This new regulation provides some important changes, including eliminating some types of activities that require a work permit, abolishing the ratio of expatriates to national employees, etc., which were previously required under MoM number 16/2015.

5	Domestic investment company ("PMDN") cannot appoint foreigner as commissioner	Not regulated	Specifically regulated – PMDN is not allowed to appoint a foreigner as commissioner

(3) Deloitte's View

The recent MoM Regulation number 16/2015 was viewed as burdensome and not friendly to foreign investors as it required business travellers and non-resident commissioners and directors to have work permits. This new MoM rule will help to regain the attractiveness of Indonesia for foreign investments, which the current government is promoting.
