Deloitte Digital drives change

What is Salesforce?

Salesforce is the world's #1 Customer Relationship Management (CRM) platform. It offers cloud-based applications for sales, service and marketing for small, midsize and enterprise organisations, with a focus on sales and support. It brings together all customer information in a single, integrated and scalable platform that enables businesses to build a customer-centred business from marketing right through to sales, customer service, and business analysis. This gives businesses a more complete understanding of their audiences to drive business success.
