

The Deloitte and UiPath alliance

Modernizing and digitizing the workforce with an "automation first" mindset.

It's the Age of With™. Humans with machines. Data with actions. The power of "with" has never been greater but to be able to succeed in this new age involves a strategic approach that aligns both business and technology. Deloitte's commitment to Intelligent Automation (IA) as a driver to help organizations transform is a strategic choice. We have a strong Intelligent Automation practice that is fundamentally reshaping the way businesses work. Together, we help clients 1) define the AI strategy, 2) to deliver best in class AI solutions, and 3) support and sustain programs while focusing on value realization.

The Deloitte and UiPath vision

Deloitte leverages UiPath technology to deliver the capabilities of IA to clients across multiple industries and sectors. Cumulatively, Deloitte has developed over 1,300 automations built for our clients. Equipped with the tools, resources, and capabilities needed to drive transformational cognitive journeys, Deloitte continues to provide a unique offering through our:

Cross-industry experience: We have implemented over 900 deployments globally and across multiple industries.

Network of certified professionals: Over 3,600 Deloitte professionals are trained and more than 1,150 are certified in UiPath software worldwide.

Center of excellence: Deloitte has established an Robotic Process Automation Center of Excellence (CoE) that is dedicated to training and developing resources to implement leading automation solutions. Deloitte's Scaling Lab is at the heart of the CoE, as clients explore the 'art of the possible' and engage with key capabilities required to scale during the session. UiPath engineers help to execute hands-on training for Deloitte professionals.

Differentiated approach: Deloitte's customizable approach to implementing automation programs is tailored to the requirements, objectives, and strategic goals of each organization.

Award-winning capabilities: Deloitte is uniquely positioned, as a Platinum Service Network Partner, to support clients with all aspects of their adoption of UiPath's Business Automation Platform.

UiPath + Deloitte + SAP: Driving an "Automation First" Approach to Digital Transformation

Deloitte, UiPath, and SAP are partnering to accelerate the transformation of their clients' businesses through a new focus on AI-powered automation around SAP.

Together, this partnership will focus on:

Building process automation solutions with the market leader, UiPath, and enhancing business workflows, interfaces, and experiences

Fostering digital transformation and driving co-innovation by harnessing our deep expertise in processes and technology as the leading SAP and AI provider globally.

Leveraging SAP's advanced S4 platform to deliver intelligent, interconnected solutions with a wide array of applications through a clean ERP core.
