Government adjusts isolation, quarantine and testing arrangements

Government of the Hong Kong SAR | 8 December 2022

With effect from 9 December 2022, persons infected with COVID-19 may be discharged from isolation on Day 5 at the earliest if they obtain negative rapid antigen test (RAT) results on both Day 4 and Day 5 of their isolation period.

For close contacts of infected persons, they will be discharged from quarantine on Day 5 if negative results are obtained in all the daily RATs during the five-day quarantine period. They will not be required to undergo further tests.

The daily RAT requirement for inbound persons from Taiwan or overseas places will also be adjusted to until Day 5 after arrival at Hong Kong. However, the existing "test-and-go" arrangements upon arrival at the airport and nucleic acid test on Day 2 after arrival at Hong Kong remain unchanged.
