

Elizabeth Gutteridge, FCA, MA

Partner

Deloitte Forensic

egutteridge@deloitte.co.uk

Profile

Elizabeth Gutteridge is a partner in Deloitte's UK Forensic practice. She has been appointed as an expert witness on many occasions and has given oral evidence in the High Court and the Grand Court of the Cayman Islands, as well as in the context of international arbitration and private mediation. She has extensive experience in quantifying damages in a range of different contexts and regularly undertakes accounting and factual investigations.

Elizabeth has been recognised as one of the world's leading commercial arbitration expert witnesses in the Who's Who Legal 2015 (and 2014) survey.

Elizabeth leads our Forensic TMT practice and is the Forensic lead for the Financial Services dispute team. As a result, she has a particular knack of combining effectively the wider team's deep industry and technical expertise with Forensic know-how.

Elizabeth's relevant experience includes:

- providing expert advice on loss of profits claims;
- giving commercial advice to clients to assist settlement negotiations in the early stages of disputes;
- carrying out investigations on behalf of licensors and licensees of valuable IP rights;
- leading investigations and performing data analyses to support companies and their legal teams in their responses to regulatory investigations by competition authorities; and
- conducting factual investigations in order to ascertain whether whistleblower allegations can be substantiated.

Her experience includes actions before the UK High Court, the Patents Court, the Competition Appeals Tribunal, the High Court of Hong Kong, the Federal Court of New South Wales, the Grand Court of the Cayman Islands, the Court of Session in Scotland, as well as European competition authorities and private international arbitrations and mediations.

Education

- FCA, Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales.
- Professional Certificate of Intellectual Property Law, Oxford University and UVIC, Canada.
- MA, Modern and Medieval Languages, Christ's College, Cambridge University.