Deloitte Pakistan is planning to bid for a project which includes Verification of disbursement Linked Indicators (DLIs): The purpose of this assignment is to conduct an independent verification of achievement progress on the DLIs. The work will aim to: (1) design evaluation methodology for verification of the progress made on DLIs by different sectors; (2) conduct the verification in a transparent and independent manner such that it provides the robust evidence for decision makers; and (3) submit and present results and all related information and analysis to the client.

Team Leader

Location: Karachi (travel within Sindh may be required)

Engaging tasks await you to

- Design the evaluation methodology for verification of progress on relevant indicators (indicators are health, nutrition and education related).
- Develop a detailed work plan and methodology for assessing the status and achievements of those DLIs on biannual basis. Submit and finalize the work plan and methodology in coordination with the client.
- Coordinate team activities including the development of verification protocol for assessing each of the DLIs against their respective timeline (two assessments per year), the questionnaires and the templates for data processing, and finalize in coordination with the client.
- Conduct verification in a fair and transparent manner such that it provides robust evidence for decision makers.

You possess following skills and experience

- Educational qualification of Masters' degree in Development Economics, social sciences or related field
- 15 years' experience in Performance Management Plan and project-level monitoring and evaluation plans; supporting project design including indicator development, study design, and data analysis in multiple sectors. At least five years' experience in managing a project of similar nature.
- Experience of working on local socio-economic, development and environmental issues and challenges, especially in the context of Sindh. Hands on experience in monitoring and evaluation
- Must be fluent in English, Urdu and preferably Sindhi
