

Alumni Newsletter May 2020

Dear Alumni,

Welcome to the second edition of your Alumni newsletter. It comes during a special moment - the Global alumni month – during which we celebrate our Colleagues for Life. As we face unprecedented times, I am convinced the unique network of talented professionals you represent is a critical component of the strength and resilience that our Firm will rely upon to recover and thrive.

As I had shared with you in my email a few weeks ago, we at Deloitte have placed the health and safety of our people, clients and communities at the heart of our responses to the pandemic. This is why you will find in this edition of the Alumni newsletter all the resources we have developed to help support and overcome this crisis.

But that is not all. Our Firm is committed to look at what lies ahead and build its ability to be the undisputed leader in tomorrow's world. A world transformed, but where our shared values of leading the way, collaborating for measurable impact and taking care of each other will be more relevant than ever, enabling us to succeed in the market and beyond. In this context, we also wanted to share some of the stories and news that demonstrates our will to collectively address the days to come and prepare for tomorrow, confident in the belief that we are stronger together.

It is my hope that we will be able to reunite our Colleagues for Life soon. In the meantime, I wish that you and yours are staying healthy and safe.

Have a pleasant read and, as always, do not hesitate to reach out to us for any query you might have.

Kind regards,

John Psaila,
Managing Partner
