

DSDP for Government

COMBINING DELOITTE INNOVATION WITH THE SNOWFLAKE DATA CLOUD

DIGITAL SERVICE DELIVERY PLATFORM

Agency leaders are being challenged to rapidly modernize their technology, while conserving resources, avoiding risk and disruptions, and standardizing processes across departments. Monitoring the pulse of industry trends, Deloitte has launched a new Digital Service Delivery Platform (DSDP) to provide state, local, and federal agencies a streamlined, sustainable, and cost-effective way to modernize legacy applications, regardless of their underlying technologies.

DSDP combines the advanced capabilities of the Snowflake platform with Deloitte’s recognized leadership and industry experience that provides a unified data platform to seamlessly integrate, explore, and analyze data to help enhance decision making and improve mission outcomes.

Additionally, DSDP offers our Health and Human Services clients access to all the leading edge, innovative technology products and services that best meet their digital-first needs and help to rapidly advance their digital transformation.

DSDP IN ACTION

DSDP delivers real-time data analysis, predictive modeling, intelligent automation, business intelligence and more in a single, intuitive platform. A subset of the key benefits DSDP delivers include:

Leveraging the Snowflake Data Cloud to provide a scalable and secure environment for secure data sharing and collaboration

Improving care coordination and caseworker decision making through exploring a 360-degree view of citizen data

Enhancing decision making and insight using 3rd party data to better understand risk factors, social determinants of health, policy impacts, and more

Forecasting the impact of the Public Health Emergency (PHE) unwinding

Improving workload management and efficiency through automation, AI based routing, and monitoring

Complying with state and federal reporting requirements

Analyzing customer sentiment, satisfaction, and targeted outreach

Moving individuals to self-sufficiency through improved training and skill alignment

- Integrate, analyze govern and secure data across programs
- Establish a federated platform across the enterprise
- Elastic Compute and Optimized Storage through the Cloud

DSDP also provides a dedicated Data Science Workbench to allow Human Service organizations the ability to directly create, interact, and govern their own AI solutions. DSDP is available on all major public cloud platforms to support your unique needs.
