Deloitte survey: 50% of physicians haven't heard of MACRA

A survey published by Deloitte's Center for Health Solutions found that 50 percent of non-pediatric physicians have never heard of the Medicare Access and CHIP Reauthorization Act of 2015 (MACRA). MACRA is intended to drive health care payment and delivery reform for clinicians, health systems, Medicare, and other government and commercial payers. MACRA aims to align physician reimbursement with quality and outcomes. Deloitte's Center for Health Solutions surveyed 600 US physicians about MACRA and value-based payment models. Some of the key findings of the survey include:

1. 50 percent of non-pediatric physicians surveyed said they had heard of MACRA; 32 percent only recognize the name.
2. 21 percent of self-employed physicians and those in independently owned medical practices report that they are somewhat familiar with MACRA versus 9 percent of employed physicians.
3. 8 out of 10 physicians said they preferred traditional fee-for-service or salary for their compensation models
4. 1 out of 4 independent physicians would prefer to be employed while 75 percent would prefer to join a clinical network. Both independent and employed physicians surveyed expect that between a third and two-thirds of the remaining independent physicians will consolidate in the next three years.
5. 58 percent of physicians surveyed would opt to be part of a larger organization to diminish individual physician risk and bear risk collectively and/or to have access to a full spectrum of resources and capabilities. 80 percent of those surveyed expect MACRA to drive physicians to join larger organizations or networks.

AICPA issues IRS response letter on Form 990

On June 30, 2016, the American Institute of CPAs (AICPA) issued a letter to the IRS outlining the AICPA recommendations for the 2016 Form 990 and related instructions. The letter included 21 recommendations that included the AICPA's view of urgency and importance for each. Some of the highest ranked recommendations include:

1. Update the definition of reasonable efforts to align with the Schedule L changes by deleting the reference to Parts III and IV.
2. Update the Form 990, Part IV trigger questions for Schedule L to align with the definition of interested persons updated for the 2014 form.
3. Update the definition related to Form 990, Part VII, Sections A & B for compensation for purposes of Form 1099 to include box 6 as well as box 7 because medical providers may receive a Form 1099-MISC with compensation for services in box 6.
4. Define creators and founders for purposes of identifying them as interested persons on Schedule L. Further, include an example of reasonable efforts that addresses the difficulty of organizations that have been in existence for many years in determining who should be considered a creator or founder.
5. Provide guidance on reporting bond liabilities on Form 990, Part X and Schedule K for affiliated systems where bonds may be held at the parent entity but the liability may ultimately be held at a subsidiary.
