5. Internal quality control system

The Company maintains policies and procedures to promote an internal culture based on the recognition that quality is our number one priority which the Company has agreed to adhere to. The Company focuses on professional excellence as the foundation for achieving outstanding audit quality on a consistent basis. The Company policies and procedures addressing leadership responsibilities for the system of quality control within the Company, ethical requirements, client and engagement acceptance and continuance, human resources, engagement performance and monitoring.

This internal quality control system has two monitoring systems:

- engagement quality control review and
- the practice review.

Engagement Quality Control Reviews

Statutory audit reports on the annual accounts or consolidated accounts relating to a public interest entity, among others, are subject to an engagement quality control review by a partner or a manager with sufficient and appropriate experience and professional qualifications, prior to issuance of the report. The engagement quality control reviewer may be assigned to the Company from within DCE to work under the Company responsibility, but is not part of the engagement team and is not portrayed in fact or appearance as a member of the engagement team.

The reviewer is appropriately briefed by the engagement team and conducts the review in such a manner that sufficient knowledge and understanding is obtained in order to reach conclusions. The reviewer's responsibility is to perform an objective review of significant auditing, accounting, and financial reporting matters, to document the procedures the reviewer performed and to conclude, based on all the relevant facts and circumstances of which the reviewer has knowledge, that no matters that have come to his or her attention would cause the reviewer to believe that the significant judgments made and the conclusions reached were not appropriate in the circumstances.

For engagements that have been identified as having higher risk, a special review partner is assigned to provide an additional level of competence and objectivity in planning and performing the engagement. The special review partner may be assigned to the Company from within DCE to work under the Company responsibility, but is independent of the engagement. Normally this partner possesses specialized industry and technical skills applicable to the engagement and, in certain situations, is independent of the practice unit to enhance objectivity or to provide specialized resources.

The audit report may only be issued if the reviewer is satisfied that the audit engagement team has made appropriate judgments and conclusions, and has complied with applicable standards and regulations.

Practice Review

The Company is subject to a quality assurance review, or “practice review” as it is commonly referred to, at intervals not to exceed three years.

Normally, the performance of every audit partner is assessed during the three-year cycle, and at least one engagement for each partner is selected to achieve this goal. Consideration is also given to assessing the performance of managers, particularly those managers who are candidates for partner nomination.

The Company is responsible for the practice review. DCE provides guidance and oversight regarding the practice review plans and procedures. The general coordination and administration of the practice review program is the responsibility of practice review director.

The practice review plan, process, and results are reviewed and concurred by a partner from another member firm (the “concurring partner”) every year. The concurring partner who is assigned this responsibility works closely with the practice review director in overseeing the planning and performance of the practice review.

Types of Engagements Reviewed

The engagements selected for review include national engagements and inbound/outbound transnational engagements (audits of financial statements that are or may be used across national borders), including public interest entities, as well as a number of high risk audit engagements. Some sensitive and complex engagements (e.g., first-year engagements, situations where there is a change in control, or deteriorating financial condition) are also selected. All major industries served by the Company or practice office are considered.

Scope of Practice Reviews

The assignment of reviewers is based on skill level, industry knowledge, and experience on transnational engagements.

The reviews of individual engagements consist of discussions with the partner and/or manager responsible for the engagement and a review of related reports, working papers, and, where appropriate, correspondence files.

Engagements are reviewed to:

- Determine whether quality control procedures have been properly applied to such engagements,
- Assess the adequacy of implementation of the audit approach, including compliance with the policies and procedures contained in the Company’s policy manuals,
- Monitor compliance with applicable local laws, and
- Assess the overall quality of service provided to clients.

The overall risk management and quality control policies and procedures of practice offices within our Company are also reviewed, including the following:

- Risk management program, including engagement acceptance and continuance
- Independence
- Recruitment and advancement
- Professional development
- Public filings in other countries
- Information technology specialist reviews
- Consultation with Company experts
- Consultation with outside experts
- Engagement quality control reviews

Results of Practice Reviews

The findings and recommendations resulting from the practice reviews are included in a Company's audit quality plan and presented to the Company and DCE leadership. The purpose of the audit quality plan is to provide suggestions for improvement in response to findings noted. The Company addresses findings by conducting a root cause analysis and drawing up a detailed action plan setting out the action to be taken, the person(s) responsible, and the timing to implement the recommendations, where applicable.

In addition, the Company communicates deficiencies noted as a result of the practice review (if any) and recommendations for appropriate remedial action to the relevant partner and other appropriate personnel. The Company also communicates on an annual basis the results of the practice review and ongoing consideration and evaluation of its system of quality control to its partners and other appropriate individuals.

8. Independence confirmation

DCE maintains written independence policies and procedures, which include the performing of certain independence compliance checks on an annual basis and which are applicable to the Company as a part of DCE.

- Each professional should sign an individual independence confirm each year. In addition, similar independence confirmations are obtained from new employees and employees leaving the Company.
- All managerial personnel and above should enter their financial interests to Global Independence Monitoring System. Each person's portfolio is checked against an electronic list of audit clients to check whether this ownership is allowed under the relevant independence rules;
- All professionals should complete an e-learning on independence rules and;
- Client and engagement acceptance processes are used to verify that independence is not impaired.

In addition to the continuous monitoring of compliance with independence policies, independence inspection and testing procedures are performed annually on a sample of professionals and senior officers.

An internal confirmation of independence compliance by employees of the Company was performed as of 31 May 2016 and an internal Independence compliance Testing and Inspection for selected employees was finalized by 30 November 2016.

9. Continuing education

All registered auditors in the Company maintain their continuous professional qualification through a mixture of internal courses as well as educational courses organized by ACCA accredited learning providers.

Continuing education is a key policy of the Company, as this is an important means of developing knowledge and maintaining and improving the quality of our services. A learning intranet provides a starting point, including technical training, management and interpersonal skills, business economics and industry-specific courses.

The continuing education program is comprised of both Deloitte-organised training sessions as well as external training, among others by the Institute of Auditors. Certain courses are mandatory and others are optional, such that each auditor or trainee auditor can personalise their learning programme.

During the first years, most training is comprised of mandatory courses on technical topics including Deloitte methodologies and processes but afterwards the optional part increases given that individual needs become more diverse. An individual learning programme is required as from approximately four years' experience.

More experienced auditors are expected to update and deepen their technical knowledge. Developing management and interpersonal skills are also very important for this group. There is also the possibility to follow longer term education, such as MBA programmes. There is also a system of accreditation whereby a training course needs to be completed before an auditor may perform certain tasks.

Through an automated monitoring system it is possible to check the status of internal and external courses followed by an individual auditor. Continuing education is also a factor taken into account for the yearly evaluation of audit staff and the assessment of their growth potential within the Company.
