Programme 2018

Since 2009, Deloitte has decided to open its knowledge resources to the professionals of the Financial Services Industries community. We are happy to present to you the calendar of our new Link'n Learn season which, as in previous years, will be moderated by our leading industry experts. These sessions are specifically designed to provide you with valuable insight on today's critical trends and the latest regulations impacting your business. An hour of your time is all you need to log on and tune into each informative webinar.
