

Finance Transformation Strategy

Your challenge

- Newly appointed CFO is confronted with the legacy of his/her predecessor, uncertain about the efficiency and reliability of the finance function and looking for assurance.
- Internal clients are not satisfied with the quality of services provided by the finance function: inadequate information quality, timely reporting, risk management and frequent financial restatements.
- Cost reduction in the finance function requires a clear view on its priorities and efficiency compared to similar organisations through benchmarking.
- Major shift in business strategy or organisational structure, requires finance function to reorganise its activities or rethink how it adds value to the business.
- Frequent financial restatements or evidence of other financial reporting issues showing a lack of quality and reliability of the finance function.
- Upgrade or implementation of new financial systems, with significant impact on finance processes and required competencies of finance staff.

Our solution

- We Help CFOs to identify the weaknesses in their finance organisation, to prioritize required change efforts and we support them in defining an optimal operating model that can best increase its influence in the organisation, support the business, and manage key finance activities more efficiently.
- We can redesign the finance function processes and enablers and set priorities for improvement based on a structured analysis tool in a relatively short period of time.
- We provide a roadmap to achieve the targeted state.
