Thailand plans to allow foreign tourists to quarantine in resorts

Channel NewsAsia | 4 March 2021

Thailand's tourism minister Phiphat Ratchakitprakarn has announced that he will propose a plan for foreigners to undertake COVID-19 quarantine in popular tourist areas, including beach resorts. The hotel quarantine plan is expected to start in April or May in the provinces of Phuket, Krabi, Surat Thani, Chonburi, and Chiang Mai. Tourists would be quarantined for two weeks but if they test negative after three days they will be allowed out of their rooms in the hotel area.
