

THE CONNECTED EMPLOYEE

The future of work has arrived. Come and experience it in our immersive lab environment.

We live in an era of unprecedented change. Success in today's environment depends on the ability to harness the opportunities presented by the future of work; a concept that encompasses everything from artificial intelligence to the gig economy.

To help understand this radically shifting context for the workforce and workplace, Deloitte's Human Capital consulting practice welcomes you to 'Connected Employee', a physical space for clients to experience the changing world of work. Participants should prepare for:

THE EMPLOYEE EXPERIENCE REIMAGINED

What do new talent models mean for how you source, augment, engage, develop and plan your talent? Structured around how employees interact with and experience organisations in an era of changing work models, the Connected Employee will showcase the impact of the digital age on the world of work.

THE LATEST DISRUPTIVE TECHNOLOGY

How leading organisations are using augmented / virtual reality solutions, gamified assessment and virtual agents to improve productivity and workplace outcomes. We'll demonstrate the latest innovative technology and how it's disrupting your industry.

A CATALYST FOR CHANGE

Whilst change can feel daunting, success starts by understanding the external environment. Through the Connected Employee, we will support you in determining opportunities, identifying quick wins and articulating what the priorities are that determine your change journey.

DELOITTE EXPERTS

Designed and developed by our thought leaders, the Connected Employee provides participants with the opportunity to connect with experienced Deloitte practitioners. We will help bring to life what the lab experience means for you and your organisation.
