Deloitte.

2015 Global Contact Center Survey results Top 10 Insights

Contact centers continue to grow — in size and strategic importance of respondents expect contact center growth in the next two years primarily to support business growth and customer experience demands

72%
of respondents are planning contact center transformation in the next two years with heavy emphasis on consolidation, outsourcing, and/or establishing new contact centers

Volumes on all contact channels are expected to grow

Web self-service, email, and mobile are likely to experience the largest growth for simple inquiries.

Voice, web chat and email are projected to experience the largest growth for complex inquiries.

Channel integration continues to struggle

Over 30% of the respondents have not

Email, Voice (Live), and Web (Self) have been integrated by the most respondents

Customer Experience is a competitive differentiator of responding organizations surveyed view customer experience provided through the contact centers as a competitive differentiator

85%

Over half of the respondents believe that contact center plays a primary role in customer retention

CXOs are accountable for contact center customer experience

Most organizations surveyed have multiple resources responsible for customer experience delivered through the contact center

Reporting structures underline the growing importance of contact centers

Employee satisfaction and engagement are important of surveyed contact centers measure their employee satisfaction

Respondents indicate that employee or group recognition is the most effective way to improve employee satisfaction

SaaS-based solutions are projected to fuel the growth in contact center technology solutions

WFM, Social, and Mobile will likely see the biggest increases in use of SaaS-based solutions in the next two years

CRM currently leads the way in use of SaaS-based solutions among those surveyed, and is expected to continue to do so in the next two years

Contact centers continue to utilize outsourcing, but the usage of remote staff hasn't quite gained traction of respondents outsource their contact centers

Most contact centers surveyed currently employ less than 10% remote staff of those, more than half outsource over 50% of their resources

Industry trends continue to shape contact center evolution of Health Care Providers surveyed view customer experience provided

Technology/Media/Telecom (TMT) has the highest use rates of outsourced reps at Financial Services has the highest percentage of remote representatives at 13%

Retail and TMT lead the way in operationalizing omni-channel strategy with having fully integrated their channels

Delotte refers to one or more of Delotte Touche Tohmatsu Limited, a UK private company limited by guarantee ("DTTL"), its network of member firms, and their related entities. DTTL and each of its member firms are legally separate and independent entities. DTTL (also referred to as "Delotte Global") does not provide services to clients. Please see www.delotte.com/about for a detailed description of DTTL and its member firms. Please see www.delotte.com/us/about for a detailed description of the legal structure of Delotte LIP and its subsidiaries. Certain services may not be available to attest clients under the rules and results incredible respective.

Copyright © 2015 Deloitte Development LLC. All rights reserved. Member of Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu Limited

