

Deloitte Delivers SAP[®] Business ByDesign[™]

Chances are you can afford a best-in-class ERP solution with the expertise of an experienced integrator and the power of “the cloud.”

Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) technology is a powerful tool for enabling companies to operate more efficiently, improve productivity and execute their business strategies with ease. Yet, investing in a world-class ERP platform has traditionally required significant investments in hardware, software upgrades, back-ups, disaster recovery, and ongoing maintenance and support. Taken together, these costs often put world-class ERP out of reach for many small- to mid-sized companies. At least, that was the case until “the cloud” blew in. With the advent of cloud technology, SAP has devised an on-demand, cloud solution, called SAP Business ByDesign, that is changing how small and mid-sized companies think about ERP and the ways in which it can affordably be deployed to meet their needs.

About SAP Business ByDesign

The SAP Business ByDesign solution is a comprehensive, cloud-based, ERP business solution for small- to mid-sized companies. It not only enables core ERP functions but it also features state-of-the-art analytics, mobility, and collaboration tools — all of which can be accessed through an intuitive user-friendly interface. This level of functionality is necessary to run an efficient, growing business today, and it can rarely be found in a single system right out of the box. In addition, as a cloud-based solution, SAP Business ByDesign eliminates the traditional hardware and maintenance expenses typically associated with ERP solutions.

How Deloitte adds value

SAP Business ByDesign gives small- to mid-sized companies the opportunity to eliminate the headaches and costs of maintaining their own IT environment, all while empowering their employees to foster innovation and improve productivity through embedded leading practices and user-enablement tools. Implementation experience and business process know-how, however, are necessary in order to make the most of this opportunity. That’s where Deloitte comes in.

Deloitte is a SAP Global-level services partner, and it has the largest SAP consulting practice in North America. With a strong presence in the growth-enterprise market, we combine proven methodologies, business process experience, and multi-disciplinary capabilities to deliver a better solution in a shorter timeframe. Our goal is to assist you in getting your SAP Business ByDesign solution up and running on time and on budget — with high quality and little strain on your personnel. Additionally, we have full coverage across the Canadian market, and globally if required, allowing us to keep travel expenses to a minimum.

It's all about your business

SAP Business ByDesign is a robust, scalable solution. But in order to make the most of it, you need to know how to tailor it to meet your needs. That's why Deloitte's approach is all about your business. We not only work with you to address your unique business challenges but also to promote self-sufficiency through training and user-enablement. This helps to ensure that your personnel know how to use the solution to be more productive as well as to minimize ongoing support costs.
