Deloitte Solutions
Transaction Regulatory Reporting Services

Transaction reporting is about to drastically change...

Transaction regulatory reporting requirements come in the form of EMIR, MiFIR and SFTR.

EMIR introduced daily reporting requirements in 2014, MiFIR will enter into force in January 2018, and SFTR will not wait long to join the regulatory list.

When this regulatory trio is implemented, almost the complete range of financial instruments executed between counterparties will have to be reported to the competent authorities within 24 hours.

The new regulatory environment will dramatically reshape daily operations of financial and non-financial institutions falling under the transaction reporting regulations.

...and we have Solutions for you

Deloitte Solutions, a PSF entity, is regulated by the CSSF and is subject to strict IT security and data confidentiality standards.

We have built an ecosystem to handle the full range of transaction regulatory reporting requirements.

Combining our extensive regulatory expertise with cutting-edge technologies, we offer an integrated solution for your transaction regulatory reporting needs.

Deloitte Solutions manages all your reporting needs, including daily data collection, validation, dissemination, and review of feedback from trade repositories and competent authorities.

We adapt our approach to your specific compliance needs and tailor our reporting solution to your business strategy.
