Learn about the impact we have on our clients

Deloitte Consulting develops a scalable reporting & analytics solution for a Mobile Music Service Provider to support international growth

The Issue

A national prepaid wireless provider developed an unlimited music product that is included as part of the wireless rate plan. The digital music is accessed directly via the mobile device. The product has experienced dramatic domestic growth, outpacing expectations. Given the success of the product, the client was looking to replicate and offer the same product in partnership with various international wireless providers. The client's current reporting & analytics solution was not designed to support the exponential data volume growth or international label royalty settlement. Deloitte was asked to design and implement a reporting & analytics solution that will be scalable to support the growing data volumes and configurable to support international reporting requirements by label and carrier.

The Action

Our reporting & analytics team collaborated closely with the client's reporting and settlement team, as well as the international expansion team to define the solution. The team's analysis uncovered serious data quality issues, platform limitations, and significantly different international music royalty settlement requirements. To address client needs, the team:

- Conducted workshops with key technology organization stakeholders to finalize design approach and technical requirements
- Collaborated closely with the international team to ensure alignment with the new international music product platform and new reporting requirements
- Adopted a phased approach for implementation to quickly deliver value
 - Release 1 focuses on developing the foundation of the solution and the royalty settlement engine and reporting
 - Release 2 focuses on delivering the analytics capabilities including dashboards and ad hoc analysis
 - Release 3 focuses on granting carriers and label access to the solution through a web portal and the data archival strategy

The Impact

Explosive subscriber growth coupled with an aggressive international expansion plan increased the urgency for a new reporting & analytics platform. Deloitte's solution offered the client the flexibility to support international requirements and a single platform that will be scalable with subscriber growth. The solution also integrated the capability to store mobile music play history, billing transactions, and subscriber demographics, allowing a consolidated view of customer analytics that was not available before.
