Pension Fund, Provident Fund and Retirement Annuity Fund (RAF) Contributions

Significant changes to the taxation of retirement fund contributions come into effect from 1 March 2016. Prior to this date, provident fund contributions by an individual are not deductible for tax purposes (any contributions made by a member are accumulated and deducted from the lump sum arising on retirement), and pension and RAF contributions are deductible as follows:

- Current pension fund contributions: Maximum deduction is the greater of:
 - R1 750; or
 - 7.5% of remuneration from retirement-funding employment.
- Arrears pension fund contributions: Maximum R1 800 (excluding former members of a non-statutory force or service).
- Current RAF contributions: Maximum deduction is the greatest of:
 - 15% of net income, excluding income from retirement-funding employment; or
 - R3 500, less deductible current pension contributions; or
 - R1 750.
- Reinstatement RAF contributions: R1 800.

With effect from 1 March 2016, the position is as follows:

- Employer contributions to retirement funds (i.e. pension and provident funds) will be a taxable fringe benefit in the hands of the employee (prior to 1 March 2016, such contribution on behalf of an employee is made without tax consequences to the employee).

- Individuals may claim a deduction of up to 27.5% of the greater of taxable income or remuneration, for contributions to pension, provident and RAFs, with a maximum annual deduction threshold of R350 000.

Limitation of Employee Deductions

Only certain expenses may be deducted by an employee, and specific limitations apply in respect of expenses relating to employment, except where the employee's remuneration is wholly or mainly derived in the form of commissions based on sales or turnover. Deductions available to an employee may include the following:

- Business travel deduction against travel allowance.
- Contributions to a pension fund, provident fund and/or RAF.
- Donations to certain PBOs.
- Specific expenditure against allowances of holders of a public office.
- Home office expenses under certain circumstances.
- Wear-and-tear allowances on assets used for the person's employment.

Employment Benefits and Allowances

Subsistence Allowances

Subsistence allowances are tax-free if they are granted to an employee who is obliged to spend at least one night away from his usual place of residence while on business and if they do not exceed the following amounts:

- Varying amounts per day for meals and incidental costs for travel outside the Republic, depending upon the country/countries visited.

South Africa

- R353 per day for meals and incidental costs for travel within the Republic (per current amounts).
- R109 per day for incidental costs only within the Republic (per current amounts).

Interest-Free or Low-Interest Loans

The difference between interest charged at the official rate and the actual amount of interest charged, is to be included in gross income as a taxable fringe benefit.

Residential Accommodation

The taxable fringe benefit to be included in gross income will ordinarily comprise the benefit calculated by applying a prescribed formula, but it will comprise the lower of the formula and the cost to the employer in circumstances where the employer supplied that it was obtained under an arm's length transaction with an independent third party.

No taxable fringe benefit will apply in certain circumstances, including in the case of accommodation provided to employees who are away from their usual place of residence within the Republic or their usual place of residence outside the Republic (i.e. in respect of expatriate employees), subject to certain conditions and limitations.

Company Car Fringe Benefit

The taxable value per month ordinarily comprises 3.5% of the "determined value" of the motor vehicle (if the vehicle is subject to a maintenance plan, the taxable value per month will be 3.25% of the determined value). In the case of a motor vehicle acquired by way of purchase from an independent third party, the determined value is the retail market value of the motor vehicle as listed by way of Government Notice. Different rules apply to a vehicle held under operating lease or other lease.

The taxable benefit will be reduced by any consideration paid by an employee (other than consideration relating to insurance, licencing, or maintenance or fuel, for which there are specific deductions available).

On assessment there will be a reduction in the taxable fringe benefit for business use where an employee can furnish accurate records of distances travelled for business purposes and total distances travelled. The employee will also be entitled to a reduction in the taxable fringe benefit where he/she has borne the full expenditure relating to maintenance, licencing, or insurance or fuel, in relation to the company car, and has kept accurate details thereof.

80% of the taxable fringe benefit will be included in remuneration for PAYE purposes. This monthly fringe benefit inclusion may be further reduced where employees travel extensively on business travel.

No taxable fringe benefit will arise in certain circumstances.

Travel Allowances

The following table sets out the three components of the rates which may be used in determining the cost of business travel, where actual costs are not used:

Value of the Vehicle (incl.VAT)	Fixed Cost	Fuel Cost	Maintenance Cost
(R)	(R p.a.)	(c/km)	(c/km)
0 - 80 000	26 105	78.7	29.3
80 001 - 160 000	46 505	87.9	36.7
160 001 - 240 000	66 976	95.5	40.4
240 001 - 320 000	84 945	102.7	44.1
320 001 - 400 000	102 974	109.9	51.8
400 001 - 480 000	121 886	126.1	60.8
480 001 - 560 000	140 797	130.4	75.6
Exceeding 560 000	140 797	130.4	75.6

* If the travel allowance is applicable to a portion of the tax year, the fixed cost is reduced proportionately.

 Where the travel allowance is based on actual distance travelled and business travel during the tax year does not exceed 8 000 kilometres, no tax is payable on an allowance paid by an employer to an employee, up to the rate of 318 cents per kilometre regardless of the value of the vehicle. This alternative is not available if other compensation in the form of an allowance or reimbursement (other than for parking or toll fees) is received from the employer in respect of the vehicle.

 The logbook method to claim business travelling expenses is compulsory.

South Africa

Capital Gains Tax (CGT)

Tax residents are subject to CGT in South Africa on the disposal of their worldwide assets. Non-residents are essentially subject to CGT in South Africa only on the disposal of fixed property, held directly or indirectly, located in South Africa.

On breaking tax residence, CGT will be payable on the deemed disposal of a tax resident's worldwide assets (excluding South African fixed property) i.e. the growth in value from the date of establishing tax residence to the date of breaking tax residence will be regarded as a capital gain and CGT will be payable.

33% of an individual's net capital gain for the year is included in his/her taxable income to be taxed at the applicable marginal tax rate. The general annual capital gains exclusion for individuals and special trusts is currently R30 000, and the exclusion on death is R300 000.

Various other exclusions and roll-over reliefs apply. These include an exclusion in respect of the disposal of personal use assets, an exclusion of up to R2 million on the disposal of a primary residence and an exclusion of up to R1.8 million on the disposal of a small business (when the owner is over 55 years of age and the market value of assets does not exceed R10 million). Roll-over relief applies, for example, in respect of the transfer of assets between spouses.

Other Tax Features

Married Persons

Married individuals are generally taxed as separate taxpayers but may be taxed equally on, for example, investment income if they are married in community of property.

Ringfencing of Losses from Certain Trades

Losses from certain trades conducted by individual taxpayers who are subject to the maximum marginal tax rate (e.g. annual taxable income exceeding R701 300 for the tax year ending 29 February 2016, excluding any loss from trade), are ring-fenced in certain circumstances and such losses may only be offset against income from that trade.

A trade subject to the ring-fencing comprises:

- A trade which has generated losses for at least three tax years out of the previous five years; or
- Any one of specifically listed trades, namely: sporting activities, dealing in collectibles, the rental of residential accommodation, vehicles, aircraft or boats (as defined in the Eighth Schedule of the Income Tax Act) unless at least 80% of the accommodation or asset is used for at least half of the tax year by persons who are not relatives of the taxpayer, farming or animal breeding on a part-time basis, any form of performing or creative arts, gambling or betting, and the showing of animals in competitions.

Even if the above requirements are met, the ring-fencing will not apply if the taxpayer can show that the business has a reasonable prospect of generating taxable income (other than a taxable capital gain) within a reasonable period. This exemption will, however, not apply if the taxpayer has incurred an assessed loss from a specified trade (other than farming) during at least six out of the prior ten years, including the current tax year.

Long-Term Insurance

Employer-paid premiums in respect of employer group income protection policies are taxed as a fringe benefit in the hands of employees. Payouts on such policies are tax free.

Keyperson Insurance Policies

Keyperson insurance policies are intended to insure an employer against losses suffered due to the death, disablement or severe illness of a key employee/director. Premiums paid on such policies are deductible, subject to certain requirements.

Severance Benefits and Retirement Fund Lump Sum Benefits

Severance benefits are lump sums received by employees from employers in respect of the relinquishment or termination of employment for the following reasons:

- Attaining the age of 55 years.
- Due to incapacity through sickness or other ailment.
- Retrenchment due to cessation of trade or general reduction in staff.

Severance benefits and lump sum awards from retirement funds following retirement or retrenchment are taxed according to the following table:

Taxable Income From Lump Sum Benefits*	Tax Payable
R0 – R500 000	0% of taxable income
R500 001 – R700 000	R0 + 18% of taxable income above R500 000
R700 001 – R1 050 000	R36 000 + 27% of taxable income above R700 000
R1 050 001 and above	R130 500 + 36% of taxable income above R1 050 000

* Taxable income is cumulative and includes all lump sum payments whether on retirement or withdrawal or a severance benefit.

Retirement Fund Lump Sum Withdrawal Benefits

Lump sum withdrawal benefits in consequence of membership of a retirement fund, including amounts assigned in terms of divorce settlements in certain circumstances, other than lump sum benefits as above, are taxed according to the following table:

Taxable Income From Lump Sum Benefits*	Tax Payable
R0 – R25 000	0% of taxable income
R25 001 – R660 000	18% of taxable income above R25 000

* Taxable income is cumulative and includes all lump sum payments whether on retirement or withdrawal or a severance benefit.

Employment Taxes

South African employment taxes comprise employees’ tax (PAYE), Skills Development Levies (SDL) and Unemployment Insurance Fund (UIF) contributions.

Employees’ tax is payable to SARS monthly at prescribed tax rates in respect of any remuneration payable by an employer to an employee.

SDL is also payable to SARS monthly and is calculated at 1% of the remuneration payable to the employee. SDL does not, however, apply to employers with an annual payroll of less than R500 000. UIF contributions are payable to SARS monthly and are calculated at 2% of the remuneration payable to the employees, subject to a maximum limit.

As a general rule, if an employer is required to withhold employees’ tax in respect of an amount paid to a person, that employer would, subject to certain limited exceptions, also be required to withhold SDL and UIF in respect of that amount.

South Africa

Pay-As-You-Earn (PAYE)

PAYE ensures that an employee's income tax liability is settled in a continuing fashion at the same time that the income is earned. The advantage of this is that the tax liability for the year is settled over the course of the whole year of assessment.

The employment tax rules essentially provide that, unless the person to whom the payment is made qualifies for specific tax relief, an employer is obliged to withhold employees' tax in respect of remuneration paid/payable to an employee if that employer is:

- A resident of South Africa; or
- A non-South African resident, but has a "representative employer" in South Africa.

Entities listed below would generally comprise an employer for South African employment tax purposes:

- Any South African resident company.
- A foreign company in respect of any branch/PE it may create in South Africa.
- Any South African resident sub-contractor.
- Any non-South African resident sub-contractor who has established a PE in South Africa.
- Any non-South African resident who has not established a PE in South Africa, but has an office or carries on a business in South Africa.

The above parties/employers are obliged to withhold employees' tax from the amounts paid to the persons who render services to them, unless the person to whom the payment is made, qualifies for specific tax relief.

Each employer should, on an individual basis, determine whether the person to whom the payment is made, qualifies for tax relief. This assessment depends on a number of factors, including whether the person is a South African resident or non-South African resident, and an individual or a corporate entity.

If the recipient of the payment qualifies for tax relief, no employees' tax needs to be withheld in respect of that specific person. If, however, no tax relief applies, the employer will be obliged to withhold employees' tax.

Notes:

1. The employers listed above will be required to register for employees' tax, SDL and UIF, and submit monthly employment tax returns and payments to SARS.
2. All persons (individuals and corporate entities, South African residents and non-South African residents) who are liable for income tax in South Africa, are required to register as taxpayers and must, where required, submit annual income tax returns.
3. Various fringe benefits and allowances may be provided to the employees as part of their remuneration packages on a tax-efficient basis if certain conditions are met.
4. Temporary employees in "non-standard employment" are not taxed based on standard tax rates for employees' tax purposes. Employers must deduct employees' tax at a rate of 25% from the taxable remuneration paid to temporary employees. No tax is deducted if the temporary employee works at least five hours on a specific day and earns less than R270 for that day.
5. Failure by an employer to comply with its employment tax obligations may result in significant penalties and interest being imposed by SARS.

Unemployment Insurance Fund (UIF)

Every employer will be liable to pay a monthly contribution to UIF in respect of its employees, which is based on a maximum (i.e. capped) monthly gross remuneration per employee of R14 872 (the limit is adjusted periodically). The employer will contribute 1%, and the employee will (by means of a deduction from salary) contribute 1% of remuneration, up to the prescribed calculation limit. Remuneration for purposes of calculating UIF excludes the following:

- Payments to independent contractors.
- Non-employment related payments (such as annuity or pension payments).
- Retrenchment payments.
- Lump sums paid from pension, provident, or retirement annuities.
- Restraint of trade payments.
- Commission.
- Payments made to juristic persons (such as companies).

Employees that are excluded from contributing toward UIF, but must still be reported in the return, are:

- Temporary workers (working less than 24 hours per month).
- Employees in the national or provincial sphere of government.
- Foreign employees that will be repatriated at the end of the service/employment contract term.
- Employees with no income, or commission only.
- Learners under contract (in terms of the Skills Development Act).

Notes:

1. It has been proposed that the Unemployment Insurance Contributions Act be aligned with the amendments in the Unemployment Insurance Amendment Bill, which proposes to extend unemployment insurance benefits to learners in learnership training, civil servants and foreigners working in South Africa. However, civil servants would not be expected to make contributions and instead, the fiscus would make funds available to cover the cost of government workers who qualify to claim unemployment insurance benefits.

Skills Development Levy (SDL)

Employers are liable to pay a monthly 1% levy of total remuneration paid by that employer, where the employer's annual payroll exceeds R500 000. Generally, the total value of remuneration paid is used to calculate the levy, but excludes the following:

- Amounts paid to independent contractors
- Reimbursement payments to employees
- Pensions paid
- Remuneration of learners under contract

Employment Tax Incentive

The employment tax incentive is aimed at encouraging employers to hire young and less experienced work seekers and thereby help reduce youth unemployment.

It comprises a deduction (credit) that may be claimed by employers against their employees' tax liability and, in general, it applies in respect of employees between the age of 18 years and 29 years, employees in a Special Economic Zone (SEZ) and certain industries that may be designated by the Minister of Finance. Currently, excess amounts can be set off against future PAYE liabilities.

For the first 12 months of employment, the incentive is as follows:

- 50% of an employee's monthly remuneration, up to R2 000 per month. (This would only be applicable if the minimum wage prescribed by the relevant sector determination or bargaining council agreement was less than R2 000 per month.)
- For an employee with a monthly remuneration of between R2 001 and R4 000, the incentive will be R1 000 per month.
- For employees with monthly remuneration of between R4 001 and R6 000, the value of the incentive will be between R1 000 and zero per month, as determined in terms of a formula.

For the second 12 months of employment, the incentive is as follows:

- Half of the amounts mentioned above apply.

The employment tax incentive is reduced proportionately in respect of employees who are employed for less than 160 hours in a month.

Notes:

1. To enhance this incentive, SARS has developed a mechanism to reimburse employers in instances where the incentive exceeds PAYE payable.

Tax Registration and Return Submission

The tax registration and tax return submission thresholds for individuals change periodically.

On the basis of requirements applicable to the 2015 tax year, it is anticipated (but still to be confirmed by official notice) that submission of a personal income tax return (ITR12) will be required by a taxpayer for the 2016 tax year (i.e. tax year ending 29 February 2016), subject to exceptions, in the following situations:

- Under 65 years of age and received an income of more than R73 650 from one or more sources during the tax year.
- Between 65 and 75 years of age and received an income of more than R114 800 from one or more sources during the tax year.
- Over 75 years of age and received an income of more than R128 500 from one or more sources during the tax year.
- Conducted any trade in South Africa.
- Received an allowance, such as a travel, subsistence or office bearer allowance (section 8(1)(a) of the Income Tax Act).
- Received interest in excess of R22 800 where under the age of 65 years (and in excess of R34 500 where over the age of 65 years).
- Had a local capital gain/loss exceeding R30 000.
- Held funds in foreign currency or owned assets outside South Africa above a certain threshold.
- Received any income or capital gain in a foreign currency.
- Held any rights in a controlled foreign company (CFC).
- Received an income tax return, or was requested by SARS to submit a return for the year in question.

Notes:

1. The term "trade" includes every profession, trade, business, calling, occupation or venture, including the letting of any property, but excluding any employment income.

Tax returns are generally submitted to SARS via eFiling.

The tax year for individuals runs from 1 March to the end of February each year. The submission deadline dates for individuals change periodically. Typically, these dates are around November for taxpayers who submit their returns electronically, and around January of the succeeding year for provisional taxpayers.

Notes:

1. The actual filing dates for the 2016 tax season (i.e. 1 March 2015 to 29 February 2016) have not yet been announced by SARS.

Income Tax – Companies

Income Tax

The principal source of direct tax revenue in South Africa is income tax.

South Africa has a residence-based system of taxation:

- South African residents are therefore taxed on their worldwide income, subject to a number of exceptions.
- Non-residents are taxed on income earned from a South African source.
- The question of residency needs to be addressed in the light of any double taxation agreements (DTAs) that may be applicable.
- Any company, which is either incorporated in, or effectively managed from South Africa, is deemed to be a South African resident for tax purposes.
- Domestic companies, and branches of foreign companies, which have their effective management outside South Africa, are taxed at a rate of 28%. Trusts (other than special trusts) are taxed at a rate of 41%.

Calculating Taxable Income

Gross income	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Receipts/accruals of a South African resident • Receipts/accruals sourced or deemed to be sourced in South Africa accruing to a non-resident
Less: Exempt income	• e.g. Local dividends
Less: Allowable deductions	• All non-capital expenses incurred in South Africa in the production of income
Less: Other tax allowances	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • e.g. Capital allowances on: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Plant and machinery - Buildings and improvements to buildings etc.
Plus: Taxable capital gain*
Equals: Taxable income

* Inclusion rate for capital gains: 33.3% for individuals and special trusts, and 66.6% for companies and other trusts.

Corporate Taxation – Rates of Tax *

Company Type	Taxable Income	Tax Rate
• Company tax (non-mining), including branches		28%
• Qualifying companies in a SEZ (not yet in effect)		15%
• Turnover tax: micro-businesses: on an elective basis, entities with an annual turnover of <= R1 million	R0 – R335 000	0%
	R355 001 – R500 000	1% of taxable turnover > R355 000
	R500 001 - R750 000	R1 650 + 2% of taxable turnover > R500 000
	Exceeding R750 001	R6 650 + 3% of taxable turnover > R750 000
• Small business corporations: entities with an annual turnover of <= R20 million	R0 - R73 650	0%
	R73 651 - R365 000	7% of taxable income > R73 650
	R365 001 - R550 000	R20 395 + 21% of taxable income > R365 000
	R550 001 +	R59 245 + 28% of taxable income > R550 000

* Unless otherwise stipulated, rates apply to financial years ending between 1 April 2015 and 31 March 2016.

 Turnover tax is a simplified system aimed at making it easier for qualifying micro-businesses to meet their tax obligations. The turnover tax system replaces income tax, VAT, provisional tax, CGT and DT for micro-businesses with a qualifying annual turnover of R1 million or less. A micro-business that is registered for turnover tax can, however, elect to remain in the VAT system. The rates above apply to years of assessment ending in the period of 12 months ending on 29 February 2016.

Local Dividends

- Dividends, being any amount transferred or applied by a resident company in respect of a share in that company, are generally exempt from income tax in the hands of the recipient.
- There are substantial restrictions and prohibitions that apply in respect of the exemption to corporate shareholders in respect of shares not actually owned, or certain categories of trading stock, borrowed shares, etc. Dividends from a Real Estate Investment Trust (REIT) are exempt, unless received by a non-resident.

Foreign Dividends

- A general blanket exemption of 26/41 for natural persons and trusts, 13/28 for companies, and 15/30 for individual policy holder funds, applies for all otherwise taxable foreign dividends. The result is that the maximum effective tax rate is essentially limited to 15%.
- Subject to certain exceptions (see below), foreign dividends are subject to income tax in the hands of the recipient.
- A foreign dividend means any amount paid by a "foreign company" (a company which is not a resident of South Africa) in respect of a share, where that amount is treated as a dividend or similar payment under the laws of the foreign country.

- In certain cases, foreign dividends (including dividends declared by a Headquarter Company (HQC)) are fully exempt from income tax in the hands of the recipient. The exemptions include, inter alia:
 - (a) Where the resident recipient (in the case of a company, together with any other company in the same group of companies) holds at least 10% of the total equity share capital and voting rights of the foreign company.
 - (b) If the recipient is a foreign company and the foreign dividend is paid or declared by another foreign company that is resident in the same country as that person.
 - (c) Where the recipient is a resident, foreign dividends paid out of income which has been included in the income of the resident recipient as a result of the application of the controlled foreign company provisions.
 - (d) Foreign dividends received by or accrued to a person that are in respect of shares that are listed and do not consist of a distribution of an asset in specie.
 - (e) Foreign dividends received by or accrued to a company that is resident in respect of a listed share and consists of the distribution of an asset in specie.

Notes:

1. The exemptions in paragraphs (a) and (b) do not apply to any foreign dividends that are tax deductible in the hands of the company paying the dividend. The exemption in paragraph (a) does also not apply to a foreign dividend paid in respect of a share other than an equity share.

Tax Deductions and Allowances

In addition to the general tax deduction that is permitted in terms of section 11 (a) of the Income Tax Act, for business expenditure that is not of a capital nature and that is incurred in the production of income, specific tax deductions and allowances may be allowed. In the context of a business, these include:

Expenditure and Losses Incurred before Commencement of Trade

Taxpayers are entitled to a deduction for pre-trade costs incurred before the commencement of trade. Pre-trade costs are not defined but they may include costs such as advertising and marketing, insurance, accounting and legal fees, rent, telephone, licences and permits. Capital costs, such as expenditure relating to the purchase of buildings and motor vehicles, will not qualify. Pre-trade costs incurred before the commencement of trade can only be set off against income from that trade.

Allowance in Respect of Future Expenditure on Contracts

Section 24C of the Income Tax Act permits the matching of receipts with corresponding future expenditure where such receipts arise in advance of the expenditure concerned. This is found in the treatment of construction contracts. The section 24C allowance is typically calculated by taking the gross profit percentage applied to the receipts to date on the contract, less the costs allowed on the contract to date. The allowance should not exceed the receipts, and should not create an overall loss. The allowance deducted in the current year shall be deemed to have accrued or been received in the following year of assessment, and as a result shall be included in taxable income in the following year.

Movable Capital Assets

With regards to capital assets which are not subject to other capital allowances, wear-and-tear at rates in terms of SARS Interpretation Note No. 47 (Issue 3) may apply. Any asset costing R7 000 or less may be written-off in the year in which it is acquired.

Industrial Buildings

Wear-and-tear is normally not allowed on buildings or other structures of a permanent nature. However, an allowance equal to 5% (20-year straight-line basis) of the cost to the taxpayer of industrial buildings, or of improvements to existing industrial buildings used in a process of manufacture (other than mining or farming), is granted.

Commercial Buildings

An allowance equal to 5% (20-year straight-line basis) is permitted of the cost to the taxpayer of new and unused buildings or improvements to buildings (other than in respect of the provision of residential accommodation). For the purposes of the 5% allowance, to the extent a taxpayer acquires part of a building without erecting or constructing that part, the following percentages below will be deemed to be the cost incurred:

- 55% of the acquisition price, in the case of part of a building being acquired.
- 30% of the acquisition price, in the case of an improvement being acquired.

Plant and Machinery

With regard to plant and machinery, the capital allowances apply as follows:

- Manufacturing or similar process (new only): 40%/20%/20%/20%.
- Industrial policy projects (additional investment allowance): 35% – 75%.
- Renewable energy technology equipment: 50%/30%/20% (100% for photovoltaic equipment) for years of assessment commencing on or after 1 January 2016).

- Small business corporations:
 - Manufacturing assets: 100%.
 - Other depreciable assets: 50%/30%/20%.

Environmental Expenditure Allowance

New, or unused, environmental treatment and recycling assets, can be depreciated for tax at the rate of 40% in the first year, and 20% in the following three years. New, or unused, environmental waste disposal assets can be depreciated for tax at the rate of 5% per annum.

Transportation/Transmission of Oil, Electricity and Electronic Communications

An allowance equal to 10%, 5% or 6.67% is permitted on the cost incurred by a taxpayer in respect of the acquisition of assets used for the transportation/transmission of oil, electricity or electronic communications respectively.

Rolling Stock

An allowance equal to 20% is permitted on the cost incurred by a taxpayer in respect of the acquisition or improvement of any rolling stock.

Research and Development (R&D)

A R&D tax deduction applies in respect of expenditure incurred by a company on the following:

- Systematic investigative or experimental activities of which the result is uncertain for discovering non-obvious scientific or technical knowledge, creating any invention, design, computer program or essential knowledge, specified improvements to the above, certain pharmaceutical products, and clinical trials: 150% allowance.
- New or unused buildings, machinery, plant, implement, utensils or article or improvements thereto, brought into use for the first time for R&D purposes: 50%/30%/20% allowance.

Notes:

1. The R&D must be approved by the Minister of Science and Technology to qualify for the enhanced allowance of 150%. To the extent that government grants are received to fund R&D, the expenditure so incurred does not qualify for the special allowance. Certain activities are excluded from the definition of R&D.

Intellectual Property (see also Research and Development)

- Costs incurred in acquiring (i.e. other than developing or creating):
 - Inventions, patents or copyrights: 5%.
 - Designs: 10%.

Notes:

1. Costs not exceeding R5 000 may be deducted in full. No deduction is available in respect of trademarks acquired.

Urban Development Zone (UDZ) Allowance

An allowance equal to 20% over 5 years is claimable in respect of the cost to the taxpayer of refurbishing an existing building in an UDZ once it is brought into use, where the existing structural or exterior framework is preserved. An allowance equal to 20% in the first year and 8% in the subsequent years is claimable in respect of the cost to the taxpayer of constructing new buildings and extending existing buildings in an UDZ, once brought into use. Different rules apply in circumstances where a person has acquired a building or part of a building from a developer.

Learnership Allowance

An allowance of R30 000 per annum is available as a deduction by employers for each registered learnership agreement. A completion allowance of a further R30 000 is available on completion. Where the learnership is two years or longer, the completion allowance will be the number of years times R30 000. Learners with a disability qualify for an additional R20 000 allowance.

South Africa

Venture Capital Company Shares

Special rules allow a taxpayer to claim a deduction for income tax purposes in respect of expenditure incurred in acquiring shares in a venture capital company that has been approved for such purposes by SARS.

Capital Gains Tax (CGT)

Residents of South Africa are liable for CGT on capital gains made on the disposal of their worldwide capital assets. CGT is not a separate tax but forms part of income tax:

- The inclusion rate for capital gains is 33.3% in respect of individuals and special trusts, and 66.6% in respect of companies and other trusts. The maximum effective tax rate is therefore 13.7% for individuals, 18.6% for companies and 27.3% for trusts.
- Exposure to CGT for non-residents is largely limited to disposals of South African real estate or assets of a branch business.
- Where a person/company becomes a resident, the market value of their assets at the date they become South African residents for tax purposes, must be established. This market value becomes the base cost which is used to calculate the capital gains upon disposal of capital assets in future. The subsequent cessation of resident status may result in a deemed disposal for CGT.

Foreign Tax Rebates and Deductions

Subject to certain requirements and limitations, foreign taxes paid by a resident on income (and any capital gain) that is taxable in South Africa may be deducted from South African tax payable, or may be deducted from income in determining taxable income. Any tax rebate or deduction under the relevant provisions may not be granted in addition to any relief to which a taxpayer is entitled under the provisions of a Double Taxation Agreement (DTA) - see below. Any surplus foreign tax credit may be carried forward for a limited period.

Until recently, a special foreign tax credit was claimable in respect of foreign taxes that may have been levied on fees paid to a resident for services rendered in South Africa. This provision has been deleted for years of assessment commencing on or after 1 January 2016.

Tax Losses

- A tax loss incurred by a company in any business activity may generally be carried forward without restriction and may be set off against future profits until exhausted, provided that the company continues to trade during the year of assessment.
- However, the losses earned by a foreign branch of a South African resident company cannot be set off against income from a South African source (i.e. ringfencing applies).

Transfer Pricing and Thin Capitalisation

Transfer pricing rules in South Africa are contained in section 31 of the Income Tax Act.

South Africa follows the OECD (Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development) Guidelines on transfer pricing and uses the arm's length standard/principle to test transactions between connected persons in an international transaction.

In determining an arm's length price/consideration, the five transfer pricing methods recommended by OECD are used. These include:

- Comparable Uncontrolled Price (CUP) Method.
- Resale Price (RP) Method.
- Cost Plus (CP) Method.
- Profit Split (PS) Method.
- Transactional Net Margin Method (TNMM).

There is currently no legislative requirement for organisations to prepare transfer pricing policies and documentation. However, the risk of an adverse transfer pricing audit from SARS is increased in the absence of such documentation and, in December 2015, SARS issued a draft public notice prescribing compulsory record-keeping and supporting documentation for transfer pricing in defined circumstances. It is expected that these rules will come into effect shortly.

In order to avoid adverse tax consequences, it is critical that any transactions between a foreign entity and any related South African entity be considered from a transfer pricing perspective.

Where a transaction between a resident and non-resident (or PE of a resident outside South Africa) is not carried out on an arm's length basis, the amount of the difference between the arm's length basis and the basis applied, if it results in a tax benefit for the resident, is deemed to be an in specie dividend paid by the resident if it is a company, or is deemed to be a donation by the resident if it is a person other than a company.

Section 31 no longer deals separately with the thin capitalisation rules. Instead thin capitalisation rules have been merged into the general transfer pricing rules. This means that the thin capitalisation rules will also apply to local branches of foreign companies.

Corporate Rules

The corporate rules provide relief for transactions between group companies or between shareholders and their company.

In this regard, a "group of companies" is defined as two or more companies in which one company (the controlling group company) directly or indirectly holds shares in at least one other company (the controlled group company) to the extent that:

- At least 70% of the equity shares of each controlled group company are directly held by the controlling group company, or one or more controlled group companies, or any combination thereof; and
- The controlling group company holds at least 70% of the equity shares in at least one controlled group company.

Notes:

1. For purposes of the corporate rules, the definition of group of companies excludes any company that does not have its place of effective management in South Africa.

The rules cover the following transactions:

- Asset-for-share transactions.
- Substitutive share-for-share transactions.
- Amalgamation transactions.
- Intra-group transactions.
- Unbundling transactions.
- Liquidation, winding-up and deregistration.

Each of the rules has qualifying criteria and anti-avoidance provisions. The rules provide for relief from income tax, CGT, transfer duty, securities transfer tax (STT) and, in certain circumstances, DT. VAT relief may also be obtained if certain conditions apply.

Because of concerns that the tax base is being eroded through the use of the corporate rules, provisions have been introduced that may deny the deduction of interest incurred on borrowings arising from a transaction in terms of the corporate rules in certain circumstances.

A transferor and transferee may enter into a written agreement that the relevant provisions do not apply in the case of asset-for-share transactions, intra-group transactions and liquidation transactions. With regard to amalgamation and unbundling transactions, the corporate rules will apply, unless the parties form part of the same group of companies and jointly elect/agree in writing for the rules not to apply. Full particulars of any transaction falling within these provisions must be disclosed in the taxpayer's tax return for the tax year in which the transaction takes place.

Special rules apply for determining contributed tax capital where shares are issued in terms of the rules.

Controlled Foreign Companies (CFCs)

Also included in the income of a South African resident is a proportional amount of the net income (including capital gains) earned by a CFC. A CFC is any foreign company where South African residents directly or indirectly hold more than 50% of the total participation rights or more than 50% of the voting rights in that company. The proportionate income of the CFC will be included in the income of the resident where the resident has participation or voting rights of 10% or more. The income of the CFC is to be determined as if the South African Income Tax Act applied to such entity.

South Africa

Exclusions from attribution of income under CFC rules include the following:

- Where the net income of the CFC is attributable to a foreign business establishment in a foreign country, provided that the foreign business establishment effectively operates at arm's length (subject to certain restrictions) and subject to specific anti-avoidance measures (diversionary rules).
- Where the income is subject to WHT in South Africa on interest, royalties or services fees.
- Where the net income of the CFC is included in its South African taxable income.
- Foreign dividends declared to a CFC by another CFC.
- Interest, royalties or rental income payable to a CFC by another CFC and exchange differences between such parties, where the entities are part of the same group of companies.
- Capital gains to the extent that the asset disposed of (subject to exclusions) is attributable to any business establishment of a CFC that forms part of the same group of companies as the CFC.

In addition, the net income of a CFC is deemed to be nil where foreign taxes paid by the CFC amount to at least 75% of the South African tax that would be payable had the CFC been a South African resident or (subject to certain conditions) all the receipts and accruals of the CFC are attributable to a foreign business establishment of the CFC.

Hybrid Equity Instruments, Hybrid Debt Instruments and Third Party Backed Shares

The Income Tax Act contains sections dealing with hybrid debt instruments, hybrid equity instruments and third party backed shares. These sections are anti-avoidance sections and are aimed at ensuring instruments are correctly classified as debt or equity for tax purposes.

Legislation to Limit Excessive Interest Deductions

As noted above (see Corporate Rules), provisions in the Income Tax Act restrict the deductibility of interest on acquisition and reorganisation indebtedness. In addition, there are provisions regulating the deductibility of interest in respect of a debt owed to a person that is not subject to tax in South Africa where the funds are obtained directly or indirectly from a person who is in a controlling relationship (holding at least 50% of equity shares or voting rights) in relation to the debtor.

Headquarter Company (HQC) Regime

The HQC regime is directed at establishing South Africa as a jurisdiction of choice for investments into Africa. Essentially, the regime provides for a relaxation for HQCs of the CFC and arm's length rules, for dividends declared by these companies to benefit from the same exemptions available to foreign dividends and other benefits.

More specifically, the following areas of tax relief will be granted to entities qualifying as HQCs (or their shareholders where applicable):

- Foreign subsidiaries of HQCs will not be treated as CFCs under the normal rules and therefore no "net income" of any CFC can be imputed to a HQC.
- Dividends declared by the HQC will be exempt DT.
- HQCs engaged in financial assistance will enjoy relief from the transfer pricing provisions to a certain extent.
- Interest paid or owed by a HQC to a foreign person, to the extent that it relates to back-to-back lending arrangements, will be exempt from the WHT on interest.
- A HQC will be treated as a foreign company for the purposes of the CGT participation exemption for the benefit of qualifying shareholders disposing of their interest in such HQC.

A resident company may elect to be HQC for a year of assessment if the following criteria are met:

- If, during the relevant year and all prior years, each shareholder (together with related group companies) held 10% or more of the equity shares and voting rights in that company;

South Africa

- If, at the end of the relevant year and all prior years, 80% or more of the cost of the total assets of the company was attributable to equity shares in, loans to, or intellectual property licensed to, any foreign company in which the company (together with related group companies) held at least 10%; provided that in determining the total assets of the company there must not be taken into account any amount in cash or in the form of a bank deposit payable on demand, and in determining whether the requirements for inclusion within the definition have been satisfied, no regard must be had to any year in which the company did not own assets with a market value in excess of R50 000; and
- Where the gross income of the company exceeds R5 million, if 50% or more of the gross income of the company consisted of dividends, interest, royalties or fees from any foreign company contemplated above, or of proceeds from the disposal of shares in such foreign company, or the above intellectual property.

Notes:

1. A HQC must submit to the Minister an annual report within such time and containing such information as the Minister may prescribe.

Withholding Taxes (WHTs)

Dividends Tax (DT)

- DT is levied at a rate of 15% on dividends declared by domestic companies and in respect of shares of non-resident companies that are listed on the Johannesburg Stock Exchange (JSE). It does not apply to dividends paid by a HQC.
- The 15% rate may be reduced under an appropriate DTA (see table below).
- Dividend payments to domestic companies, the government, provincial administrators or municipalities, domestic retirement funds, a rehabilitation company or trust, PBOs and various exempt bodies, are exempt from DT. Exempt shareholders will have to certify their exemption status.
- In respect of in specie dividends, the distributing company (not the shareholder) will bear the liability, although it will be subject to similar exemptions and treaty relief as cash dividends. This has administrative implications for companies whose dividends normally flow through "regulated intermediaries" (i.e. in the case of in specie dividends) as the administrative burden will be upon the company itself.

- The dividend definition is broad, with the result that value-transfers (understood as deemed dividends) may be taxed under normal WHT rules.
- A dividend will be deemed to be paid on the earlier of the date on which the dividend is paid or becomes payable by the company that declared the dividend.

Branch Remittances

- Profits remitted by a branch of a foreign company are not subject to WHT.

WHT on Royalties

- A WHT applies to royalties paid to, or for the benefit of, any foreign person to the extent that the royalty is received or accrued to that foreign person from a source within South Africa.
- The WHT on royalties is a final tax and it is levied at 15% (prior to 1 January 2015, 12%). The rate may be reduced under an appropriate DTA (see table below).
- The WHT does not apply in respect of royalties paid to a foreign person if that foreign person is an individual who was physically present in South Africa for a period in excess of 183 days in the 12-month period preceding the date on which the royalty was paid, or if the property in respect of which the royalty paid is effectively connected to a PE of that foreign person in South Africa and the foreign person is registered as a taxpayer in South Africa. It also does not apply to royalties paid by a HQC in certain circumstances.

WHT on Interest

- A new WHT on interest came into effect from 1 March 2015. It is applicable to interest paid to, or for the benefit of any foreign person, to the extent that the interest is received or accrued from a South African source.
- The WHT on interest is a final tax and will be levied at a rate of 15%. The rate may be reduced under an appropriate DTA (see table below).
- Certain exemptions apply, including in respect of interest on government bonds, listed debt and debt owed by a local bank.
- The WHT will also not apply to interest paid by HQC, nor will it apply to interest paid to non-resident individuals spending in excess of 183 days in South Africa in the 12-month period preceding the date on which the interest is paid, or if the relevant debt is effectively connected with a PE in South Africa and the foreign person is registered as a taxpayer in South Africa.

WHT on Service Fees

- A new WHT on service fees is proposed to come into effect from 1 January 2017 at the rate of 15% in respect of service fees paid to, or for the benefit of, any foreign person, to the extent that the service fees are received or accrued from a South African source.
- At this stage, it appears that the introduction of the new WHT on service fees will not proceed.

WHT on Entertainers and Sportspersons

- A 15% WHT applies in respect of gross payments made to non-resident entertainers and sportspersons performing in South Africa. Failure to deduct or withhold tax, or pay it to SARS, will render the resident taxpayer personally liable for tax. It is a final tax.

Sale of Immovable Property

- A WHT is imposed on the proceeds of the sale of fixed property in South Africa by non-residents where the proceeds exceed R2 million. The tax is an advance in respect of the seller's liability for income tax.
- The amounts to be withheld by the purchaser from payments made to the non-resident seller are:
 - Where the seller is a natural person – 5% of the amount payable.
 - Where the seller is a company – 7.5% of the amount payable.
 - Where the seller is a trust – 10% of the amount payable.

Double Taxation Agreements (DTAs)

South Africa has concluded DTAs with a number of countries, the primary purpose being the prevention of double taxation. The agreements essentially divide up the taxing rights between the contracting countries, in situations where they might both claim such rights. Another purpose to these agreements is the prevention of tax evasion by taxpayers of the contracting countries.

The countries in relation to which existing comprehensive treaty agreements are in force or are in the process of negotiation (or finalised but not yet in effect) are reflected in the tables that follow.

*D - No rate is specified in the treaty, so the domestic South African rate (15%) applies

Notes:

- The lower rate applies to dividends paid to a company that holds at least 25% of the capital of the payer company; otherwise, the higher rate will apply.
- The lower rate applies to dividends paid to a company that holds directly at least 10% of the voting power in the payer company; otherwise, the higher rate will apply. Under the UK/SA DTA, the rate of 15% applies to dividends declared by a property investment company.
- The lower rate applies to dividends paid if residents of Russia hold at least 30% of the capital of the payer company and have directly invested in the equity share capital of that company an amount not less than USD100 000 or the equivalent thereof in the relevant currency; otherwise, the rate is 15%.
- The 5% rate applies to dividends paid to a company (other than a partnership) that holds directly at least 20% of the capital of the payer company; otherwise, the rate is 15%.
- The lower rate applies to dividends paid to a company that holds at least 15% of the capital of the payer company; otherwise, the rate is 20% (or lower domestic rate).
- The alternative lower rate will apply in qualifying circumstances that are specifically defined in the relevant treaty.

Other

Partnerships

Partnerships are not treated as separate taxable entities for income tax purposes. Each partner is taxed only on his/her share of the partnership's taxable income.

Exempt entities and Public Benefit Organisations (PBOs)

- Receipts and accruals of PBOs are exempt from income tax to the extent that the receipts and accruals are not from business or trading activities, or are from integral, occasional or approved business or trading activities (subject to certain conditions).
- Certain trading activities are totally tax-free. Certain trading activities are partially taxable.
- The PBO can treat the greater of R200 000 and 5% of its total business or trading receipts and accruals for the year, as exempt.
- PBOs may register as a vendor for VAT purposes in order to claim VAT inputs on supplies made to it.

South Africa

- Donations to PBOs are exempt from donations tax and bequests to PBOs are exempt from estate duty. Donations or bequests to PBOs are further not viewed as disposals for CGT purposes.
- Similar provisions exist for other exempt entities, such as specially exempt entities, government departments, municipalities, sporting bodies and the like.

Shipping Companies

A company that is a resident, that holds a share or shares in one or more ships that are utilised in international shipping, is exempt from income tax (including CGT) on its international shipping income. It is also exempt from WHT on interest in respect of interest paid to a foreign person for debt used to fund the acquisition, construction or improvement of a South African ship used for international shipping, and dividends WHT on any dividend derived from international shipping income, is levied at 0%.

Mining, Insurance, Oil and Gas, Farming and Public Private Partnerships

Special rules apply to mining and insurance companies, oil and gas companies, farming activities and public private partnerships.

Small Business Funding Entities

New rules came into effect from 1 March 2015 that provide relief to entities funding small businesses. These entities will, for example, be exempt from income tax and dividends WHT on a similar basis to PBOs.

Special Economic Zones (SEZs)

Subject to certain conditions, companies that carry on business within a SEZ are subject to corporate income tax at the special rate of 15% on taxable income derived from business within that SEZ, to 10% capital allowance on new or unused buildings (or improvements) within the SEZ and to other benefits. The date on which these special rules are to come into effect still needs to be announced.

Government Islamic Bonds (i.e. Sikuks)

The regime allows for asset-based financing with the yield giving rise to tax that is equivalent to interest. These bonds essentially serve as the standard for risk-free Islamic financing within South Africa

Provisional Tax

Any company and other person who derives income other than remuneration (salary/allowance), is a provisional taxpayer. Certain exclusions apply.

A first provisional tax payment (due six months into the tax year) is calculated using the "basic amount", which is the taxable income per the last year of assessment in relation to which a notice of assessment was issued, less any taxable capital gain in that year. If the abovementioned assessment is in respect of a period that ends more than one year after the latest year of assessment in relation to such estimate, the basic amount determined shall be increased by an amount equal to 8% per annum of that amount from the end of such year to the end of the year of assessment in respect of which the estimate is made.

In the event that a provisional taxpayer's taxable income is more than R1 million, a 20% penalty will be levied where a provisional taxpayer's second provisional tax payment (due at the end of the tax year) is based on a taxable income that is less than 80% of the taxpayer's actual taxable income for that year.

In the event that a provisional taxpayer's taxable income is equal to or less than R1 million, a 20% penalty will be levied where a provisional taxpayer's second provisional tax payment is based on a taxable income that is less than 90% of the taxpayer's actual taxable income for that year.

Notes:

1. Where the amount of any estimate is not within the abovementioned 80% or 90% of the taxpayer's actual taxable income for that year, and the Commissioner for SARS is satisfied that the amount of any estimate was seriously calculated with due regard to the factors having a bearing thereon, and was not deliberately or negligently understated, or if the Commissioner is partly so satisfied, the Commissioner may in his/her discretion remit the additional tax or part thereof.

Tax Administration

Tax Registration

Any company which becomes liable for any normal tax, or becomes liable to submit any return of income, is required to register as a taxpayer and any such person must register (as a taxpayer) at SARS within 60 days after, so becoming a taxpayer.

South Africa

Entities are required to register as taxpayers for corporate income tax (CIT) purposes include the following:

- Listed public companies.
- Unlisted public companies.
- Private companies.
- Cooperatives.
- Other e.g. small business corporations (an entity with an annual turnover of less than R20 million).

Tax Year

The tax year of a company is the same as its accounting year.

Filing Requirements

Companies are required to file their income tax returns (ITR14s) annually within 12 months of the company's financial year-end. Advance payments of tax (provisional tax) must be made twice a year based on estimates of the final tax amount, with the first payment during the first six months of the company's financial year and the second before the end of the year. Where the provisional tax payments are less than the final tax liability, a third provisional tax payment should be made within six months after the end of the tax year.

Supplementary Declaration Return (IT14SD)

An IT14SD return may be issued to a company by SARS and is intended to reconcile a taxpayer's financial information across tax types and customs. The IT14SD consists of the PAYE, income tax, VAT and customs reconciliation schedules that must be reconciled and submitted by the taxpayer, where applicable.

Consolidated Returns

South Africa does not allow for taxation on a group or consolidated basis. Each company in a group of companies is a taxpayer in its own right.

Penalties

Penalties and interest are imposed for failure to comply.

Statute of Limitations (Prescription)

Where an assessment is issued by SARS, the statute of limitations is three years from the date of the original assessment, unless there is fraud, misrepresentation or non-disclosure of material facts. In the case of a self-assessment, it is five years from the date of the original assessment.

Voluntary Disclosure Tax Relief

A permanent legislative framework for voluntary disclosure, that applies to all tax types, exists.

Rulings

A taxpayer may apply for a tax ruling in accordance with the advance tax ruling system. The ruling generally will be binding on SARS.

Transaction Taxes

Value-Added Tax (VAT)

The principal source of indirect taxation revenue in South Africa is VAT.

The standard rate of VAT is 14%. Exports, certain foodstuffs, and other supplies, are zero-rated, and certain supplies are exempt (mainly certain financial services, residential accommodation and public transport).

Any person that carries on an “enterprise” in South Africa for VAT purposes and that makes taxable supplies above a certain threshold (currently R1 million per annum), is obliged to register as a VAT vendor. Investment in South Africa, both by a branch or through a subsidiary, will constitute an enterprise and will therefore require VAT registration.

VAT (output tax) is levied at 14% on the value of any supplies made by a vendor, unless such supplies qualify for a zero rating (for example, supplies physically rendered outside of South Africa are subject to VAT at the zero rate) or are exempt from VAT.

Any South African VAT charged to the vendor by suppliers, as well as VAT levied on the importation of goods, will generally be deductible as an input tax credit by the vendor.

VAT returns are generally submitted every two months but businesses with an annual turnover in excess of R30 million must submit monthly returns. Returns must be submitted within 25 days after the end of the tax period (or, in the case of electronic filing, by the last business day of the month in which the 25th day falls). Payment in full must accompany the return.

Transfer Duty

Transfer duty is applicable to real estate transactions that are not subject to VAT.

Value	Duty Payable*
First R750 000 of consideration	0%
R750 001 to R1 250 000	3% of property value > R750 000
R1 250 001 to R1 750 000	R15 000 + 6% of property value > R1 250 000
R1 750 001 and R2 250 000	R45 000 + 8% of property value > R1 750 000
R2 250 001 and above	R85 000 + 11% of property value > R2 250 000

* These rates are applicable to both natural and legal persons (companies and trusts).

Notes:

- Where the sale of fixed property attracts VAT, no transfer duty is payable. The indirect acquisition of residential property by way of the acquisition of shares, or a contingent right in a discretionary trust, is subject to transfer duty. Taxpayers engaged in, for example, asset-for-share rollovers (e.g. upon formation of a company) obtain relief from transfer duty. Also, no transfer duty is applicable, for example, in respect of transfers on death or divorce.

Securities Transfer Tax (STT)

STT is levied at a rate of 0.25% on every transfer of securities issued by a company incorporated, established or formed in South Africa and foreign incorporated companies listed on a licenced exchange.

Transfers include the transfer, assignment or cession, or disposal in any other manner, of a security but exclude any event which does not result in the change in beneficial ownership, the issue of a security, and cancellation or redemption where corporate existence is being terminated.

Estate Duty

Estate duty is payable on the dutiable amount of a deceased estate. In general, the estate of a person who was ordinarily resident in South Africa at the date of his/her death includes all his assets irrespective of where they are situated. In addition, an asset which is located in South Africa may be subject to estate duty even though the owner was not ordinarily resident in South Africa at the date of his/her death.

An estate consists of all the property of a person at the date of death, including limited rights in property (such as a usufruct) and deemed property. Deemed property includes the following, whether or not the proceeds accrue for the benefit of the deceased's estate:

- Domestic policies of insurance on the life of the deceased.
- Accruals under the Matrimonial Property Act.

The deductions allowed in terms of section 4 of the Estate Duty Act, in calculating the dutiable amount of an estate, include:

- Liabilities of the estate, including funeral and administration expenses.
- Certain foreign assets held by the deceased.
- Charitable and certain other bequests.
- Property which is inherited by the surviving spouse (a spouse includes heterosexual or same sex life partners and spouses married under any recognised system of customary or religious law).
- Any CGT payable by the estate (death triggers a disposal for CGT purposes).

A R3.5 million abatement (R7 million for a couple) is deducted from all estates, regardless of personal circumstances. Estate duty is payable on the resultant dutiable amount of the estate of a person at the rate of 20%.

Donations Tax

Donations tax is payable where a donor donates property valued in excess of R100 000 per annum (R10 000 in the case of donors other than natural persons). The tax is levied at a rate of 20% on such excess and is payable by the donor.

Where spouses are married in community of property, a donation made by one spouse out of the joint estate will be deemed to be made in equal shares by each spouse.

Donations tax is only payable where the donor is an individual resident in South Africa or is a private company (for tax purposes) which is either incorporated in, or has its place of effective management in South Africa. Public companies are exempt from donations tax.

A "donation" includes any gratuitous disposal of property or waiver of a right.

Certain donations are exempt from tax. These include the following:

- Donations between spouses.
- Donations cancelled within six months from the date they took effect.

South Africa

- Donations made by public companies.
- Donations to approved PBOs and recreational clubs.
- Donations by/to/for any traditional council, traditional community or tribe.
- Donations between group companies where the recipient is a resident of South Africa.
- Donations of property situated outside the Republic provided certain conditions are present.

A “deemed donation” is any disposal of property for a consideration which in the opinion of SARS is not an adequate consideration. In the case of a deemed donation, the value of the property (for donations tax purposes) is reduced by any consideration given by the donee.

Other Taxes

Customs Duties

At present, customs and excise duties are imposed in terms of the Customs and Excise Act No. 91 of 1964. Customs duties are levied on imported goods with the aim of raising revenue and protecting the local market. They are usually calculated as a percentage of the value of the goods (set out in schedules to the Customs and Excise Act). However, meat, fish, tea, certain textile and petroleum products, attract rates of duty calculated either as a percentage of the value or as cents per unit (for example, per kilogram or metre). The customs value is based on an FOB value. Preferential or free rates of customs duties are applicable where trade agreements exist (listed under Trade Relations below), subject to particular rules of origin.

Customs duties are levied throughout the Southern African Customs Union (SACU), consisting of the Republic of South Africa, the Republic of Botswana, the Kingdom of Lesotho, the Republic of Namibia and the Kingdom of Swaziland, on import into SACU.

For the latest Customs Duties, refer to Schedule 1 Part 1 to the Customs and Excise Act, 91 of 1964 at www.sars.gov.za (under Legal and Policy – Primary Legislation).

Excise Duties

Excise duties and levies are imposed mostly on high-volume daily consumable products (e.g. petroleum, alcohol and tobacco products), as well as certain non-essential or luxury items (e.g. electronic equipment and cosmetics). Excise duties are levied on both imported and locally manufactured goods. These duties and levies are self-assessed by the client per periodic excise return and, depending on the product, paid to SARS on either a monthly or quarterly basis.

Excise duties are payable throughout SACU at point of manufacture or on import and is based on the “duty at source” principle.

The customs and excise duties raised within the various member states are pooled and finally distributed between the SACU member states based on statistics and formulas.

For the latest Excise Duties refer to Schedule 1 Part 2 to the Customs and Excise Act, 91 of 1964 at www.sars.gov.za (under Legal and Policy – Primary Legislation).

Notes:

1. The Customs and Excise Act No. 91 of 1964 is in the process of being replaced by an entirely new set of rules which will be contained in the Customs Duty Act, the Customs Control Act and the Excise Duty Act.
2. The last mentioned Act, will come about by way of the Customs and Excise Amendment Act 2014, which changes the name of the current Customs and Excise Act to the Excise Duty Act.
3. New rules to the Customs Acts are still being drafted and the current Customs and Excise Act 1964 will remain in place until the new legislation and rules become effective. This is expected to take place in 2016.

Environmental Levy on CO₂ Emissions of Motor Vehicles

New passenger motor vehicles with carbon dioxide (CO₂) emissions in excess of 120g/km, and motor vehicles used for the transportation of goods with CO₂ emissions exceeding 175g/km attract a CO₂ environmental levy. The levy is not payable on motor vehicles that can transport 10 or more persons, or new motor vehicles manufactured and cleared for home consumption for purposes as defined (i.e. hearses and ambulances, shuttle cars for underground mines, special purpose motor vehicles etc.).

Carbon Tax

The National Treasury published the Draft Carbon Tax Bill on 2 November 2015. Carbon tax is planned to be effective from 1 January 2017 and will follow a calendar year as a tax period. Entities that engage in activities that produce direct Green House Gas (GHG) emissions will be liable for the tax based on mandatory reporting requirements designed by the Department of Environmental Affairs (DEA). Only entities with a thermal capacity of around 10MW will be subject to the tax in the first phase.

An initial marginal carbon tax rate of R120 per ton CO₂-e will apply. However, taking into account all of the tax-free thresholds, the effective carbon tax rate will vary between R6 and R48 per ton CO₂-e.

The carbon tax will be administered as if it were an environmental levy as contemplated in section 54A of the Customs and Excise Act 1964 that must be collected and paid in terms of the provisions of that Act.

Environmental Levy on Electricity Generated In South Africa

Electricity generation by using non-renewable (fossil) fuels and environmentally hazardous (nuclear) sources are subjected to the payment of an Environmental Levy if generated in South Africa. Electricity generated by electricity generation plants with an installed capacity not exceeding five (5) megawatts will not be liable to the payment of Environmental levy.

Fuel Levy

Fuel/Petroleum products, including Petrol, Diesel, Bio-Diesel, Unmarked Aliphatic Hydrocarbon Solvents and Unmarked Illuminating Kerosene (Unmarked Paraffin) are subjected to the payment of Excise Duty, the Fuel Levy and the Road Accident Fund (RAF) Levy, if consumed within South Africa and Excise Duty only if consumed in any of the other SACU Member States.

As from 1 April 2015, the general fuel levy increased by 30.5c per liter. This has increased the general fuel levy to R2.55 per litre of petrol and R2.40 per litre of diesel.

Air Passenger Tax

This tax came into effect on 1 November 2000, and is charged at a different/slightly lower rate for destinations in SACU countries than that for destinations outside of those countries. The standard rate departures are R190 per ticket for a destination other than SACU countries, while BLNS countries (Botswana, Lesotho, Namibia and Swaziland) have a lower rate departure of R100 per ticket. There are a few exemptions as per section 47B (3) of the Customs and Excise Act 1964. This tax is included in the ticket price and the airline/operator is liable to pay SARS.

Diamond Export Levy

On 1 November 2008, a diamond export levy on unpolished diamonds exported from South Africa, was introduced. Although this is legislated in the Diamond Export Levy Act, SARS is mandated to administer and collect this levy. All producers, dealers, beneficiators and/or holders of permits, must pay this levy when exporting such diamonds. The export rate of duty is 5% of the total value less overpaid, or plus underpaid. The Act provides for six-monthly payments.

Mineral and Petroleum Resources Royalty

SARS collects a royalty for these resources in terms of the Mineral and Petroleum Resources Royalty Act 2008, and the Mineral and Petroleum Resources Royalty (Administration) Act 2008. The rates for the mineral and petroleum resource royalties are currently; for refined mineral resources: the minimum of 0.5% to a maximum of 5%; and for unrefined mineral resources: the minimum of 0.5% to a maximum of 7%. These royalties should be paid at the same time as the corporate provisional tax cycle.

Exchange Controls

Basic Position

Exchange control is administered by the South African Reserve Bank (SARB) which has delegated powers to Authorised Dealers (banks licenced to deal in foreign exchange). The Exchange Control Department has been renamed the Financial Surveillance Department.

South Africa does not impose exchange controls on non-residents, but exercises exchange controls over residents and transactions entered into between residents and non-residents i.e. non-residents may freely invest in, or disinvest from, South Africa and may remit all income from their South African investments. However, there are controls on outward investment by South African residents. For exchange control purposes, a resident is a person (natural person or legal entity) whether of South African or any other nationality, who has taken up residence, is domiciled or registered in South Africa.

Certain exchange control restrictions on foreign investors include:

- Limited local borrowing restrictions exist on entities in which 75% or more of the shares, voting or control, or rights to capital or income, are held by non-residents. South African branches of foreign companies also fall subject to these restrictions. Borrowing for investment in residential property and financial transactions, which can be defined as the purchase and sale of any securities (listed or unlisted), repurchase agreements and any derivative transactions on securities, is limited to 100% of shareholder's funds.
- Where unlisted shares, fixed property, a business or other major assets, are transferred between a resident and a non-resident, the value of the assets transferred must be verified.
- Restrictions on the remittance of certain income. For example, exchange control approval is required for royalties and payments for services that are calculated based on a percentage of turnover, income, sales or purchases.

There are no thin capitalisation rules imposed in terms of exchange controls but the rate of interest payable on foreign loans will be limited by the SARB, although, after approval has been granted, interest is freely transferable from South Africa. Foreign nationals temporarily resident in South Africa may, subject to completing formalities through an Authorised Dealer, conduct their affairs on a resident basis while resident in South Africa and may repatriate accumulated earnings or capital introduced.

Institutional Foreign Investment

Institutions are able to invest in foreign portfolio investments using cash transfers regulated by prudential regulation. There has been a shift from a pre-application process for foreign investment to a system of regular reporting and monitoring. Limits on foreign asset holdings of institutional investors (e.g. life offices, unit trusts and pension funds), are detailed below:

- The foreign exposure limit for pension funds, and the underwritten policies of long-term insurers, is 25% of total retail assets.
- The foreign exposure limit on collective investment schemes, investment managers and the investment linked business of long-term insurers, is 35% of total retail assets.
- An additional allowance for portfolio investment in Africa, equal to 5% of total retail assets, for all institutional investors.
- Authorised Dealers are able to acquire direct and indirect foreign exposure up to 25% of total liabilities, excluding shareholder's equity.
- Appropriately mandated private equity funds meeting certain criteria will be able to obtain upfront approval for investments in Africa.
- Furthermore, South African companies, trusts, partnerships and banks are permitted to participate without restriction in the Rand futures market on the JSE.

South Africa

Immigrants

On arrival, immigrants must notify their local bank that they own foreign assets and undertake not to place the assets at the disposal of South African residents. If an immigrant departs, he/she may freely transfer out of South Africa all assets brought into South Africa, as well as any remaining South African assets. After expiration of the five-year period, if he/she immigrated after 13 March 1995, he may transfer out of South Africa all assets brought into South Africa, as well as the prescribed limits for normal emigrants. Concessions are available to all immigrants to remit amounts in respect of pension fund contributions, life insurance premiums, loan repayments and foreign tax commitments from South Africa within five years.

South African Resident Corporations

Applications by corporate entities to invest abroad are considered on their merits and in the light of national interest. Applications for investments under R1 billion per year are adjudicated by Authorised Dealers. There are no limits on amounts that may be remitted abroad for investment. Dividends declared and repatriated to South Africa (between 18 February 2004 and 26 October 2006) qualify for an exchange control credit and may, subject to approval, be retransferred abroad to refinance or for approved new investments. Dividends declared and paid after 26 October 2006, may be utilised for any purpose at any stage, except for loans or investment into the Common Monetary Area (CMA). Headquarter companies that are approved by the Financial Surveillance Department may invest offshore without restriction.

Exchange Control Developments

Ongoing amendments to exchange controls, as well as financial market legislation, make South Africa an attractive investment prospect and brings it in line with international best practice.

Past amendments have included, for example, the National Payment System Act of 1998 (which confers greater powers and duties on the South African Reserve Bank to provide clearing and settlement facilities, bringing the South African financial settlement system in line with international practice on settlement systems and systematic risk management procedures) and the introduction of payment clearing house agreements and agreements pertaining to settlement, clearing and netting agreements, and rules to create certainty and reduce systemic and other risks in inter-bank settlement. Other developments have also included the withdrawal of the application process to make new outward foreign direct investments where the total cost of such investment does not exceed R1 billion per company per year and removing controls on emigrant blocked assets.

Recent exchange control relaxations have resulted in the following concessions:

- A special type of South African holding company which both JSE-listed and unlisted entities will be able to establish for holding African and offshore operations without it being subject to exchange control restrictions. Each entity will be entitled to establish one such subsidiary.
 - The aforementioned entity will also be able to operate as a cash management centre for the South African multinational and cash pooling will be allowed without restrictions.
 - Such holding companies will also be able to raise and deploy capital offshore provided it is without South African guarantees.
 - Transfers from the parent company to the holding company will be allowed within a R2 billion per annum limit for listed companies and R1 billion per annum for unlisted entities.
 - The Financial Surveillance Department of the SARB will, on application, consider transfers of up to 25% of the listed company's market capitalisation to the holding company provided there is a demonstrated benefit to South Africa.
 - Income generated from cash management will be freely transferable.
 - Holding companies may choose their functional currency or currencies and operate both foreign currency and Rand-denominated accounts for operational purposes.
 - There will be no restriction on transfers into and out of the holding company provided such transfers comply with regular reporting requirements and are not undertaken to avoid tax commitments.
 - The Financial Surveillance Department of the SARB will consider, on application and on a case-by-case basis, the listing of the holding company and joint ventures.
- Further refinements to the HQC rules have also been announced.
- Banks will be permitted an additional five percentage points on their macro-prudential limits for further expansion into Africa.
- The requirement that collateral for securities lending transactions are by way of cash cover in Rand or the pledge of unencumbered non-resident owned local assets, have been lifted and Authorised Dealers will now be able to accept non-Rand based collateral.
- Debt and equity instruments issued by entities in the CMA, will be classified as domestic assets.
- The JSE will be permitted to offer African agricultural commodity derivative contracts in foreign currency, subject to certain requirements.
- The ability to operate gold and other commodity exchange traded funds will be opened to a wider range of financial institutions and these funds will be classified as domestic assets for prudential purposes.
- A review will be undertaken of the current stance that intellectual property is deemed to be capital for exchange control purposes.
- Member funds:
 - In order to provide domestic investors with a channel to obtain foreign exposure, while at the same time benefiting from enhanced customer protection, foreign member funds will be introduced which will not be subjected to the macro-prudential limit applicable to Institutional Investors.
 - These member funds will comprise collective investment schemes and alternative investment funds (including private equity, venture capital and hedge funds). They will be permitted to source funding from non-residents, domestic institutional investors, subject to permitted macro-prudential limits and, in respect of individuals, subject to their foreign capital investment allowance limit.
- Foreign member funds will be required to be domiciled, managed and tax compliant in South Africa, and subject to the Financial Services Board and Financial Surveillance Department of the SARB.
- Accessing capital for growth into Africa:
 - Unlisted technology, media, telecommunications, exploration and other R&D companies will be allowed to freely list offshore to allow them to raise capital for their operations provided they remain incorporated in South Africa and a tax resident and are effectively controlled and managed from South Africa. Their intellectual property is to remain registered in South Africa.
 - Following a successful offshore listing, the entity will be required to secondary list in South Africa within two years.

South Africa

- JSE-listed companies will be freely permitted to secondary list offshore.
- In line with promoting access to offshore capital, intellectual property developed in South Africa may be freely assigned offshore subject to the appropriate tax treatment.
- Changes applicable to Authorised Dealers:
 - Authorised Dealers will be required to submit a revised macro-prudential limit report.
 - Authorised Dealers will be permitted to participate in foreign syndicated loans irrespective of the status of the borrower (this is for exchange control purposes only) and within the macro-prudential limit applicable to the Authorised Dealer.
- Miscellaneous reforms:
 - Customer foreign currency (CFC) accounts – Foreign currency purchased in the spot market or the maturity proceeds of hedging contracts may be credited to CFC accounts and paid away within 30 days. Previously, this timeframe was restricted to the following business day.
 - Credit card limits – The current limit of R20 000 per transaction will be increased to R50 000 per transaction to cover miscellaneous payments for imports, services and subscriptions.
 - Payments for imports – In respect of payments in advance for imports within a limit of R50 000, the presentation to an Authorised Dealer of an invoice only will suffice, obviating the requirement to subsequently present further import documentation.
 - Income transfers to South African residents temporarily abroad – South African residents temporarily abroad will be able to receive pension fund and annuity payments without the specific approval of the Financial Surveillance Department of the SARB.

- Corporate foreign direct investment – Companies that have utilised a portion of their authorised foreign direct investment allowance in a calendar year will be able to remit the balance in the following calendar year without obtaining the specific approval of the Financial Surveillance Department of the SARB.
- Emigrant transfers – Previously emigrants were permitted to export listed securities in lieu of a foreign capital allowance. This has been expanded to include unlisted shares under certain conditions still to be announced.

Work Permits and Visas

South Africa's immigration system is regulated by the Immigration Act. This Act sets out the categories of permits available. There are two basic components to the South African system, namely visas and permanent residence permits. Persons not having permanent residence status in South Africa are required to obtain work visas before arriving in the country. These visas are granted or refused depending upon whether the individual has skills in scarce supply or the employer can qualify for intra company transfer visas or has corporate visas.

Trade Relations

The South African Government, through the dti, seeks to support the objectives of industrial development and upgrading, employment growth and increased value-added exports by negotiating trade agreements with other countries. The International Trade and Economic Development Division (ITED), within the dti, is the body responsible for such trade negotiations.

These agreements take different forms. Below is a summary of the various trade agreements that South Africa is party to:

3. A supply of goods and services can also be exempt (i.e. fall outside the scope of VAT). A supplier of exempt supplies cannot charge VAT nor claim input tax. Exempt supplies include financial services, educational services and passenger transport.
4. Businesses with taxable supplies exceeding E500 000 are required to register for VAT. Registration below this threshold is voluntary and at the discretion of the Commissioner.
5. VAT returns and payments are generally required to be submitted every month within 20 days of the end of the VAT period.
6. The VAT system provides for a reverse charge mechanism for services imported from foreign suppliers. The obligation to calculate VAT and pay it to the SRA, is that of the Swaziland purchaser and is not a WHT. Applicable WHTs remain payable.

Customs and Excise Duties

South African Customs Union (SACU) member states (Botswana, Lesotho, Namibia, South Africa, Swaziland) are required to apply similar customs and excise duties. Various excise duties are levied on both imported and local goods, such as tobacco, vinegar, alcohol and petroleum products. Tax Incentives

- Capital allowances:
 - Plant and machinery used in a process of manufacture – 50% initial allowance in the first year of use and a 10% annual allowance on the reducing balance method over the lifetime of the asset.
 - Hotel construction and improvement allowance – 50% of the cost is deductible in the year in which it is incurred on the construction of a new hotel or beneficial improvements to an existing hotel. In addition, an annual allowance of 4% of such expenditure is allowed.
 - Buildings (and improvements thereto) used to house manufacturing plant and machinery (industrial buildings) – 50% initial allowance in the first year of use and an additional 4% annual allowance. The initial allowance is deductible at the taxpayer’s discretion. The allowance is a one-time deduction in the year in which the building is first brought into use, or the improvements are completed, and it is subject to the condition that the building must be used to house machinery or plant which at the time of installation is new or unused or, if the machinery or plant is not new, has not previously been used in Swaziland, and which does not replace other machinery or plant. This initial allowance is also available to taxpayers who lease an industrial building to a lessee who uses it in his business.
- Employee housing allowance – For the erection of dwellings for employees, an allowance of 20% may be claimed for the first year and 10% for each of the succeeding eight years. The same concessions are given to farmers in respect of the erection of any buildings used for the domestic purposes of any employees.

Swaziland

- Export promotion expenditure:
 - 133% deduction on approved export promotion expenditure incurred during the year preceding the year of assessment by an approved company in the handicraft and cottage industry sector.
 - 150% deduction on approved export promotion expenditure incurred during the year preceding the year of assessment by an approved trading house. (The allowance is subject to the approval of the Commissioner and the Ministry of Enterprise and Labour).
- Farming – Certain capital expenditure is tax-deductible, but the total deduction in any year of assessment is limited to 30% of the gross income derived by the farmer from farming operations. Any amount disallowed is carried forward and added to expenditure in the succeeding year.
- Certain tax incentives are available to investors qualifying as a “development enterprise” in terms of issued guidelines. These incentives include a 10% CIT rate for 10 years and an exemption from WHTs on dividends for the same period.
- Losses – Where income is exceeded by allowable deductions, an assessed loss is created. Such loss may be carried forward indefinitely for set off against taxable income in future years of assessment. The proviso exists that the taxpayer must continue to operate and derive income.
- Foreign-source income – Only income which has a source, or deemed source, in Swaziland will be subject to tax in the Kingdom. Foreign-source income is exempt from Swaziland tax.
- Exemption from non-resident shareholders tax and non-resident tax on interest – There is provision in the Order to exempt a non-resident person from non-resident’s shareholder’s tax, and from non-resident tax on interest in respect of dividend income and interest income, in cases where the Government has given an undertaking to grant such exemptions.

Exchange Controls

Swaziland is a member of the Common Monetary Area (CMA) with South Africa, Lesotho and Namibia. In broad terms, it constitutes a single exchange control area. As a member of the CMA, monetary developments in Swaziland reflect the monetary policy pursued and implemented by the South African Reserve Bank. There are no restrictions on inward investment by foreigners and profits may be fully repatriated. There are restrictions on outward investment by local residents.

The administration of the exchange control regulations, is undertaken by the Central Bank of Swaziland in cooperation with Authorised Dealers. Generally, all loans and shareholdings abroad, are subject to prior approval.

Expatriates and Work Permits

Subject to meeting certain criteria, these may be granted to investors and skilled personnel.

Trade Relations

- Memberships include:– South African Customs Union (SACU), South African Development Community (SADC), World Trade Organisation (WTO), World Customs Organisation (WCO), Common Market for Eastern and Southern Africa, European Free Trade Area, African, Caribbean and Pacific Group of States (ACP).

- Swaziland lost its African Growth and Opportunity Act eligibility status with effect from January 2015.

Notes:

1. Swaziland has signed an interim Economic Partnership Agreement (EPA), which will cover trade in services and investments between the SADC-EPA states and the European Union (EU). It is expected that the final agreement will be signed in May 2016.

Introduction

The Minister for Finance and Economic Affairs, Honourable Saada Mkuya Salum (MP), presented the Budget Speech and Economic Status comprising the estimates of the Government revenue and expenditure for financial year 2015/16, to the National Assembly on 11 June 2015, in Dodoma. Agriculture remains a top priority for the Government and the largest employer of over 85% of the population.

The Budget changes were supported by Finance Bill 2015, which has since been enacted into Finance Act 2015. The 2015/16 revenue measures were effective from 1 July 2015.

Income Tax

Residents

Residents are taxed on worldwide income.

Income Tax Rates for Resident Individuals: From 1 July 2015
Monthly Taxable Income as exceeds	But does not exceed	Tax Payable
Tshs	Tshs	Tshs
0	170 000	0%
170 000	360 000	0 + 11%
360 000	540 000	20 900 + 20%
540 000	720 000	56 900 + 25%
720 000		101 900 + 30%

Notes:

- An individual is considered resident in Tanzania for tax purposes if the individual:
 - Has a permanent home in Tanzania and was present in Tanzania at any time in the tax year; or
 - Is present in Tanzania for 183 days or more in the tax year; or
 - Was present in Tanzania in that tax year and in each of the two preceding tax years, for periods averaging more than 122 days per year; or
 - Is an employee or an official of the Government of Tanzania posted abroad during the tax year.
- Individuals are also taxed on the value of any benefit or advantage arising from employment.

- The tax-free amount for purposes of Pay-As-You-Earn (PAYE) continues to be Tshs170 000 following the increase in the minimum threshold in 2012.
- The 2015 Finance Act provided for a 1% reduction on the lower band PAYE rate payable by resident individuals. The minimum tax rate chargeable for the year of income has been reduced from 12% to 11%.
- The rate of Skills and Development Levy (SDL) payable by the employer remains to be 5% following the reduction from 6% to 5% in 2013.
- The Act also reinstated the exemption from SDL to the agricultural sector.
- Workers Compensation Fund has been established with an additional levy payable by employers at 0.5% and 1% of the total wage bill for a given period for both public and private employers respectively.

Non-Residents

Non-resident individuals are subject to a fixed tax rate of 20% on total income from a source in Tanzania. However, non-residents are taxed on their income from employment that is Tanzanian sourced at 15%, which is a final tax. In addition, certain payments made to non-residents are subject to withholding taxes (WHTs). (See Withholding Taxes below).

Companies

Income Tax Rates for Companies: Years of Assessment Commencing On or After 1 January 2005
	Rate
Companies	30%
Alternative Minimum Tax (AMT)	0.3%

Notes:

1. The corporate tax rates have remained unchanged since 1 January 2005.
2. Where the underlying ownership of a company changes by more than 50%, as compared with the ownership at any time during the preceding two years, the company is treated as having realised its assets and liabilities held immediately before such change in control at their market value.
3. This provision was introduced in 2012. However, the Finance Act 2015 has amended the provision further by reducing the period of time required to trigger Tanzanian tax consequences. Capital gains tax will now apply where the underlying ownership of an entity has changed by more than 50%, as compared with that ownership at any time during the previous 2 years instead of 3 years as it was previously set. Shortening this window of time from 3 years means that changes beyond the 2 year limit will not trigger capital gains tax implications.
4. Shareholders disposing shares in Tanzanian companies are required to pay a single instalment tax (10% for residents and 20% for non-residents) before the title in the shares can be transferred.
5. A 4% royalty is charged on gold and other metallic mineral; 5% on diamonds, uranium and gemstones; 1% on gemstones (cut and polished); 3% for other minerals (e.g. coal) and 12.5% for petroleum and gas produced onshore and in shallow water. The royalty rate for deep sea hydrocarbon production is 7.5%. An 80% or 0.52 USD levy is charged on exports of raw hides and skins.
6. Companies having five consecutive years of tax losses will be taxed at 0.3% on their turnover on the fifth year.
7. The Finance Act 2015 has introduced exemption on interest on bonds issued by the East African Development Bank (EADB) which are listed in the Dar es Salaam Stock Exchange.

Notes:

1. This table is applicable to self-employed individuals whose businesses have an annual turnover of less than Tshs20 million and applies to individual's income that consists exclusively of income from business with a source in Tanzania. A standard assessment is made (i.e. the graduated tax rates for individuals are not applied) and no tax returns need to be submitted.

Mining

The Income Tax Act (ITA) was amended to allow the mining companies to claim full deduction on equipment used for prospecting and exploration for minerals during their first year of use.

Oil and Gas

Finance Act 2014 extended the definition of "technical services" to the oil and gas sector. The definition of technical services for income tax purposes now includes services relating to seismic survey, data interpretation, drilling or any such services which are typically associated with the oil and gas sector.

Oil and gas entities procuring these services will now be required to withhold either 5% or 15% tax from residents or non-resident service providers respectively. The WHT is a final tax which means resident service providers will suffer the tax on their turnover. Since it is a final tax, technical services providers will not have additional corporate tax liabilities on income subjected to the 5% tax.

The parliament recently passed into law legislations aimed at putting in place a legal and regulatory framework to govern the sector. These legislations include the Petroleum Act 2015, Tanzania Extractive Industry (Transparency and Accountability) Act 2015 and Oil and Gas Revenue Management Act.

Income Tax Rates for Non-Corporate Businesses

Financial Sector

Recently there has been a conflict between the financial sector in Tanzania (which is regulated by the Bank of Tanzania (BoT) and Tanzania Revenue Authority (TRA) regarding deductibility of bad debts in the sector. The BoT has guidelines on how the financial institutions should determine bad debts from an industry perspective. TRA do not agree with the BoT's guidelines and has often queried and disallowed financial institutions' bad debts that are based purely on the basis of the guidelines. A number of banks have challenged TRA's position and there are a couple of cases working their way through the court hierarchy.

Finance Act 2014 amended the law in this area to introduce more stringent requirements to financial institutions.

In addition to the BoT guidelines, financial institutions will now be required to demonstrate that they have taken all reasonable steps in pursuing the bad debts, and the institution must reasonably believe that the debt claim will not be satisfied.

The 2015/2016 budgets aspires to continue to improve policy and legislation environment in the Financial Sector. The National Payment System Act of 2015 which regulate and supervise all electronic payments is expected to become operational during the year

Annual directors fees	15%	15%
Government payments
- Suppliers of goods to the Government	2%	0%
- Money transfer commission ¹²	10%

Notes:

1. All supplies of goods to a resident corporation, whose budget is wholly or substantially financed by the Government, by a resident corporation irrespective of whether or not they hold a Tax Identification Number (TIN) are subject to WHT of 2%.
2. The non-resident WHT specified in the table alongside, the WHT on technical services to mining companies, and the resident WHT rates for dividends, interest on deposits from a financial institution to an individual, and rent to an individual, are final taxes.
3. Finance Act 2013 imposed a 5% WHT on service fees paid by a resident person (including a Permanent Establishment (PE)) to another resident person. The tax is an advance tax that can be offset against the corporate tax liability for the year.
4. A 15% WHT is applicable where service fees are paid to a non-resident person with a source in Tanzania. Income is sourced in Tanzania where services are rendered in Tanzania, though the TRA is attempting to tax payments where the service is consumed in Tanzania, regardless of the location of performance.
5. The repatriated income of a local PE of a non-resident person is subject to a WHT of 10%.
6. Tax withheld must be paid to the Commissioner within seven days after the end of the month in which the amount is withheld.
7. The requirement to withhold tax does not apply to individuals unless the payment is made in conducting a business.
8. The WHT rates may, in respect of payments to non-residents, be reduced by an applicable Double Tax Agreement (DTA). Tanzania's DTAs, and the WHT rates in terms of these agreements, are set out below.

9. WHT on lease payments for land/buildings to a non-resident withholder, has been reduced to 10% instead of 15% (as previously).
10. Finance Act 2013 introduced a 10% WHT on the commission on money transfers by a money transfer agent.
11. Finance Act 2014 removed exemption rental charges on an aircraft lease paid to a non-resident by a person engaged in an air transport business. A 10% WHT now applies.
12. Finance Act 2014 introduced a 15% final WHT on fees paid to directors who are board members.
13. Finance Act 2014 also exempted from PAYE, payments in respect of annual directors' fees to full-time service directors.
14. The Finance Act 2014 extended the definition of technical services to include oil and gas sector. Oil and gas entities procuring technical services will now be required to withhold 5% or 15% final tax from residents and non-residents respectively.

Maximum WHT Rates Once a DTA is Applied

Recipient's Country of Residence	Dividends	Interest	Royalties
Canada	10% ¹	10%	15%
Denmark	10%	10%	15%
Finland	10%	10%	15%
India	10% ¹	10%	15%
Italy	10%	10%	15%
Norway	10%	10%	15%
Sweden	10% ¹	10%	15%
Zambia	0% ²	10%	15%
South Africa	20% ³	10%	10%

Notes:

1. The WHT rate may be reduced if certain levels of shareholdings are held.
2. The reduced rate only applies if the dividend payment is taxed in the recipient's country of residence.
3. A preferential rate of 10% applies where the beneficial owner holds at least 15% of the capital of the company paying the dividends.
4. All of these tax treaties (except the treaty with Italy) provide that no WHT can be levied on branch profits.

Controlled Foreign Corporations (CFCs) and Trusts

Residents are taxed on the undistributed income of controlled foreign corporations and controlled foreign trusts. A “controlled foreign trust” or “controlled foreign corporation” means a non-resident trust or corporation in which a resident person has an interest, whether directly or indirectly through one or more interposed non-resident entities, and where the person is “associated” (i.e. connected) with the trust or corporation.

A controlled foreign corporation/controlled foreign trust is treated as having distributed its unallocated income at the end of each tax year and the shareholders or beneficiaries are treated as having received such income. The unallocated income of the corporation or trust is determined as if it were a resident of Tanzania, less any distributions made.

Thin Capitalisation, Transfer Pricing and Income Splitting

In a Gazette Notice (published on 7 February 2014), Tanzania introduced transfer pricing (TP) regulations. The regulations require taxpayers to have a TP policy in place when filing their corporate tax returns and furnish the Commissioner with the policy when requested to do so. However, TRA have indicated that they consider a grace period to allow taxpayers to comply.

The TP regulations largely follow the United Nations (UN) and OECD Guidelines, and are for the most part consistent with the OECD TP guidelines. However, where inconsistency exists, the Tanzania TP regulations will prevail.

Notes:

1. The Income Tax Act provides that where transactions between associated persons are not at arm's length, the Commissioner has the discretion to make adjustments to the taxable income. Similar rules apply when there is an attempt to split income and thereby reduce the tax payable, whether dealing with associated companies or not. In terms of the thin capitalisation rules, the Finance Act amended the existing rule. Interest deductions will now be limited to the extent of a debt to equity ratio of 70:30. This interest is disallowed permanently in the year incurred.

Capital Gains

Residents and non-residents could be liable for income tax on capital gains. This applies to land, buildings and shares or securities held as securities. The rate is 30%, with an instalment tax due at the time of transfer of land or buildings, being 10% for resident persons and 20% for non-resident persons. Finance Act 2012 imposed a single instalment requirement on sale of shares in a resident corporation by a foreign/non-resident shareholder. The instalment is payable before the title to an investment asset is transferred. Moreover, the transfer shall only be registered upon certification by the Commissioner that the instalment has been paid or that no instalment is payable. This aims at controlling tax avoidance. Gains realised by a person carrying on a business are generally taxed as business income.

Inheritances and Donations

There is no donations tax or estate duty in Tanzania.

Value-Added Tax (VAT)

The Government has introduced a new VAT legislation, VAT Act 2014. The main legislation was gazetted in December 2014 while the regulations to the new VAT law were gazetted in June 2015. The new VAT law has been effective from 1 July 2015.

Whilst the VAT rate is still set at 18%; the new VAT Act has introduced significant changes. It has more substantive provisions, the different schedules which were present in the previous Act have been reduced from three to only one which only caters for exempt supplies. The 'zero-rating' First Schedule and the 'VAT relief' Third Schedule have both been abolished. Taxpayers are now required to make reference to the substantive provisions in the main legislation to justify 'zero-rating' and 'VAT relief'

The various regulations that had been enacted in the old Act have also been replaced with new regulations. 'The new VAT legislation limits VAT exemptions and zero-rating to only those that are explicitly available in the Act. Any additional zero-rating and exemptions will be limited to goods and services which are solely to be used in the event of natural calamity or disasters.

The extractive industry will continue enjoying VAT relief under the new law though the VAT relief on goods is now linked to import duty exemption. VAT relief on goods imported by licensed oil and gas entities and mining companies will be limited to goods that would qualify for import duty relief under the East African Community (EAC) Customs Management Act 2004. Strangely, and perhaps through an inadvertent omission, this limits exemption to imported goods, locally purchased goods will not qualify for VAT relief.

The position in regard to VAT relief on services has also changed slightly. The new Act provides that where there is an existing Production Sharing Agreement (PSA) or Mining Development Agreement (MDA) 'before the commencement of this Act, the provisions of the repealed Act relating to value-added tax relief shall continue to apply to the extent provided for in the agreement'. This means that VAT exemption in relation to services will depend on what the PSAs and MDAs provide.

The Local Government Finance Act 1982, empowers municipal councils to administer and collect a city service levy to companies operating in their municipalities. CSL is chargeable to a maximum of 0.3% on turnover. The levy is negotiable but capped at 0.3%.

Import Tariffs

- In order to enhance revenue collections, the Government is intending to improve the valuation system for imported goods to address the problem of under-declaration, which leads to revenue leakages. To facilitate this, several measures are to be taken to improve the Import Export Commodity Data Base (IECDB).
- The 2015/16 Budget proposed the following changes in respect to import duties:
 - Reduction in import duty on buses under HS Code 8702.10.99 and HS Code 8702.90.99 carrying more than 25 passengers to be imported for Dar Rapid Transport (DRT) project from 25% to 10%

Customs and Excise

Notes:

1. The changes to the EAC Customs Management Act and Common External Tariff are usually adopted by all East African Community (EAC) members; namely, Kenya, Uganda, Rwanda, Tanzania and Burundi. There are, nevertheless, occasions where each country may not adopt the provisions under a special concession granted by the other member states. At the time of writing this publication, it was not clear whether there were any such instances. What follows therefore is a combination of announcements by each of the countries. Once the EAC Gazette Notice is published, it will be possible to clarify this matter. The changes agreed to under the EAC Management Act generally take effect from 1 July, unless specified otherwise in the EAC Gazette Notice.

The 2015/16 Budget further introduced the following changes:

- Increase duty on metal bars, rods, angles, shapes, and sections used in construction and building industry under HS Code 7213.10.00 and HS Code 7213.20.00 from 10% to 25%.

- Increase duty rate on imported sugar from USD200 per metric tonne to USD460 per metric or 100% of the CIF value whichever is greater.
- Increase duty rate on imported rice from USD200 to USD345 per tonne or 75% of the CIF value whichever is greater.
- Exemption from duty on items used for official use by Armed Forces and Police Force Prisons.

Notes:

1. The duty rate of 15% applies to all vehicles that are more than eight years but less than ten years old, and 30% on those vehicles imported that are more than ten years old.
2. Imported utility vehicles, that are more than five years old, attracts excise duty at a rate of 10%.
3. The Finance Act 2014 abolished the 0.15% excise duty on money transfers. However this was replaced with an excise duty of 10% chargeable to financial institutions and telecommunications service on fees, other charges and money transfer services.

TIC was established to act as a “go to” centre for investors. It is responsible to coordinate, encourage, promote and facilitate Foreign Direct Investments (FDIs) in Tanzania. TIC is also tasked among other things with the following:

- (a) Initiate and support measures that enhance the investment climate in the country.
- (b) Collect, collate and analyse and disseminate information about investment opportunities and sources of investment capital, and advise investors upon request on the availability, choice or suitability of partners in joint-venture projects.
- (c) In consultation with government institutions and agencies, identify investment sites, estates, or land together with associated facilities of any sites, estates or land for the purposes of investors and investments in general.

- (d) Assist all investors to obtain all necessary permits, licences approvals consents, authorisations, registrations and other matters required by law for a person to set up and operate an investment; and to enable certificates issued by the Centre to have full effect.
- (e) To provide, develop, construct, alter, adapt, maintain and administer investment sites, estates or land together with associated facilities and subject to relevant law, the creation and management of an EPZ.
- (f) Provide and disseminate up to date information on benefits or incentives available to investors.

One of the eligibility criteria under the centre, is a minimum capital threshold of USD100 000 and USD500 000 for local and foreigners respectively. Upon successful application and acceptance, the TIC will issue a company a certificate of incentives. Incentives as per the Act is used to mean tax reliefs and concessional tax rates which may be accessed by an investor under the ITA, ECCMA, Customs Tariff Act, VAT and any other laws for the time being in force.

Strategic Investor

The Tanzania Investment Act provides that a relevant minister can identify a certain investment as a strategic or major investment. In doing so, the minister in consultation with the Finance Minister can issue a Gazette Notice setting out specific incentives to be granted to the strategic investor.

The Finance Act 2015 introduced a new class of strategic investors (special strategic investors) under the Tanzania Investment Center whose envisaged investment is at least USD300 million.

To qualify, the investment should fulfil the following requirements:

- the investment’s capital transaction should be undertaken through registered local financial and institutions
- the investment should generates at least 1,500 employment for locals with a satisfactory number in senior positions
- the investment must have the capacity to significantly generate foreign exchange earnings, produce significant import substitution goods or supply important facilities necessary for development in the social, economic or financial sector.

Economic Processing Zones (EPZs)

On 26 March 2006, presidential assent was given to the Export Processing Zones (Amendments) Act, 2006. The primary purpose of this Act is to overhaul the administration of EPZs. This is being done through the establishment of the Export Processing Zones Authority. Roles of the EPZ Authority include setting up EPZ sites and promotion of EPZs. The EPZ Authority is to be comprised of various government ministers, the Attorney General, Governor of the BOT, as well as the heads of three industry groups. The other function of the Amendments Act was to restate the benefits under an EPZ. Importantly, EPZ operators can now sell up to 20% of their goods within the customs territory, provided the necessary customs permits and applicable import duties, levies and other charges are cleared. An EPZ investor’s entitlements include the following:

- (a) Access to the export credit guarantee scheme.
- (b) Exemption from payments of corporate tax for an initial period of 10 years.
- (c) Exemption from payment of WHT on rent, dividends and interest for the first 10 years.
- (d) Remission of customs duty, VAT and any other tax payable on raw materials and goods of a capital nature.
- (e) Exemption from payment of all taxes and levies imposed by local government authorities for goods and services produced or purchased in the EPZ for a period of 10 years.
- (f) Exemption from pre-shipment or destination

- inspection requirements.
- (g) On-site customs inspection of goods.
 - (h) Provision of business visas at the point of entry to key technical, management, and training staff for a maximum period of two months; thereafter the requirements to obtain a residence permit applies.
 - (i) Entitlement to automatic immigration quota of five persons.
 - (j) Treatment of goods destined for the EPZ as transit cargo.
 - (k) Exemption from VAT on utility and wharfage charges.
 - (l) Guarantees on foreign exchange transferability.

Special Economic Zones (SEZs)

In another move to promote manufacturing, the Special Economic Zones Act, 2006, was also given presidential assent on 26 March 2006. The SEZs regime in Tanzania is now operational. This scheme applies to investments that produce goods and services for the local market.

An investment falling short of qualifying for the EPZ scheme will most likely be eligible for this. The EPZ now operates under the umbrella of the SEZ but with slightly different conditions to the SEZs especially in terms of local supply limitation. The SEZ Act has widened the coverage of incentives to more than just producers for export market. Each one would be under a specific licensing authority but all under the one umbrella, the SEZA.

Notes:

1. Category "A" investors get similar benefits to items (b), (c), (f), (g), (i), (j) and (k) listed for EPZs in the paragraph pertaining to EPZs. In addition, they are entitled to exemption from taxes and duties on any capital goods and materials used for purposes of development of SEZs, exemptions from stamp duty and a 10-year property tax exemption. This category is for the zone developer.
2. Category "B" investors get similar benefits to items (d), (f), (g), (h), (i), and (l), listed previously for EPZs. There is also an exemption available from WHT on interest on foreign-source loans. Category "C" consists of suppliers producing and selling into the SEZs.
3. Category "C" investor entitlements mirror that of EPZ investors.

General Incentives

- Government is set to continue implementing the Five Year Development Plan, which directs investment of national resources in few priority areas, with a view to accelerate economic growth and reduction of poverty. The Government also aims at continuing to finance electricity and water projects in rural areas, completing the ongoing strategic projects as well as investing in human resources.
- Continue with capacity building to government officials and other stakeholders at different levels including Local Government Authorities so as to strengthen estimation and revenue collection.
- The 2015/16 Budget aims to continue strengthening Regional Integration in EAC and SADC. The government ratified the Monetary Union Protocol and Finance and Investment Protocol in June 2014 in an effort to strengthen the EAC integration.
- Making a comprehensive review of MKUKUTA II and the development plans, and use the results of these assessments in planning the second program of five years set to begin in June 2016 until June 2021.
- The Public Private Partnership (PPP) Act No. 18 of 2010, was passed in 2012, so as to provide room for the private sector to invest in public infrastructures and operate them with a view to provide public services at reasonable cost, at the same time addressing peoples' economic and social needs. The 2015/16 Budget aims to strengthen PPP programme in the country. The approved projects will be implemented as planned. In addition, the Government will continue to enhance capacity of employees and other stakeholders at different levels including Local Government Authorities and representatives from the private sector. Further, the Government will conduct workshops and create awareness on implementation of PPP concept.

Resident corporations may remit capital and income to non-resident corporations through commercial banks operating in Tanzania.

1. The Government's perseverance in curbing inflation has enabled the decline of the inflation rate since 2010. This was made possible due to a strong macro-economic policy, good climate conditions (which led to increase in food production), provision of farm inputs, subsidies, and availability of electricity.

Residents

Residents are subject to tax on worldwide income.

2. Residence – An individual is resident in Tunisia if he/she has a permanent residence in Tunisia or is present in Tunisia for at least 183 days in the relevant calendar year.
3. Rates – Individual income tax is levied at progressive rates up to 35% with an exemption of annual net income which does not exceed TND5 000. However, foreign national workers in certain sectors (e.g. export enterprises, offshore banks and hydrocarbon exploitation), can opt to pay a lump sum tax of 20% of gross salary. Moreover, the non-resident employees, working in Tunisia during a period not exceeding 6 months, are subject to the withholding tax at the rate of 20%.
4. Royalty on personal income – The payment of a royalty on personal income equals 1% of the net income, for the benefit of the General Compensation Fund. The royalty is due on all personal income (even the exempt income) which exceeds TND20 000. This royalty has been cancelled starting from January 2016 following the financial act 2016.
5. Taxable income – Is assessed on the total annual income derived from Tunisia or abroad, if the foreign income was not taxed in the source country for the individual.
6. Deductions and allowances – Various deductions are available, such as interest incurred on certain loans, life insurance payments and grants to the National Employment Fund. Family allowances are also available.
7. Filing status – Joint returns are not permitted. Each taxpayer must file his/her own return separately.
8. Relief from double taxation is available through tax treaties to which Tunisia is signatory. Tunisia has entered into tax treaties with most Arab countries, European Union (EU) countries, the United States of America (USA), and Canada etc.

Non-Residents

Non-resident companies are taxed on Tunisia-source income only. In other words, a non-resident is subject to the Tunisian income tax at the normal graduated rates on income received in consequence of employment by a local employer (whether a resident employer or a Tunisian Permanent Establishment (PE) of a non-resident employer), as well as to the various flat rate withholding taxes (WHTs).

Employment Income

The taxable revenues are comprised of salaries, and other complementary remunerations, as well as any other “in kind benefits”. The revenues of foreign-source paid in Tunisia, is subject to income tax in Tunisia, or in the countries of origin, according to the salaried employee tax residence status, and subject to DTAs.

Benefits in Kind

The benefits in kind paid by an employer to his/her employee are taken into account in the determination of the WHT based on their real value. This rule is applied to all benefits including lodging, a company car, or goods and services consumption (e.g. telephone, restaurants etc.).

2. Basis – Tunisia operates under a territorial system under which all income derived in Tunisia is subject to taxes.

8. Corporate groups – When a Tunisian company holds 75% or more of the shares of one or more Tunisian companies, the group may choose to be taxed as a single entity. Hence, the subsidiaries are treated as branches of the parent company and corporate tax is payable only by the parent company. To benefit from this regime, the following requirements must be met:
 - (1) The parent company is listed on the TSE;
 - (2) The financial statements of the companies in the group are certified by an external legal auditor;
 - (3) The group companies all have the same fiscal year and accounting period; and
 - (4) All companies in the group are subject to CIT.
9. Holding company regime – None.

Companies

Capital gains are taxed as ordinary income and subject to the CIT rate applicable to the company.

Individuals

Capital gains are taxed as ordinary income. The rate is 15% if the seller holds property for less than 10 years, and 10% if the property is held for longer than 10 years.

to a final withholding tax at the rate of 25%. They are classified as other revenues.

Anti-avoidance

Transfer Pricing

If the price in a related party transaction does not correspond to a market price, the price could be adjusted by the tax administration. There is no benchmarking basis to fix the market price or the market margin, which is why the transfer pricing manual must be well documented in order to be well protected and to have a comfortable position in the case of a tax audit.

Tunisia has enacted several laws to encourage foreign investment in the industrial, services, finance and tourism sectors. Various incentives (i.e. exemptions, reduced rates, financial support, investment bonuses, a full tax allowance, the deduction of depreciation of assets acquired as part of the investment at the rate of 35%, obtaining an investment premium between 5% to 15% from the investment value, import of equipment under the reduced rate of VAT of 6% instead of 12%. etc.) are provided for by the Investment Incentives Code. This has increased foreign investment in Tunisia.

Tax Incentives

- Companies incorporated in regional development areas benefit from:
 - A full tax exemption on profits for 10 years and a 50% tax base reduction for a new period of 10 years.
 - A full tax exemption on reinvested profits.

Expatriates and Work Permits

Pre-arrival Procedures

Any foreigner, except Union du Maghreb Arabe (UMA) nationals, who desire to exercise salaried work in Tunisia, should have a working contract and a residence card bearing authorisation to exercise salaried work in Tunisia. The working contract is concluded for a period not exceeding one year, renewable only once. However, the working contract may be renewable more than once if it deals with foreigners working in their companies that operate in Tunisia within the framework of the Realisation of Development Projects, approved by the relevant authorities. The recruitment of foreigners can only be realised when there are no Tunisian skills within the specialties concerned by the recruitment.

Employment Visas

Entry visas are not required for almost all European countries. However, for workers who benefit from a working contract, they should apply for residence cards from the relevant regional police offices. This procedure is not required for UMA nationals.

Notes:

1. A resident individual is subject to tax on worldwide income. However, foreign-source employment income is exempt from tax in Uganda where the individual has paid foreign tax on the income. For other types of income, a foreign tax credit is available in the same way as it is for companies.
2. Tax is imposed at graduated rates from 0 to 40%.
3. A sole proprietor is taxed in the same way as an individual.
4. The tax year of assessment for individuals and partnerships is 1 July to 30 June.
5. An individual present in Uganda for at least 183 days in any 12-month period is resident for the tax years beginning and ending in that period. In addition, a person with a permanent home in Uganda, or who has been present for an average of at least 122 days during three consecutive tax years, is deemed to be tax resident.

6. The foreign employment income of a resident is exempt from tax in Uganda if tax has been deducted and remitted on it to the Revenue authorities in the country of employment.
7. Income includes: any profits, gains, dividends, interest, and non-monetary benefits, advantages or facilities obtained through gainful means. The WHT on dividends (15%, or 10% on dividends from companies listed on the Uganda Stock Exchange (USE)) is treated as a final tax for individuals. The WHT (15%) on interest from a financial institution (20% on Treasury Bills) is a final tax for individuals.
8. Rental income for individuals and individual partners of a partnership is taxed separately at 20% on 80% of the gross income over UGX2.82 million.

Uganda

9. Effective 1 July 2014, rental income for companies and trustees is now separately taxed at 30%.
10. Life insurance premiums, contributions to retirement funds and medical expenses paid for by an employer (other than a tax-exempt employer) are not taxable employee benefits.
11. Fringe benefits are taxable to the employee at scale rates or the actual cost to the company, subject to a market value test.
12. National Social Security Fund (NSSF) is charged at the rate of 15% of monthly salary, wages or cash allowances. Both employers and employees contribute 10% and 5% respectively. The 10% contribution by the employer is an allowable deduction from the gross income of the employer with effect from 1 July 2004.

Notes:

1. A short-term non-resident individual (resident less than two years) is liable only to tax on income derived from sources in Uganda or which accrues to him from an employment exercised or services rendered in Uganda.

Pay-As-You-Earn (PAYE)

PAYE and taxation of employment benefits is not a separate tax. It is an instalment income tax system under which employers are required to deduct tax instalments from their employees' salary or other employment income.

Notes:

1. The instalments deducted are remitted to the Uganda Revenue Authority (URA), and based on the PAYE tax return lodged by the employer. The employee offsets the total amount deducted from the individual employee against the employee's tax liability upon submission of the annual tax return at the end of the tax year. Every employer must therefore register for PAYE, as well as be familiar with the rules relating to the filing of PAYE returns and how PAYE is calculated.
2. No return of income is necessary for an individual whose gross income consists exclusively of employment income derived exclusively from a single employer from which tax has been withheld and paid.
3. Penalties apply where the employer fails to deduct or remit PAYE, or deducts and remits incorrect amounts. For example, the URA can require the employer to pay any PAYE shortfalls.
4. Where an employee who has been in employment for 10 or more years receives terminal benefits, the assessable amount is calculated using the formula: $A \times 75\%$, where A is the total amount of payment

Taxable Benefits in Kind

Motor Vehicles

A car provided wholly or partly for an employee's private use is a taxable benefit, calculated according to the formula:

$$(20\% \times A \times B/C) - D$$

Where:

- A = The market value of the car at the time it was first provided for private use.
- B = The number of days the car is available for private use in the year of income.
- C = The number of days in the year of income.
- D = Any payment made by the employee for the benefit.

Provision of Domestic Services and Utilities

The cost to the employer of providing the services of a housekeeper, chauffeur, gardener and utilities, is assessable income reduced by any payments made by the employee as contribution towards cost.

Provision of Meals, Refreshments or Entertainment

The cost to the employer of providing such benefits is assessed on the employee. However, where the meals are provided by an employer on a non-discriminatory basis to all employees in premises operated by or on behalf of the employer, then no taxable benefit arises.

Beneficial Loans

Where an employer grants a loan exceeding UGX1 million whose repayment is over three months at a rate of interest below the statutory rate (Bank of Uganda discount rate at the start of the fiscal year), the value of the benefit is the amount outstanding at the beginning of the month multiplied into the difference between the statutory rate and the rate offered by the employer.

Waiver of Loans

The amount of any loans waived by the employer is assessed on the employee.

Transfer of Use of Property or Provision of Services

Where a benefit provided by an employer consists of transfer or use of property or the provision of services, the market value of the property or services is the value of the benefit to be included in assessable income reduced by any payment made by the employee for the benefit.

Provision of Accommodation or Housing

The value of the benefit is the lesser of:

- The market rent of the accommodation/housing less the employee's contribution.
- 15% of employment income including market rent.

Housing provided to domestic workers within the same compound as the person they work for is not a taxable benefit.

Rental Income

Rental Tax is a separate income tax charged on the rental income of individuals, companies, partners and trusts. Rent is defined as any payment, including a premium or like amount, made as consideration for the use or occupation of, or the right to use or occupy, land or buildings. In effect, payment made on a lease of immovable property would be considered to be rent.

Notes:

1. A person's rental income should be segregated from other income and charged to tax as though it were a sole source of income for the taxpayer.
2. The taxation of rental income is as follows:
 - For individuals, including partners, 20% of the gross rental income is allowed as a deduction. (No other expenditure and loss is allowed against the gross rental income). From the remaining 80% of the gross rental income, the first UGX2 820 000 per annum is not taxable. The balance is taxed at the rate of 20%.
 - For companies and trustees in trusts, all expenditures and losses incurred in the production of rent is deducted from rental income before taxing rental income at 30%.
3. Subject to the provisions of a double taxation agreement (DTA) entered into between Uganda and another country, non-residents are taxed on rental income derived from Ugandan sources by way of a WHT of 15%.

Dividend income is taxable at the corporate tax rate, but is exempt where a resident recipient company controls 25% or more of the voting power of the resident payer company. Any WHT deducted is allowed as a credit against the company's tax for the year. Foreign-source dividends are taxable.
6. There is no holding company regime. No participation exemption applies.
7. A company is liable to pay tax separately from its shareholders.
8. Trading losses, inclusive of capital losses, may be carried forward indefinitely and offset against future trading income. Losses arising from the completion of a long-term contract may be carried back.
9. A foreign tax credit is available where the foreign income is also taxable in Uganda. The credit can only be used in the year in which it arises to offset Ugandan tax payable on such income. Otherwise, the taxpayer loses this credit.
10. A company is resident in Uganda for tax purposes if that company:
 - Is incorporated or formed under the laws of Uganda; or
 - Has its management and control exercised in Uganda at any time during the year of income; or
 - Undertakes the majority of its operations in Uganda during the year of income

11. The income tax rate applicable to trusts is 30% of the chargeable trust income for the year of income. A trust is exempt from income tax where income of the trust is paid directly to the beneficiary without passing through the hands of the trustee, or where a trustee relies on the grounds that part of the income to be assessed accrues or arises for the benefit of the beneficiary.
12. Income tax assessments for a partnership can be made either in respect to individual partners or in the partnership's name. The profits of a partnership, including a firm carrying on a trade or profession, are taxable.
13. Losses may be disallowed where:
There is a change in corporate ownership exceeding 50% during a 12-month period, and for two years immediately after such ownership change, the company engages in new business or investment designed to reduce its tax liability.
14. Where dividend stripping reduces the value of shares, the dividend must be included in the company's income to the extent deemed necessary by the authorities.
15. Branch profits are taxed an additional 15%, and based on the net movement of assets between the Branch and the Head Office.

16. Where total deductions exceed total income, the assessed loss may be carried forward indefinitely and set off against future trading income. Assessed farming losses cannot be deducted from any other income in the year the loss is incurred. They may only be offset against future farming income. If a final loss is determined in the year a long-term contract is completed, the Commissioner may allow the loss to be carried back and offset against the income earned in the previous years, starting with the year immediately preceding the year in which the contract was completed.
17. Mining companies – The tax rate applicable to mining companies is calculated according to the following formula:

$$70 - 1500/x$$

x = The number of percentage points represented by the ratio of the chargeable income of the mining company for the year to the gross revenue of the company for that year.

 - If the tax rate calculated from the above is less than 25%, the rate applicable is 25%.
 - If the tax rate calculated is more than 45%, the rate applicable is 45%.
 - When the x factor is between 0 – 33, the tax rate will be 25%.
 - When the x factor is 60 or more, then the tax rate is 45%.
18. Small business tax rates – Businesses with gross turnover not exceeding UGX150 million will apply the small business taxpayer rates unless an election is made.

Taxation of Petroleum and Mining Operations

Mining operations

- The rate of income tax applicable to a licensee engaging in mining operations taxed as indicated above.
- Expenditure incurred by a licensee in a year, income can be deducted only against the gross income derived by the licensee from operations in the licence area for that year.
- Where the total deductions of a licensee in relation to operations undertaken in a licence area exceed the total gross income arising from operations in the licence area, the excess is carried forward to the following year and deducted against gross income arising from operations in the licence area.
- Where a depreciable asset for use in mining extraction operations is acquired/constructed by the licensee before the commencement of commercial production, the asset would be depreciated starting from the time when commercial production begins.

- Where a licensee disposes of an interest in a mining right (other than under a farm-out agreement), any gain arising on the disposal would be reduced by any mining extraction expenditure incurred by the licensee to acquire the depreciable asset that has not been deducted by the licensee at the time of disposal.
- A contribution made by a licensee to a rehabilitation fund in accordance with an approved rehabilitation plan would be allowed as a deduction in the year of income in which the contribution is made
- An expenditure incurred by a licensee in carrying out work required by an approved rehabilitation plan would be allowed a deduction in the year of income in which the expenditure is incurred provided that the work is not paid for directly or indirectly from money made available out of the licensee's rehabilitation fund for the mining operations.
- An amount accumulated in or withdrawn from a rehabilitation fund to meet expenditure incurred under an approved rehabilitation plan is exempt from tax.
- An amount withdrawn from a rehabilitation fund or any surplus in a rehabilitation fund of a licensee at the time of completion of rehabilitation that is returned to the licensee is taxable income.
- Where the cost of acquiring a depreciable asset is treated as mining exploration expenditure, then the depreciation rate applicable to such an asset would be 100%; however, where the cost of acquiring an intangible asset is treated as mining exploration expenditure, the intangible asset would be assumed to have a useful life of one year.
- Where the cost of acquiring a depreciable asset is treated as mining extraction expenditure, the useful life of the asset is the lesser of the expected life of the mining extraction operations to which the asset relates or six years.

Petroleum operations

- The rate of income tax applicable to a licensee engaging in petroleum operations is 30%.
- Carried forward losses are only deductible against total gross income derived from a contract area to which the losses relate.
- A deduction that relates to more than one contract area should be apportioned accordingly.

- Where in a year of income the total deductions of a licensee in a contract area exceed the total gross income arising from petroleum operations in that contract area, the excess should be carried forward to the following year of income and should be deducted against gross income arising from the petroleum operations in the contract area until the excess is fully deducted or the petroleum operations in the contract area cease.
- Where a licensee has losses carried forward for more than one year of income, the loss of the earliest year should be allowed as a first deduction.
- Where the cost of acquiring a depreciable asset is treated as petroleum exploration expenditure, the applicable depreciation rate would be 100%; however, where the cost of acquiring an intangible asset is treated as petroleum exploration expenditure, the intangible asset would be deemed to have a useful life of one year. Any other expenditure treated as petroleum exploration expenditure would be allowed as a deduction in the year of income in which the expenditure is incurred.
- Where the cost of acquiring a depreciable asset is treated as petroleum development expenditure, the useful life of the asset would be the lesser of the expected life of the petroleum development operations to which the asset relates or six years.
- Where a depreciable asset for use in petroleum operations is acquired/constructed by a licensee prior to commencement of commercial production, depreciation of the asset would start at the time of commencement of commercial production.
- Petroleum development expenditure incurred before commercial production begins would be deemed to have been incurred at the time of commencement of commercial production.
- A contribution made by a licensee to a decommissioning fund in accordance with an approved decommissioning plan would be an allowable deduction in the year of income in which the contribution was made.
- An expenditure incurred by a licensee in carrying out work required by an approved decommissioning plan in respect of the licensee's petroleum operations would be allowed as a deduction in the year of income in which the expenditure is incurred provided the work is not paid for directly or indirectly from money made available out of the licensee's decommissioning fund for the petroleum operations.
- An amount accumulated in or withdrawn from a decommissioning fund to meet expenditure incurred under an approved decommissioning plan, is exempt income.
- An amount withdrawn from a decommissioning fund and returned to a licensee and any surplus in a decommissioning fund of a licensee returned to a licensee at the time of completion of decommissioning would be included in the gross income of the licensee.

Common rules applicable to both mining and petroleum operations

- A farm out would occur where a licensee (transferor) enters into an agreement with a transferee for the transfer of part of the interest of the licensee in a mining right or petroleum agreement.
- Where the amount of money recouped by the licensee exceeds the amount of expenditure incurred by the licensee in respect of the transferred interest, the excess would be treated as consideration received for the transferred interest.
- The licensee is required to immediately notify the commissioner in writing if there is a change in the underlying ownership of the licensee.
- Where the person disposing of an interest in a license is a non-resident, the licensee is liable as an agent for the non-resident person for any tax payable by the non-resident person in respect of the disposal and the interest is deemed a business asset.

Taxation of contractors

- A non-resident contractor who derives a fee for the provision of services to a licensee in respect of mining or petroleum operations is liable to pay a non-resident contractor (withholding) tax at the rate of 10%. The licensee is required to withhold this tax from the contractor at the earlier of the time the licensee credits the service fee to the account of the non-resident contractor or the time that the fee is actually paid.
- Where non-resident contractor provides services to a licensee but the service fee is paid to the contractor by a non-resident associate of the licensee who then recharges that fee to the licensee, the non-resident associate of the licensee would be deemed the non-resident contractor providing services to the licensee.
- A licensee convicted of an offence for knowingly or recklessly making false or misleading statements to an officer of the URA would be liable to a fine not less than USD1 million or imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years or both. A conviction arising from any other case would be fined not less than USD50 000 and not exceeding USD500 000.

Tax Administration and Compliance

Corporate Taxation

- A company may adopt a year of income different from the normal fiscal year (July to June) with the consent of the Commissioner.
- A provisional return must be filed within six months of the commencement of the company's accounting year and if necessary file a revised estimate before the end of the 12th month of the particular year of income. The estimated tax for the year is payable in two instalments before the end of the first six-month period and before the company's year-end. A final return and balance payment is due within six months after the company's year-end.
- Consolidated returns are not permitted. Each company in a group must file its own return.
- Penalties – A 20% penalty on the shortfall will be levied where the provisional tax paid is less than 90% of the actual liability. The penalty on late payments is 2% per month on the shortfall, and 2% of the gross tax liability or UGX200 000 per month, whichever is greater for the year when a return is filed late. Other civil and criminal penalties may arise in specific circumstances.
- Rulings – A private ruling may be obtained from the tax authorities on how the tax legislation applies to a specific transaction. Rulings are binding on the URA provided the taxpayer makes a full disclosure and completes the transaction as described.

Personal Taxation

- The normal tax year runs from 1 July to 30 June.
- Married couples qualifying for filing, are required to file separate returns.
- For individuals receiving income not subject to PAYE or other WHT, quarterly provisional returns must be filed. Individuals (including partners in a partnership) with taxable income must file a tax return within six months after the end of the fiscal year (i.e. 31 December), unless their income is from a single employer and subject to PAYE, or the individual is a small business taxpayer taxed on the basis of turnover.

Withholding Taxes (WHTs)

Certain payments made to residents and non-residents, whether corporate or individual, are subject to WHT. These tax rates are set out below:

WHT Rates
	Note	Residents	Non-Residents
		Rate	Rate
Professional fees		6%	15%

Uganda

Notes:

1. Payments of dividends and interest are subject to a WHT of 15% both for residents and non-residents. In the case of non-residents, the rate may be reduced under an applicable tax treaty. The rate of WHT for dividends paid to resident individuals from listed companies is 10%.
2. In addition, non-residents are subject to 15% WHT for royalties, management fees, entertainers and sports personnel income, natural resource payments and equipment leases, on income earned from Uganda.
3. Interest paid to a resident person is subject to WHT at the rate of 15%. This is not, however, applicable in the case of:
 - Interest paid by an individual.
 - Interest paid to a financial institution.
 - Interest paid by a company to an associated company.
 - Interest paid which is exempt in the hands of the recipient.Treasury bills now carry a 20% WHT.
4. Any payment to a person in Uganda from the Government, a government institution, a local authority, any company controlled by the Government, or any person designated in a notice issued by the Finance Minister, of an amount exceeding UGX1 million for the supply of goods or materials of any kinds or any service, is subject to a 6% WHT.
5. The Commissioner can exempt resident taxpayers who are regularly compliant from the payment of the 6% WHT on goods and services (requires application and confirmation of good compliance record for at least three years).

Double Taxation Agreements (DTAs)

Uganda has DTAs with a number of countries including: South Africa, United Kingdom (UK), Mauritius, Zambia, Italy, Norway, Denmark, the Netherlands and India. The East African Treaty has also been signed but is yet to be ratified by all sides.

The Income Tax Act provides that an international agreement entered into between the Uganda Government and the government of a foreign country, shall have effect as if the agreement was contained in the Act. Where the terms of such an agreement are inconsistent with the provisions of the Act, apart from issues of tax avoidance, the terms of the international agreement prevail over the provisions of the Income Tax Act.

Capital Gains Tax (CGT)

Taxable capital gains arise on the disposal of qualifying assets held by a company. The gain is the excess of proceeds over the cost of the assets and related expenses. The taxpayer can elect to claim inflation relief for assets acquired prior to 31 March 1998. The gain is taxed at the company rate as part of business income.

For an involuntary disposal, there is no gain or loss where the proceeds are re-invested in similar assets within one year. An asset is treated as disposed of if it is sold, exchanged, redeemed or distributed by the taxpayer, gifted, destroyed or lost.

Non-business assets are not subject to CGT except gains derived from the sale of shares in a private limited liability company. Only gains on disposal of business assets are liable to capital gains.

No gain or loss arises on a transfer between spouses, transfers which form part of a divorce settlement, disposals where the proceeds are reinvested in a similar asset within one year of the disposal, and transfer of asset to a trustee or a beneficiary on death of the taxpayer.

Transfer Pricing

In the past there have been no specific transfer pricing rules in Uganda. However, the Act gave the Commissioner powers to re-characterise income or transactions between related parties using the anti-avoidance provisions, where the Commissioner is of the opinion that the transactions do not reflect on arm's length relationship. Transfer pricing regulations became effective from 1 July 2011. Further guidelines covering documentation requirements were issued in early 2012.

Any company having cross-border transactions with associated parties must have a fully documented Transfer Pricing policy in place to demonstrate the arm's length pricing of such transactions (following OECD guidelines). The same also applies to companies having domestic (Ugandan) transactions with associated parties in excess of UGX500 million per year in aggregate.

Thin Capitalisation

The recommended interest-bearing debt to equity ratio by a foreign controlled resident company, which is not a financial institution at any time during the year, has been increased from the ratio 1:1 to 1.5:1. A foreign controlled resident company is considered to be thinly capitalised if the ratio of its interest-bearing debt to its equity contribution exceeds 1.5:1. Where a company is thinly capitalised, any interest charges arising on the debt in excess of the 1.5:1 ratio is not tax deductible. Equity includes unrealised revaluation reserves and non-interest bearing debt.

Inheritances, Donations and Estate Duty Tax

There is no inheritance and estate duty tax in Uganda.

Value-Added Tax (VAT)

VAT	Rate
Basic rate on goods and services	18%

Notes:

- VAT was introduced in Uganda on 1 July 1996.
- VAT is levied on the sale of goods and provision of services. VAT is also chargeable on the import of non-exempt goods and services.
- Zero-rated supplies include an exported supply of goods or services and the supply or import of specified goods, particularly where used in agriculture, health and education.
- Exempt supplies include, amongst others: unprocessed foodstuffs, agricultural produce in an unprocessed state, financial services, the supply of postage stamps, the supply of unimproved land, the supply of social welfare services, the supply of burial and cremation services, the supply of passenger transportation (other than tour and travel operators), betting, lotteries, and games of chance, the supply of goods as part of the transfer of a business as a going concern by one taxable person to another taxable person, the supply of precious metals and other valuables to the Bank of Uganda for the State Treasury, the supply of dental, medical and veterinary equipment, ambulances, contraceptives of all forms, maternity kits/mama kits and medical examination gloves among others, the supply of life-jackets, life-saving gear, headgear and speed governors, etc.

- Compulsory registration applies to a person making, or expecting to make, taxable supplies of UGX37.5 million or more in a three-month period or UGX150 million in a period of 12 months. A business must have an office or registered office in Uganda before it can be registered for VAT. Licensees engaging in mining and petroleum operations, persons undertaking the construction of a petroleum refinery or petroleum pipeline and a person engaged in commercial farming can apply for registration. Though there is no legal requirement to appoint a fiscal representative, the only practical way of complying with VAT obligations without setting up a representative office in Uganda, could be by way of doing business through an agent. In general, the agent steps into the foreign business shoes and assumes its VAT responsibilities and obligations.
- VAT returns must be filed by the 15th day of the following month, together with any outstanding amount.
- Taxable persons are ordinarily expected to issue original tax invoices for their supplies. Taxpayers whose turnover is less than UGX100 million may issue simplified tax invoices for taxable supplies made, provided the value of any individual item does not exceed UGX50 000 and the total invoice does not exceed UGX100 000. If an original tax invoice, the supplier may provide a duplicate copy clearly marked "copy". A supplied person who has not been provided with an invoice may request the taxable person to provide a tax invoice in respect of the supply. A taxable person who receives a request for an invoice should comply with the request within 14 days of receipt.
- Non-VAT registered entities ordinarily cannot recover VAT incurred on their business activities. There is an exception, however, applicable to diplomats, consular missions and public international organisations, mentioned in the 1st Schedule to the VAT Act. These organisations and individuals may recover any VAT expenses in the conclusion of activities for official purposes.
- Credit from self-assessed reverse-charge VAT on imported services, is no longer permitted for offset but is available for licensees and contractors engaged in mining and petroleum operations.
- The annual turnover for cash basis accounting for VAT purposes increased from UGX200 million to UGX500 million.
- Supply of cereals grown and milled in Uganda is now zero-rated and some compact fluorescent bulbs are no longer exempt.

Customs and Excise

Ordinarily, goods imported into Uganda are subject to customs duties (import duty, excise duty, WHT, VAT and environmental levy). Import duty rates can be 0% for raw materials and capital equipment, 10% for intermediate/semi-finished goods and 25% for finished goods. The East African Community contracting member states impose common tariffs on goods originating from outside the community. Customs is governed by the East-African Community Customs Management Act.

Other Transaction Taxes

Transfer Tax	Rate
Basic rate	1%

Notes:

1. A transfer tax of 1% is levied on the transfer of immovable property and on the transfer of shares and other securities (except for shares listed on the USE).

Real Property Tax

Property rates are levied by the local authorities.

Stamp Duty

Stamp duty is an indirect tax levied on a number of legal documents and certain agreements (i.e. financial instruments and transactions) and charged at nominal or ad valorem rates. In the case of corporations, it may be possible to obtain a waiver from this duty in some cases if the Minister of Finance consents. The Stamps (Amendment of Schedule) Instrument 2013 changed the duty on policy of insurance, life insurance and insurance performance bonds to UGX35 000, nil/zero and UGX50 000, respectively.

General Investment Information

Investment Incentives

Tax Incentives

Special Tax Allowances

- Mining operations are allowed a 100% first-year deduction for capital expenditure incurred in searching for, discovering, testing, or gaining access to mineral deposits.
- An industrial buildings allowance (5% annual) is granted to factories, hotels and hospitals.
- The cost of acquiring an intangible asset having an ascertainable useful life is allowed as deduction on straight line basis over the useful life of the asset.
- On disposal of the asset, the cost base of the asset is reduced by the deductions granted above.
- Wear and tear allowances apply to assets in the following classes:

Class	Rate
1. Computers and data handling equipment	40%
2. Automobiles, buses and minibuses with a seating capacity of less than 30 passengers; goods vehicles with a load capacity of less than seven tons; construction and earth-moving equipment	35%
3. Buses with a seating capacity of 30 or more passengers; goods carrying vehicles of more than seven tons, tractors, trailers, plant and machinery for farming mining or manufacturing operations	30%
4. Railroad cars, locomotives, vessels, barges, aircraft, specialised public utility plant, office furniture, fixtures and equipment and any depreciable asset not included in another class	20%

Non-Cash Incentives

Export Incentives

- Foreign exchange liberalisation – The foreign exchange regime is fully liberalised and exporters are entitled to retain 100% of their foreign exchange earnings accruing from their export transactions.
- Duty and VAT exemptions – There are no taxes charged on exports (zero-rated).

Uganda

- Market access – The Government strongly supports global economic integration as it increases volume of trade, as well as offers other economic opportunities. Because of membership, Uganda's exports qualify for preferential tariff rates in COMESA and EAC. In addition, Ugandan products enter the European Union (EU) and US markets duty and quota-free under the Cotonou Agreement (ACP – EU) and the African Growth and Opportunity Act (AGOA) initiatives, respectively.
- VAT on exports – All exports of goods and services are zero-rated. However, exporters are required to be VAT-registered. This enables them to reclaim VAT expended on all inputs used in the process of producing and processing exports.
- Duty drawback – The rationale for duty drawback is to enable manufacturers, and other exporters, to compete in foreign markets without the handicap of including costs of imported inputs in the final export price (the duty paid on imported inputs). This allows exports to drawback up to 100% duties paid on materials inputs imported to produce for export.
- Manufacturing under bond – This scheme allows manufacturers to seek a customs licence to hold and use imported raw materials intended for manufacture for export in secured places without payment of taxes. It makes available working capital, which would have been tied up through paying duties immediately after importation.
- Others – Other incentives are available under the Investment Code, as administered under the Income Tax Act, 1997, by the URA for export-oriented investment projects.

Exchange Controls

Although foreign exchange repatriations from Uganda are not restricted, any person seeking to repatriate funds in excess of UGX50 million should obtain a tax clearance certificate from the URA. The Anti-Money Laundering Act was also passed in 2013.

Trade Relations

- East African Community (EAC)
- Cotonou Agreement

Notes:

1. The Cotonou Agreement provides the framework for the EU's Development funding to Uganda. Uganda signed the Agreement in 2013.

2. Inflation is projected to remain within the range of around 5 percent in the medium term but may increase as the election draws near.
3. The exchange rate has depreciated highest in 2015 to lows of 1 USD= UGX3 700. The weakening of the shilling has largely been on account of most of the major sources of foreign exchange for Uganda (exports, workers' remittances and foreign direct investment) are growing at a slow rate yet Uganda's demand for imports has grown at a robust rate.

Zambia

This information is based on existing tax legislation and the 2016 Budget Address delivered by the Minister of Finance, Honourable Alexander Bwalya Chikwanda, MP, to National Assembly on 9 October 2015.

Notes:

1. The amendments to legislation proposed in the Budget Address were approved by Parliament and the Amendment Acts were enacted accordingly. We have therefore only made reference to those provisions that are in the Amendment Acts. The changes in tax legislation and other relevant information, as announced in the 2016 Budget Address and also in the Amendment Acts, apply for the fiscal year 1 January 2016 to 31 December 2016, unless indicated otherwise.

Introduction

Zambia operates a source-based system of taxation. Every person receiving income from a source within, or deemed to be within Zambia, will be liable to income tax in Zambia on that income. The concept of residence is of secondary importance in that it only extends the tax net to cover interest and dividend income received from a foreign source by Zambian residents.

Effective 1 January 2016, management or consultancy fees charged by local service providers including accounting and audit fees, legal fees, architectural fees and other similar fees is subject to Withholding Tax at source. The tax system is administered by the Zambian Revenue Authority (ZRA), an agency established in 1994. Where disputes arise between taxpayers and the ZRA under the Income Tax Act, Value-Added Tax (VAT) Act and the Customs and Excise Act, the aggrieved party has a right of appeal to the Revenue Appeals Tribunal (RAT), a statutory body that hears and determines the settlement of tax cases. A party dissatisfied with the decision of the RAT, can appeal to the High Court of Zambia.

The tax year for both individuals and companies currently runs from 1 January to 31 December.

Income Tax

Income tax is divided into Pay-As-You-Earn (PAYE), Tax on Self-employed Individuals and Company Tax.

Pay-As-You-Earn (PAYE)

PAYE is collected at source from individuals in gainful employment. The employer deducts the tax from the employee's salary or wages and is required to remit it to the ZRA by the 14th day of the month following the month of deduction. The Government has maintained the graduated four-band system for taxing income from employment and has also maintained the PAYE exempt threshold of K3 000 per month introduced in January 2014.

The PAYE regime has been maintained as follows:

PAYE Rates for Individuals: From 1 January 2014
Annual Taxable Income as exceeds	But does not exceed	Rate
K	K	%
0	3 000	0%
3 000	3 800	25%
3 800	5 900	30%
5 900 +		35%

Notes:

1. An individual is resident for tax purposes if he/she is physically present in Zambia for at least 183 days in any tax year, or has entered the country with a view to establishing residence. The definition of a Permanent Establishment (PE) was in 2014 realigned with the definition provided in the OECD Guidelines on international taxation, and now covers among others:
 - A place of management.
 - A branch.
 - An office.
 - A factory.
 - A workshop.
 - A mine, an oil and gas well, a quarry, or other place of extraction or exploitation of natural resources.
 - In relation to an individual, a place where the individual performs services in Zambia for a period (or periods) aggregating more than 90 days in any 12-month period.
2. There are no rebates. However, an annual tax credit is available for persons with a disability. This tax credit for "differently-abled persons" is K3 000 per annum.
3. A company employing persons with disabilities is entitled to an annual deduction of K1 000 per annum for each such persons employed.
4. The annual deductible limit for contributions to approved pension funds for an employee, is the lower of 15% of income and K3 060. An employee who contributes to an approved pension scheme is allowed a refund of both his/her contribution and that of the employer's share upon loss of employment. The employer is allowed a deduction of up to 20% of the employee's gross emoluments.
5. In principle, individuals are liable for tax on all benefits arising from employment. However, in the case of non-cash fringe benefits, the employer is denied a tax deduction for the cost of the benefit. The provision of company cars and residential accommodation is subject to special rules.
6. On retirement, the Income Tax Act provides for exemption from tax of the first K35 000 on termination benefits paid to retirees. The balance of such payments is subject to tax at 10%.
7. The exemption for lump sum termination benefits on retrenchment or redundancy is also K35 000. Any excess is taxed at 10%. Lump sum benefits on the loss of employment on medical grounds are exempt.

8. Local authorities are permitted to add a 2% levy on income of resident individuals, up to K15 annually.
9. Gratuity income equivalent to the annual exempt income under PAYE (K36 000), is exempt from taxation and the balance is taxed at a flat rate of 25%.
10. Dividend income earned by individuals on shares listed on the Lusaka Stock Exchange (LUSE), is exempt from tax.
11. Social security – Employers must match employees' contributions to the National Pensions Scheme Authority (NAPSA). Employee contributions to NAPSA are capped at the lower of 5% of annual basic salary and K10 127.64 per annum.

Non-Residents

The above rates are also applicable to non-residents in respect of employment and business income earned in Zambia. In addition, certain payments made to non-residents are subject to withholding tax (WHT) (see Withholding Taxes).

Tax on Self-employed Individuals

This tax is levied on business profits of individuals running business ventures as sole proprietors, or partners in a partnership, at the graduated PAYE rates. For individuals earning both business income and emoluments, business income that has been taxed under Turnover Tax is (as from 1 April 2007) no longer added to emoluments that are subject to PAYE but remains under the Turnover Tax system. The tax treatment for income that exceeds the annual threshold is not clear.

Company Tax

This is levied on business profits of incorporated companies and branches of foreign companies. Taxpayers are required to compute taxable income on an actual basis by reference to the charge year.

A company that has an accounting year-end other than 31 December can apply to the ZRA to base its tax return on the accounting year-end. The final tax returns are due by 30 June following the end of the respective charge year.

13. Exchange gains/losses – Exchange gains and losses of a revenue nature are only allowed as a deduction when realised. Exchange gains and losses of a capital nature are neither taxable nor allowable as a deduction. 14. Details of the capital allowances are set out under Tax Incentives.
15. An advance income tax of 6% on commercial imports by non-registered traders, is payable at the port of entry based on the value for duty purposes. A tax credit against income tax is given on submission of respective receipts and annual tax return. The Commissioner has discretionary powers as to where and when the 6% tax will not apply.

The period for carry forward of losses for mining companies and those operating in the energy sector i.e. hydro and thermal power (except wood) is 10 years for income tax purposes. Holders of large-scale mining licences, and carrying out the mining of base metals, are allowed to index the losses and unutilised capital allowances to be carried forward for income tax purposes.
17. Foreign tax credit – A foreign tax credit is available in respect of tax suffered on foreign income taxable at source and in Zambia. The credit is limited to the attributable tax according to a statutory formula where the denominator is the total of taxable and exempt income.
18. All hedging activities are treated as separate business activities for income tax purposes.
19. Provisional tax – Companies are required to pay provisional tax in quarterly instalments during the charge year based on estimated income for that year. Any balance of tax due for the year is payable in the year following the end of the charge year. A provisional tax return showing an estimate of income for the charge year must be filed and a revised return should be submitted if the estimate of taxable income changes substantially.
20. Penalties – A penalty equal to 25% of the tax liability underpaid is imposed if less than two-thirds was paid as provisional tax. Late payments of provisional tax attract interest at 2% over the Bank of Zambia Discount Rates. Penalties for the late filing of returns are at K200 per month for individuals and K400 per month for companies. - Cash accounting basis for VAT applies.

Withholding Taxes (WHTs)

Certain payments to residents and non-residents, whether individual or corporate, are subject to WHT, as follows:

WHT Rates
	Notes	Residents	Non-residents
Branch profits remittance		-	15%
Commission	2, 3	20%	20%
Dividends	1	15%	15%
Royalties		20%	20%

Public entertainment fees		-	20%
Interest	4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9	15%	15%
Non-resident contractors		-	20%

Notes:

1. WHT is a final tax in respect of payments to non-residents and on income from letting of property in Zambia.
2. Other than commissions paid to employees or holders of an office.
3. Commission payments made to non-residents are deemed to have arisen from a source within Zambia and therefore taxable in Zambia irrespective of the place where the service was physically rendered. Accordingly, commission payments for services that are physically rendered outside Zambia would suffer WHT on payment from Zambia.
4. WHT on interest earned by individuals on savings and deposit accounts is deducted at 0%.
5. The WHT of 15% on interest paid to resident companies is not a final tax. Interest income (in the case of companies) is subject to further assessment regardless of the source of the interest. WHT already withheld will be treated as a credit against the income tax assessed.
6. The WHT rate was increased to 20% on payments made to foreign contractors, public entertainers and payment of commissions. 15% WHT was introduced on management or consultancy fees payable to local service providers effective 1 January 2016
7. Dividends paid by mining companies carrying on the mining of base metals, are subject to WHT at a rate of 0%.
8. These rates may be reduced by an applicable double taxation agreement (DTA). Zambia has DTAs with the countries listed below.

* The lower rate will be applicable where a minimum level of shareholding exists.

Capital Gains Tax (CGT)

There is no CGT in Zambia. However, where an asset is sold in respect of which capital allowances have been or could have been claimed, the excess of the proceeds from the asset over the tax written-down value is treated as a balancing charge which is combined with the entity's taxable income. In each instance, the balancing charge is restricted to the allowances previously claimed.

Inheritances and Donations

There is no estate duty or donations tax in Zambia.

Value-Added Tax (VAT)

VAT	Rate
Standard rate	16%

The VAT registration threshold is K800 000 per annum (effective 1 January 2013). Companies and individuals dealing in taxable supplies, and with a turnover exceeding K800 000 per annum, are required to register for VAT. Registered suppliers should submit returns to the ZRA for each calendar month within 21 days of the end of the month and account for the excess of output over input VAT.

Other aspects of VAT are as follows:

- The standard rate for VAT is 16% however, VAT on supply of non life insurance services has been removed and a 3 % levy on insurance premium introduced.
- VAT registration is voluntary for businesses with an annual taxable turnover below K800 000.
- All VAT registered suppliers are required to submit input tax and output tax schedules electronically which are part of the online return submission.
- Supplies of goods and services are taxable at the standard rate, zero-rate or exempt. Input tax paid on purchases to produce exempt supplies is not recoverable.
- VAT exemptions include: domestic kerosene, health, education, domestic house rentals, water, transport, financial and life insurance services, conveyancing services, funeral services, statutory fees and food and agriculture.
- Taxable goods and services become zero-rated when exported. In addition, tourist activities which were previously zero-rated are now standard rated. Books are also zero-rated. Other zero-rated supplies include: mosquito nets raw materials and medical supplies. The list of standard rated supplies in the tourism industry now includes activities such as elephant-back safaris, steam train excursions, walking (with lions) safaris, clay pigeon shooting, fixed wing flights over the Falls, gorge swing/flying fox, paint ball shooting and quad biking safaris.
- The period for pre-production input credit for exploration companies has been increased to seven years, four years for electricity, farming and mining companies and 2 years for any other intending trader after registration.

Zambia

- The VAT Act provides for the application of VAT to a sole proprietorship.
- The VAT Act excludes from taxation, services that constitute local supplies in other VAT jurisdictions.
- The VAT Act provides for the taxation of a service consisting of a lease, hire or loan of goods that involves the removal of goods from Zambia.
- VAT at the standard rate is also levied on services provided by foreign suppliers to clients in Zambia by means of a reverse charge for such services. The corresponding input VAT is not reclaimable. This means that the Zambian client is effectively bearing the foreign company's VAT. The reverse charge only applies in cases where the non-resident supplier has not appointed a local tax agent to act on its behalf. Input VAT relating to the commission charged by the reverse VAT agents, is non-deductible by the principal.
- The Act now provides the requirement for taxable supplier to use a fiscal cash register to record daily sales.
- The cash accounting basis of accounting for VAT also applies to mining companies.
- Late payments of VAT attract additional tax of 0.5% of the amount due per day. Additional tax equal to K300 or 0.5% of the tax payable, whichever is greater, is charged per day for failure to file a VAT return.

Mineral Royalty Tax

Mineral Royalty Tax Rates
Type of Licence	Note	Rate

reasonably have been sold on the open market. There is a discretionary exemption for transfers of property within the same group of companies, provided both the holding company and the transferee are companies resident in Zambia, and the transfer is for the purposes of effecting internal group reorganisations

Customs and Excise

The importation of goods into Zambia is subject to import or customs duty. All goods are categorised as to whether they are raw materials, intermediate or finished goods, and taxed at rates in the range 0% to 25% on cost, insurance and freight value (or value for duty purposes).

Excise duties are levied on specific classes of goods manufactured in, or imported into, the country by reference to value using pre-determined rates contained in the Harmonised Commodity Description and Coding System plus the customs duty payable on those goods.

Temporary Imports

Goods may be temporarily imported into Zambia tax-free under a temporary import permit. In practice, permits are granted up to a maximum of 12 months. Upon importation, the importer must give security for the goods imported on temporary permits. This is refundable upon exporting the goods within the period of the permit.

2. References to "ZIMRA" are to the Zimbabwe Revenue Authority and the currency specified is the United States Dollar (USD).
3. The Income Tax Bill, which was gazetted in late 2012, and referred back by the President to Parliament with some reservations has not been made law. It is still uncertain at this stage whether or not it will be made law. There are fundamental changes to the tax system proposed in this Bill, including a move from a source-based tax system to a residence-based tax system.

Income Tax

The source basis of taxation is applied in Zimbabwe.

Individuals

Pay-As-You-Earn (PAYE)

Any employer of an employee, whose annual remuneration exceeds the zero-rate band of taxable income from employment, is required to register for PAYE purposes with ZIMRA and this has to be within 14 days of employing such person. A similar obligation extends to others (e.g. administrators of pension funds and foreign employers).

Employers, and other parties, are required to withhold tax from remuneration in accordance with gazetted tables and remit it to ZIMRA by the 10th day of the following month.

The "Final Deduction System", which operates through the PAYE stage of collections, minimises ZIMRA's assessment work in respect of employee income. The system allows for the refund of excess PAYE or the payment of additional PAYE from employees in appropriate circumstances. A substantial proportion of taxable employees are thus not required to render returns.

The annual tax bands and rates for the period 1 January 2016 to 31 December 2016 are as follows:

Taxable Income Bands (USD)			Rates
0	to	3 600	multiply by	0%
3 601	to	18 000	multiply by	20%
18 001	to	36 000	multiply by	25%
36 001	to	60 000	multiply by	30%
60 001	to	120 000	multiply by	35%
120 001	to	180 000	multiply by	40%
180 001	to	240 000	multiply by	45%
240 001	and	above	multiply by	50%

Notes:

1. The portion of income that falls into each band is taxed at each applicable rate.
2. The above rates do not include the AIDS levy which is a further 3% on the tax payable.
3. The above rates are applicable to residents and non-residents in respect of employment income earned from a source within Zimbabwe.
4. Certain employment-related benefits attract special treatment.
5. Income from employment may not be set off against losses incurred in business activities and vice versa.

Personal Tax Credits

- Personal credits of specified amounts are deducted from income tax with which a taxpayer is chargeable.
- The monthly personal tax credits for the elderly (from the year of 55th birthday), blind and disabled persons are USD75 per month.
- A medical aid expense credit of 50% of the cost of invalid appliances, medical treatment and medical aid contributions, are granted.
- The Tax credit in respect of disabled persons, and medical concessions pertaining to disabled persons, are not available if the person is not ordinarily resident in Zimbabwe.
- The credit for the elderly is reduced proportionately for the year of assessment in which the person turns 55 years old. In the case of the blind person's and disabled person's credits, where the income tax payable by the entitled spouse is insufficient to absorb the amount of the credit, the excess may be carried over and set off against the income tax payable by the other spouse (spouses are assessed separately in Zimbabwe).

- Taxable income accruing to an individual from any trade or investment, is taxed at a flat rate of 25% (plus AIDS levy at 3%) as opposed to the sliding scale applicable to taxable income from employment. The tax may, however, be reduced by personal tax credits (to the extent that they have not been credited against the tax on any employment earnings).

Benefits from Employment

Unless otherwise exempted, benefits arising from employment are taxable. Certain benefits have deemed values as follows:

- Motor vehicles – The annual deemed benefits from private use of an employer’s motor vehicle (with effect from 1 January 2014) are as follows:

Engine Capacity	USD
Up to 1 500cc	3 600
1 501cc to 2 000cc	4 800
2 001cc to 3 000cc	7 200
Over 3 000cc	9 600

- Benefits on disposal of company vehicles to employees – With effect from the 1 January 2009, and any subsequent year of assessment, the deemed benefit in the case of a sale or disposal of a motor vehicle to an employee whether during or on termination of employment, is determined by deducting from the market value of the vehicle (on date of acquisition by employee) the consideration given by the employee.
- In the event that the motor vehicle was acquired before 1 January 2009, the benefit is the market value of the vehicle less the cost of the vehicle (the cost of the vehicle is the value of the vehicle as shown in the final balances determined and carried forward by the employer in their financial statements as at 1 January 2009).
- In determining the market value of a motor vehicle, the Commissioner may have regard to the valuation of a member of such institution or association of motor dealers or values as prescribed by notice in the gazette. No benefit accrues to an employee who on the date of sale or disposal of the motor vehicle is over the age of 55.

- Soft loans – A benefit arises on the provision of a loan to an employee where the interest rate on the loan is less than LIBOR rate plus 5%. The benefit is determined by the difference between the LIBOR rate plus 5% and the interest rate charged. No loan benefit arises on loans taken for educational or medical purposes.
- Accommodation – A benefit arises on the provision of accommodation (quarters, boarding etc.) to an employee by an employer at a rental charge less than the open market rates.
- Relocation/travelling expenses – Travelling or relocation expenses of an employee, borne by an employer, constitute a taxable benefit to the employee, except to the extent that the expenses are incurred on the business of the employer or represent first relocation expenses on commencement or termination of employment.
- Share option schemes – The amount received or accrued as a result of the sale of shares offered to an employee, pursuant to any share option scheme, is brought into gross income. Where the share options were granted prior to, but exercised on or after 1 February 2009, a final tax of 5% on the gross amount is levied. For shares granted after that date, tax is subjected to the gain on disposal of the shares. The gain is calculated as market value of the shares on date of exercise less inflation adjusted cost of the shares to the employee. Such adjustment is calculated
 - by applying a formula recognising the difference
 - in the “all-items” Consumer Price Index (CPI) at the date of sale, and at the date of the offer.

Income

Income includes any Zimbabwe interest that is not liable to withholding tax (WHT), foreign interest and dividends where the Zimbabwe tax exceeds the foreign tax paid, rentals and trade income excluding employment income.

Notes:

1. The tax year is the calendar year from 1 January to 31 December. An accounting year may be used instead subject to approval by the tax authorities.
2. Foreign-source income – Income such as rentals and business profits are not taxable. Residents are, however, taxed on foreign-source dividends and interest. Dividends are taxed at a special rate of 20%. Where foreign-source income is taxable in the source country, a credit for the foreign tax, up to the amount of the applicable Zimbabwean income tax, will be allowed.
3. Deceased and insolvent estates are generally taxable at the rates applicable to individual's trade or investment income.

The following tax rates apply:

Income Tax: Companies and Trusts	Rate
Basic rate	25%

Zimbabwe

Thin Capitalisation

The thin capitalisation rules limit the deduction of interest payments by a company to a debt-equity ratio of 3:1. The disallowed interest is deemed to be a dividend for WHT purposes.

With effect from 1 November 2013, though the disallowance of excessive interest remains, the disallowed interest is no longer deemed interest for WHT purposes, if the interest on the loan incurred by any company, is for the benefit of the State.

Transfer Pricing

A transfer pricing framework has been introduced with effect from 1 January 2016. The transfer pricing legislation broadly follows the OECD guidelines and core principles. The key transfer pricing (TP) principles include the following:

- Where a person engages in a controlled transaction (a transaction with a related party), the amount of taxable income derived by the person would have to be consistent with the arm's length principle, i.e. the conditions that would have applied between independent parties under comparable circumstances.

Comparability would be determined by consideration of the characteristics of the property/services, functions performed, assets owned and risks borne, contractual terms, economic circumstances and business strategies of each of the associated parties.

Documentation supporting the arm's length nature of intercompany transactions would have to be prepared and maintained to enable the Commissioner General of the Zimbabwe Revenue Authority to ascertain whether a transaction was conducted in accordance with the arm's length principle.

In accordance with the OECD principles, the supporting documentation would have to contain a detailed functional analysis and economic analysis including information on the selection process of the most appropriate transfer pricing method and the application of the method to demonstrate the arm's length nature of the transaction and the appropriate arm's length price.

The new legislation provides details of the transfer pricing methods that could be applied, namely:

- Traditional transaction methods (comparable uncontrolled price, resale price and cost plus methods); and
- Profit-based methods (transactional net margin method and profit split method).

Typically, transfer pricing rules apply with respect to foreign related parties; however, the legislation indicates that, in line with Zimbabwe's anti-avoidance legislation, domestic transactions also may be subject to the transfer pricing rules

The TP legislation indicates that transfer pricing principles also would apply where a person that is resident in Zimbabwe engages in a transaction with a person (whether or not related, i.e. the person could be a third party) resident outside Zimbabwe in a jurisdiction considered by the Commissioner General to provide a tax benefit in relation to the transaction. It appears that the aim of this section is to "red-flag" any cross-border transactions between Zimbabwe and a low-tax jurisdiction (tax haven).

Capital Gains Tax (CGT)

Subject to certain exemptions, CGT is payable on any gain from a source within Zimbabwe, arising from the sale or deemed sale of specified assets; namely, immovable property and marketable securities. Deemed sales include the donation or exchange of assets. Amounts received on the maturity or redemption of assets is also taxable. The tax applies equally to companies and individuals.

Zimbabwe

With effect from 1 January 2014, amounts received by or accruing to a person from the sale or disposal of his or her shares to an indigenisation partner (including employees), or community share ownership trust, or scheme, will be exempt from CGT.

Effective 1 January 2014, the transfer of qualifying assets by way of a cession, are subject to obtaining a CGT clearance certificate.

With effect from 1 February 2009, the capital gain from a sale or disposal of a marketable security, and immovable property acquired before 1 February 2009, is the amount realised from the sale or disposal of the asset. The rate of CGT on such disposal is 5%.

Any sale of a marketable security (except a listed security), which is subject to a CGT WHT which is final, and immovable property acquired after this date, is taxed at 20% after allowing the following deductions:

- Selling expenses.
- Cost price.
- Bad debts.
- Special Court, High Court or Supreme Court appeal costs.
- 2.5% allowance of the purchase price from date of acquisition.
- 2.5% allowance on the cost of additions or improvements.

CGT is payable within 30 days of the earliest of:

- The signing of the agreement.
- Transfer of the property.
- Receipt of payment of the selling price of the specified asset.

Notes:

1. The CGT exemption on the sale of a principal private residence by an individual, applies to sellers aged 55 years and older.
2. Roll-over provisions with respect to the disposal of a principal private residence, have also been extended to the disposal of a vacant residential stand.

Capital Gains Withholding Tax

The rate of WHT is as follows:

- With effect from 1 February 2009, on immovable property, 15% of the sale proceeds.
- With effect from 1 February 2009, on unlisted marketable securities, 5% of the sale proceeds.
- With effect from 1 August 2009, on marketable securities that are listed securities, 1% of the sale proceeds (this is a final tax).

No part of capital gains WHT, that was withheld and paid over to the Commissioner, is refundable on the basis that there was an overpayment.

Notes:

1. From 1 January 2009, the depositories, agent or payee, must remit the capital gains WHT no later than the third working day of the following month.
2. The responsibility for withholding CGT, and paying such taxes, rests with a "depository", such as a conveyancer or a stockbroker, who holds part or all of the sale proceeds. Such depositories must be registered with ZIMRA. Should the depository fail to withhold the amount, responsibility passes to the seller. In certain circumstances, taxpayers may apply for capital gains WHT clearance (e.g. where there is no CGT liability).
3. The tax withheld is allowed as a credit against CGT ultimately found to be payable.
4. Registration of change of ownership may necessitate an assessment before permission to transfer is granted.

Zimbabwe

Value-Added Tax (VAT)

VAT is payable in respect of a broad range of goods and services supplied by a registered operator or which are imported.

A registered operator is a person carrying on a trade continuously. The VAT registration threshold is USD60 000 per annum. The effect of registration is that a recipient trader is entitled to claim input (with certain exceptions) equal to the VAT paid by him to his supplier if such supplies are for the purpose of his trade. This input VAT is set off against output VAT payable in respect of the tax period. Any excess input tax is refundable by ZIMRA.

The rates of VAT applied, are:

- The standard rate of 15%.
- A zero rate (0%).

With regards to a 0% VAT rate, the effect of the zero rate is that, although the supplier of the designated goods and services charges no VAT and therefore has no output tax in that respect, he/she remains entitled to claim input tax on any supplies to him as have been subject to VAT. Zero-rating applies to: basic foodstuffs (including bread, margarine, milk, sugar, fresh/chilled/frozen meat and vegetables, fresh/dried fruits, eggs and salt), supplies of certain agricultural, horticultural and forestry equipment, various goods for use by disabled persons, medicines, exported goods and international transport of goods and passengers. With effect from 1 December 2010, the procurement of fiscalised electronic tax registers and memory devices is zero-rated.

Services rendered to a tourist are zero rated.

Except accommodation services provided by:

- The operator of tourist facility designated as such in the Tourism Regulations or;
- The owner of any place where persons are provided with residential accommodation for a fee with or without meals commonly known as but not limited to "boarding house" or backpackers' lodge" or;
- The operator of a hunting Safari.

Exemptions from VAT include: operations under a temporary casino license, certain educational services, medical services, road and rail fare-paying passenger services, pipeline transportation, services provided by a fund administrator to or on behalf of a pension fund registered under the Pension and Provident Funds Act, domestic accommodation, water and electricity supplies, financial services, imports of certain agricultural equipment and imports of certain petroleum products.

Notes:

1. The option to apply for VAT registration for separate trade, branches and divisions, was repealed with effect from 1 January 2010.
2. VAT at 20% is payable by the supplier on exportation of beneficiated chrome (chrome-ore and fines).
3. On importation of goods into Zimbabwe, VAT is payable on the value for duty purposes plus any duty, excluding surtax.
4. The period within which the Commissioner should respond to an objection is three months.
5. With effect from 1 January 2010, every supply made by auction of any goods and services on behalf of a principal, is treated as a supply made by the auctioneer.

The following changes were effected from the 1 January 2012:

- VAT payments and returns are due by the 25th day after the tax period.
- Implementation of VAT fiscalised recording of transactions.
- Non-compliance with fiscalisation by registered operators attract a maximum penalty of a USD25 per point of sale for each day the taxpayer remains in default.

Zimbabwe

The VAT Act allows for the deferment of VAT payable on certain imported capital goods for a period of up to 180 days, and where the goods are converted to/or disposed of without having used them in the manner that qualified them for the deferment, additional tax equal to the tax is chargeable. With effect from 1 January 2013, the additional tax is extended to persons who do not settle the deferred VAT when it becomes due. The amounts are also subject to interest. The period for deferment for payment of VAT on high valued capital assets, is extended as follows:

Value of equipment ($)	Deferment period (days)
100 000 – 1 000 000	90
100 001 – 10 000 000	120
Above 10 00 000	180

Export of Unbeneficiated Products

Exportation of Unbeneficiated Hides

The exportation of unbeneficiated hides attract VAT at a rate of 75 cents per kilogram on the supplier of such hides for export or 15% of the export consignment of the hides in question whichever gives a higher tax yield.

Unbeneficiated hides include:

- Raw or untanned animal hides; or
- Unbeneficiated leather

The valuation method (for purposes of VAT) is the highest price in the market of export in the prior six months, or the value on the Bill-of-Entry (BOE) under the Customs Act (whichever is higher).

An export tax (VAT) on unbeneficiated platinum was due to come into effect on 1 January 2015. This has been deferred to 1 January 2017.

Customs and Excise Duty

Customs duty is levied on the importation of certain goods on the value for duty purposes (VDP). The VDP is essentially the landed value of the goods plus VAT where applicable.

The standard tariff can be varied by virtue of special rates applicable to an agreement or trade block membership. Presently, Zimbabwe is a member of the Southern African Development Community (SADC) and the Common Market for Eastern and Southern Africa (COMESA).

A wide range of rebates exist mainly in respect of certain raw materials, strategic entities and/or sectors and certain types or classes of capital equipment.

Regular changes are made to customs tariffs and/or rebates depending on emerging circumstances. Accordingly, it is outside of the scope of this document to include all such rebates or tariffs. A tariff search is available on the ZIMRA website at: www.zimra.co.zw.

Minerals Marketing Corporation of Zimbabwe (MMCZ)

With effect from 1 January 2014, depletion fees payable to the MMCZ are now payable to the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

Zimbabwe

Unbeneficiated Diamonds

To encourage local beneficiation, no royalties are charged on rough diamonds sold to local firms licenced to cut and polish diamonds (effective 1 January 2015).

Mining Rights

Protection and/or Forfeiture of Claims Certain amendments have been made to the rules regarding preservation of mining rights. The revisions require the obtaining of an inspection certificate for the renewal of mining blocks or mining leases accompanied by a prescribed fee and details of work carried out at the location including the declaration of the extent of quittance work, provision made for the meeting of quittance work or any other work required to protect or restore the environment. Failure to obtain an inspection certificate can on notification result in forfeiture of the lease. In certain circumstances the holder of a block or the lessee of a mining lease can on payment of a prescribed fee acquire a retention licence. This measure took effect from 1 January 2014.

Stamp Duty

Stamp duty, payable on registration in a deeds registry of the acquisition of immovable property that was acquired in foreign currency, is payable in the same or another specified foreign currency as follows:

Property Value (USD)	Stamp Duty ($)
Up to 5 000 for every 100 or part of the value	1
More than 5 000 to 20 000 for every 100 or part of the value	2
More 20 000 to 100 000 for every 100 or part of the value	3
Above 100 000 for every 100 or part of the value	4

Notes:

1. A transfer duty of 1% arises on the transfer of mining claims.

Estate Duty

Estate duty of 5% is levied on the value of worldwide assets of a deceased individual who was ordinarily resident in Zimbabwe. If the deceased was not ordinarily resident, estate duty is levied only on property within Zimbabwe. The blanket exclusion from dutiable amount in an estate is USD50 000.

Tax Administration

- In line with international best practice, ZIMRA has set up a Large Taxpayer Office (LTO) that became operational on 1 April 2010.
- ZIMRA has embarked on the process of electronic filing of returns which is ongoing.

Other

Tax Amnesty

With effect from 1 October 2014, the Tax Amnesty Act was enacted. The Act absolved taxpayers from interest and penalty charges for tax irregularities if they address their tax affairs by 31 March 2015. The amnesty was further extended to 30 June. Taxpayers are also relieved of any prosecution by the National Prosecuting Authority regarding declared irregularities.

The covered amnesty period is from 1 February 2009 to 31 October 2014. The covered taxes include: income tax, VAT, CGT, customs and import taxes etc.

Taxpayers must truthfully declare all facts and extent of irregularities when making an application for amnesty, short of which the Commissioner reserves the right to withdraw amnesty on the taxpayer concerned. The amnesty can also be withdrawn if, without reasonable grounds, a taxpayer defaults from the payment plan or fails to pay current tax or duty liabilities in full by the due dates. It is proposed to extend the period of settlement of liabilities to 31 December 2015.

Furthermore, a discount was offered on the tax payable by an amnestied taxpayer of not exceeding 5% cumulatively per month for early payment of the covered taxes due. This discount appears to have been extended to those who have also already participated but it gives the Commissioner the option to process the discounted amount by way of credit against future tax liabilities.

Powers of the Commissioner and Duty to Keep Records

The Commissioner has been given the power to attach and auction property in cases of non-payment of duty or taxes. The powers also cover areas such as failure to furnish any return or information in connection with a tax liability within the time allowed, and where the Commissioner is not satisfied with the return or information supplied. In addition, all persons whose gross income does not consist solely of wages or salaries, shall be required to keep proper books of accounts relating to any trade carried out by him for a period of six years and the books should be kept in English. Any person who fails to maintain such a record shall be guilty of an offence.

The In Duplum Rule (Prescribed Rate of Interest Act)

To encourage prompt compliance with court orders requiring the payment of sums of money, the debtor's protection under the "in duplum rule" (in brief, that the interest levied cannot exceed the capital sum) is to be excluded in the case of judgment debts.

Transitional Matters

With regard to items that have an impact on the 2009 taxable income, such as assessed losses, income tax values, closing stock and recoupment, it was proposed that taxpayers express their revalued Zimbabwean dollar final balances in USD by applying a conversion rate which is subject to the Commissioner's approval. Taxpayers should declare the exchange rate applied and justify application of such an exchange rate, where it is necessary. The actual invoices and proof of payment in Zimbabwean dollars may be called for.

General Investment Information

Investment Incentives

Incentives apply equally to domestic and foreign investors. The major goals of incentives include employment creation, small business development, industrial development, export promotion, development and the upliftment of the economically disadvantaged. Presently, very limited incentives apply. Tariffs protect local industry but the move towards harmonisation of trade within the region has led to the reduction of tariff for COMESA and SADC countries.

General Incentives

- Rebate provisions – These are available to all manufacturing industries. Provision exists for rebate or drawback of certain duties applicable to imported goods, raw materials and components used in manufacturing, processing or for export.
- Incentives for the small business sector – The Zimbabwe Government is well aware of the important role that small, medium and micro-enterprises play in job creation and innovative new production methods. SMEs presently access a more favourable capital allowance regime.

Capital Allowances

- Refer to the section on capital allowances above.

Free Trade Zones (FTZs)

- The EPZ status is no longer available. The Government is presently in the process of introducing special economic zones. These are expected to be introduced during the course of 2016.

Indigenisation

The Government has introduced legislation and regulations aimed at seeking to ensure that indigenous Zimbabweans participate in all sectors of the economy. Recent legislative amendments will see determination of compliance levels being determined subject to negotiation with the respective line/Ministry under which the business falls.

Exchange Controls

Limited exchange controls are in place with the majority of restrictions on exchange being removed in 2009. Most controls relate to monitoring activities, which have largely been passed on to the banking sector, with minimal Central Bank intervention. Individuals and companies are permitted to make payments for goods and services offshore, as well as servicing external debts. External loans of up to USD7.5 million, for both domestic and foreign investors, can be processed at banks without prior approval from Treasury and the Reserve Bank External Loans Coordinating Committee (ELCC).

Zimbabwe

Expatriates, Entrance Permits, and Work Permits

Work permits for expatriates are generally available in cases where the expertise is not available locally or if the employment of an expatriate is called for in setting up a new project. A business visa can be obtained installation and back-up service for machinery purchased outside Zimbabwe by local companies, those attending board meetings and assessing investment opportunities. Investors, who invest not less than USD1 million in a project approved by Zimbabwe Investment Authority (ZIA), qualify for permanent residence on application. Investors who invest at least USD300 000 in a sole business venture, in a project approved by ZIA, will qualify for a residence permit for three years at the end of which permanent residence may be granted, whereas investors who invest USD100 000 in a joint venture approved by ZIA, with a bona fide Zimbabwean, will qualify for a three-year residence permit at the end of which permanent residence may be granted.

Trade Relations

- Memberships – SADC and COMESA.
- Zimbabwe has a bilateral trade agreement with South Africa. As a result of this trade agreement, a number of export products may enter the South African market at reduced rates of import duty and vice versa.

Interest and Currency Exchange Rates

Due to liquidity constraints, lending rates on the USD remain high except in the case of certain special facilities. These rates vary from approximately 7% to over 20% in certain instances.

With effect from 1 February 2009, the following currencies became legal tender in Zimbabwe: British Pound Sterling (£), Euro (€), United States Dollar (USD), South African Rand (R) and Botswana Pula (P).

Notes:

1. The USD is primarily in use and international cross-rates of exchange are applied when transacting with other currencies.
