

Dissolution planning for the wind down of the 2012 Olympic and Paralympic Games Sport

The situation

The London Organising Committee for the Olympic Games approached us to assist in the planning an implementation of the wind down of the group structure, after the 2012 Olympic Games.

The two risks facing us was the financial and reputational factors arising from the wind down of the group structure.

How we helped

We provided specialist advice and assistance in planning for the dissolution of group structure, but also ensuring that any pitfalls were avoided by influencing businesses.

The outcome

We developed the dissolution strategy and wind-down plan, which was approved by the International Olympic Committee and identified and mitigated the potential wind-down risks.

“Excellent pieces of work for knowledge transfer the like of which has never before been seen by the International Olympic Committee”

IOC member