

Legal Business Services

Advance the value of legal.

Legal Business Services* (LBS) can help you rapidly transform your legal department into a strategic value driver.

Modern legal departments must do much more than provide excellent legal support. In today's dynamic business environment, legal departments are under constant pressure from the enterprise to deliver greater value and strategic advantage, while improving efficiency and reducing cost. Crafting the right vision for your legal organization is just the beginning.

Law firms and corporate legal departments have responsibilities ranging from delivering new legal services at speed and scale using technology and automation, driving competitive advantage, managing risk across borders and regulatory environments, using data analytics to improve processes and services to managing major business projects. It is critical to a modern legal business strategy to implement processes and technologies that optimize the use of your legal team and investments.

ACCELERATE LEGAL BUSINESS STRATEGY.

Deloitte can help you access the appropriate technology, innovation, processes and resources to become a business enabler — allowing you to execute against your legal department's strategy in a timely manner.

TRANSFORM LEGAL OPERATIONS.

Achieve your vision by devoting your attention to the most critical aspects of your department's transformation, while we help you navigate change. Deloitte can help you to increase efficiency across your legal team and external provider ecosystem through improved processes and effective use of technology.

REDUCE RISK, IMPROVE OUTCOMES.

Demonstrate a clear connection between your department's actions and the larger business strategy. Deloitte can help you to achieve greater visibility and control in a rapidly changing regulatory environment. Our legal business services are designed to help you drive value through strategic investments in people, processes, and technology.
