

Global Mobility Myths, Risks, Solutions

Bucharest, April 28, 2015

Deloitte Romania invites you to a discussion on international mobility aspects that do not fit in a classic policy of expatriation, on April 28, 2015 at Deloitte premises, 4-8 Nicolae Titulescu road, America House Building, East entrance, 2nd floor, starting with 09:00 AM.

As business activities expand, travel becomes more accessible anywhere in the world and professional skills easily manage to overcome geographical barriers. Can we still consider this phenomenon an atypical situation in the daily work or we refer to it as a natural attribute of it?

In case you opt for the latter, there are some questions marks:

- Are you sure you comply with the national and international law on these cases of mobility?
- Are there any risks that the employees and employer are exposed to?
- Are the international mobility programs at group level implemented correctly locally?
- Are employees aware of their rights and obligations they have during an international transfer?

Topics:

- Business needs involving international mobility
- The myths of global mobility
- International restrictions
- Risks and solutions

Speakers:

Raluca Bontas - Director, Global Employer Services Deloitte Romania
Florentina Munteanu – Associate Partner, Reff&Associates
Andreea Kutyyik - Manager, Global Employer Services Deloitte Romania

Participation is by invitation only. Seats are limited and registration is made in the order of your registration. There is no participation fee.

The discussions will be held in the Romanian language.
