

Custody regime applicable to bearer shares and regulation to register lawyers and financial institutions as authorized custodians.

Law 47 of 2013 established a new regime applicable to bearer shares certificates, whereby the requirement was that such certificates be put in custody with an authorized local or foreign entity, following certain requirements and within an established period. The purpose of this regime is to guarantee access to the information of shares by competent authorities in case of tax and/or criminal investigations related to the company.

Regulatory framework

- Law 47 of August 6, 2013 which creates a custody regime of bearer shares.
- Law 18 of April 23, 2015 amends Law 47 of 2013.
- Agreement No. 307 of April 24, 2015 of the Supreme Court of Panama creates a registry of authorized custodians for lawyers.
- Agreement No. 004-2015 of May 11, 2015 of the Superintendency of Banks of Panama regulating the procedure for the registration of custodians of bearer shares in the case of financial institutions supervised by said Superintendency.

General provisions of the scope of the law and its amendment

Law 18 introduces the following changes to the transition period established in Law 47 for placing certificates of bearer shares in custody:

1. Issued prior to Law 47 entering into force (May 4, 2015):
 - Up to December 31, 2015, certificates of bearer shares must be delivered to the authorized custodian together with a tax return, or such certificates must be replaced for certificates of registered shares.
 - The authorization of the Board of Directors or shareholders must be recorded in the Public Registry by which the company places itself under the share custody regime. The articles of incorporation that do not meet this requirement by December 31, 2015, will be understood as amended by Law prohibiting the issuance of bearer shares.

2. Issued after Law 47 entered into force (May 4, 2015):

- Bearer share certificates issued between May 4 and August 4, 2015: Deliver bearer shares into custody complying with the requirements of the Law (within a period of 20 days counted as of the approval of the issuance of shares); however, the authority will not be able to enforce it until the three-month transition period has been completed (expiring on August 4th).
- Bearer share certificates issued after August 4, 2015: Deliver bearer shares into custody complying with the requirements of the Law within a period of 20 days counted as of the issuance approval of shares.
- The company must annul the certificates of bearer shares if the owner does not provide the information of the custodian and tax return required by the Law within the time set forth by law.
