

Cloud Managed Services can help Deloitte clients by simplifying the management of existing and new Google Cloud workloads

Scalability, agility, rapid deployment, technology on-demand. These are just a few of the potential benefits companies stand to gain with a move to Google Cloud Platform (GCP). However, that move doesn't end with application migration. It's an ongoing journey. And that journey requires fresh thinking about infrastructure and management.

With traditional, non-cloud models, companies manage the entire spectrum of their IT function. Migrating application workloads to a cloud platform can help companies reduce their physical IT infrastructure, but the majority of cloud providers don't offer other critical IT management services. As a result, many organizations that want to leverage cloud technology find it difficult because they don't have the resources and skill sets necessary to operate effectively in a cloud-based environment.

There's a better way. Deloitte's Cloud Managed Services (CMS) can work with you to design, build, and operate end-to-end, turnkey GCP solutions, including management of GCP-based infrastructures that contain critical business applications. What's more, our OpenCloud cloud management platform can accelerate and automate our best practices across seven multi-disciplinary areas, with tailored solutions that provide the scalability, agility, and rapid deployment capabilities that can help you realize the transformative value of GCP.

Deloitte offers Cloud Managed Services to assist clients at every stage of their cloud journey on Google Cloud.
