Inefficient procure-to-pay (P2P) processes can have a huge impact on your organization’s tax profile and your bottom line. Business complexity, information inaccuracies, and a lack of insights can lead to indirect tax overpayments or underpayments while also consuming inordinate amounts of employee time. An increasingly competitive business environment demands greater simplicity and greater integration at the intersection of tax and procurement.

CAPABILITIES AT THE READY

How can you begin to transform the spend management picture when it comes to indirect tax challenges? Deloitte can help you reimagine tax and procurement. Our team deeply understands the importance of addressing tax as part of a broader P2P program, bringing a spectrum of skills that can help you move forward with confidence. Here are some areas in which we can help.

- Defining indirect tax requirements and streamlining tax policy application in SAP Ariba
- Embedding tax processes and automation into your P2P program
- Data integration between a P2P digital procurement system and indirect tax software
- Configuring indirect tax software to generate taxability decisions, rather than relying on employees and manual processes to determine the taxability of purchases
- Sales and use tax recovery studies to provide an additional source of funding for projects, identifying areas for improvement to help you avoid recovery of overpaid tax in the future
- End-to-end tax process optimization to provide visibility into the full cost of purchases—to help manage suppliers’ expectations and reduce overall indirect tax variances
- Automating the posting of tax liabilities into your core financial system

SAP® Ariba® offers a suite of cloud solutions directed at transforming spend management. Indirect tax is an important aspect of purchases, developing a cost-effective, automated, and tax compliant indirect tax solution is vital. By aligning such a solution with your business processes—as part of a procure-to-pay transformation—you can realize tax efficiencies, reduce the risk of noncompliance, identify opportunities, improve P2P processes, and help reduce the costs associated with complex industry-specific global indirect taxes.

POTENTIAL RESULTS WHEN YOU WORK WITH DELoitTE

- Eliminate manual work, reduce tax compliance related costs, and mitigate risks by automating indirect tax determination and processes
- Generate reports for expected and actual taxes to support regulatory demands as well as business decision-making
- Know the total spend amount including tax before you issue a purchase order, helping suppliers identify what tax is expected and enhancing invoice reconciliation processes
- Reduce tax leakage including overpayments, underpayments, and time spent on indirect tax recovery activities
- Get a more complete picture of indirect tax throughout your P2P lifecycle and enable a traceable, standardized process for indirect tax reporting to authorities
- Improve supplier relations with more accurate indirect tax processes to assist with more timely payments
