

Deloitte CE
Code of Conduct

It starts with integrity

Making an Impact that Matters

Deloitte's commitment to quality and integrity underlies everything we do – day in and day out – as we seek to make an impact that matters for clients, our people, and our communities.

Our Deloitte CE Code of Conduct – or Code – guides those efforts by clearly articulating the standards to which we all must hold ourselves, wherever we live and work.

We would like to ask all Deloitte people to read and understand the Code, and recognize the significance of the commitments we make.

It is essential that each of us does our part to continue building a culture that aligns with our Code – a culture in which we are comfortable speaking up when something doesn't feel right, in which we respond swiftly and effectively when others raise concerns, and in which we always deliver our very best effort without fail.

Our path to undisputed leadership starts with integrity, which must remain our constant guide along our journey.

The role of the Code

Our Code encompasses Deloitte's Global Principles of Business Conduct, which outlines the commitments that each of us make. It is based on our Shared Values and reflects our core belief that, at Deloitte, ethics and integrity are fundamental and not negotiable.

Our Shared Values

- Lead the way
- Serve with integrity
- Take care of each other
- Foster inclusion
- Collaborate for measurable impact

Acting in accordance with the Code is a responsibility for all Deloitte people in Central Europe. Each of us is expected to know, understand and comply with the Code. We also have a responsibility to raise our voice when we become aware of anything that is inconsistent with it. There can be serious consequences for non-compliance with the Code or related Deloitte policies, up to and including dismissal.

The backbone of the Code is the Global Principles of Business Conduct which describes the commitments that Deloitte and its people make to stakeholders around the world – our clients, our people and society. It is important to note that the commitments described in the Code are not set out as aspirations. They are the behaviours that our people, clients and other stakeholders can expect from Deloitte today.

In complying with the standards outlined in this Code, you should ask yourself the following questions to aid in making the right decision about a possible course of action:

- Are my actions illegal or unethical?
- Am I being fair and honest?
- Am I witnessing discriminating behaviour?
- Would I be unwilling or embarrassed to tell my family, friends, or co-workers?
- Would the reputation of DTTL or any DTTL member firm be harmed if the action was revealed in the newspapers?
- Am I personally uncomfortable about the course of action?
- Could someone's life, health, safety, or reputation be endangered by my action?
- Could the intended action appear inappropriate to a third party?

You don't have to resolve a difficult ethical decision alone. We encourage you to consult with your colleagues, line managers, leaders or member firm's normal reporting channels. In addition, formal ethics reporting channels are available at the regional and member firm level for those who seek a confidential route for consultation.

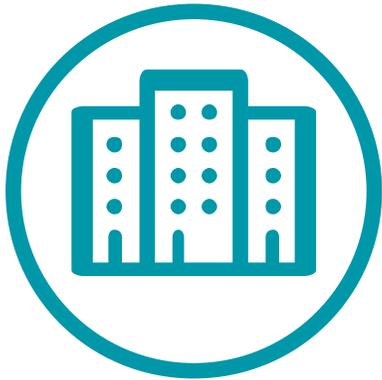

At Deloitte, we take reports of misconduct seriously, conducting investigations where necessary, and addressing issues appropriately. Retaliation against those who raise ethical concerns in good faith is not tolerated.

With strong DTTL and member firm leadership support, our Code and CE Ethics Program define the Deloitte approach to building and sustaining a culture of ethics and integrity.

Every day at Deloitte, we seek to make an impact that matters to our people, our communities, and the clients that we serve. The following commitments illustrate what our stakeholders can expect from our people.
