2017 Global Employer Services Southeast Asia Seminar
Business Travellers – Are You Managing the Risks?

Thursday, 3 August 2017

Background

With the establishment of the ASEAN Economic Community (AEC), ASEAN countries are committed to the achievement of free flow of skilled labour. As we move towards the economic integration of Southeast Asia, we are beginning to see cross-border movement of professionals and skilled labour across the region.

Deloitte's Southeast Asia Global Employer Services (GES) seminar aims not only to provide the relevant tax and immigration implications but also to share on recent update and developments. This should enable your organization to understand the regulatory requirements to be in compliant and to mitigate unnecessary exposures.

Speakers

Irene Atmawijaya
Tax Partner, Deloitte Indonesia

Irene is the lead partner for Global Employer Services (GES) division in Indonesia. She has over 18 years of experience as tax consultant with Big 4 accounting and consulting firms and started her career serving corporate clients for various Indonesian corporate tax matters and then decided to focus on the individual taxation area when the ITA began to enforce individual tax compliance of expatriates working in Indonesia in 2000. Irene specializes in the area of individual taxes and global mobility, such as employer and individual tax compliance, corporate tax considerations in relation to assignment-related tax issues, structuring of reward and benefit packages for employment contracts and international assignments, employee equity plans, tax treaties, and dispute resolution.

Jill Lim
Tax Partner, Deloitte Singapore

Jill Lim leads the Global Employer Services (GES) division in Singapore and is also the GES leader for South East Asia. She started her career with the Inland Revenue Authority of Singapore (IRAS) and has over 25 years of experience in serving local, multinational, and listed companies in Singapore and Asia Pacific. She specializes in providing corporate and personal income tax compliance and advisory services relating to tax equalization, pension issues and taxation of equity and deferred compensation.
