Background

- The taxpayer is engaged in the business of manufacture and sale of passenger cars within and outside India.
- The Assessing Officer (AO) during the course of assessment proceedings disallowed interest paid by the taxpayer on foreign currency borrowings under section 40(a)(i) of the Act.
- The taxpayer submitted that loan was availed from the overseas bank (a Mauritius banking company) and as such the banks' affiliates only facilitated the transaction in India. Therefore, the overseas bank does not have any Permanent Establishment (PE) in India and no income accrues or arises in India. The taxpayer also argued that interest income of the overseas bank is not taxable in India under Article 11(1) of the India-Mauritius DTAA.
- The AO observed that the entire transaction, including signing of loan agreements, was carried out in India and held that the overseas bank transacted through its PE in India and hence income accrued in India.
- The Dispute Resolution Panel (DRP) upheld the argument of the AO and confirmed the disallowance.
- Aggrieved against the order of the lower authorities, the company filed an appeal before the Tribunal.

Issue before the Tribunal

Whether the taxpayer is liable to withhold taxes in India under section 195 of the Act on interest paid to overseas banks?

Observations and Ruling of the Tribunal

- The issue before Tribunal was whether the overseas banks operated through a permanent establishment in India by virtue of which interest income attributable to such PE could be said to be taxable in India.
- For this purpose, the Tribunal analysed the provisions of Article 5 read with Article 7 of the India-Mauritius DTAA.
- Reading Article 5(4) and 5(5), the Tribunal observed that agency PE could not be said to be triggered since there is no principal-agent relationship for the overseas bank in India and the Indian affiliate office does not conclude contracts in the name of Mauritian entity.
- Further, the Tribunal also observed that Article 5(1), popularly known as Fixed PE, would be triggered only when business of the overseas bank is carried out wholly or partly in India. Since there is nothing more than affiliates of foreign entity here, it was held that there is no fixed place of business.

- The Tribunal thus held that it does not satisfy the three criteria for existence of PE, viz. physical place (existence of physical location), subjective (right to use place), functionality (carrying out business).
- The Tribunal held in favour of the taxpayer by observing that no business activity has been carried out by the overseas bank in India and as such the income is not taxable for the foreign bank in India. Consequently, there is no withholding tax liability under section 195 of the Act.

Conclusion

The above ruling assumes significance since it has been categorically held that the overseas bank does not have a PE exposure in India merely because their affiliates in India facilitate the loan/interest transaction or act as Authorized Dealers for such transactions. Further, an in-depth analysis on PE exposure has been made to bring in more clarity on this subject.
