

International Tax Myanmar Highlights 2021

Updated January 2021

Investment basics

Currency: Myanmar Kyat (MMK)

Foreign exchange control: Citizens, foreigners, and companies in Myanmar generally must obtain permission from the Foreign Exchange Management Department for all dealings with foreign exchange, including borrowing from abroad and repaying principal and interest, making payments to a person abroad, opening accounts in a foreign bank abroad, and remitting profits. However, companies registered under the Myanmar Investment Law (MIL) are permitted to repatriate investments and profits in the foreign currency in which the investments were made, subject to the approval of the Investment Commission and the Central Bank of Myanmar.

Accounting principles/financial statements: MFRS, which is aligned with IFRS, applies. Full adoption of IFRS will start from 2022. Financial statements must be prepared annually and must be audited.

For tax filing purposes, from fiscal year 2019-2020, foreign companies, branches, and joint venture businesses are required to file under the self-assessment system ((SAS); see “Filing and payment” under “Compliance for corporations,” below). Under the SAS, a company is not required to submit audited accounts along with its annual income tax return.

Principal business entities: These are the private and public limited liability company, partnership and joint venture with a citizen, private company, cooperative society or state-owned economic organization, and sole proprietorship.

Corporate taxation

Rates

Corporate income tax rate	25% (in general)
Branch tax rate	25%
Capital gains tax rate	10% (for oil and gas exploration and extraction companies, rate ranges from 40% to 50%)

Residence: A company is deemed a resident if it is formed under the Myanmar Companies Law. An association of persons other than a company is resident in Myanmar where the control, management, and decision-making of its affairs are situated and exercised wholly in Myanmar.

Basis: Resident companies are taxed on their worldwide income. However, resident companies registered under the MIL will be liable to pay tax in accordance with any applicable exemptions and reliefs on their investments. Nonresident companies are taxed only on Myanmar-source income.

Taxable income: Taxable income includes income from a business, profession, property, capital gains, and income from other sources. Taxable income is calculated after the deduction of allowable expenses and tax depreciation. Donations made to government-sponsored charitable/religious activities or organizations in an amount up to 25% of the company's total net income are allowable as a deduction if certain conditions are fulfilled.

Rate: A 25% tax rate applies to companies incorporated under the Myanmar Companies Law, state-owned enterprises, and businesses carried out with a permit from the Myanmar Investment Commission. Companies listed on the Yangon Stock Exchange are taxed at a reduced rate of 20% on their total net taxable profits.

A branch of a foreign company is taxed at a 25% rate on Myanmar-source income.

A 2% advance corporate income tax is levied on the import and export of goods, and the tax is creditable against the corporate income tax liability of a resident entity at the end of a relevant fiscal year.

Surtax: There is no surtax.

Alternative minimum tax: There is no alternative minimum tax.

Taxation of dividends: Myanmar operates a one-tier corporate tax system, under which dividends received from a Myanmar resident company are exempt from income tax in the hands of shareholders.

Capital gains: There is no separate capital gains tax law. Income tax is levied on gains from the sale, exchange, or transfer of capital assets (e.g., land, buildings, vehicles, and any capital assets of an enterprise). Capital assets also include shares, bonds, and similar instruments. The tax rate is 10% for both resident and nonresident companies, with the exception of oil and gas (exploration and extraction) companies, where tax rates range from 40% to 50%.

Losses: Losses from any source of income may be set off against income from any other source of the same entity in a fiscal year. Unused losses may be carried forward and may offset income in the following three years. The carryback of losses is not permitted.

Capital losses and a share of losses of an association of persons cannot be offset against income from other sources or carried forward.

Foreign tax relief: There is no provision for unilateral relief. However, if a tax treaty is applicable, the treaty provisions will be followed, regardless of any conflicting provisions in the income tax law.

Participation exemption: There is no participation exemption.

Holding company regime: There is no holding company regime.

Incentives: Two main laws provide incentives to foreign investors: the MIL and the Special Economic Zone (SEZ) Law.

Tax incentives under the MIL depend on the sectors designated and the development of regions and states. Subject to satisfying the relevant conditions, a corporate income tax holiday of three to seven years may be granted, along with relief from certain duties and other taxes.

Special corporate income tax incentives under the SEZ law include the following:

- A tax exemption for the first seven years for investors in a free zone, and a tax exemption for the first five years for investors in a promotion zone;
- 50% tax relief for the second five years for investors in a free zone or promotion zone, and 50% relief for the third five years if the profits are reinvested within one year;
- A tax exemption for the first eight years for a developer;
- 50% tax relief for the second five years for a developer, and 50% relief for the third five years if the profits are reinvested within one year; and
- An import duty exemption for certain goods.

Compliance for corporations

Tax year: The Myanmar tax year has changed to 1 October to 30 September (from 1 April to 31 March) with effect from 1 October 2019 for all entities incorporated/registered in Myanmar.

Consolidated returns: There is no provision for group treatment in the tax legislation; each entity must file a separate return.

Filing and payment: The income tax return must be filed within three months from the end of the fiscal year. Tax returns for capital gains must be filed within one month from the date of disposal of the capital assets (i.e., the earliest of the date of execution of the deed of disposal, the date title passes, or the date of delivery). Myanmar has two assessment systems: the SAS and the official assessment system (OAS). Generally, foreign companies are assessed under the SAS. Under the SAS, the taxpayer files an annual tax return and assesses its own tax liability.

Advance payments must be made quarterly for corporate income tax, based on the estimated total income for the year. The advance tax payments and any taxes withheld are creditable against the final tax liability. The date for settling the final tax liability is specified in the notice of demand issued by the Internal Revenue Department (IRD). Excess tax paid may be refunded once the IRD has authorized and approved the refund.

Penalties: The Tax Administrative Law (TAL) effective 1 October 2019 sets a wide variety of penalties and interest for noncompliance relating to tax matters. These may apply not only to the relevant taxpayers, but also to persons responsible for withholding the tax and paying it to the IRD.

Rulings: Taxpayers can request advance rulings under the TAL. The IRD also is empowered to issue public rulings for purposes of consistency and guidance in compliance matters.

Deductions and allowances: Premiums paid on a life insurance policy and donations in an amount up to 25% of the individual's total income that are made to government-sponsored charitable/religious activities or organizations are allowable as a deduction if certain conditions are fulfilled.

Resident individuals are granted a basic allowance deduction of 20% of total taxable income, up to a maximum threshold of MMK 10 million in a tax year. Allowances for a spouse, children, and parents also are deductible in calculating the taxable income of a resident individual.

Foreign tax relief: There is no foreign tax relief for individuals under the existing law.

Compliance for individuals

Tax year: The tax year has changed to 1 October to 30 September (from 1 April to 31 March) with effect from 1 October 2019.

Filing status: Each individual receiving income other than salary is required to file a separate tax return. Married couples are not allowed to file a joint return.

Filing and payment: The employer is responsible for deducting income tax due from salary at the time the salary is paid. The tax withheld must be paid to the tax authorities within 15 days from the date of deduction. The employer is required to furnish an annual salary statement within three months of the end of the income year.

For other income, including income from a business, the tax payment requirements are:

- Monthly commercial tax is payable on income received and receivable; and
- Quarterly advance income tax is payable based on the estimated total income for the year.

The advance payments and any taxes withheld are creditable against the final tax liability. The date for settling the final tax liability is specified in the demand notice issued by the IRD.

Income tax returns must be filed within three months of the end of the tax year. Tax returns for capital gains can be filed as transactional returns within one month from the date of disposal of capital assets (i.e., the earliest of the date of execution of the deed of disposal, the date title passes, or the date of delivery), followed by the final return within three months of the end of the tax year.

Penalties: See “Penalties” under “Compliance for corporations.”

Rulings: Taxpayers can request advance rulings under the TAL. The IRD also is empowered to issue public rulings for purposes of consistency and guidance in compliance matters.
