Corporate taxation

Residence

An entity is resident if it is managed and controlled in Mexico.

Basis

Residents are taxed on worldwide income; nonresidents are taxed only on Mexican-source income. Foreign-source income derived by residents is subject to tax in the same way as Mexican-source income. Branches are taxed in the same way as subsidiaries.

Taxable income

Corporate tax is imposed on a company's profits, which consist of business/trading income, passive income and capital gains. Normal business expenses may be deducted in computing taxable income. Inflationary accounting for tax purposes is applicable to certain types of revenue and expenses.

Taxation of dividends

Dividends received by a Mexican resident company from another Mexican resident company are exempt from corporate tax. Dividends received from a foreign company are subject to corporate tax in the period the dividends are payable, but a credit for underlying corporate and withholding tax generally is available for foreign tax paid.

If dividends from a Mexican company are not paid from the "CUFIN account" (i.e. already taxed profits), the payer is required to pay tax.

As from 1 January 2016, Mexican companies with investments in renewable sources of energy may create a special net profit account (the "CUFIER"), and if such a company distributes dividends that are not paid from the CUFIER account, the payer will be required to pay tax (30% on a gross-up amount) on the distribution.

Capital gains

Mexican entities are not subject to special tax treatment on capital gains, and the use of capital losses is restricted in some cases.

Losses

Losses may be carried forward for 10 years, subject to applicable inflation adjustments. The carryback of losses is not permitted.

Foreign exchange control

None, and no restrictions are imposed on the import or export of capital. Repatriation payments may be made in any currency. Both residents and nonresidents may hold bank accounts in any currency in any part of the world; however, for some accounts located in Mexico but kept in a foreign currency, the currency must be the US dollar.

Accounting principles/financial statements

Mexican GAAP (with increasing conformity to international standards) applies. Financial statements must be prepared annually.

These are the per se corporation (SA), limited liability company (SRL) and branch of a foreign corporation.

Special rules apply to maquiladoras. Incentives are granted for national cinematographic and theatrical production, as well as for innovation (CONACYT), the FIBRAS (real estate investment trust) regime and investments in risk capital.

Immediate depreciation for investments in certain new assets is available as from 1 January 2016 for taxpayers with revenues of up to MXN 100 million; for taxpayers with investments in the construction and improvement of transport infrastructure and those with activities related to the treatment, processing or transport of oil, natural gas and petrochemicals, no revenue limit applies.

From January 2016 through June 2016, individuals and entities resident in Mexico, and nonresidents with a permanent establishment in Mexico, may regularize the tax compliance for previously unreported offshore investments that remained abroad up to 31 December 2014, with certain tax benefits, subject to the actual repatriation and investment of the assets in Mexico for at least three years.

Withholding tax

Dividends

A company that distributes dividends (including distributions derived from investments in renewable sources of energy and made from the CUFIER account) to a nonresident or to a resident individual must withhold a 10% tax, which is considered a final tax. For nonresidents, the 10% rate may be reduced under an applicable tax treaty.

A grandfather rule applies, under which CUFIN balances as of 31 December 2013 are not subject to withholding tax when distributed in the future.

The 10% tax may be reduced for dividends paid to individuals resident in Mexico if profits generated in 2014, 2015 and 2016 are reinvested and distributed as from 2017.

Interest

Interest paid to a nonresident is subject to withholding tax at rates ranging from 4.9% (interest paid to a bank) to 35%. A 40% rate applies where interest payments are made to a related party located in a tax haven.

Royalties

Royalties paid to a nonresident are subject to a withholding tax of 35% (patents and trademarks) or 25% (other kinds of royalties), unless the rate is reduced under a tax treaty. A 40% rate applies where royalties are paid to a related party located in a tax haven. The leasing of machinery and equipment generally is considered a royalty.

Technical service fees

Fees paid for technical assistance are subject to a 25% withholding tax, unless the rate is reduced under a tax treaty.

Branch remittance tax

Rules similar to the CUFIN rules for dividends apply. Permanent establishments distributing dividends or gains to their head office are subject to an additional tax of 10% on such dividends or gains.

Other

There are certain other circumstances under which withholding tax may apply to nonresidents, such as payments relating to immovable property, salaries, fees, capital gains, etc.

Other taxes on corporations

Capital duty

No

Payroll tax

Payroll taxes apply at the state level.

Real property tax

The municipal authorities levy "rates" on the ownership of real property. Rates are deductible in calculating the corporation tax liability.

Social security

Employer contributions for social security and other related contributions (e.g. housing and retirement) are mandatory, with rates ranging from 15% to 25%, depending on the salary structure of the group of employees.

Stamp duty

No

Transfer tax

A rate between 2% and 5% applies to the transfer of real estate.

Other

While not a tax, mandatory profit sharing rules imply that an entity is obliged to actually distribute 10% of taxed profits to its employees no later than May of the year following the year in which the profits were generated.

A special excise tax on production and services is levied on the sale of certain goods and the provision of certain services.

Anti-avoidance rules

Transfer pricing

Rules following the OECD guidelines apply to cross-border and domestic transactions. Acceptable transfer pricing methods are as follows: the comparable uncontrolled price (CUP) method is considered the preferred method, followed by the cost plus and resale price methods. Profit-based methods are to be applied if the CUP, cost plus and resale price methods are not applicable. The profit split and residual profit split methods, and the transactional operating margin method are not applicable in specific circumstances. Documentation rules apply. Advance pricing agreements are available.

Thin capitalization

Interest payments made by a Mexican resident company on a loan from a nonresident related party are nondeductible for income tax purposes to the extent that the debt-to-equity ratio of the payer company exceeds 3:1.

Debts incurred for the construction, operation or maintenance of productive infrastructure linked to strategic areas, or for the generation of electricity, are excluded from the thin capitalization rules.

Controlled foreign companies

Income is attributed to Mexican tax residents (including resident foreigners) from “controlled” entities where more than 20% of their income is passive income (broadly defined) that is taxed locally at a rate less than 75% of Mexico’s statutory rate. Reporting rules may apply.

Disclosure requirements

External tax auditors are required to disclose on the tax audit report when a taxpayer has entered into a transaction that is not considered viable by the Mexican tax authorities.

Other

An optional tax audit report may be filed for taxpayers with more than 300 employees, gross income exceeding MXN 100 million or assets exceeding MXN 79 million.

Under the self-assessment regime, advance corporate tax is payable in 12 installments. The annual tax return must be filed within the first three months of the following year (no extensions are available).

An advance electronic signature certificate must be available, electronic accounting records must be maintained and the general ledger must be submitted to the tax authorities on a monthly basis.

Mexican nationals are, in principle, considered tax residents, subject to the permanent home and/or the center-of-vital-interests test.

Filing status

Tax returns are filed individually, regardless of marital status.

Taxable income

Income is taxed, in part, under a scheduler system, although some categories of income can be mixed to determine taxable income. Profits derived from the carrying on by an individual of a trade or profession generally are taxed in the same way as profits derived by companies. A separate regime applies to interest earned by individuals.

Capital gains

Capital gains arising from an individual’s sale of publicly traded shares, including financial derivatives, are subject to a 10% tax on the gains.

Deductions and allowances

Subject to certain restrictions and caps (the lower of MXN 130,000 or 15% of taxable income), deductions are granted for medical expenses and medical insurance, retirement annuities, mortgage interest, etc. Medical, dental and hospital expenses (among others) are deductible with no restrictions when they derive from an “inability” or disability under the terms of the corresponding laws.

Personal allowances are available to the taxpayer and his/her spouse, children and dependents.

Rates

Rates are progressive up to 35%.

Other

See “Incentives” under “Corporate taxation,” above, for a temporary incentive relating to the repatriation of capital.
