

Carbon Management Services

Your challenge

Climate change is already impacting all businesses. All organisations have to deal with always more expensive energy and new regulations on carbon emissions.

The way companies will proactively and efficiently manage their carbon footprint and more broadly climate change challenges will help them outperform the competition.

Do you ever ask yourself...

- What are the risks and opportunities related to carbon management?
- Are we ready to face the major changes in environmental requirements of our clients?
- How carbon constraints may impact the competitiveness of our organisation and our product or service offerings?
- How to determine the carbon footprint of our organisation?

Our solution

Deloitte will help you build a comprehensive carbon strategy in order to increase your competitive advantage through a better management of your carbon value chain and energy use. Our team can help you:

- Determine your carbon footprint: Deloitte will guide you in the evaluation of your carbon footprint based on the Bilan Carbone® methodology.
- Analyse your carbon exposure: We will help you determine the exposure and calculate the sensitivity of your organisation regarding energy price evolutions.
- Develop an action plan: Based on the carbon footprint analysis our team will help you build-up a detailed plan to reduce your carbon footprint and exposure and estimate costs and expected benefits of various mitigation actions.
