

- Yes and implemented
- Yes, but yet to implement
- No, but in the process of developing it
- No. Do not see the need to develop one yet
- Others

70% felt that their plans only enable them to deal with some of the risks and changes happening now but there are still areas where they are currently improving to adapt to the evolving scenario

55% are expecting a recession, and

69% of the boards are sufficiently equipped to guide and support their organisation during a crisis, but will need to prepare directors further on their oversight role