

Tax Espresso (Special Edition 2.0) Highlights in Budget 2016

Greetings from Deloitte Malaysia Tax Services

On 23 October 2015, the National Budget was tabled by our Prime Minister and Minister of Finance. Budget 2016 is the first of a series of five budgets under the 11th Malaysia Plan towards transforming the nation into a high-income advanced economy. Despite the strong headwinds brought by slowdown in global economy especially China, decline in oil and commodity prices, Ringgit depreciation and political instability, our economy is still holding up modestly well due to its diversity, resilience and solid fundamental, judging from the following projected economic data:-

- Relatively strong Gross Domestic Products (GDP) Growth between 4% to 5.0 % for 2016 vis-à-vis 4.5% to 5.0% this year compared with some major economies globally
- Continuous decline in fiscal deficit to 3.1% of GDP for 2016, a reduction from 3.2% and 3.4% in 2015 and 2014 respectively
- Marginal growth in federal government revenue collection to RM225.7 billion for 2016, an increase of RM3.2 billion from 2015
- Higher projected Goods and Services Tax (GST) revenue of RM 39 billion in 2016 compared to the original estimated collection
- Rebound in exports by 1.4% in 2016 after a 0.7% drop this year
- Manageable inflation of 2% to 3% in 2016 compared to 2% to 2.5% this year

Aiming at addressing the day to day challenges facing the people especially the B40 lower income group and M40 middle income group and the growing concerns arising from the disparity in economic and social developments between East and West Malaysia and between rural and urban areas, Budget 2016 is themed “Prospering the Rakyat”. Forming the building blocks are the following 5 priorities i) Strengthening Economic Resilience, (ii) Increasing Productivity, Innovation and Green Technology, (iii) Empowering Human Capital, (iv) Advancing Bumiputera Agenda and (v) Easing the Cost of Living of the Rakyat.

Understanding GST Risks: Conducting GST Post Implementation Review

Date: 22 October 2015

Venue: Eastern & Oriental Hotel Penang

From our analysis of budget allocation of RM267.2b in total and various tax proposals tabled, several sectors would be impacted considerably as follows:

Construction

Construction is one of the biggest beneficiaries of Budget 2016. In the pipelines are several major projects including the RM16b Pan-Borneo Highway, RM28b MRT II, RM10b LRT 3 and the Malaysia-Singapore High Speed Rail of about RM30b is still on the cards. The Master Builders Association Malaysia (MBAM) has projected that the construction sector will grow modestly by 8.4% in 2016. MBAM is however disappointed that its proposal for import duties reduction for heavy construction machinery did not materialize. Hydraulic truck mobile cranes, for instance, are currently levied with 30% duty. The rise in minimum wage from RM900 to RM1,000 for Peninsular Malaysia and RM800 to RM920 for East Malaysia will squeeze the already thin margin of 6%-7% which the industry is currently making.

Property

Some measures were proposed to enhance the provision of affordable houses such as RM1.6b allocation for 175,000 units PR1MA houses and RM200m allocation for the first house deposit financing scheme. However, the wishes from some of the industry players such as reinstatement of Developers' Interest Bearing Scheme (DIBS), reintroduction of 50% stamp duty exemption given to property valued at RM400,000 and below that had expired in 2014 did not materialize. Nonetheless, it is a relief that the long deliberated proposed increase in stamp duty rate to a maximum of 4% and the bringing forward of duty collection date were not tabled. Overall, there were no bold measures introduced to prop up the property sector that is currently facing risk of a hard landing.

Manufacturing

A major incentive proposed is the special reinvestment allowance from years of assessment 2016 to 2018 which would encourage companies to expand and modernize their production facilities. This would immensely benefit the manufacturing concerns that are planning to ramp up their production capacity to meet the increasing overseas demands of their products, thanks to the weakened Ringgit. Apart from the said incentive and double deduction on R&D, there were no notable measures to help the Malaysian businesses enhance their export capabilities. The rise in minimum wage will increase the production cost considerably, particularly of those labour intensive industries.

Tourism

Tourism is another beneficiary in Budget 2016 as the 100% income tax exemption for tour operators that is expiring in 2015 is extended for another 3 years. The introduction of E-visa to 7 countries including China is expected to expedite the immigration process and facilitate more tourist arrivals. With a lower allocation of RM1.2b in 2016, the Ministry of Tourism and Culture would have to optimize its spending to woo a higher foreign tourists target set of 30.5m.

Agriculture

This sector will receive a big boost with RM5.3b allocation. The enticing tax incentive for food production in the form of 100% income tax exemption and deduction of investment cost is extended to 2020 and its scope is widened to include cultivation of coconut, mushroom, seaweed etc. The incentive extension is expected to draw fresh investments, both domestic and abroad, that are much needed for the sector to upscale and upgrade its technology/knowhow to help the country to reduce food import and to promote export of agriculture produce.

Following our above macro-economic commentaries, we bring you herewith some of the salient tax centric proposals of Budget 2016:
