China

Additional "Health Code" application requirements for passengers departing Thailand for China

Embassy of The People's Republic of China in The Kingdom of Thailand | 29 August 2021

All passengers boarding flights to China from Thailand on or after 6 September 2021 will be required to fulfil the following health requirements for their "Health Code" application:

- Undergo two COVID-19 nucleic acid tests and one antibody test: Passengers will be required to undergo two COVID-19 nucleic acid tests and one antibody test (both Immunoglobulin M [IgM] and immunoglobulin G [IgG]) before boarding the flight to China. The first nucleic acid test should be conducted seven days before the date of departure, and the second nucleic acid should be conducted within 48 hours before boarding. The two tests must be conducted by two different medical institutions on the same list of recognised institutions issued by the respective Embassy or Consulate.
- Undergo self-quarantine and personal health monitoring before boarding: Passengers will be required to conduct personal health monitoring in the seven days before boarding, after receiving a negative test result for their first nucleic acid test. They will also be required to complete and submit the personal health monitoring form.

Passengers who have a history of COVID-19 infection will also be able to submit a "Health Code" application three months after their recovery. For more information on the specific requirements for such passengers, please refer to the link below.

Hong Kong

Acceptance of vaccination records issued by overseas authorities

The Government of the Hong Kong special administrative region (SAR) | 30 August 2021

The Government has announced that with effect from 1 September 2021, it will accept vaccination records issued by the following overseas authorities as recognised vaccination records for Hong Kong residents boarding flights to Hong Kong from group A specified places:

- Indonesia and Philippines: Hong Kong residents who hold vaccination records affirmed by the relevant authorities of Indonesia or Philippines may board a flight to Hong Kong from group A specified places. Travellers who are foreign domestic helpers will be required to undergo a 21-day compulsory quarantine at a designated quarantine facility, while other Hong Kong residents will be required to undergo compulsory quarantine at designated quarantine hotels.
- European Union (EU) digital COVID-19 certificate system: The Government will accept vaccination records recognised under the EU digital COVID-19 certificate mechanism as recognised vaccination records for travellers boarding flights to Hong Kong from group A specified places. As the EU has recently announced the recognition of vaccination records issued by North Macedonia, San Marino, Turkey, Ukraine, and Vatican City as equivalent to vaccination records issued by EU member states, the Government will also accept vaccination records issued by the above places as recognised vaccination records.
