

Vendor Payables

Deloitte's Global Information Reporting ("GIR") practice is a multi-disciplinary group comprised of professionals with extensive tax technical, process and technology knowledge and experience. We work closely with you and your organization to understand your processes and procedures, look for opportunities to streamline workflows, and assist in configuring and deploying the systems necessary to meet documentation, withholding and reporting requirements established by federal, state & local regulators.

Why now?

- Tax regulators are focusing more on the procedures that retail organizations put into place to address withholding and reporting requirements related to vendor payables. They have made significant investments in the area of enforcement and have increased penalties for failure to comply.
- The recent transitional relief issued with respect to FATCA specifically excludes relief for non-compliance with the rules governing withholding and reporting in the vendor payable area. The IRS has stated that in order to show good faith effort for FATCA, retailers need to be in compliance with their current obligations.
- Non-compliance can result in significant penalties as well as reputational risk.

Paving the Road to Compliance – Smart Solutions for Global Information Reporting

What is the impact?

- Organizations need to develop technical expertise to comply with complex and changing federal, state & local regulations impacting withholding and reporting.
- Retail organizations are required to have processes and procedures to collect, validate and maintain documentation from vendors which may have an impact on their down stream payment processing systems.
- Organizations must also collect and store payment transaction data within an ERP system for tax reporting purposes, and interface this data with a third-party tax reporting tool for printing, mailing, and electronic filing with multiple tax reporting authorities.
- Organization must have the ability to integrate tax technology, tax technical and operational challenges into pragmatic solutions.

Who can benefit?

- Retail organizations that make payments to foreign and domestic vendors.
- Accounts payable and treasury personnel
